

Ex Convict 2911

Chapter 2912

"Is there any nonsense? The people present will naturally have a measure in their hearts!" Raymond Bowman explained how Barbara Schuman had taken advantage of his liking for her to get him to approach Valda Theller, and then accused Valda Theller of shamelessness afterwards.

The hidden truths of the past were now being revealed by Raymond Bowman in this manner.

Valda Theller looked at Raymond Bowman in shock. This man was not only dragging Barbara Schuman down, but also himself, by speaking in this way.

He should have been aware of the impact on his own reputation after saying these things, but he still spoke out.

"Don't... don't say anything, Raymond Bowman, please stop!" Barbara Schuman panicked and tried to stop Raymond Bowman from continuing, but her attempts were futile. Raymond Bowman continued to speak and revealed everything that had happened in the past.

The people around them began to look at Barbara Schuman with different eyes.

After everything had been said, Raymond Bowman suddenly felt a sense of relief.

Perhaps this matter had been weighing on his heart for too many years. Now, he finally had the courage to speak out, just to protect the person he wanted to protect.

He loved her, wanted to protect her, and wanted to prevent her from being hurt again!

Looking at Valda Theller, Raymond Bowman said, "Valda Theller, I'm sorry!"

Since they reunited, he had said sorry to her many times, but none of them were as heavy as this one.

Valda Theller finally spoke after a while, "Everything is in the past now."

After speaking, she turned around and was about to leave. At this moment, Barbara Schuman suddenly said, "What do you mean? I just wanted to help you two get together, but you deliberately threw dirt on me. That's too much!"

As she spoke, she threw the red wine in her hand towards Valda Theller.

Valda Theller instinctively tried to dodge, while Raymond Bowman instinctively tried to block the wine for her.

However, someone else was faster and held Valda Theller in their arms.

There was a gasp from the people around them.

Valda Theller recognized the familiar scent and knew who was holding her, even without looking up.

Chapter 2913

The red wine splashed directly onto Brian Hart's body, and Barbara Schuman's empty wine glass also fell to the ground due to the shock.

Barbara Schuman couldn't believe her eyes as she looked at Brian Hart who suddenly appeared!

What was going on? Brian Hart... was actually protecting Valda Theller. Wasn't Brian Hart supposed to be indifferent to Valda Theller? During the comic convention, Valda Theller was clearly seriously injured, but wasn't Brian Hart also indifferent?

Meanwhile, Brian Hart nervously looked at the person in his arms. After confirming that the person was okay, he looked coldly at Barbara Schuman and said, "I don't want to see you again!"

He then lowered his head and said to Valda Theller, "Let me take you home." He took her hand and walked directly towards the exit of the banquet hall.

Valda Theller followed Brian Hart out, and it wasn't until they reached the door that she came back to her senses from the cold wind outside.

"Thank you for earlier, I'm sorry that your clothes got wet, I..." She opened her mouth, intending to offer to pay for his dry cleaning, but the words were stuck in her throat.

Offering to pay for Brian Hart's dry cleaning sounded a bit ridiculous.

"I can go home by myself," she said, trying to pull her hand out of his.

"I'll take you home. I don't feel comfortable letting you go alone," he said.

"No need, if you take me home now, I'll feel uncomfortable. So, I'll go by myself." Valda Theller said again, and this time, she finally managed to pull her hand out of his.

She hailed a taxi and got in. As the car drove towards her home, Valda Theller closed her eyes and thought about what had happened at the banquet today.

Raymond Bowman's apology and the revelation of the truth were too late, and the pain she had endured could not disappear because of this.

However, Raymond Bowman's actions had also made the depression in her heart fade away little by little.

Suddenly, the voice of the taxi driver came from the front, "Miss, do you know the Porsche behind us?"

Valda Theller was stunned and opened her eyes to look at the rearview mirror. She saw a Porsche following the taxi.

That was... Brian Hart's car!

"This car has been following us since you got in. Do you know the person?" the driver asked.

"Yes... I know him. Don't worry," Valda Theller said, feeling a bit dry.

