

Ex Convict 2491

Chapter 2491

Grace got into the car. Whitney Cooper clenched her teeth in hatred and drove home.

However, Brian was sitting on the couch inside when she opened the door.

“Brian!” Whitney Cooper looked surprised. “What are you doing here? You could’ve called me if you wanted to see me and I would’ve come straight to you.”

Brian only looked at Whitney Cooper coldly. It was different from his usual indifference. The look in his eyes instantly made Whitney Cooper uneasy.

“W-What’s the matter?”

“Did you meet Grace today?” Brian asked.

“How do you know that?” Whitney Cooper blurted out, and that amounted to a direct admission. Then, she hesitated slightly before asking, “Did Grace tell you that?”

“It has nothing to do with her. Let me ask you. Why did you go look for Grace? What did you say to her?” Brian said.

He would not have known about it if Whitney Herrera had not called him and said she happened to see Whitney Cooper meeting Grace.

Chapter 2491

He would sometimes meet Whitney Herrera to talk about their cooperation, so he had brought Whitney Cooper along on several occasions.

Whitney Herrera knew Whitney Cooper, of course.

“I... I didn’t say anything. I just told her I’m your private secretary...” murmured Whitney Cooper.

“And?” Brian demanded.

“And... I hope she could make things easier for you.” Whitney Cooper’s almond-shaped eyes glistened with tears as she pretended to seem aggrieved. “Brian, I know you’ve been thinking about her. You’ve been handling her affairs, especially after coming to Deer City. If this goes on for a long time, those gossip reporters will write about it. Your reputation will suffer.”

Brian looked at her almond-shaped eyes that were similar to Grace’s. Her eyes were what caught his attention when he saw the woman in front of him at the nightclub back then.

It was because her eyes were similar to Grace’s.

Strangely, Grace's tears made his heart ache, while Whitney Cooper's tears only disgusted him.

Even if her almond-shaped eyes were similar to Grace's, the light in her eyes was different.

Brian said, "I seem to have doted on you too much and misled you. Whitney Cooper, you're only my private secretary. You have no right to decide who I think about. You shouldn't think about what will happen to my reputation."

"But I love you." Since meeting him in the nightclub and finding out he was the one who saved her, she had been yearning for him. She had been constantly trying hard to stay by his side.

What woman could not love a man of his wealth, status, and intelligence?

"You love me?" Brian seemed to have heard a joke as a sarcastic smile appeared on his indifferent lips.

"You love me? What do you love about me? Do you love me enough to risk anything for me?"

"I... I love everything about you, of course. I would sacrifice everything for you!" Whitney Cooper said quickly, "I can make an oath if you don't believe me!"

Brian said indifferently, "It's a pity I've never really believed in oaths. Oaths are the easiest to break. You said you would sacrifice everything for me. Does that also... include your life?"

'Huh?' Whitney Cooper froze slightly before immediately saying, "Yes, that includes my life. Brian, it doesn't matter if I lose my life for you. I would've lived a life worse than death if you hadn't saved me!"

"Really?" He looked at her, but his eyes were still indifferent as if her speech did not affect him at all. "Then pay me back with your life."

Whitney Cooper was shocked. "What do you mean?"

"You're no longer my private secretary from now on. I'm also withdrawing all the help I've ever given you. You have nothing to do with me from this moment onward." In his opinion, he could take back whatever he had given her.

Whitney Cooper immediately turned pale. If he took it all back, she would have nothing left!

Even though he had paid off her family debt, that was all there was to it.

How could she willingly return to her old life now that she had a taste of luxury and knew what she really wanted? "Brian, you can't do this to me. I went to look for Grace because I... I was only looking out for you. I know I look a little like her, and I don't mind being a substitute. I can even... undergo plastic surgery to look more like her. I can talk like her, dress like her-"

However, Brian interrupted her before she finished speaking, "But you're not her!"

In the beginning, he kept her by his side partly because he did not want someone who looked like Grace to end up being a prostitute. It was also because he wanted to use her as a substitute.

However, he realized that he was only fooling himself when he saw Grace again in Deer City.

Having this so-called substitute was just him fooling himself and trying to escape.

Brian got up and walked to the entrance.

Whitney Cooper rushed forward and hugged Brian. "Brian, don't go! I was wrong. I won't go look for Grace again. Please forgive me! I'm content as long as I stay by your side!"

