

Ex Convict 2541

Chapter 2541

Instead of driving away in the car he came in, he walked down the street in a daze. He did not even know where he was going.

It was as if the road ahead of him was dark, and perhaps it was the end of his life.

What had he done?

He wanted to forget about Grace but could not.

He wanted to keep her safe but could do nothing when she was in danger. He could only watch her put herself into a dangerous situation.

When she told him that she would give birth to the child at such a price just because it was her and Jason's baby, his heart filled with endless sadness.

It was... the obvious answer, was it not? He had long understood that the person she loved could only be Jason.

To her, he was nothing more than a childhood friend who had gone through thick and thin with her. He was nothing more than a friend to her.

It had always been a one-sided crush.

He knew that, but why did he still feel so bad? It was almost as if apter 2541

he was about to suffocate.

Just then, there was suddenly the muffled sound of thunder in the sky.

People on the streets either took out umbrellas or rushed to a place not far away to seek shelter from the rain.

Only Brian continued to walk slowly as if nothing mattered.

Drip, drip!

Bean-sized raindrops began to fall from the sky, landing on his head, face, and body.

The raindrops became increasingly dense. It seemed to hurt when they hit the body.

However, he hoped that the rain could hurt him even more. Perhaps he would forget the pain in his heart if it hurt more.

Swoosh!

It started raining cats and dogs. Those without umbrellas scurried for shelter, but Brian continued to walk slowly in the rain.

‘Where should I go?’

‘Where should I go without Grace in my life?’

‘How should I live my life?’

Just then, he stopped when an umbrella was held over his head.

He looked up blankly at the floral umbrella over his head that temporarily shielded him from the rain.

When he turned around, he saw an unfamiliar female face.

He only glanced at her faintly before continuing to walk forward.

To his surprise, the umbrella continued to follow him.

Brian turned around, and his dark phoenix eyes saw the woman following behind him.

D

She was a young woman with a round apple face. She had round deer-like eyes, long hair that was in a simple ponytail, a delicate nose, and lips of moderate thickness. She was wearing simple casual clothes.

In Brian’s opinion, such a woman was ordinary. He had seen all sorts of women in the entertainment industry. Many beautiful women had even tried to get close to him.

Chapter 2542

The woman currently only had one umbrella in her hand. She wanted to block the rain for him, so part of her body was wet from the rain.

“I don’t like people following me,” Brian said coldly.

“But...” The woman seemed to hesitate. “Are you really okay?”

‘What could happen to me?’ As if not wanting to talk to her anymore, Brian simply turned around and continued walking.

However, he had just taken two steps when the umbrella followed him again to help keep him out of the rain!

He turned around again and looked at her coldly. “I told you, I don’t like people following me.”

‘I don’t like to follow other people either!’ Valda Theller wailed to herself. She was not a nosy person. However, she saw the man walking on the street in the rain. When she saw the look on his face, she suddenly felt uneasy, so she decided to help keep him out of the rain.

“Well... life isn’t always smooth sailing. It’s normal to encounter some trouble. We only have to overcome it,” she advised him.

Brian’s indifferent eyes suddenly looked at her. “What do you know?”

Chapter 2542

She was startled by his gaze. She only thought that the air around her seemed heavy like it was frozen.

The man... terrified her.

“I just... think one should cherish one’s life when one is still alive. After all, we only live once...” she muttered.

He suddenly did not know whether to laugh or cry. “Do you think I’m going to kill myself?”

Valda Theller blinked before her face suddenly turned red. Her expression made him know he was right.

This woman thought he was going to kill himself. It would probably become the biggest joke in the entertainment industry if others found out.

“What makes you think I’m going to kill myself?” he asked.

“Because... you look like you’re going to cry,” she said a little awkwardly. It was how she felt when she saw the look on his face when he was walking alone on the street. She just thought the man seemed to have many sad thoughts in mind.

She even wondered if the water on his face was also made up of tears in addition to the rainwater.

