

Ex Convict 2471

Chapter 2471

Louise Mitchell had been on pins and needles these two days. Amber Mitchell's consultation was coming soon. Today, she learned that George had gone to the hospital to see Amber Mitchell!

'Why on earth did he go to see Amber Mitchell? Does he still have feelings for Amber Mitchell?'

The moment Amber Mitchell was not diagnosed with mental illness, all the blame would inevitably be directed at the Mitchell family. The Mitchell family must firmly hold onto the Gregory family!

With that in mind, Louise Mitchell took a deep breath and walked up to George Gregory. "George, I had a video call with Simon today. He's having a great time with his grandparents!"

"Really?" George Gregory asked nonchalantly.

Louise Mitchell tugged at the neckline of her nightgown and approached the man in front of her with a seductive gesture. "Simon is already seven years old and will be a young adult in a few years. He even asked me in the video call today when I'll be giving him a younger brother or sister. He seems to want to be a big brother."

George Gregory said lightly, "Kids always do things on the spur of the moment. He was probably just saying that."

Louise Mitchell said softly, "But I really want to make him a big brother. George, let's have another baby. This house is too cold and cheerless with only Simon. Besides, our parents keep urging us to have another child."

Even if her body could not conceive a baby, she could find a surrogate to do it for her. However, he had to touch her first.

After all these years of marriage, he had never touched her.

For a while, she even wondered if he was incapable. After marrying him, she almost lived like a widow.

Even her in-laws had forced him to go for a physical examination, but the result of the physical examination showed that everything was normal.

He would say indifferently that she could divorce him at any time if she did not want to accept a marriage like this.

However... how could she be content with a divorce?

She had gone to so much trouble to become his wife. Besides, she truly loved him. How could she be willing to accept a divorce?

She would be the laughing stock of Deer City if they really did get a divorce.

With that in mind, Louise Mitchell became more audacious, and her facial expressions became more seductive.

She wanted him to touch her no matter what.

She did not want Amber Mitchell's child to inherit the Gregory family. Every time she saw that child, she would think of Amber Mitchell and wish she could strangle him to death!

She wanted to have another child to further consolidate her status in the Gregory family.

Besides, she seemed to want to prove that George Gregory was not devoid of feelings for her after spending so many years together. How could she not be a match for Amber Mitchell?

Louise Mitchell grabbed George Gregory's face and kissed him on the lips.

To her surprise, George Gregory did not refuse and accepted her kiss. He also put his hand around her waist as though he was accepting her.

Louise Mitchell was delighted and kissed harder. She did not notice the indifference in George Gregory's eyes.

Even though the woman in his arms was trying to please him, his body seemed frigid and did not respond. Even when she kissed him, Amber Mitchell's face flashed across his mind.

Chapter 2472

Her pale face and her bandaged forehead.

'Why am I thinking about her? I don't have feelings for that woman anymore! Louise Mitchell is my wife!'

George Gregory closed his eyes and suddenly became proactive as though he was trying to get rid of the distracting thoughts in his head.

"Yes, I love him. I love Herman. I only hate myself for loving him so late." Amber Mitchell's voice echoed in his ears.

It was like a spell.

George Gregory suddenly opened his eyes and stopped.

"George, what's wrong?" Louise Mitchell asked as she opened her eyes with a blank expression.

"I still have some things to deal with in the study. You should go ahead and sleep first," George Gregory said as he pushed Louise Mitchell away and walked to the room door.

Louise Mitchell shouted, "George! Why... won't you touch me? Do you care so much about Amber Mitchell? You even visited her in the hospital at a time like this."

George Gregory suddenly stopped and turned to look at Louise

Mitchell. His sharp gaze made Louise Mitchell wince.

“You know I went to the hospital today?”

“I... I only heard it from someone at the hospital,” Louise Mitchell replied awkwardly.