"Even if I have nothing?" he asked coldly.

"How could you have nothing? You're the crown prince of the entertainment industry and the heir of Hart Group!" Whitney Cooper said.

Brian looked coldly at the person in front of him and pulled her away from his side. "The woman I want to love will never be someone like you. It's my fault for making you my private secretary back then, so I won't take back what I've given you. But I won't give you anything more!"

Chapter 2492

With that said, he left the house without hesitation. He left Whitney Cooper standing blankly alone.

Having stayed by his side and listened to people whisper things about him made her clear how ruthless he was about feelings.

His previous girlfriends had all begged him hard, but he still broke up with them.

She was not even his girlfriend.

What would she do in the future if she could not stay by Brian's side? What could someone with an average education and no professional skills like her do?

Whitney Cooper was filled with fear and... hatred.

Chapter 2493

'Grace must have told on me. Otherwise, how would Brian have known?!

'It's all Grace's fault! I'll make Grace pay one day!'

The fact that the three members of the Mitchell family were detained by the police as suspects had gone viral.

Louise Mitchell was waiting for her in-laws to bring their grandson back to Deer City. As soon as her in-laws returned, George Gregory would be forced to do something even if he did not want to.

However, she did not expect to find a divorce lawyer in the detention center.

"He... wants to divorce me?" Louise Mitchell asked in disbelief.

"Yes, this is the divorce agreement. Mr. Gregory has already signed it. It'll come into effect once you sign it and go through the standard procedures. You two have a prenuptial agreement, so there's nothing to argue about. We'll follow the agreement. Mr. Gregory wants custody of the child. Miss Mitchell, it'll be difficult for you to obtain custody even if you go to court due to your current situation."

Chapter 2493

The lawyer spoke about the details of the divorce formally.

Louise Mitchell did not want to listen to him and was boiling in anger.

George Gregory had chosen to divorce her. How could he do that? She even willingly handed over most of Mitchell Group's profits.

However, he tossed her these divorce papers and kicked her aside as soon as the Mitchell family was in trouble.

"I want to see George Gregory. Tell him to see me, or I'll never sign the divorce papers!" Louise Mitchell said bitterly. With that said, Louise Mitchell left the meeting room with the staff nearby without waiting for an answer from the lawyer.

When the lawyer told George Gregory what Louise Mitchell had said, George Gregory spoke as if he had predicted it, "What else did she say?"

"That's all. She only said she wants to see you, and she won't sign the agreement if she doesn't," the lawyer replied.

"Okay, got it. You can go out first," he said.

The lawyer left the study. Old Madam Gregory came in and asked worriedly, "Do you really want to divorce Louise Mitchell?"

"Yes," George Gregory said without hesitation.

Chapter 2493

"Although what happened to her is embarrassing, she's still Simon's mother. If you two divorce, Simon-

After all, the elderly like her wanted the family to be complete.

"I want a divorce all the more just because she's Simon's mother. That way, I'll get Simon's custody. If I let her continue living with Simon, her evilness will affect Simon sooner or later," said George Gregory.

Old Madam Gregory sighed. When they came back, their son talked about getting a divorce and said that Louise Mitchell had cut off Amber Mitchell's finger.

Old Madam Gregory was shocked to hear this. She did not expect her daughter-in-law to seem modest and sensible but was actually such a ruthless person. She could even do such a thing to her own sister. How scheming.

Chapter 2494

"Besides, Mom, do you wish to live with such a person?" George Gregory asked again.

Old Madam Gregory thought for a moment before sighing. "Then tell me, do you want to divorce Louise Mitchell purely just because of what she did or because her actions hurt Amber Mitchell? If she had hurt someone else, would you still be asking for a divorce?"

George Gregory pressed his thin lips together tightly. "No, I'm not divorcing her because of Amber Mitchell. What happened between me and Amber Mitchell is in the past. I don't want to remember it since it's in the past."

Yes, it was in the past.

His words were meant for himself more than his mother.

He kept telling himself to stop thinking about Amber Mitchell. Even if he still had feelings for the woman, he should take all of them back!

Grace was returning to Emerald City, and Amber Mitchell came to the airport to see her off.

However, Grace did not expect Brian to see her off too.

