

Ex Convict 2431

Chapter 2431

1/4

Jason stared at the screen and suddenly said, "If we bring Amber Mitchell out for a psychiatric evaluation and prove that she isn't mentally ill, the Mitchell family's explanation will be useless!"

"Firstly, we need to confirm that Amber Mitchell isn't mentally ill. Secondly, we need to take Amber Mitchell out of the mansion before the Mitchell family calls the police. The security system is a big problem. Thirdly, it takes some time to prove whether a person is mentally ill. We need to keep the Mitchell family occupied for some time. We can't let the Mitchell family find Amber Mitchell. At least not until we get the test results. Otherwise, the Mitchell family has absolute right to object to the test."

Brian presented three problems.

Grace took a deep breath and said, "I think Amber Mitchell...

Perhaps it's better to say that she isn't suffering from mental illness exactly. At least, she wasn't mentally ill when she was first sent to the hospital. It's just that after so many years, we're not sure how lucid she is. It's possible that she goes in and out of it intermittently."

"Do you want to bet on it?" Jason asked.

Grace hesitated.

Jason's voice continued to ring in her ears. "If you want to bet on it, I'll do it with you. Even if you lose, I have a way to solve it. It's just going to be a little troublesome, but are you going to feel at ease if you don't take the chance?"

He did not care what would happen to the woman called Amber Mitchell. He just wanted Grace to feel at ease.

Grace felt as if he had seen through her. He knew that she would never feel at ease if they did not try to save Amber Mitchell.

It was not only because Amber Mitchell was Kyla's friend but also because she had met her. If she ignored Amber Mitchell, she might regret it in the future.

"Let's take a chance." Grace's red lips uttered the words gently.

Jason smiled. "Okay, let's take a chance."

It was as if it was nothing. If they lost, it would only be regarded as a scandal where Reed group was being a bully.

Looking at Jason and Grace, who were looking at each other,

Brian felt bitter.

'This is how Grace is. She has always had a sense of justice. Jason is willing to pay for Grace's sense of justice. At least this. proves that Grace didn't choose the wrong person!'

"Then we have to figure out a way to get Amber Mitchell out of the mansion. If we want to hack into the Mitchell family's security system, we need experts to take up the job. That's the only way we can sneak into the mansion and rescue Amber Mitchell," said Brian.

Jason turned to look at Mick Reed. "Can you access the security system in the Mitchell family's mansion?" he spoke as if it were a piece of cake.

"I can try," the little one said as he took out his mini laptop.

Brian frowned, not expecting Jason to let the little one hack into the Mitchell family's security system.

The computer expert nearby asked in confusion. "Isn't that ridiculous?"

Grace hastened to explain on her son's behalf, "He's... quite good at this. He has previously hacked into the Barlow family's security system."

"The Barlow family?" Brian paused. "The Barlow family Philip Barlow is from?"

Chapter 2432

She could only say that... she seemed to have given birth to a genius!

The computer expert instantly became silent. The Barlow family's security system was famous in Deer City.

If the child really did hack into the Barlow family's security system previously, the Mitchell family's security system... should be a piece of cake for him.

About half an hour later, Mick Reed's childlike voice was heard saying, "There are several entry points for me to hack into the system. Should we disable the system now?"

"No, not yet. Disable the system later when needed," Grace said quickly.

"Okay," the little one nodded and said before furiously typing on his mini laptop.

Jason and Brian set out to figure out how to get Amber Mitchell out of the mansion after the security system was disabled.

"How many men do you have at hand?" Jason asked Brian.

My Gorgeous Wife is an Ex-Convict!

She could only say that... she seemed to have given birth to a genius!

The computer expert instantly became silent. The Barlow family's security system was famous in Deer City.

If the child really did hack into the Barlow family's security system previously, the Mitchell family's security system... should be a piece of cake for him.

About half an hour later, Mick Reed's childlike voice was heard saying, "There are several entry points for me to hack into the system. Should we disable the system now?"