“It seems that the Mitchell family has eyes at the hospital too, but I advise you not to cause any trouble. If anything happens to Amber Mitchell, the Mitchell family will be the first party to be blamed. The Gregory family will also be involved. The best thing you can do is pray that she’s safe until the day of the consultation,” George Gregory said without mercy.

Louise Mitchell bit her red lip. “Do you care so much about her safely? You’re worried about her, but she might not be worried about you. She even went to the Moss family’s cemetery in the middle of the night last night. It’s obvious enough why she went there! All she has in her heart is Herman Moss!”

the Moss family had disallowed everyone from leaking what had happened at the Moss family’s cemetery. However, the Mitchell family had sent someone to watch the Moss family’s movements these days, so they naturally got wind of it.

George Gregory’s face became extremely gloomy. “If you mention Herman Moss again, you can just get the f*ck out of this house!”

Louise Mitchell bit her lip hard and said nothing more in the end. She could only watch George Gregory leave the room.

Her fists were clenched as her nails pricked her palms.

George had always had Amber Mitchell in his heart!

She would never be happy as long as she did not get rid of Amber Mitchell!

The day of the consultation finally arrived two days later. Amber Mitchell was examined by the top psychiatrist in Deer City, and the examination took three days.

Three days later, the results of the consultation were made public.

Amber Mitchell’s mental state was completely normal. Although she was depressed to some extent, she was not suffering from mental illness.

A medical report was also issued as various old bruises on Amber Mitchell’s body had been examined.

They could determine that a lot of her wounds were caused in recent years, including bone cracks, fractures, and so on. Her body also had old burns from cigarette butts as well as other injuries...

Chapter 2473

She was also missing a ring finger on her right hand.

As soon as the two reports were out, the Mitchell family and the mental hospital Amber Mitchell was previously admitted to instantly became targets of public criticism.

Many netizens went to Mitchell Group's and the hospital's official websites to comment and criticize them.

Someone even exposed the details of Amber Mitchell's attending doctor online!

Bang!

In the Mitchell family house's living room, Mr. Mitchell slammed his phone on the floor. The internet was now full of insults against the Mitchell family, and he was called all sorts of nasty things. He was even accused of cheating and being an unrespectable, heartless, and unfaithful man. Some people said he planned the death of his first wife!

Mr. Mitchell was so mad as he had never been scolded in such a way.

Mrs. Mitchell was also furious. Due to Amber Mitchell's affairs, the scandal about her identity as a former mistress had been, uncovered again. The obscene comments online were impossible to read.

Mrs. Mitchell said, "What do we do? There are a lot of reporters out there. None of them are nice. It's as if they're afraid they're not gonna get a big scoop out of us. We need to quickly come up with a solution, or that b*tch Amber Mitchell will have the upper hand!"

Mr. Mitchell said bitterly, "That damned girl is always causing trouble. She's even trying to harm the Mitchell family. I should've let her die in the hospital! I'm going to teach her a lesson after what she has done! I'll go to the hospital and ask her what she's up to. Does she really want to ruin the Mitchell family?"

C

"Dad, we'll go to the hospital, but we won't question Sis. We're going to take her home," said Louise Mitchell.

Mr. Mitchell was furious. "What? Take her home?"

"Yes, and we're going to take Sis home happily. How can we not feel sorry for her after everything she has suffered in the hospital? But Sis caused her own wounds. After all, no one can say for sure what a mental patient can do when they lose their mind! Anyway, we should all be happy that Sis is back to normal after so many years of treatment, shouldn't we?"

Louise Mitchell's statements immediately made Mr. Mitchell and Mrs. Mitchell come back to their senses.

"Yes, yes, we should be happy. We should take her home happily," said Mr. Xia.

"Once Sis comes home and the storm calms down after some time, won't she be in our control? So what even if she has a few friends to help her? The Mitchell family and the Gregory family are still influential in Deer City. It's not up to others to decide!" Louise Mitchell looked like she was in control of everything.

The reporters at the entrance were the best witnesses.

The Mitchell family went to the hospital, followed by a group of reporters.