Chapter 2494

"Whitney Cooper must have caused you some trouble by coming to see you previously," said Brian.

“Not really. I was just a little surprised. I didn’t expect her to be your private secretary.” Grace looked at Brian and said, “I know I have no right to say anything about your private affairs, but if the only reason you hired her as your private secretary is to find a substitute, then... you’re just stressing yourself out.”

She said, not wanting the man to be stuck in the past.

Brian smiled with a hint of bitterness. “I understand. Don’t worry, I won’t find any more substitutes. That person is no longer my private secretary.”

No matter how much that person looked like her, she was not her!

“You fired her?” Grace said with some surprise.

“I just couldn’t bear to see her working in a nightclub back then, so I let her work as a private secretary for a while. Even though I’ve fired her, she can live a fairly comfortable life with the things I’ve given her as long as she behaves herself.”

Grace looked at the time. It was almost time to board the plane.

“Alright, I should board the plane now.”

“Alright, safe trip!” said Amber Mitchell.

Chapter 2494

Brian gazed at Grace as if he was unwilling to say goodbye.

He was about to watch this woman leave again. He seemed to keep watching her leave him.

“Goodbye,” Grace said to Brian.

Brian pressed his lips together and held out his right hand. He did not want to say goodbye to her, but he was content with shaking her hand as a goodbye.

Grace held out her hand.

ST

Their hands clasped together. Brian looked blankly at their linked hands and felt the warmth coming from her hand.

At that moment, he seemed to recall his childhood when she held his hand tightly on the hill to keep him from falling off the cliff.

If only he could have held her hand tight!

Grace frowned instantly and jerked her hand away. She covered her mouth and rushed to the nearby washroom, where she began to throw up violently.

Amber Mitchell hurried into the washroom with a worried face.

Brian stood outside the washroom while something seemed to flash across his deep phoenix eyes.

Grace was done throwing up and finally rinsed her mouth after she had nothing left to throw up.

"What's the matter? Are you okay?" Amber Mitchell asked.

Grace said, "I don't have much of an appetite these days. Maybe I'm just having indigestion." She felt much more comfortable after throwing up.

When they walked out of the washroom, Amber Mitchell said to Grace again, "Go see the doctor and take care of your stomach after returning to Emerald City."

"Okay." Grace smiled and looked at Amber Mitchell, then at Brian. "Alright, it's time for me to get on the plane! Let's stop talking."

However, Brian grabbed her wrist just as she stepped forward. "You can't get on the plane yet."

"Why?" Grace asked curiously.

His dark phoenix eyes gazed intently at the person before him. A possibility flashed through his mind. Even though the possibility gave him a heavy feeling, he still had to say it, "Did it ever occur to you that you've been vomiting so often lately not because of stomach problems but because you're pregnant?"

'Pregnant?' Grace was dumbfounded and almost could not believe Brian's conclusion. "No way!" Her body was not fertile. She was lucky to have given birth to the triplets by C-section.

Besides, Jay got a vasectomy in case she got pregnant again. How could she possibly be pregnant under such circumstances?

Therefore, it had never occurred to her that she might be pregnant again even after throwing up several times.

"Is it really impossible? Have you gotten yourself checked in the hospital?" Brian asked.

Grace was silent. She had never gone to the hospital for an examination. In retrospect, she had been throwing up and did not have much of an appetite these days. She also suddenly had a preference for sweet desserts, which seemed to have happened during her last pregnancy."

'Am I... really pregnant?'

She looked at her stomach in shock. 'Is it possible? Could she possibly be pregnant with another child?'

"Get yourself examined and you'll know if you're pregnant." Brian's voice rang in her ears.

Half an hour later, Grace waited anxiously for the results of her blood test in the hospital's waiting area.

Though she kept telling herself it was a long shot, she could not help wondering if there was really a little life in her belly?

Amber Mitchell sat next to Grace and kept her company.

Brian stood at the door not far away, quietly leaning by the door. From his eyes, he seemed to be thinking of something. He was looking down.

Time ticked by, and when Grace finally got the blood test results, she looked at the two familiar numbers indicating the blood indices. She knew she was pregnant without the doctor telling her.

She was pregnant! She was carrying a baby!