"No, not yet. Disable the system later when needed," Grace said quickly.

"Okay," the little one nodded and said before furiously typing on his mini laptop.

Jason and Brian set out to figure out how to get Amber Mitchell out of the mansion after the security system was disabled.

"How many men do you have at hand?" Jason asked Brian.

Brian instantly understood Jason's question. "Ten skilled bodyguards who can be mobilized. What about you?"

Jason said, "That's a good number of men. Then let the men sneak in and bring her out. If they get caught, they can just break out together."

"Okay." The two went with that plan.

"I'll get the psychiatrist who will re-examine Amber Mitchell. Amber Mitchell will be sent to the psychiatrist as soon as she leaves the Mitchell family's mansion," said Jason.

Brian nodded, indicating he was alright with that.

Looking at the two people in front of her, Grace had a strange feeling. In her impression, it was the first time they had worked together like this.

After the two decided on the time to start the mission, they began to arrange their own men. Brian had also found several computer experts to cooperate with Mick Reed.

The experts that Brian found were naturally elites in the field. When they first saw that they had to work with the little one who was only six years old, they instantly felt insulted.

However, they had no complaints and were just surprised when they saw the little one in action.

It turned out one could describe some geniuses as beyond one's imagination.

They decided that it was better to do it after dark, so they ate in the cafe first. Brian and Jason asked for several private rooms for the others to dine in. In the current private room, there were Brian, the Reed family, and the computer experts.

During the meal, the computer experts would communicate with each other about their experiences and problems they encountered. Mick Reed, who was usually quiet, was talking more now.

Sometimes, he could provide solutions for the difficult problems those experts talked about, which surprised them.

Before the meal was done, the little one had almost become a treasure they valued very much.

Grace was not in the mood to eat because she was thinking about the rescue operation. Jason put some food in her bowl.

"I can't eat that much," Grace could not help muttering.

Jason said, "Eat as much as you can. This might run late today.

If you eat too little, you'll soon get hungry."

Grace nodded and ate a few mouthfuls. Just then, a feeling of nausea suddenly came over her. She immediately got up, covered her mouth with one hand, and hurried out of the private room.

Jason's and Brian's expressions changed as they rushed out of the private room one after another. Grace rushed into the women's washroom, while Jason and Brian could only stand outside and wait.

Chapter 2433

The sound of Grace retching came from the washroom.

1/3

"What's the matter? Has she been unwell lately?" Brian asked

Jason in a panic.

Jason frowned. "I'm not sure."

“Not sure? Aren’t you her husband? Why don’t you know if she hasn’t been feeling well?” Brian asked.

Jason’s eyes darkened, and he said coldly, “Who are you to ask me that? Just like what you said, I’m her husband. I’ll take care of her. Don’t say things you shouldn’t say!”

Brian’s expression stiffened suddenly. ‘Yeah, who am I?’

He did not even know if Grace still regarded him as a friend or if he was someone she wanted to avoid.

“Brian, I don’t care why you’re helping Grace, but you’d better remember that Grace will forever be my wife. Don’t ever have any ideas you shouldn’t have. I’m the only one she loves!”

The cold warning made Brian’s face pale.

However, he could not argue because he did not have the right to.

Grace loved Jason, not him!

Just then, Grace walked out of the washroom. As soon as she came out, she saw Jason and Brian standing opposite each other. Jason looked solemn, while Brian looked pale.

“What’s... going on?” she asked.

“Nothing.” Jason smiled, stepped forward to help Grace, and said, “What came over you? Are you okay?”

“Yeah, I’m a little uncomfortable, but I feel better after throwing up. Maybe I ate too little at noon and got too hungry. My stomach probably got a little upset because I suddenly ate,” said Grace.

“I’ll order you some porridge later. It’ll be easy to digest and warm your stomach,” said Jason.

“Okay,” Grace said with a nod and glanced at Brian’s pale face. “Are you two okay?”