"Is he your boyfriend? Did you have a fight?" the driver asked.

Valda Theller almost choked on her saliva. "Why... why do you ask that?"

"Couples usually fight. If the woman doesn't want to get in the man's car, she takes a taxi. It's not common for the man to follow in his car like this. Your boyfriend must care about you a lot. You should make up with him soon," the driver said

"He... he's not my boyfriend," Valda Theller said.

"Not your boyfriend? Then he must be interested in you, otherwise why would he follow you like this?" the driver said.

Valda Theller didn't say anything else, but her gaze kept flickering towards the rearview mirror. The Porsche had been following them all the Valda Theller sighed and walked to the front of the Porsche. Brian Hart opened the car door and got out.

"I'm home now. You don't have to follow me like this," Valda Theller said.

"Do you really hate me that much? Even following you in my car makes you uncomfortable?" Brian Hart asked.

"It's not that I hate you, it's just that... it's not necessary." Valda Theller took a deep breath and said, "Brian Hart, it took me a lot of courage to make up my mind to break up with you. This is my decision, and I hope you can respect it. Besides, I'm just an ordinary person, not worth your persistent pursuit."

Her phoenix eyes narrowed, "Do you think I'm being persistent?"

She didn't say anything.

He laughed self-deprecatingly, "Indeed, I'm being persistent now, just like a pest. But Valda Theller..." His tone changed, and he looked straight at her, "Do you really think breaking up with me is what you want? Besides me, do you think you will fall in love with someone else in the future? Raymond Bowman?"

Valda Theller was taken aback and couldn't help but think of the scene where she saw Raymond Bowman today. One time was at the end of the corridor, and the other was at the banquet, where he revealed the truth in front of everyone and cleared her name.

Her silence made Brian Hart think he was right, and his face suddenly changed. "What, are you planning to be with Raymond Bowman? He publicly humiliated himself today and gave you justice. Are you moved by that and have fallen for him again?"

He approached her, emitting a dangerous aura.

Valda Theller instinctively stepped back, but he had already wrapped his arm around her waist, not allowing her to move any further.

"Is it difficult to answer this question?" he asked, feeling a mix of anxiety, unease, and other emotions.

"I don't intend to like Raymond Bowman," Valda Theller denied.

"Today, he gave me justice, which did change my opinion of him, but that's all. He is still a perpetrator to me, and I am a victim.

I don't have Stockholm syndrome and won't fall in love with a perpetrator."

Her words made the emotions he just felt recede like a tide.

Brian Hart stared at Valda Theller in a daze. When did she become so capable of manipulating his emotions?

After a while, he asked, "You won't love Raymond Bowman?"

"No" she replied firmly

2/3

"But I don't plan to love you again either," Valda Theller continued. "Brian Hart, I am physically and mentally exhausted. I just want to work hard and not love or hate anyone. So please don't disturb me anymore, okay?"

His heart sank because of her words.

So she didn't plan to love Raymond Bowman, but she also didn't plan to love him again!

"Okay, if you just want to work hard, then I won't disturb you," he said. As long as she didn't love anyone, he would still have a chance.

Calm her down first, then slowly integrate into her life. As long as there was enough time, he could make her accept him again!

"Really?" Valda Theller was surprised.

"I won't lie to you," Brian Hart said. "So don't lie to me either, okay?"

She bit her lip and didn't answer him, only saying, "Can you let go of me now? I'm tired today and want to go back to rest."

Brian Hart reluctantly released his arm from her waist, and Valda Theller turned and walked into the community.

Brian Hart stood there, staring at her back in a daze until her figure disappeared completely from his sight. He then returned to the car.

Chapter 2914

At this point, he couldn't give up. If he lost her, he might never be able to love another woman besides Grace.

She was the only woman in the world he could love. No one else could replace her!

Chapter 2915

Barbara Schuman trembled with fear after the wrap party.

That day, she spilled wine all over Brian Hart and his warning still echoed in her ears.

The Schuman family was in chaos, with her parents constantly scolding her and blaming each other for spoiling her.