Amber Mitchell was packing up her things in the hospital.

Though she was packing up, she did not have much stuff-only some medicine prescribed by the hospital as well as the clothes, shoes, and toiletries Grace had bought for her.

The once high-spirited eldest heiress of the Mitchell family now had nothing. All she had was a battered body.

One hour before she would leave with Grace after getting discharged, Amber Mitchell switched her phone on and browsed through the hot news online.

Sure enough, news of her incident had gone viral.

Many people wished her luck, felt sorry for her, and hoped she could live a normal life again.

However, there were also some comments about Herman Moss and George Gregory.

Chapter 2474

Some even speculated that she might get back together with George Gregory.

Netizen 1: [Herman Moss is dead, and Amber Mitchell has nothing left. Who will she turn to if she doesn't turn to George Gregory?]

Other people left comments under that comment.

Netizen 2: [Amber Mitchell used to have good looks, but now... She's considered a cripple, isn't she? She's even missing a finger. George Gregory can have any beautiful woman he wants. Will he take a fancy to Amber Mitchell?]

Netizen 3: [Besides, it'll be funny if Amber Mitchell gets together with George Gregory. The former fiancée is willing to be a homewrecker, while a homewrecker's bastard daughter becomes the wife. What a reversal!]

Netizen 4: [Louise Mitchell even gave George Gregory a son. There's no way Amber Mitchell can shake Louise Mitchell's status!]

Amber Mitchell found the comments ridiculous.

She had never thought of returning to George Gregory's side, again.

How could these people think that someone who had been hurt so badly would return to the person who abandoned her in her hour of need?

Seeing as he had abandoned her once, there would certainly be a second and a third time...

She did not want to be abandoned anymore.

Her love for George Gregory had been exhausted long ago. She was only left with hatred for him now.

After a while, the door was pushed open, and a bodyguard who looked like he was 30 years old walked up to Amber Mitchell, "Miss Mitchell, Young Madam is on her way and will arrive in a moment. Let's go to the hospital's entrance. We'll leave in a car when Young Madam arrives."

"Okay." Amber Mitchell nodded.

The bodyguard offered to help Amber Mitchell carry her luggage.

After Amber Mitchell left the ward, she realized there were about 20 bodyguards walking with her to the hospital's entrance.

"Uh... I'm just going to the hospital's entrance. I don't need so many people to accompany me, do I?" Amber Mitchell said. After all, there were too many people to fit in one elevator.

"Young Madam said it's necessary. The entrance of the hospital is a little chaotic right now," the bodyguard said.

'Chaotic?' Amber Mitchell's eyes gleamed.

'Are there a lot of reporters out there?'

When she arrived at the hospital's entrance, she found that reporters weren't the only people here. There were also members of the Mitchell family.

The man she was supposed to call her father was saying how much he loved her and how happy he was that his daughter was finally a normal person after years of treatment! He also said he wanted to take her home and take good care of his daughter's health. He had been distressed over how his daughter would often harm herself over the years because of her mental illness. Now that his daughter was normal, he believed she would not harm herself again.

Amber Mitchell could hardly listen any longer.

The man was insincere to her mother back then. He had even indifferently ordered their servants, "The young miss isn't in her right mind. Tie her up. I'm taking her to the hospital for treatment!"

She kept struggling and screaming. "I'm not ill. I'm not insane. I'm normal!"

Chapter 2475

However, her father only said coldly, "Sick people always say they're not sick. You're mentally ill!"

The statement seemed to have knocked her to hell.

She had always known that her father did not love her and even hated her, but she never expected someone to be so wicked.

As soon as Mr. Mitchell saw Amber Mitchell walk over, he immediately assumed a fatherly demeanor. “Amby, you finally came out. I was just about to go in to get you. You’ve finally recovered. All those years of treatment didn’t go to waste. Come on, let’s go home. While you were away all these years, your mom had your room cleaned every day, expecting you to come home as soon as possible.”