‘Cry?’

Brian raised his hand and touched the raindrops on his face. “I won’t cry. You’re overthinking it.” He had probably run out of tears long ago.

He had already used up the tears in this life when he regretted it again and again!

Valda Theller looked even more awkward now. ‘Alright, it seems that I’ve misunderstood!’

However, there was only one umbrella right now. If she went away, it would be tantamount to leaving him in the rain. However, she would get caught in the rain if she gave the umbrella to him.

Either option seemed weird.

Therefore, Valda Theller could only continue holding the umbrella awkwardly, praying that the rain could quickly stop.

Brian glanced at her strangely. “Why are you still standing here?”

She said, "If I leave and you stay in the rain... That's kinda inappropriate. You'll catch a cold. I've seen the weather forecast. This is just a shower. It'll come and go quickly. It'll soon stop."

He stared at her. 'Did she approach me on purpose?' Too many women had tried to approach him on purpose.

Chapter 2543

After all, his wealth and background were too attractive to women.

'Who is this woman? Did she recognize me?'

However, the woman said nothing after finishing her words. She just quietly stayed by his side while holding the umbrella. She did not make others find her annoying.

Brian did not take another step and just stood where he was, glancing into the distance.

The heavy rain washed away everything on earth as if to wash away all the filth.

"Have you ever loved anyone?" The words slipped out of his mouth, and he wondered why he was talking to an unfamiliar woman about this.

Valda Theller froze. Her hand clenched the umbrella slightly before answering, "Yes."

"Really?"

"But my love was only a joke. He never loved me. I was only a bet he made with others. How cliché, right?" Valda Theller, laughed at herself.

Even though it had been a long time ago, it was still a wound in her heart. She always acted as if she had forgotten about it in front of people she knew.

However, she spoke about it so naturally in front of this stranger.

"So, I'm trying my best to forget him and withdraw all my feelings for him. The biggest waste of one's feelings is falling in love with someone who isn't worth loving," she let out a breath and said with a smile.

Brian murmured, "Withdraw? If you can withdraw your affection, that only means your love isn't deep at all."

She looked at him with some surprise after hearing him say that.

"Have you ever been deeply in love?" Valda Theller asked.

Brian did not answer her but looked up at the sky.

The rain had begun to taper off, and the sky was clearing up.

The rain ended as quickly as it came.

Before they knew it, the rain had stopped.

Brian raised his hand and hailed a passing taxi. He got in and left, leaving Valda Theller to stand blankly in the same place.

She only felt like it was a dream. The man left so quickly that he did not even say goodbye.

"This guy wasn't hurt by love, was he? Is that why he drenched himself in the rain and showed such a sad expression!" Valda Theller thought to herself.

However, what kind of person could hurt this man's feelings?

After all, when they were conversing earlier, she had gotten close enough to see his face. Even though his hair was wet, his face was bruised, and he looked messy, she could still see that his facial features were exquisite-especially those phoenix eyes. If the indifference in his eyes turned into tenderness, it could easily charm people.

A man like that should be able to attract women easily, but he looked like he had been dumped.

Valda Theller was curious, but she then chuckled. It was none of her business.

Even if the man earlier were dumped by someone, he would probably have a new woman around him soon.

Chapter 2544

Brian touched his wet hair in the car.

'Can I ever withdraw my love for Grace?

'Is it too deep that I can't withdraw it? Or do I not want to withdraw it at all? Does Grace know I'll give up my life for her safety?'

The trial for the car accident began.

Louise Mitchell stood in the dock again.

Even though the Moss family did not announce the retrial, it was abuzz online.

However, unlike the Mitchell family's lawsuit, the Gregory family did not intervene this time. George Gregory did not even attend the trial, which made many people speculate whether the Gregory family was planning to fall out with the Mitchell family.

There were even reports that George Gregory was planning to divorce Louise Mitchell.