Her father even slapped her directly to the ground, "Do you know. who you have offended? Do you think just because we are The Schuman family, you can do whatever you want?"

"I...I just can't stand that Valda Theller. Even if Brian Hart is protecting her now, so what? Someone like Valda Theller is just a passing fancy for Brian Hart. I'll just try to avoid being in the same place as him in the future."

"You're talking so lightly. Do you know that The Cross Family is about to collapse because of Brian Hart?!" Mr. Lee said angrily.

"The Cross Family?" Barbara Schuman was puzzled. "Which Cross Family?"

"The Cross Group," Mrs. Li said. "I heard that The Cross Family offended Brian Hart because of a woman, so Brian Hart is now targeting The Cross Family. The Cross Family's funding chain has already been completely broken, and it may not last much longer."

offending a woman, The Cross Family was going to collapse?

Could that woman be Valda Theller? The thought made her shiver.

Impossible! It couldn't be Valda Theller!

But then The Schuman family's funding chain also began to have problems, and the bank wanted to withdraw their loan.

Barbara Schuman was completely panicked. It was really because of Valda Theller! Brian Hart had done all this just for Valda Theller!

Barbara Schuman used all her tricks to find out that Brian Hart would attend a certain banquet.

So she hurried there, but without an invitation, she could only wait outside the banquet for Brian Hart to appear.

Meanwhile, inside the banquet, Patrick Weiss looked at Brian Hart's bored face and asked, "If you find this kind of banquet boring, why did you come?"

"Being alone sometimes leads to overthinking, so it's better to come out and distract myself," Brian Hart lazily replied.

"Overthinking?" Patrick Weiss raised an eyebrow with interest. "What are you overthinking about?"

Brian Hart gently turned the wine glass in his hand and didn't answer. His overthinking was all about Valda Theller...thinking about the things he had experienced with her, and what he thought about the most

Chapter 2915

was the scene where he saw her being attacked and insulted by others at the comic convention, and he turned and left.

Even when he had midnight dreams, he often woke up because of this scene.

This scene was a nightmare for Valda Theller, but wasn't it also a nightmare for him?

"Thinking about Valda Theller again?" Seeing his friend's expression, Patrick Weiss guessed, "You are Brian Hart, and yet you can't handle an ordinary woman like her?"

"She's not an ordinary woman," Brian Hart said.

"You used to have a lot of girlfriends, and they all loved you to death. This Valda Theller also seems to love you a lot. Just use a few tricks, and she will be willing to come back to you," Patrick

Weiss said.

Chapter 2916

"Yes, she loves me. Other women can give jewelry, cars, houses, and even various resources. I and those women are just using each other, but she..." What she wants is his love.

However, he has not fallen in love with her yet, but he can't bear to let her go.

He wants to keep her by his side, to see her all the time, and most importantly, he wants to be the only one in her heart.

He knows he is selfish, hoping that she can do what he cannot.

Just then, his phone rang. Brian Hart took out his phone, and after answering it for a moment, his face changed slightly. He put down his glass and prepared to leave.

"Hey, where are you going?" Patrick Weiss asked.

"I have something to take care of," Brian Hart said coldly, with a hint of gloom in his eyes.

Patrick Weiss was surprised. It was rare for his friend to show this expression. Could it be related to Valda Theller again?

When Brian Hart walked out of the hotel, the car was already waiting at the door, and the hotel staff respectfully opened the car door for him.

Chapter 2916

suddenly rushed out from the side. However, before she could approach Brian Hart, she was stopped by the hotel security.

"Mrs. Hart, I... I am Barbara Schuman. I beg you to spare my family. I... I can publicly apologize to Valda Theller and admit what I did to her back then!"

As long as she could save The Schuman family, what did it matter to bow down in front of Valda Theller? After all, if The Schuman family was gone, she would be nothing!

Barbara Schuman knew very well that all her confidence came from The Schuman family.

Brian Hart's expression remained cold and indifferent. "I told you not to appear in front of me again. It seems that you really have a short memory."

After speaking, he ordered the security guard beside him, "Call the police."

"Yes." The security guard then dialed the police.