“My mom?” Amber Mitchell sneered. “My mom died when I was three years old. Did my mom come back from the dead?”

The statement immediately made the atmosphere awkward.

The smile on Mr. Xia’s face froze as well. In the past, he would have slapped her. However, with so many reporters in front of him, he had to finish the show.

“Your biological mother died when you were three years old. Your stepmother isn’t your biological mother, but she treats you like her own daughter. She’s always been worried about you in the past few years. She often cries at home.”

Mrs. Mitchell rushed forward with red eyes and said, “Amby, you’ve suffered so much. I’ll treat you better from now on. From the day I married into the Mitchell family, I’ve thought of you as my own daughter.”

The smile on Amber Mitchell’s face became increasingly sarcastic. “So, you want to steal my mom’s fortune, husband, and even daughter?”

Mrs. Xia’s expression froze as her face paled and reddened.

The smile on Mr. Xia’s face finally gave way. “What are you talking about? Should you say that to someone who has worked so hard to raise you?”

Mrs. Mitchell also looked down and sobbed as if she had been wronged.

It now seemed like the Mitchell family was innocent while Amber Mitchell was the guilty one.

The reporters were filming this scene with their cameras.

Louise Mitchell was secretly smug. She had expected Amber Mitchell to react this way.

Public opinion online would probably change.

“How could you think that way, Sis? In fact... Mommy and Daddy have been in love since way back then, but they separated because of an incident. When Mommy found Daddy, she saw that he already had his own family, so she kept her feelings to herself and didn't bother you until your mom died. Mommy was sorry that you lost your mother at such a young age, so she wanted to love you as much as your own mother loved you."

Louise Mitchell's speech was an apparent response to online comments that said Mrs. Mitchell was a homewrecker.

"Is that so? I don't know how much of her feelings she kept to herself, though. If that was truly the case, she wouldn't have had an affair and slept with Dad when he was still married. Otherwise, we wouldn't have a two-year age gap," retorted Amber Mitchell.

Louise Mitchell's expression changed slightly, but she remained calm. "Sis, we're a family no matter what. We're here to take you home. Our family has suffered a lot for you these years. The doctor said you didn't know what you were doing whenever you lost control, Sis. You have a lot of misunderstandings about us. I'll explain them to you one by one."

Louise Mitchell went forward to help Amber Mitchell as she spoke, but the bodyguards beside Amber Mitchell stopped her.

Louise Mitchell grumbled, "Sis, would you rather trust outsiders than your own family? Or... is someone trying to use you to go against the Mitchell family?"

Chapter 2476

Her remarks were aimed at those who were helping Amber Mitchell.

Amber Mitchell's gaze went cold. "Trusting my family is why I ended up like this. Outsiders rescued me and proved that I'm a normal person. Tell me who I'm supposed to believe now."

"Sis, you've misunderstood. You were ill at the time. The doctor's diagnosis report was clear, and there was more than one doctor involved. It's impossible that they were all wrong in their diagnosis, right?"

Just then, someone among the reporters exclaimed, "Gosh, a doctor confessed online that the Mitchell family bribed them, so they diagnosed Amber Mitchell to be mentally ill without going through an examination."

"Gosh, really?"

"If that's true, did the Mitchell family intend to drive their eldest daughter insane?"

"Are the conspiracy theories online true? Did the Mitchell family imprison Amber Mitchell in a mental hospital and made her out to be a mental patient even though she was fine just to gain her shares?"

The Mitchell family turned pale at the conversation around them.

The reporters even raised their microphones and asked them all kinds of tough questions.

A reporter asked the Mitchell family what they thought of the doctor's confession on the website while displaying the page on their phone.

Louise Mitchell grabbed the phone and looked at the words on 1.

The doctor who confessed was Amber Mitchell's attending doctor, and the doctor even listed their financial transactions with the Mitchell family. They even claimed that they had audio recordings.

The recordings had yet to be released, but Louise Mitchell was already covered in a cold sweat.