Brian’s eyes fell on Grace’s almond-shaped eyes that were filled with concern. ‘Is her concern partly due to me?’

“Yeah, we were just making small talk,” replied Brian.

Back in the private room, Mick Reed came to Grace’s side. There was obvious worry in his peach blossom eyes that were similar to Jason’s.

"I'm fine. My stomach's just a little upset, so I went to the washroom to throw up," Grace said as she patted her son's small head.

The little one frowned, recalling when his stomach was upset in the past. "Mommy, are you okay now?"

"I'm okay now," said Grace as she smiled at the little one.

Mick Reed seemed slightly relieved but still anxiously watched

Grace finish the bowl of porridge before the expression on his face finally stopped being so tense.

Chapter 2434

Grace's heart melted at the sight of her son. 'I didn't give birth. to my son in vain!'

She could not help but lean over and kiss her son's tender cheek.

The little one blushed instantly. However... he enjoyed his mommy kissing him. It was just that he was embarrassed when Mommy kissed him in front of so many people.

Grace found her son even cuter when she saw his reddened face, so she could not resist kissing him several more times.

Brian looked at the sweet scene and lowered his phoenix eyes gently. 'Grace's happy, and I know that, don't I? But I still have mixed feelings after seeing it with my own eyes.

'I... hope she can live a happy life but will regret that I'm not the one giving her happiness!'

It was 11 p.m., and Grace woke her son up. She let him sleep after dinner as their operation would take place much later.

Mick Reed rubbed his sleepy eyes and yawned, but his beautiful peach blossom eyes gradually gained clarity.

The little one knew what he had to do later. He opened his mini laptop, and his fingers began moving quickly across the keyboard.

The experts also took out their laptops and began the operation.

Jason's and Brian's men also began to approach the mansion.

They had also brought filming equipment with them to let Grace see the process of the operation. That way, they could cooperate better.

When Mick Reed and the experts hacked into the mansion's security system and cut off the power supply, the agile bodyguards sneaked into the mansion and began the rescue operation.

Jason and Brian worked together. One gave the instructions, while the other quickly calculated the best route.

Grace did nothing but watch nervously.

She thought Mick would be a bystander if she brought him over, but it now looked like she was the bystander instead.

The operation went smoothly. When the bodyguard rescued Amber Mitchell from the basement, Grace saw some new wounds on Amber Mitchell's skin that weren't covered by her clothes. There were definitely more wounds under her clothes!

One could imagine that the Mitchell family must have hurt her in the past few days after she was locked up in the mansion.

Even now, there were bald spots on Amber Mitchell's scalp and visible blood marks.

"Amber Mitchell, I'm Kyla's friend. I'm here to save you. We met in the hospital before. Do you remember me?" Grace quickly said to Amber Mitchell.

The car began to drive in the dark. The most important thing now was to get out of here!

Amber Mitchell's eyes were swollen. With difficulty, she looked up at Grace. Moments later, she said hoarsely in a voice that sounded like a broken gong, "I remember

Grace was relieved to hear that Amber Mitchell's eyes were red and swollen. She looked depressed. Her eyes seemed empty from the excessive torture, but at least they seemed clear.

“We’re going to take you for a mental evaluation. If it can prove that you’re not mentally ill, you can be free. I don’t know whether you’re mentally ill, but I hope you can cooperate,” Grace continued saying.

Chapter 2435

Amber Mitchell’s lifeless eyes instantly seemed to burst with hope. Her lips quivered as tears quickly filled her eyes. “Okay... I... will cooperate. I will... cooperate!”

Right as she was done speaking, large teardrops rolled down Amber Mitchell’s cheeks.

Grace took out a tissue and wiped away Amber Mitchell’s tears.

Judging from the conversation earlier, Amber Mitchell must be at least partially conscious.

Moments later, Amber Mitchell asked in a mutter, “Is Kyla... alright?”