Louise Mitchell was not as lucky as the last time. This time, not only did the Gregory family not help Louise Mitchell but the witnesses and material evidence all pointed at Louise Mitchell, making Louise Mitchell's excuses useless.

Chapter 2544

It was clear Louise Mitchell had already lost even though the trial had not reached its conclusion.

On the last day of the trial, the judge convicted Louise Mitchell and confirmed that she was the mastermind of the accident and Sandra Lucas's murderer. She was sentenced to life imprisonment and deprived of political rights for life.

Louise Mitchell almost collapsed to the ground while shouting, "I... I'm not guilty. I was wronged. I was wronged..."

The only response she got was the Stephensonliff pressing her arms firmly and escorting her back to the police car.

Suddenly, Louise Mitchell screamed in the direction of Amber Mitchell, "Louise Mitchell, you did this to me! You b*tch! You did this to me! Do you think the Moss family is going to treat you well? You'll only be worse off than me!"

Amber Mitchell looked at Louise Mitchell, whose expression looked twisted and resentful. She was quite different from her arrogant self after the last court hearing.

"It's my business to decide whether I'm going to be well off or not, not yours. You're the one who did this to yourself! If you hadn't caused the car accident, how could this have happened to you today?" Amber Mitchell said coldly.

She had nothing but hatred for her half-sister.

Chapter 2544

Louise Mitchell shouted with a hideous expression, "You killed Herman Moss! If he hadn't tried to protect you, you would've been the one who died instead of him! Amber Mitchell, you're the murderer! You're the killer! Why do I have to go to jail while you're free? Just wait. the Moss family will send you to jail next! You'll suffer more than when you were in the mental hospital!"

Compared to Louise Mitchell's excitement, Amber Mitchell only looked indifferently at the person in front of her. "Louise Mitchell, you'll spend the rest of your life in prison without any chance of commutation. You can only atone for the sins you committed for the rest of your life!"

With that said, she turned away from her.

She and Louise Mitchell would probably never see or interact with each other again!

"Amber Mitchell, you b*tch! I'm not done with you. I'll wait for you in prison. I'll wait and see what happens to you..." Louise Mitchell continued shouting.

However, Amber Mitchell did not look back as if the person behind her no longer mattered to her.

She walked out of the courtroom and faced the reporters who came over. Amber Mitchell got into the Moss family's car and returned to the Moss family's house with Daley Moss.

"It's not too late for you to back out," Daley Moss said suddenly.

"Back out? Why would I back out?" Amber Mitchell chuckled and said, "Now that Herman's real killer is behind bars, I think he can finally rest in peace. Tomorrow is the day I'm most looking forward to. I only want it to come sooner."

Daley Moss glanced at Amber Mitchell before finally sighing.

His opinion of Amber Mitchell was changing after all that had happened.

Now, he finally vaguely understood why his eldest brother had fallen in love with the woman. He was even willing to give his life to protect this woman in a life-or-death situation.

It was because this woman... was indeed kind and righteous.

She was kind, and not many people were kind these days. One would be lucky to meet someone like her.

'Brother and Amber Mitchell would've been the envy of everyone if he were still alive.'

"I have nothing more to say since you said you won't back out. Spend the night in the Moss family's house. Brother's room is still the same as it was when he was alive, and I've put all the things you wanted in his room," said Daley Moss.

Amber Mitchell was sincerely grateful. "Thank you, Mr. Moss."

Chapter 2545

"Just call me Beicheng from now on," said Daley Moss.

While the car drove toward the Moss family's house, George Gregory also learned about Louise Mitchell's sentence.

She was sentenced to life in prison and deprived of political rights for life. The outcome of the trial was no surprise.

Given Louise Mitchell's past crimes, even a death sentence was not unreasonable.

The only thing that surprised him was... "Did Amber Mitchell just get into the Moss family's car?"

"Yes, Miss Amber Mitchell got into a car with Daley Moss after the trial, and the car drove toward the Moss family's house," the subordinate replied.