Barbara Schuman watched as Brian Hart was about to get in the car, and she panicked, "Mrs. Hart, as long as you can spare The Schuman family, I can do anything for you! Mrs. Hart, I can repay everything I did to Valda Theller!"

"You can't repay it," Brian Hart said coldly. "What you did to Valda Theller, I want you to repay it a hundredfold. As for The Schuman family, since your parents condone you, they should also bear the consequences!"

Chapter 2916

3/3

Barbara Schuman stared at Brian Hart with hatred. Her fear and begging had turned into a twisted emotion. "You... What's the difference between what you're doing now and what I did to you back then, Brian Hart? You're just using your power to oppress people!"

But Brian Hart ignored her and got into the car. The car quickly left the hotel.

Barbara Schuman collapsed on the ground.

It was over. Everything was over. The Schuman family was over, and she was over! And all of this was because of Valda Theller!

Who could have thought that an ordinary Valda Theller could make Brian Hart do such a thing?

At this moment, Barbara Schuman regretted it deeply. If she had known earlier, she would never have touched Valda Theller back then!

1/3

Inside the car, Brian Hart's expression was cold and frozen. The difference between him and Barbara Schuman was that Barbara Schuman had targeted Valda Theller for her own selfish desires, while he had done all of this for Valda Theller!

The car arrived at an abandoned factory, which was already surrounded by Brian Hart's men. As soon as Brian Hart got out of the car, someone approached him.

"Mr. Hart, the person is inside," the subordinate said.

"Don't let anyone in," Brian Hart ordered coldly.

"Yes," the subordinate replied.

Brian Hart walked into the abandoned factory, a huge empty room filled with dust and cobwebs. At the center of the room, a man was lying on the ground in a miserable state, obviously having been severely beaten. Three people were standing around the man.

As soon as the three people saw Brian Hart, they immediately greeted him respectfully, "Mr. Hart."

One of them stepped forward and handed a stack of photos to Brian Hart, "These were found on him."

Brian Hart lowered his head and looked through the folded photos darkened. Valda Theller and Raymond Bowman were very close in the photos, in a suggestive pose.

Chapter 2917

Valda Theller and Raymond Bowman... Brian Hart's heart suddenly felt a sharp pain.

"How did you get these photos?" Brian Hart asked coldly.

The man lying on the ground was already trembling all over. "I... I took them myself. At the wrap party... I... I just happened to go to the bathroom and saw them, so I took the photos... I didn't know who this woman was at first, I only knew this man, Raymond Bowman. But who knew that later, when I went back to the hall, you helped this woman block the wine, and I... I knew who she was!"

Originally, the man just wanted to take these photos and see if he could get some money from Raymond Bowman. After all, some wealthy people don't want their privacy to be photographed. But who knew that the development of the situation later was beyond his expectations. When Raymond Bowman publicly said those things and Brian Hart blocked the wine for Valda Theller, he knew that he couldn't go to Raymond Bowman to extort money with these photos.

As for trying to extort money from Brian Hart, he never even thought about it.

He originally thought that these photos could only rot in his hands, but unexpectedly, someone contacted him suddenly and asked if he had taken photos of Raymond Bowman and Valda

Theller, and the other party was willing to buy them at a high price.

Of course, he was willing to sell them. As for what the other party wanted to do with these photos, he didn't ask, he just made it clear that if something happened in the future, it had nothing to do with him.

But who could have thought that before the transaction was even made, he was pressed to the ground by someone and beaten up, and the photos were also taken away.

What surprised him even more was that Mr. Hart had appeared.

"Who did you make the deal with?" Brian Hart asked coldly.

"Phoebe Cross, Miss Cross," the subordinate replied.

A cold light flashed in Brian Hart's eyes, "Where is she?"

"In the car outside. Miss Cross got into the car and tried to escape. We used the car to stop her, but she refused to get out," the subordinate said.

Upon hearing this, Brian Hart simply said, "Lead the way."

So the subordinate quickly led Brian Hart to Phoebe Cross's car.