“She’s doing well. She started a store, her son is now in primary school, and she’s pregnant with her second child. Her second child will be born soon, and her wrongful conviction. has been overturned as well. The real perpetrator has been punished,” said Grace.

Amber Mitchell listened with a flash of comfort in her eyes.

Then, she whispered, “That’s good...”

“Alright, have a good rest. You’ll be evaluated by the doctor when you get to the doctor’s place. There’ll be many things to do then,” said Grace.

Amber Mitchell nodded and slowly closed her eyes. Her hands, which were at her side, clutched the hem of her dress tightly. She knew this was her chance. Perhaps... it was her last chance.

She had to seize this opportunity no matter what!

Half an hour later, in the Mitchell family’s residence, Louise

Mitchell, who was already asleep, received a phone call from the mansion’s head of security.

Although she was impatient at first, she felt her head buzz and explode as soon as they told her that Amber Mitchell had disappeared.

“What? She’s gone? How could she be gone?” Louise Mitchell barked.

“Well... we’re still checking,” the person on the other end of the line said.

“Checking? Don’t we have a security system? Don’t we have someone watching the surveillance around the clock? Aren’t there a lot of people keeping watch? You assured me everything would be alright! And now you’re telling me that you’re still checking?” Louise Mitchell just wanted to fly to the other side and slap them.

“Well... someone hacked into the security system, and the mansion’s power supply was suddenly cut off. The backup power didn’t come on in time because of a programming glitch. When we reconnected the power supply, we discovered that they’ve already left the mansion,” they replied.

Louise Mitchell said through clenched teeth, “Do you know who took her away?”

“We’re... not sure yet.” They gave Louise Mitchell another answer that would make her explode.

“Not sure? You don’t even know who took Amber Mitchell away!!

‘Who on earth did it? Who would take Amber Mitchell away?

In the eyes of others, Amber Mitchell is just a mental patient now!’

The faces of Grace, Kyla, and Martin Weiss suddenly flashed across Louise Mitchell’s mind. She had met the three at the hospital. Later, she even met Grace at a party.

Chapter 2436

‘The woman also seems close with Brian.

1/4

‘Is it possible? Could the woman be the one who took Amber Mitchell away?’

Suddenly, Louise Mitchell shuddered and looked up to see a figure standing at the door.

It was... George Gregory.

Louise Mitchell was surprised. When did he push the door open? She didn't even realize it.

She and George Gregory had been sleeping in separate beds after they got married. Although they were newlyweds, they slept in two rooms. It was humiliating to her.

However, she had to pretend that they were sleeping in separate rooms because she wanted some privacy.

Only she knew it was actually because George Gregory had not fully accepted her, so he requested to sleep in separate rooms. It was as if he was silently telling her that she would never be able to win his heart.

However, he suddenly appeared in her doorway.

"Who disappeared and was taken away?" George Gregory asked Louise Mitchell with a cold expression and an equally cold voice.

"I-It's nothing. It's just a small matter. I'll send someone to take care of it," Louise Mitchell replied as she forced herself to be calm.

However, George Gregory walked slowly into the room and approached Louise Mitchell step by step. "Who's gone?"

The inquiry was more like an interrogation. She had a feeling that he had figured something out.

Louise Mitchell's lips quivered slightly before finally uttering the word, "Sis".

George Gregory pursed his thin lips for a moment before saying, "Isn't she in the hospital? How could she be gone?"

"My... My parents and I want to transfer her to another hospital, but I brought her to the mansion first because the procedures in the new hospital haven't been done yet. I didn't expect someone to take her away." Louise Mitchell told a mixture of truth and lies.

George Gregory's expression changed. "Why is she being transferred all of a sudden? Why didn't you mention this to me?"

"You don't like to hear me talk about my sister, so I didn't mention her," said Louise Mitchell. How could she mention her? She hoped he would forget Amber Mitchell once and for all!