"You're pregnant." A mutter rang in Grace's ears. She looked up and found that Brian had somehow walked to her side, and his eyes rested on the test results in her hand.

"Yes, I'm pregnant." Grace smiled faintly.

She and Jay were pregnant again. She did not expect to get pregnant again under such circumstances.

In the past, she thought she would never have children of her own, but she now had three lovely children and there was more on the way.

Perhaps the universe had taken pity on her, after all.

"Since you're pregnant, you're not in the right condition to fly. I'll drive you back to Emerald City," said Brian.

Grace said, "Thanks, but Jay had asked the driver and bodyguards to stay in Deer City. I'll just ask the Reed family's driver to drive me back."

There was a flash of gloom in Brian's eyes. She wanted to draw the line between them. Was she afraid that Jason would misunderstand if he sent her home?

Brian could not help smiling faintly at the thought of this. "Alright, I won't see you off, then. Be careful and stay safe."

"Okay," replied Grace.

Not long after, a black Bentley stopped at the hospital's entrance. Grace got into the car, and the driver drove Grace to Emerald City.

Brian stood blankly at the hospital's entrance. Looking at the car that gradually disappeared from his sight, the curve on his lips

Chapter 2496 faded.

Amber Mitchell looked at Brian in a trance and understood that Brian was reluctant to part with Grace.

Had it not been for Grace, Brian probably would not have helped her.

Brian was an outstanding man, but sometimes, love was not about excellence.

Amber Mitchell could not help but recall Herman Moss's face.

Herman had once asked her, "Will you choose me if I become better than George Gregory one day?"

What had she replied then? She said, "Even so, I'll still love George. Herman, I don't love you. George is the man I want to be with forever."

Forever... Unfortunately, fate gave her a hard slap in the face.

George Gregory's voice and face became increasingly blurry in her memory during her years in the mental hospital. However, Herman's face, every word he said, and the things he had done became more vivid in her mind as if they were branded in her blood and bones.

"Mr. Hart, do you want to go back?" Amber Mitchell asked politely.

"Go ahead. I want to stay here a little longer," said Brian.

Chapter 2496

"Alright, I'll go home first," said Amber Mitchell.

"By the way, I'll be staying in Deer City for a while. Let me know if you need anything," Brian said abruptly.

Shock flashed across Amber Mitchell's eyes.

As if explaining her doubts, he said, "Since Grace has chosen to help you, I'll help you as well."

Amber Mitchell froze. 'Is it just because of that? The man should know that if I have to seek his help, it won't be for an easy task. After all, what I'm doing now is making enemies of the Gregory and Mitchell families.'

These two families had deep roots in Deer City.

However, Brian was still willing to make such a promise.

"But doesn't it matter that you'll get nothing in return for helping me?" Amber Mitchell asked.

The elegant voice said indifferently, "My reward is her happiness." This was the answer he gave her!

Chapter 2497

When Grace's car returned to Reed Residence in Emerald City, Jason was already standing outside waiting for her.

It was already ten p.m. As Grace was pregnant, the driver drove slowly. He was afraid that driving too fast would affect the baby.

When Grace saw Jason at Reed Residence's entrance, her eyes got slightly wet.

It was not only because they had been apart for ten days but because... she now had a little life in her belly. The baby was a continuation of their lineage.

When Grace got down from the car, Jason suddenly stepped forward and hugged her. The first words he uttered were... "I'm sorry."

Grace froze. "What's the matter? Why are you apologizing so suddenly?"

"I'm sorry, I was careless. I should've been more careful not to get you pregnant," he murmured.

Grace then realized why he was apologizing.

"What's there to apologize for? I'm actually glad I'm pregnant again," said Grace. After all, she thought she would only have her triplets in her life.

Chapter 2497

However, she now had another baby.

"Glad?" Jason narrowed his eyes slightly, but there was no joy in those dark peach blossom eyes, only worry.

Before Grace reacted, Jason grabbed Grace's hand and said, "Let's go inside first. It's cold outside."

After entering the mansion, Jason asked the servants to leave first.

"Are the children asleep?" Grace asked.

"Yeah, they are. They have no idea you were coming back today. Otherwise, they would've probably waited until you got back," said Jason, his worried eyes resting on her flat belly. "Are you planning to give birth to the baby in your belly?"