George Gregory frowned slightly. 'What on earth is going on? Why did Amber Mitchell go to the Moss family's house?'

Herman Moss's room was still the same as it was when Amber Mitchell visited it. However, she felt nostalgic as she entered the room again.

'Herman...' The name had been etched in her bones and blood.

However, what attracted the most attention was the white wedding dress that belonged to her, which the Moss family had custom-made for her.

Chapter 2545

Yes, her request to Daley Moss was that... she wanted to wear a wedding dress and marry Herman!

Even though Herman was already dead, she still wanted to be Herman's wife. Even though such marriage could never be legally recognized, she hoped her name could be engraved on Herman's tombstone.

That way, she could be buried with Herman after she passed away.

She did not marry Herman when he was alive, but she could fulfill her wish by marrying him after he died.

She understood the Moss family's concerns.

After all, she was still in her 30s. In the Moss family's opinion, she still had the rest of her life ahead of her. Did she want to be a widow for the rest of her life by marrying a dead man?

However, she only wanted to stay with Herman.

Chapter 2546

She was tired after going through so many things. She just wanted to spend the rest of her life in peace and keep those wonderful memories with Herman!

Amber Mitchell walked to a row of bookshelves in the room and looked at the books on the shelves. These were Herman's favorite books, and she saw a book she once loved among them.

She was surprised to find the same book in Herman's book collection. However, she found a photo tucked between the pages when she opened it.

It was... a photo of her and Herman!

In the photo, she was looking up and talking to Herman, seemingly about an interesting topic. She had a smile on her lips, while Herman listened with a gentle expression.

It was a photo of them together, but it was a photo that was taken secretly.

Amber Mitchell remembered that this photo was one of the first photos of her and Herman taken by the paparazzi, which later sparked rumors.

When she told Herman about the incident, Herman had joked, "Speaking of which, we haven't taken any photos together. These reporters had helped us."

Chapter 2546

Yeah, they had never taken photos together!

Was it why Herman printed out this photo?

It was indeed a photo of them together.

'Herman...'

Amber Mitchell's eyes watered as she looked at the gentle face in the photo. The next moment, warm tears began to surge out of her eyes, dripping onto the photo.

Amber Mitchell quickly raised her hand and wiped the tears from the photo.

Knock! Knock!

The sound of knocking rang. Amber Mitchell got up, walked to the door, and opened it. She saw three women standing outside.

"Hello, I'm the stylist responsible for your dressing tomorrow. These two are my assistants. Mr. Moss asked us to discuss with you and try on some makeup. We can make the changes today if there are problems," they said.

"Okay," replied Amber Mitchell.

Therefore, the stylist and her two assistants went in and got busy. They helped Amber Mitchell put on the wedding dress and let her try several styles before she chose one of them.

Chapter 2546

After a while, Whitney Herrera came over. She had brought a set of jewelry with her. She said, "Daley Moss said his parents had prepared two sets of jewelry for their two daughters-in-law when they were alive. Mine was given to me when Daley Moss and I got married. This set is for his eldest brother's wife."

When Amber Mitchell opened the jewelry box, she saw an expensive set of sapphire jewelry.

Amber Mitchell quietly caressed the jewelry before looking up and saying to Whitney Herrera, "Thank you. I'll wear the jewelry tomorrow. I'll return it to you after that."

"No, Daley Moss wants you to keep the jewelry. Since you're set on marrying his eldest brother in such a way, it's the most appropriate for you to have it," said Whitney Herrera.

Amber Mitchell looked beautiful and serene when she wore the wedding dress. She had her hair up and wore makeup. She donned the sapphire jewelry.

Looking at Amber Mitchell right now, even Whitney Herrera, a woman, could not take her eyes off her.

Amber Mitchell was undoubtedly beautiful! Even after being tortured in a mental hospital for so many years, she was still beautiful. Whitney Herrera could imagine how beautiful she used to be.