'What the hell is going on here? Didn't I tell the doctor to lay low for a while? I made it clear I'd pay them a good sum of money once this is over.'

However, this confession had now become evidence against the Mitchell family!

A car drove up to the hospital's entrance. The bodyguards at Amber Mitchell's side immediately formed a path to let her get into the car as soon as they saw it.

Even if the reporters wanted to interview Amber Mitchell, they were blocked by the bodyguards.

Amber Mitchell got into the car and saw Grace.

Grace did not seem surprised by everything happening outside the car.

"Did you know this was going to happen?" Amber Mitchell asked.

"I didn't know the Mitchell family was coming until a while ago. It's why I got the bodyguards to escort you over," said Grace.

"The doctor's confession online..."

Grace said, "We found the doctor when you were having your consultation. He confessed because we already had evidence against him. If he confessed, he could at least face a shorter sentence. When I learned that the Mitchell family was coming over, I asked the doctor to make an online statement to humiliate the Mitchell family further."

If the Mitchell family had not come over today, the doctor's statement would only have been published a few days later.

Amber Mitchell looked at Grace with gratitude. She had helped her more than she expected.

She had expected to be on her own after the consultation, but now... things seemed a little different than expected.

"Thank you," she said.

Grace said, "You've thanked me many times. But I can't help you much after this. I'm returning to Emerald City in a few days, but I'll introduce you to some lawyer friends before leaving. You can consult them if you have any legal problems. They'll help you get justice."

"You've done so much for me," said Amber Mitchell. However, what she wanted was not only justice for herself but also... Herman.

Chapter 2477

"Can I drop by somewhere first before I go to the accommodation you've arranged for me?" she asked.

Grace froze. "Where do you want to go?"

"the Moss family's residence," she said.

Her remaining nine fingers clasped together. She looked nervous.

When Grace accompanied Amber Mitchell to the Moss family's house, she was surprised to see Brian in the living room.

Grace immediately froze, while a trace of warmth appeared on Brian's usually indifferent face upon seeing Grace.

Mrs. Moss, Whitney Herrera, sighed to herself when she saw this. It seemed that what she heard was true.

It was said that the crown prince had many girlfriends, but only Grace, who had become the mistress of the Reed family, had managed to win him over.

Some even said that Jason and Brian had a falling out. They, almost fought because of Grace.

It made Whitney Herrera even more surprised.

After all, Jason and Brian were important people and had seen all sorts of beautiful women.

Grace looked pretty, gentle, and graceful, but she was not exactly stunning.

However, such a woman had two outstanding men who loved her, so she must have special charms.

Daley Moss wanted to refuse to meet Amber Mitchell. Even though she had kowtowed a hundred times to offer incense to his eldest brother, Daley Moss still thought of her as his brother's murderer.

However, his wife had given him a look when the servants announced their arrival. They had been married for years, so he understood what she meant.

Even if he did not want to see Amber Mitchell, he still had to show Grace some respect.

It was because Grace had the Reed family and... the Hart family as her supporters.

Especially now that his wife was planning to make a comeback, he had to meet them if they wanted to be on the crown prince's good side.

Daley Moss still seemed upset when he saw Amber Mitchell. "Amber Mitchell, do you think you didn't cause enough trouble at the Moss family's cemetery that night? Do you want to make a scene here too?"

"I'm not here to make a scene. I only want to talk to you about something," said Amber Mitchell.

"the Moss family has nothing to talk to you about," Daley Moss said without mercy.

"What if that car accident wasn't an accident?" Amber Mitchell asked.

Daley Moss's expression instantly changed as soon as she spoke.

"It wasn't an accident?"

"Yes, it wasn't an accident. Herman was driving, and he should have been able to avoid the truck at the speed he was driving. But he failed to avoid it when he stepped on the brakes. The brake pedal wasn't completely dysfunctional, but it wasn't strong enough to stop the car," said Amber Mitchell.

Daley Moss's face grew solemn. "Do you mean someone tampered with the brakes?"