Grace nodded and said, "Since I've gotten pregnant, I want to give birth to them, of course."

He was silent with a rare look of hesitation on his handsome face as if he was trying to decide what to say next.

The way he behaved filled Grace with anxiety.

"Do you not want the baby?" she asked.

He pressed his thin lips together before finally sighing. "I want our baby. How can I not? But the doctor said that your uterus was damaged when you carried the triplets. You weren't even fit to give birth to the triplets. And you wouldn't be fit for any more pregnancies even if you managed to give birth to the triplets."

Chapter 2497

It was because... it was too dangerous.

He was afraid that she would be in danger again, so he chose to undergo a vasectomy.

However, he did not expect her to get pregnant anyway.

It was not impossible, though. Perhaps if he had been more careful and gone back to the hospital to check his condition post-operation, he would have noticed the situation earlier and prevented her from getting pregnant.

His mind almost went blank when she called him and told him that the driver would be driving her home today because she was pregnant.

There was no joy but fear.

He lost her for five years back then. She finally came back, and he did not want to lose her again.

People who had lost something knew how precious it was to have it again.

"Grace, we already have three kids. They're enough, aren't they?" Jason murmured.

Chapter 2498

Grace bit her lip slightly, lowered her head, and gently caressed her belly. Though he did not directly reject the idea of keeping the baby, she understood what he meant.

If she were not pregnant, she would use contraceptives and choose not to have children.

However, the accident had happened, and she had gotten pregnant. How could a mother give up her child so easily? Taking a deep breath, she looked up at Jason. "It's still unclear how the baby is doing and what my physical condition is like. We still need another pregnancy check-up. Why don't we decide after getting the results of the check-up?"

He looked at her wary eyes and finally uttered softly, "Okay."

Grace finally let out a sigh of relief. She raised her hand, hugged Jason, and said, "Jay, don't worry. It's been six years since I last gave birth. Since I had a C-section, I can have another baby after two years. Besides, I've been taking care of my health. It won't be that bad."

"No matter what happens, promise me you'll prioritize yourself if you have to choose between you and the baby, okay? I don't want to face the same situation as Martin Weiss one day!" Jason murmured.

Grace froze, knowing that he had thought of Kyla's current situation. Kyla had been in the hospital every day. Martin Weiss said nothing about it, but he would go to the hospital every day in the dead of night.

Kyla had no idea about this.

She only knew because Jay had told her on the phone earlier. The bodyguard he had assigned to protect Kyla at the hospital told him about it.

They also discussed exactly what Martin Weiss thought of Kyla now.

"He must still love Kyla. It's not his character to spend long hours in her ward every night."

"Do you think Martin Weiss would be willing to... save Kyla if something happens to her?"

"Yes." Jason could not have been more sure.

However, she was not that confident. After all, hypnosis had made him forget his feelings. Even though Martin Weiss had some feelings for Kyla, were they deep enough to put himself in danger to save Kyla and their child?

"Grace, at least Martin Weiss can use his blood and liver to save Kyla if she's in danger. But if you're in real danger, what can I offer for your safety?" He had lived in fear every day when she was pregnant with the triplets. He watched her suffer for them, yet he could do nothing about it.

Did he have to go through all that fear and helplessness again?

Grace felt sad. His voice was soft. He did not shout nor sob, but it made her feel like crying.

"It's still early. I'm only six weeks pregnant. We'll decide whether or not to keep the baby after going for a more thorough examination at the hospital, okay?" Grace asked. She thought of her unexpected pregnancy as a happy event.

She did not expect him to be so afraid.

"I'm sorry. I'm sorry..." He kept apologizing.

"There's nothing to apologize for. Maybe God decided three kids aren't enough for us and wants to add another little life to our family." She kissed him as she spoke, "Trust me. I'll cherish my life because I want to be there for you and the kids. I won't be impulsive..."

'She won't?' He accepted her soothing kiss passively.

Chapter 2499

She risked her life to save those three kids back then. What would she risk for the baby in her belly now?

Martin Weiss came to Kyla's ward again at night. He could not explain why he could only calm down and fall asleep after seeing her sleeping face in the dead of night.

However, what surprised him this time was that she was not asleep when he walked into the ward.

He turned around, wanting to leave.

"Don't go!" shouted Kyla. She would have run out of bed to grab him had her belly not made it difficult to get on and out of bed.