George Gregory's expression became ghastly. Who would take Amber Mitchell away? For some reason, Martin Weiss. and Kyla, who had come to his company earlier, came to mind. The woman had claimed to be Amber Mitchell's friend. Could she have asked Martin Weiss to take Amber Mitchell away?

However, Louise Mitchell's voice rang in his ears again when he was thinking about it. "I figured out who might have taken. Sis. It might be Grace, the lawyer I met at the party earlier. She seemed close with Brian and had spoken with Whitney Herrera, the mistress of the Moss family. She must've wanted to learn about Sis and the Moss family from Whitney Herrera. Grace also went to the hospital to see Sis with two other people!"

Louise Mitchell spoke as she pretended to be worried, "I'm so worried about Sis. I'm afraid Sis will fall into their hands. What will they do to Sis? They claim to be Sis' friends, but come to think of it, Sis has been sick for so many years yet they never showed up. It's pretty suspicious that they showed up all of a sudden..."

"the Moss family..." George Gregory's voice was cold. Amber Mitchell was a taboo topic for him, and the Moss family was another one.

Chapter 2437

the Moss family's eldest heir, Herman Moss, used to be his best friend, but he also made him the unlucky one who was betrayed by his best friend and fiancée!

1/4

He also fell out with Herman Moss because of Amber Mitchell.

He would never forget what Herman Moss had said at the time.

"George, you don't know Amber Mitchell at all. If you did, you wouldn't be saying things like that to me today!"

"What's the matter? Are you the only one who knows her?"

Yeah, you know her so well that you got into her bed, didn't you? How was it? Is she good? Otherwise, she wouldn't have made you, the Moss family's eldest heir, so obsessed with her. It's a pity Amber Mitchell is nothing more than a woman I've fooled around with!"

When he said this, Herman Moss punched him. George Gregory was reluctant to be seen as weak, so the two men. started a fight right away.

The two ended up with bruises.

When Herman Moss finally left, he only said, "George Gregory, you're blind. It's a pity that I ever envied you!"

He had not been able to figure out what it meant, and there was no way Herman Moss could give him an answer now since he was dead.

George Gregory's eyes darkened at the thought of it. "Are you saying that someone deliberately approached a member of the Moss family for Amber Mitchell?"

"Yeah... Yeah..." Louise Mitchell said as George Gregory's eyes made her uneasy for some reason. "I just thought they wanted to get gossip. I didn't expect her to be taken away."

"Find her! We can find her as long as they're still in Deer City!" George Gregory said coldly. He walked out of the room and headed for the study. Louise Mitchell quickly followed him only to hear George Gregory telling his subordinates on the phone looking for Amber Mitchell. He used all the connections the Gregory family had.

Louise Mitchell's heart sank as jealousy flickered in her eyes. George was using so many resources to find Amber Mitchell, even using the connections of the elders.

It was only Amber Mitchell... Was it worth it to spend so much effort to look for a woman who had once betrayed him?

'Is George Gregory really over Amber Mitchell? Or has he always been concerned about her? It's just that he has been hiding his concern all this while?'

Grace sent Amber Mitchell to the hospital and met up with.

the doctor that Philip Barlow had contacted. Then, she stayed outside the ward.

The doctor said the evaluation would take at least three hours, but it was only a preliminary diagnosis, of course.

However, as long as the preliminary diagnosis could show that Amber Mitchell was not a mental patient, there was enough reason to question whether the Mitchell family was fit to be Amber Mitchell's guardian even if they found them.

Moreover, there would also be grounds to question the previous diagnosis. Therefore, before coming up with the final diagnosis, they must protect and free Amber Mitchell.

Mick Reed had fallen asleep in Grace's arms. Grace looked at the son in her arms with a proud look.

Her son had been a great help tonight.

Even though he was young, he could not be under

Chapter 2438

"Why don't you take Mick back to the hotel first? I'll stay here," said Jason.