No wonder George Gregory and Herman Moss fell in love with Amber Mitchell!

Chapter 2547

Amber Mitchell would be married to Herman Moss tomorrow while holding his memorial tablet. What would the expression on George Gregory's face be when he heard the news?

Whitney Herrera was suddenly a little curious.

Everyone in tMason Swanson only knew that George Gregory had courted Amber Mitchell back then. Was it true that such passionate love no longer existed?

"This is it. Let's use this style for tomorrow. Also, I'll wear another bracelet tomorrow," said Amber Mitchell.

Tomorrow, she would wear the bracelet Herman gave her.

"Alright, about the ring..." the stylist said a little hesitantly. After all, Amber Mitchell had lost her right ring finger. It was the finger she should wear the wedding ring on, but she... would never be able to wear a wedding ring again.

Amber Mitchell glanced at her mutilated right hand with a faint smile. "I'd better wear it on my left hand. I still have my left ring finger." Even if her left ring finger were missing, she would wear it on her other fingers.

The stylist nodded.

Amber Mitchell turned and said to the others, "That's it for now."

Chapter 2547

I want to stay here alone.”

The stylist and her assistants left the room. Whitney Herrera asked, “Amber Mitchell, do you plan to live in the Moss family’s house?”

“No, I’ll go back to my rented place. But I’d like to take some of Herman’s old clothes and things with me as well as some of his photos. I’d like to have some of his things in my place.” That way, maybe she could imagine that she was living with Herman.

“I’ll speak to Daley Moss about it. There should be no problem,” said Whitney Herrera.

“Whitney, thank you,” Amber Mitchell said quickly.

“You’re welcome,” said Whitney Herrera as she left the room.

Amber Mitchell looked at herself in the mirror. She was wearing a white wedding dress, had elegant makeup on, and donned luxurious jewelry. She looked like one of tMason Swansonty’s top socialites.

She never imagined that one day, she would wear a wedding dress for Herman Moss.

However, she was currently standing in Herman’s room in a wedding dress.

“Herman, do you like the way I look?” Amber Mitchell murmured. Traces of him seemed to fill the room, but he could not answer her anymore.

Chapter 2547

the Moss family chose to hold a ceremony for Amber Mitchell’s marriage to Herman Moss in the Moss family’s cemetery. Only some of the Moss family’s relatives attended.

The information was kept private, and the Moss family did not want to make a big deal out of it.

Therefore, they had told the media not to report on the Moss family recently. If the media published news reports, the Moss family would retaliate.

It was a sunny day. Amber Mitchell had already put on her wedding dress early in the morning and finished getting styled with the skillful hands of the stylist.

Holding Herman Moss’s memorial tablet, she arrived at the cemetery in a car.

She had a faint smile on her way there. It was the day she was most looking forward to.

As she stepped out of the car, Daley Moss looked at Amber Mitchell. “You still have a chance to back out. Otherwise, you have no way of backing out after we put a new tombstone on Brother’s tomb that has your name on it.”

"As I said, I have no regrets. I survived because of Herman. I managed to survive the mental hospital because I kept thinking about how Herman wanted me to stay alive and well before he died. Otherwise, I would've killed myself long ago," said Amber Mitchell as the sun shone on her face. Her eyes were calm as if she had gone through all the ups and downs.

She gently looked down at the memorial tablet she was holding. "I think I'll cherish every day of my life more after I marry Herman. He wanted me to live well, so I'll try my best to live well. After I pass away, I can tell him I didn't waste the life he gave me!"

Daley Moss looked at the woman in front of him and muttered, "Brother loved you so much that he might not want you to sacrifice the rest of your life on him."

"I'll explain it to him when the time comes. I'll tell him that this was what I wanted," said Amber Mitchell.

She wanted so much... to be his bride!

All she could do was to be with Herman... in this way!