Martin Weiss paused and stayed in the ward.

"Are you here to see me?" Kyla asked.

"So what if I am?" he asked, his eyes falling on her sallow face. Her complexion was getting worse these days, and he knew it was a sign that her liver was failing.

She was already in bad shape. Even if they took out the baby, her current liver would not last much longer.

"I'm happy if you are. And if you're not, I feel lucky to have seen you," replied Kyla.

His eyes narrowed. "Are women so fickle? When I appeared in front of you, you told me not to appear in front of you again and bother your peaceful life. Now, you feel happy and lucky? Kyla, don't you think it's too ironic of you to say that?"

"It's fine that you think I'm fickle." She smiled. Even though the doctor had not said anything to her, she could still feel the changes in her body.

Her liver must be failing her, and her body was getting more and more overwhelmed.

"Will you come closer so that I can take a better look at you?" she asked. She might not be able to see him like this in years to come.

She did not even know whether she would be able to complete their so-called contract. If something happened to her and she died before completing the contract, their marriage would be void.

He would be a free man again when that happened.

"Is that necessary? Do you think you haven't seen enough of me?" Martin Weiss asked coldly.

Kyla replied, "It's necessary. I want to take a good look at you."

His thin lips were pressed together tightly as he walked over to her bedside and sat down on a chair nearby. "Alright, you can look."

Chapter 2499

She studied his face carefully. She looked at his eyes, nose, lips... "Tell me. What do you think our second child will look like? The doctor hinted that the baby is going to be a girl. I think she'll be adorable."

After a pause, she said, "Martin Weiss, let's take a family photo together after I'm discharged, okay? That way, we'll at least have been a family once even if we do part in the end."

Chapter 2500

"It's just a fake family. Our marriage was never real. We only got married because you don't want our child to be a bastard. I didn't end the marriage because I want to see how boring life with you really is."

She sighed bitterly. "Yeah, I'm a pretty boring wife." She also hoped they could have a happy marriage, but perhaps a marriage based on a deal was never going to be happy from the start.

"But it's just a family photo. Consider it my last plea to you. I won't ask you for anything more than that, so will you please say yes?" she pleaded with him.

His eyes glimmered. "You won't ask me for anything else? Kyla, don't you think you should be asking me to save you? If something does happen to your liver, I'm the only person who can donate you a liver!"

His deep voice with a hint of sarcasm rang in the ward.

"But you'll also be at risk. It's only been more than six years since your last liver transplant. It'll be too risky for you to donate again," she said.

"What's the matter? Are you worried about me? You don't care if people like me live or die." His body suddenly leaned forward, and his face was close to hers. His piercing eyes almost Chapter 2500 penetrated her.

Kyla looked at the face right before her eyes and suddenly raised her hands. She put them gently around his neck, laying her face upon his shoulder.

He was taken aback by her sudden actions.

He tried to push her away, but his body seemed to instinctively resist and come closer to her as if he wanted her to hold him tighter.

“Martin Weiss, don’t donate your liver to me. Don’t gamble your life away. Giving birth to this baby is my gamble, not yours. So, I’m not going to ask you to donate your liver. I only hope you’ll visit the kids more often and bond with them when you’re free.” All she wanted was for him to live well. That was already a blessing for her.

He stiffened, and her speech scared him. It was as if she was giving her last words.

No way. She should not know about her current liver condition. He, Jason, and Grace had reached an agreement that the doctor would not reveal her true condition to her.

“If you’re saying that to use the baby to arouse my sympathy and make me feel sorry and give you my liver, you’d better forget about it. I’m not going to sacrifice myself like that for a woman who doesn’t love me.”

She ended the hug with a smile. “I know you won’t. Martin

Weiss, I have no regrets for you. I want to sleep now, so can you please leave?”

Perhaps she would cry in his presence if he did not leave now.

She had so many regrets for him that she wished she did not have this illness so that she could tell him that she loved him and was willing to be with him again.

No matter how much pain they had experienced together, she wanted to try again. She wanted them to try being together again!

It was a pity she could never say that to him.

This regret was destined to accompany her to her grave!

Martin Weiss’s face darkened as he left without saying a word.

When the sound of the ward door closing rang, tears fell from Kyla’s eyes.