Grace shook her head. "I'd feel better if I stay here. Why don't you ask your men to take Mick back to the hotel to rest first?"

"That works," said Jason. Then, he instructed a bodyguard to take Mick Reed back to the hotel.

However, when the bodyguard was about to take Mick Reed from Grace, the little one subconsciously squirmed into Grace's arms and said with a hazy notion, "I want to be with Mommy."

Looking at the way he was acting, Grace was afraid that Mick would wake up if he was handed over to the bodyguard. Besides, he would probably refuse to go back to the hotel. alone if he woke up. "Forget it. Let's just let him sleep here," she said.

Mick was still wrapped in a blanket anyway, so she was not worried that the little one would get a cold.

"Why don't I carry him so that it's easier for you?" Jason asked.

Grace shook her head. "Let me carry him. I haven't held him enough over the years. I only wish I can hold him a little longer." Her eyes looked tenderly at her son.

Her five years of amnesia had wasted her time with Mick.

During those five years, she did not have a chance to hold him, so she cherished every chance she got to hold him.

Brian watched the scene in front of him quietly. He had known that she would be a good mother from the beginning, but he found that she was somewhat different from the woman he remembered after seeing how she got along with her child.

The distance between them seemed to grow further and further, but he could not do anything about it.

Maybe it was because he knew that no matter what he did, Jason held her heart.

It was just like how the sense of family between her, Jason, and their children was so strong that others had trouble stepping into their world.

Just then, Grace's phone rang. Fortunately, she had set it to silent, so it did not wake her son.

Grace freed one hand and took out her phone, which showed she was getting a call from Kyla.

As soon as she answered the call, Kyla anxiously asked,

"Grace, did you take Amber Mitchell away from the mansion?"

"What?" Grace froze. "How did you know?"

"George Gregory called and asked if we had anything to do with Amber Mitchell's disappearance and said he has already reported it to the police. He also said that if we don't hand Amber Mitchell over, the Mitchell family will sue us if they find her and learn we're involved," Kyla said in a panic.

Grace said, "We do have something to do with it. The doctor is conducting a preliminary mental evaluation on Amber Mitchell. It'll take some time. I'll let you know when I get the results."

"Where are you? I'll go over," said Kyla.

"Maybe the Gregory and Mitchell families are already waiting near the hotel. It might help them find us more quickly if you come over. Just stay in the hotel. I'll call you as soon as I have news," said Grace.

Kyla knew that Grace was right, but she could not just sit around doing nothing!

After ending the call, Kyla clutched her phone tightly with both hands with profound anxiety on her face.

However, all she could do now was wait.

Chapter 2439

1/4

Martin Weiss looked at Kyla anxiously and said to her, "Don't worry. Since they managed to bring Amber Mitchell out of the Mitchell family's mansion, all you have to do now is wait for the good news."

"But if the Mitchell family finds Amber Mitchell before the results are out, they have the right to stop the doctor's evaluation," Kyla said uneasily.

"Then... we'll stop them," said Martin Weiss.

"Do you have a way to do that?" She froze.

"I have a few men in Deer City. It shouldn't be a problem to stop them for an hour or two," said Martin Weiss.

"But we have no idea where they are right now. Didn't Grace say we'll expose their whereabouts if the Mitchell family members follow us when we go look for them?" Kyla said.

Martin Weiss said confidently, "Then we should follow the Mitchell family. It's fine if the Mitchell family doesn't find Amber Mitchell, but if they do manage to find her, my men will stop them."

His words made Kyla's eyes lit up.

Yes, what they were most worried about now was that the Mitchell family would find Amber Mitchell, so they could only follow them!

Martin Weiss took out his phone, made a call, and commanded his subordinates to start the operation.

Kyla said gratefully, "Thank you for helping! If there's anything I can do for you in the future, just let me know and I'll try my best."

He peered at her. "Kyla, what do you think you can do to help me?"

She stiffened, and a flicker of embarrassment came over her face.