"That's my speculation, but I have no evidence. I went to the police to look at their investigation report after leaving the hospital. The police did check the vehicle, but there's no indication of a brake problem on the report."

Chapter 2478

"Are you doubting the police's investigation report, then?" Daley Moss asked.

"That's one thing. Another is that I recall Herman asking why the car was so hot and whether there was something wrong with the air conditioning when he was driving. But I didn't feel so at that time. I thought that the car was cool enough, freezing even. Even if it's different for everyone, this is too significant."

After a pause, Amber Mitchell concluded, "I suspect someone might have spiked Herman's food so that his physical senses would react differently from normal."

"Are you saying someone might have drugged him?" Daley Moss narrowed his eyes suspiciously.

"That's all I can think of," said Amber Mitchell, who had spent years in the mental hospital reliving the accident.

Daley Moss chuckled suddenly. "It was so many years ago. Why didn't you bring up such details after the accident but now? How am I supposed to believe you're not making this up?"

"I was so confused with everything that happened, and Herman... died trying to protect me. I just thought it was an accident. I didn't even want to recall it," answered Amber Mitchell.

"Then why did you recall it afterward?" Daley Moss asked sarcastically.

"I thought about many things when I was locked up in the mental hospital, but I thought about the car accident the most. I even dreamed about the accident countless times. I can even recite every word Herman said to me..."

It was doubts about the car accident that had kept her from giving up her life.

It was because she still had to find out the truth about the car accident. She could not let the truth about Herman's death be hidden away just like that.

Daley Moss's face grew solemn. "Why didn't you say anything when you went to the cemetery that night? Why did you choose to say this now?"

"Because most people didn't think I was normal yet before I went for the consultation. Today, the results were released that I'm not mentally ill, so whatever I say can't be dismissed as me being crazy," replied Amber Mitchell.

At the same time, she knew she had nothing even if she was proven to be normal.

She might not be able to retrieve her shares smoothly. Besides that, she had no financial resources and had lost all her connections. Even if Kyla and Grace were willing to help her, they were based in Emerald City. In Deer City, the Moss family was her best choice.

Daley Moss had always respected Herman and was committed to finding out the truth about his eldest brother's death.

Amber Mitchell's comment got Daley Moss thinking. Grace.

who was standing next to Amber Mitchell, said with a pale face, "Excuse me. Where's... the washroom?"

Before Grace could even say thank you, she covered her mouth. and hurried to the washroom.

Brian looked at Grace's back thoughtfully. Moments later, he also got up and walked over.

Whitney Herrera sighed to herself.

Sure enough...

It seemed that the crown prince had not gotten over Grace!

Otherwise, the crown prince would not have intervened in Amber Mitchell's case.

Chapter 2479

Grace rushed to the washroom and leaned over the sink to throw up.

“Blaargh... Blaargh...” The sound of vomiting was so clear in the washroom that she almost seemed to be throwing up everything in her stomach.

Unbeknownst to her, a man outside the bathroom was worried about her while she was throwing up like crazy in there.

Brian’s indifferent face was now full of worry.

The crown prince of the entertainment industry had never been worried about any woman, except her. Every move she made affected him.

He kept telling himself that she was now living a good life with Jason, and that was enough for him.

The person she loved was Jason. Her affection for him was nothing more than something that stemmed from childhood memories. He knew this, but his instincts surpassed his reason.

The moment he saw her uncomfortably rushing into the washroom, he could not help following her.

The sound of vomiting inside made him restless. He was afraid that something was wrong with her.

When Grace finally emerged from the washroom, Brian quickly went forward and asked, “What came over you? Are you okay?”

Grace looked at Brian with a flicker of shock in her eyes before shaking her head. “I probably thought of something bad in the past when I heard Amber Mitchell talking about the conspiracy. It must have caused some discomfort in me. I feel better now after throwing up.”

Brian’s eyes darkened. ‘It must be the car accident she was involved in... She didn’t die in the crash, but she spent three years in prison for it.’