At this moment, Phoebe Cross was in the car, her face pale, her hands tightly gripping the steering wheel, but the car couldn't move forward. Her car was surrounded by cars, and she couldn't

Chapter 2918

Although she locked the car door, she understood that it was only temporary.

Suddenly, her gaze fell on a figure and her pupils shrank.

It was... Brian Hart! He had arrived!

Brian Hart walked up to the car and looked at Phoebe Cross inside. He coldly ordered his men to "smash" the car window with iron bars.

Phoebe Cross was so scared that she trembled and instinctively curled up under the seat. In just a moment, the car window was shattered and the door was opened. Phoebe Cross was dragged out of the car.

"Phoebe Cross, you are persistent. Do you still want to deal with Valda Theller?" Brian Hart said coldly.

It was only at this moment that Phoebe Cross finally regained her senses from the shock. She looked up and saw the stack of photos in Brian Hart's hand. She suddenly laughed, "Haha, you've seen these photos. That's good. I bought them to show you."

"Show me?" Brian Hart narrowed his eyes.

"Yes, I want you to see that Valda Theller, whom you care about, has feelings for another man Raymond Bowman He was her was probably moved and wanted to be with him..." Phoebe Cross's sharp voice kept ringing out, and every word she said was a stimulus to Brian Hart.

"Shut up!" Brian Hart suddenly shouted.

"Haha..." Phoebe Cross refused to be silenced, "Brian Hart, you trampled on my love for you. Now let's see how other women trample on your feelings. You are willing to destroy The Cross Family for Valda Theller, but she will still find other men to be with. Even if she stays by your side, she still has Raymond Bowman in her heart. In the end, you are just a joke, Brian Hart..."

Phoebe Cross's voice suddenly stopped. Brian Hart's slender fingers had already pinched her neck.

Phoebe Cross suddenly felt difficulty breathing. She opened her mouth to scream, but couldn't make a complete sound.

What she saw in his eyes was a murderous, bloodthirsty gaze that she had never seen before. It was cold, fierce, and filled with a kind of crazy killing intent, but it was all shrouded in an invisible layer of pain...

Was this... Brian Hart? Was this the same Brian Hart she knew, who was always indifferent and aloof?

Even when he couldn't get Grace's love back then, she had never seen him show such a look.

And now, this look was because of Valda Theller.

Chapter 2918

Could it be... Brian Hart really fell in love with Valda Theller?

3/3

Phoebe Cross's breathing became more and more difficult, and all she could hear was Brian Hart's cold voice, "I want you... to stop talking!"

That voice... was like the voice of death!

Chapter 2919

At night, Valda Theller was inexplicably restless, lying in bed but unable to fall asleep.

There was no news about her on the internet after the wrap party, which made her breathe a sigh of relief. It must have been due to Brian Hart's greeting.

For her, this was the best outcome as she did not want to attract attention.

The following days were calm and uneventful. She spent her days either at home or in the studio, focusing on work whether in the studio or apartment. This actually made her feel more relaxed. However, in the quiet of the night, she couldn't help but think of Brian Hart and then... couldn't fall asleep for a long time, just like now.

These days, Brian Hart had not appeared in front of her, as he had promised that day, not to disturb her.

Perhaps in the future, as time passed, their relationship would slowly fade away.

As she was thinking, suddenly, the doorbell rang.

Valda Theller walked down to the door, puzzled. Who could it be so late?

Chapter 2919

Brian Hart standing at the door, ringing the bell.

Valda Theller opened the door, "It's so late, what do you want..."

Before she could finish her sentence, he had rushed into the room, and with a backhand, closed the door.

The next moment, he had pressed her against the wall by the door.

“Valda Theller, why did you lie to me?” His hoarse voice sounded low in her ear, and his hot breath sprayed on her ear and neck.

“I...what did I lie to you about...” She tried to push him away, but his hands suddenly grabbed her wrists and lifted them above her head.

“How come you don’t know? Do you want me to remind you?” He asked rhetorically.

She frowned, “Brian Hart, let me go first. If you have something to say, you can say it properly.”