George Gregory got a call from the hospital and went there.

Chapter 2548

The hospital only said on the phone that they had something. important to inform him, but George Gregory only saw the attending doctor and another unfamiliar doctor when he got there.

"Mr. Gregory, this is the doctor from the hospital's hematology department. Dr. Larson is responsible for Simon's blood test," the attending doctor introduced.

"What's the matter? Are there any new changes with Simon's condition?" George Gregory asked.

The attending doctor looked hesitantly at Dr. Larson beside him. Finally, Dr. Larson said, "Here's the thing, Simon's second blood transfusion had better effects than the third blood transfusion with his mother's blood. We thought that the situation was abnormal, so we compared Simon mother's blood with the blood of the four donors. We found something strange."

"Something strange?" George Gregory narrowed his eyes. "What's strange?"

Dr. Larson said, "Simon was very receptive to Amber Mitchell's blood, who's one of the four blood donors. Hence, I boldly conducted a DNA test. I only wanted to do a genetic comparison to see if any hidden factors might have led to the high acceptability rate, but it turns out that Amber Mitchell and Simon's genes show that they are... mother and son."

"What?" George Gregory froze, hardly believing his ears. "What did you say?"

"According to the test results, Simon is Amber Mitchell's child. We also conducted a DNA test on Simon and Louise Mitchell. We found that they're a partial match, but they're not mother and son," said Dr. Larson.

George Gregory was stunned. 'Simon is... Amber Mitchell's child! How could it be? When Simon was born, the Gregory family did a DNA test to prove that Simon is indeed my child.'

Therefore, he naturally thought that Simon was his and Louise Mitchell's child!

However, the doctors were telling him that Simon was his and Amber Mitchell's child!

Amber Mitchell never had a child!

He suddenly remembered that he had asked Amber Mitchell whether they had a child and she said... no!

'But what if... Amber Mitchell was pregnant with my child back then?' With that in mind, George Gregory felt cold sweat pouring down his back!

'What on earth is the truth? What the hell is going on here?'

Chapter 2549

"Mr. Gregory? Mr. Gregory?" The two doctors at his side immediately shouted after seeing George Gregory's stunned appearance.

George Gregory let out a breath with difficulty and stared at Dr. Larson with his dark eyes. "Can you guarantee that your test result shows that Simon is really Amber Mitchell's child?"

Dr. Larson said sternly, "Of course, I can guarantee it. I even tested it several times for fear of getting it wrong."

George Gregory took a deep breath. "Alright. I hope you'll keep it between us for now."

"Of course," the attending doctor and Dr. Larson quickly promised.

George Gregory then dashed out of the hospital and drove in the direction of the prison.

'Louise Mitchell's the one who can give me an answer now! How did Louise Mitchell do it? She took Amber Mitchell's child as her own.'

He would not have married Louise Mitchell had it not been for the child.

However, he married Louise Mitchell, only to find out that she was not the child's biological mother!

It was so ironic he found it ridiculous!

He rushed to the prison. After half an hour, George Gregory finally met Louise Mitchell.

When Louise Mitchell saw George Gregory, she immediately snapped. "George Gregory, what are you doing here? You've never thought of me as your wife. Are you just gonna let me get a life sentence? Do you want Simon to have a criminal mother? He'll never be able to hold his head up!"

However, her words seemed to trigger George Gregory. He stared intently at Louise Mitchell and asked through clenched teeth, "Whose child is Simon's?"

Louise Mitchell froze before shouting, "Simon's your child. The Gregory family did the DNA test yourself!"

"I'm asking you whose child Simon is!" George Gregory's voice grew louder. His dark and deep eyes were bloody and fierce when they stared at Louise Mitchell.

Louise Mitchell's heart seemed to miss a beat at this instant. She seemed to be intimidated by George Gregory.

Fear ran through her body.

'Did he... find out something?

'No, no. There's no way he found out. He spent so many years in the dark. How could he have found out about it now? Besides, even Amber Mitchell doesn't know about it!