'Yeah, how could I have forgotten? There's nothing I can do for him!'

Biting her lip slightly, she murmured, "I only... said it in the heat of the moment. I made a joke of myself. I just wanted to express my gratitude."

"If you want to express your gratitude, stop acting like you care about me," said Martin Weiss.

The more she did so, the more he was flustered.

He might not be able to control his heart if this went on.

Martin Weiss sent some people to follow the Mitchell family. Of course, he also asked his men to keep an eye on the Gregory family and the police. After all, the Mitchell and Gregory families were on the same side.

Soon, Martin Weiss received a report from his men that the Gregory family, the Mitchell family, and the police had gathered and were about to head to a private hospital in +Mason Swansonty.

Martin Weiss's face darkened at that. After ending the conversation, he said to Kyla, "I'm afraid that the Mitchell family, the Gregory family, and the police have already located Amber Mitchell. But I don't know if Amber Mitchell's preliminary mental evaluation is done."

Kyla was shocked. "They've found her?"

"It's highly likely. Call Grace and ask if they're in this hospital," said Martin Weiss.

Kyla hurriedly made the call. Grace was already aware that the Mitchell family, the Gregory family, and the police were on their way. However, Grace still comforted Kyla by saying,

"Don't worry, I'm prepared for that. They can't take Amber Mitchell away so easily even if they come."

Chapter 2440

"When will the results of the evaluation be out?" Kyla asked quickly.

"It'll take at least another hour. Okay, don't overthink it. Get some rest. You're not alone now. You're pregnant," said Grace.

Though she was consoling Kyla, there was obvious solemnity and apprehension on her face.

As far as they knew, there were many policemen making their way over, including senior police officers of Deer City.

They were indeed in the wrong. Louise Mitchell was Amber Mitchell's legal guardian. Once they found Amber Mitchell, they could stop the evaluation and take her away.

An hour was all they had.

Even if Jason and Brian had sent their bodyguards over to stop the other party and found various ways to delay their arrival, could they delay things for an hour?

Grace was silent, while Jason and Brian said nothing. However, their faces seemed relaxed.

Even so, Deer City was not Emerald City. They would face many restrictions in Deer City.

On the other hand, Kyla said to Martin Weiss, "I want to go over. Why don't you drive me there?"

"It's late, and it's inconvenient for you to go over. Grace also told you to rest," said Martin Weiss.

"But Amber Mitchell..."

"Is Amber Mitchell that important? Is she worth risking your health and the life of the baby you're carrying? Grace and the rest are already there, while my men are still following the Mitchell family's men. Even if the Mitchell family finds Amber Mitchell and takes her away, your presence won't make a difference. There's nothing you can do about it!"

Kyla paled and hesitated for a moment. Then, she turned around and took her wallet before putting on a jacket. She wanted to go to the hotel's entrance.

Martin Weiss suddenly grabbed her. "Do you still want to go after I've said so much?"

"I have to go. Amber Mitchell's my friend. Even Grace, who has nothing to do with Amber Mitchell, is trying her best to help Amber Mitchell. How can I not go?"

"What can you do after you get there?!" shouted Martin Weiss.

"Protect Amber Mitchell. Perhaps having one more person there might help delay things for another minute," said Kyla.

"Don't forget how you insisted on keeping the baby. And now? Have you stopped caring about the baby in your belly because of Amber Mitchell? There's bound to be some conflict, and there's no telling what might happen when you go there. I won't forgive you if anything happens to the child," Martin Weiss said coldly.

“Martin Weiss, you’ve never had someone control your life. You’ve never lost your freedom or experienced pain. You don’t understand what it’s like. If someone helped you when you were in a situation like that and gave you hope to continue living, you’d naturally feel indebted to them!”

Kyla’s voice struck Martin Weiss’s heart like lightning.

She did not directly accuse him of anything, but every word she said sounded like accusations. The way she looked at him even made him so embarrassed that he could not explain himself.