“Let go?” He suddenly chuckled, but his laughter was full of bitterness and resentment. “I’ve let go enough already. Now, I don’t want to let go.”

She was stunned, looking at him, feeling a sense of inexplicable fear from the dangerous aura emanating from him.

“You...you need to make yourself clear. Even if you really want to accuse me of lying to you, at least let me know the reason!”

Chapter 2919

“Alright, then let me tell you what you lied to me about.” He whispered, and his lips lightly kissed her earlobe.

Valda Theller shuddered, her body trembling uncontrollably.

“Valda Theller, I asked you if you would fall in love with Raymond Bowman, and you said you wouldn’t.” His lips traced along the contour of her ear, and his voice sounded low in her ear. “If you wouldn’t fall in love with him, then why be so intimate with him? Why? Valda Theller, do you think I’m a fool?”

“When did I become intimate with him? I didn’t.” She denied it vehemently, struggling even harder.

At this moment, being subjected to such intimate actions by him made her feel like her blood was boiling, and her ears were burning.

“Really? His voice became even softer, but the hostility emanating from him became even stronger.

His lips had already moved to her face, showering her with kisses.

She felt her cheeks getting hotter and hotter, “I said I didn’t, Brian Hart. What do you want? We've already broken up!"

Chapter 2920

1/3

The word "breakup" seemed to stimulate him, and he suddenly smiled. "Yes, we broke up, so you can go love Raymond Bowman again, right?"

As he spoke, his lips heavily kissed hers.

The intense and domineering kiss made her almost breathless.

No, this can't go on, or else she will...

Her teeth bit down, and a bloody smell filled her mouth.

Finally, his kiss ended, and he straightened up. A touch of crimson appeared at the corner of his lips, looking so shocking.

"Valda Theller, do you resist me like this? You would rather kiss Raymond Bowman than kiss me?" His pitch-black eyes stared at her, questioning.

"I...I didn't kiss Raymond Bowman..." She denied again, but before she finished speaking, he had already taken out a stack of photos from his pocket and slammed them on the ground.

"So, you still want to say you didn't? Are you going to tell me that these photos are fake? Or that the person in these photos isn't you?" He spoke sternly.

Valda Theller crouched down and picked up the photos from the

It was at the wrap party, when she used the excuse of going to the bathroom and stood at the end of the corridor talking to Raymond Bowman.

But she didn't expect that someone had secretly taken photos at the time.

And some of these photos looked like Raymond Bowman was holding her and kissing her, just like a borrowed scene in a movie or TV show.

“The person in these photos is me, and I was indeed talking to Raymond Bowman at the time, but...” She picked out a few photos that looked ambiguous from different angles. “But these few photos are not what they seem. At that time, he didn’t hold me or kiss me. It was just a matter of angle, which created this illusion.”

“Is that so?” He said, but his expression clearly didn’t believe her words.

Valda Theller felt a sourness in her heart. “Okay, even if he really kissed me and held me, so what? Brian Hart, we have already broken up. Even if I really slept with Raymond Bowman, you have no right to question me!”

“So, are you planning to sleep with Raymond Bowman?” His voice suddenly became cold, and a layer of gloom covered his handsome face.

An instinctive sense of crisis reminded her to escape, and her body had already instinctively moved back step by step.

Chapter 2920

“Brian Hart, we...we have already broken up. Please leave my house...” Valda Theller’s voice trembled.

“I don’t agree.” He said, “Valda Theller, I don’t agree to break up, and you can’t break up with me either!”

As he spoke, he took a big step forward, picked her up horizontally, and walked towards her bedroom.

Valda Theller’s face suddenly turned pale, and she immediately understood what Brian Hart was going to do next.

“No, I don’t want to... Brian Hart, put me down!” She shouted, desperately trying to jump out of his arms.

But his strength made her struggles seem useless.

He threw her onto the bed.

Before she could sit up, his body had already pressed down on her.

“Valda Theller, I told you not to lie to me, and you can’t break up with me. I won’t let you be with Raymond Bowman. I won’t!” He spoke, and his lips kissed hers again.