He found out later that she had suffered during her time in prison. What was he doing at that time? He was dating women who looked like her and living a life everyone envied.

“I’m sorry I didn’t find you sooner,” he murmured.

Grace said, “It’s not your fault. Besides, the people responsible have already gotten the punishment they deserve.”

However, he did not feel good when she said so. He only felt sorrier.

He was sorry he missed her.

"Where's Jason? Why didn't he come with you today?" he asked as he changed the subject.

"He went back to Emerald City with the kids yesterday," said Grace.

He was surprised at that. "He left you alone in Deer City?"

"What's there to worry about?" Grace replied calmly.

Brian's eyes flickered. He knew she understood what he meant. He did not expect Jason to leave Deer City first and leave Grace alone when he was still here.

If it were in the past, Jason would never have done this, but now... Was Jason not afraid that he would take the opportunity to approach Grace and steal her heart?

Chapter 2480

Perhaps Jason was confident that even if he allowed Grace to stay in Deer City, others would not be able to change Grace's mind?

"Yes, there's indeed nothing to worry about. I was overthinking," Brian said indifferently.

With that said, Brian turned around to return to the living room.

"Brian!" Grace stopped him. "Thank you for helping Amber Mitchell."

He smiled. "Don't mention it." It was never Amber Mitchell he wanted to help. It was just her.

As long as she had things she wanted to get done, he was willing to give anything to help her get it done. However, it was pointless to tell her his concern now as it would only add to her distress.

It was good as it was...

When they returned to the living room, they heard Daley Moss say to Amber Mitchell, "What you said today had better be true. If someone did plot the accident, I'll find out who was responsible and help my eldest brother get justice. But if what you said is false and you just don't want to face the fact that you killed my eldest brother as you fear retaliation from the Moss family, then-"

Before Daley Moss could finish, Amber Mitchell said, "If what I said is false, I'll pay for Herman's life with mine!"

The statement surprised everyone in the living room.

Grace quickly said, "Amber Mitchell, won't you fail Herman Moss's intention to save you by saying that?"

Amber Mitchell smiled wistfully. "But Herman doesn't know how much I want to be with him. If I can't find out the murderer and the truth, it's a good idea for me to be with him."

Her dark eyes were full of determination.

It was... Amber Mitchell's affection for Herman Moss.

At that moment, Grace felt her throat burning. She did not know what to say.

After leaving the Moss family's house, Grace accompanied Amber Mitchell to an apartment. The apartment was small, only about 50 square meters. However, it was big enough for Amber Mitchell to live in.

"I've paid the rent for a year, so you can stay here first. I've also transferred a sum of money to the online account linked to your phone. It should be enough to support you for a while," said Grace.

"Are you leaving Deer City?" Amber Mitchell asked.

"I'll probably stay for one more week to tie up some loose ends. I was worried about you being alone in Deer City and wondering whether to invite you to Emerald City. But you still have some unfinished work to do. Besides, it concerns the Moss family." I'm relieved you're working with the Moss family now. If you're done with things here, come to Emerald City whenever you want! Kyla and I will welcome you."

"By the way, how is Kyla doing?" Amber Mitchell asked quickly.

"She's been resting well. She'll have a C-section when she's unable to hold on anymore, but... no one can tell what will happen then," said Grace. She wanted to return to Emerald City as soon as possible to see Kyla.

Guilt took over Amber Mitchell's face. "She wouldn't be in this state if weren't for me."

"It has nothing to do with you. Kyla's pregnancy this time was difficult to begin with. The doctors had recommended she abort the baby, but she was reluctant to do so. She had prepared for the worst when she decided to have the baby," said Grace.

However, the key now was Martin Weiss. Even if Martin Weiss was willing to save Kyla... Martin Weiss himself would be in danger.

Should they let Martin Weiss exchange his life for Kyla's?

Even if Kyla survived, she would probably be unhappy all her life.