'Amber Mitchell thinks her baby died during childbirth!"

However, the short moment of hesitation in Louise Mitchell's eyes made George Gregory understand that the woman in front of him knew full well what he was asking!

"So, you knew that Simon is Amber Mitchell's child, but you deliberately pretended to be his mother just to marry into the Gregory family?" George Gregory asked sharply.

A look of confusion appeared on Amber Mitchell's face as she tried to suppress the shock in her heart.

"I... I don't know what you're talking about. Simon's my child. What does he have to do with Amber Mitchell?"

"Your child?" George Gregory sneered. "Simon isn't related to you at all. Amber Mitchell's the one related to him by DNA! Do you want me to slap the DNA report in your face before you admit it?"

Chapter 2550

Louise Mitchell's expression changed instantly. 'Has... Has he found out?'

"I'm not wondering whose child he is. I already know that Simon isn't your child. I only want to know how you managed to make him your child." George Gregory asked darkly.

Louise Mitchell suddenly laughed as if releasing her fear after it reached its climax. With this laugh, her twisted and repressed feelings were released.

"How did I do it? George Gregory, it's all thanks to you! If you hadn't turned a blind eye to Amber Mitchell at that time, you would've known that she was pregnant with your child and I wouldn't have gotten the opportunity. It's a pity that she risked her life to give birth to the baby but ended up thinking that she gave birth to a stillborn!"

"What did you say? She risked her life to give birth to the baby?" he asked in surprise.

"Yeah. She was hoping you'd get her out of the mental hospital!" Louise Mitchell said with a laugh.

George Gregory's face began to turn pale, and his hands at his sides clenched slowly as his nails dug into his palms.

'It turns out Amber Mitchell was pregnant with my baby! She was locked up in the mental hospital while pregnant with my baby!

'What was Amber Mitchell thinking while waiting for me to rescue her?

'But what about me? I married Louise Mitchell and ignored her. I didn't even allow people around me to talk about her!'

George Gregory felt a severe tightness in his heart. It felt like a heavy hammer hitting his heart. Then waves of pain continuously spread in his heart.

"Louise Mitchell, you should just die!" George Gregory glared at the woman in front of him!

To think that a woman he had always looked down on would make such a fool of him!

"I should just die? You're the one who should die. George Gregory, do you think you're a saint? What happened to Amber Mitchell despite her loving you so much? You dumped her after she got into the car accident. Hahaha!" Louise Mitchell laughed louder than ever!

George Gregory suddenly got up, reached over the table, and grabbed Louise Mitchell by the neck.

Louise Mitchell's face instantly turned red. She stuck her tongue out, gasping for breath.

However, she seemed to be adding fuel to the fire by saying with difficulty, "You've always thought... that Amber Mitchell cheated on you, didn't you? In fact... nothing ever went on... between her and Herman Moss. She had always loved you... It's funny that Herman Moss was actually saying goodbye to... Amber Mitchell on the day of the accident. Herman Moss was planning to go abroad, while Amber Mitchell... was only wishing him a safe trip... Amber Mitchell wanted nothing more than to be your bride at the time... Even..."

"Even what?" George Gregory suddenly loosened his fingers and asked as he stared at Louise Mitchell.

"Cough cough..." Louise Mitchell choked several times before catching her breath. Looking at George Gregory's ghastly pale face, she suddenly felt a sense of revenge.

The man's expression finally changed. He was no longer that high and mighty person who could manipulate others at will!

"I even told Amber Mitchell that she should get together with Herman Moss and let me have you since Herman Moss liked her while I loved you. But guess what she said?" Louise Mitchell said sarcastically.

George Gregory's lips quivered, but not a word came out.

He suddenly felt anxious. He had a premonition that what Louise Mitchell was going to utter would cause him a lifetime of pain.

Perhaps what he should do now was stop listening and get out of here!
