Valda stared at the man in front of her, "You're really... shy."

"Mhmm," he responded.

"But...what are you shy about?" she asked dumbfoundedly.

Someone like him, who had been served by countless people since childhood, should not be shy about just taking off his clothes, right?

"I'm afraid you'll think my body is not good-looking, afraid you won't like it, afraid you'll be disappointed..." He had never had such worries before, but now, in front of her, he had this kind of "fear".

Valda was stunned. Did he...even know what he was talking about?

With his figure, he could easily rival those international supermodels! Broad shoulders, narrow waist, and long legs – so many people envy him.

Many people would just drool over this kind of figure, but he was actually afraid that she would think it's not good-looking?

"Are your standards for yourself...a bit too high?" Valda stammered, "Your figure is simply top-notch. How could I possibly am I? A third-class cripple? Look at you, you're lean and strong. with muscles, but not too exaggerated."

Chapter 2951

2/4

As she spoke, her fingertips even directly poked and rubbed his chest and abdominal muscles,

"And your body proportions are great, with a beautiful neck and shoulder line," she said, her fingers tracing the areas she was complimenting. "Your body lines are very attractive, and with your head-to-body ratio, you're about 9 heads tall. Your legs are straight and your hips..."

As she spoke, her voice trailed off. Oh no, was she really discussing his body with him?

"Anyway, your body...is very good," she summed up, blushing and lowering her head to continue hastily wiping him down.

"Do you like it?" His voice rang out above her head.

Though shy, she was honest. "...Yes, I do."

"Good, as long as you like it," he murmured.

She couldn't help but look up at him again, seeing the soft smile on his face. It was as if her liking it was the greatest satisfaction to him.

She stared at the smile on his lips, feeling a bit foolish...

Finally finished wiping him down, Valda hurried back to her own bedroom washed up and lay down on the bed.

Chapter 2951

3/4

Just as she closed her eyes, all she could see was Brian's figure – the way he looked when she brushed past him, and the sensation of his body still lingered on her fingertips...and then she couldn't fall asleep no matter what.

Is she going to have insomnia tonight?

Valda thought to herself, and just then, someone gently pushed open the door to her bedroom.

With a sudden shiver, she sat up and saw Brian walking in.

"Are you not sleeping?" he asked.

"Yup... Yup, I haven't slept yet. How about you? Why did you come over?" Valda quickly tugged at her nightwear and asked.

"I can't sleep," he said, "so I came over to see you."

What? Look at her?

Valda stared at Brian, and they both locked eyes in a staring contest.

Time passes by quietly like this.

Although his face is very handsome, it's not the same thing to keep looking at it like this in the middle of the night.

Valda thought to herself and couldn't help but say, "Um...aren't you going back to your room?"

Chapter 2951

"You go ahead and sleep, I'll keep watching." He said.

But the problem is, how can she sleep when he's looking at her like this!

4/4

As if sensing her embarrassment, he said, "I'm just afraid that when I wake up tomorrow morning, you won't be in this villa anymore, so...I can't help but want to look at you. It makes me feel more at ease."

Chapter 2952

Somehow, hearing his words made her heart feel a sourness.

1/3

"I...since I promised to stay here with you, how could I not be here? Even if I really have to leave, I will tell you before I go." Valda said.

"I know, but sometimes, knowing is one thing, but being afraid is another." He said.

The sourness in her chest became even more intense, and even her nose felt sour. She had an urge to cry.

How many times has this man used the word "afraid" today? Despite being the prince of the entertainment industry and having the power to control the fate of many, he is still someone that many people aspire to flatter and please, but can never reach.

But now... it's so full of anxiety and uncertainty.

And all of this, because of her.

Their breakup was painful for her, but it was also painful for him, too.

Valda lifted her hand and directly grabbed Brian's wrist.

He raised his eyebrows slightly and looked at her with some

Chapter 2952

After saying this, she seemed to feel a bit uneasy and quickly added, "I just meant... sleeping together in the same bed, I didn't mean to do anything to you."

"It's okay if you want to do something to me, it might even be something I've been hoping for," said Brian.

Valda's face turned red, as if she always blushes easily in front of him.

don't

“Valda, can you really do this? If it’s difficult for you, you have to force yourself to sleep with me just for my sake,” Brian asked seriously.

“I... don’t feel like it’s a force,” she gathered her courage and met his gaze.

Or perhaps, she was also looking forward to it.

She wanted to touch his body, to cuddle with each other, to feel the solid sense of being together again.

Brian got into bed and lay down next to Valda. They leaned their heads on the pillow and looked at each other.

“Later... you can stay a little further away from me. I’m afraid I might accidentally touch your wound if I sleep in a bad position,” Valda said.

“I’ll be careful, but even if I do touch it, it’s not a big deal,” he said.

Valda closed her eyes. She

Chapter 2952

Who says only men are impulsive? Women are the same.

Looking at Valda with her eyes closed, Brian’s eyes were full of tenderness.

3/3

His lips curved into a smile, feeling grateful that she was willing to come back to him.

If she didn’t come back to him, then his future life wouldn’t be happy anymore.

Valda thought that she wouldn’t be able to sleep if Brian was next to her, but surprisingly, she slept soundly until morning.

His breath surrounded her nose, giving her an inexplicable sense of security and allowing her to sleep more soundly.

Opening my eyes, what I saw was his sleeping face.

This is a top-notch benefit! As soon as you open your eyes, you can see such a divine face!

Chapter 2953

Valda stared blankly at the face that was so close, and the more she looked, the more she felt entranced.

How can a man be so handsome? His skin is so good, especially his eyelashes, long and thick. It feels like fingers could dance on them, which makes her feel a little itchy.

Valda cautiously extended her fingers and lightly touched Brian's eyelashes with her fingertips, feeling the dense lashes brushing against her palm, creating a strange sensation.

At that moment, his eyes suddenly opened, and his phoenix-like gaze stared straight at her.

Valda's body stiffened, this is... getting caught red-handed doing something bad!

"...I just wanted to touch your eyelashes...I think they're...um, really nice." She awkwardly withdrew her hand with a embarrassed expression.

His eyelashes trembled slightly, "Do you like my eyelashes?"

"Mmm." She blushed and responded with a sound. His eyelashes were much prettier than hers. If she had his eyelashes, she wouldn't even need to use mascara.

"My eyelashes are a dominant gene, so if we have children in

Chapter 2953

he said.

2/4

What? She blinked her eyes and took a while to understand the meaning of his words, and then... her face became even redder.

His words were like implying that they will definitely have children in the future.

"...I'll go freshen up first, and then I have to go to the studio!" Valda said hastily, quickly getting out of bed and heading towards the bathroom.

I'm afraid that if I stay in bed with him any longer, my face will uncontrollably turn even redder.

After washing up, I had breakfast with Brian. He asked, "Are you going to the studio? I can give you a ride."

"I can take the subway there by myself," she said.

"It's normal for a boyfriend to send his girlfriend to work, if you can't adapt to it now, it's better to adapt quickly," he said.

Boyfriend... Girlfriend...

A sweet feeling suddenly arose in her heart.

Although they were previously in a romantic relationship, it seems that now she truly feels what it's like to have a boyfriend.

"What about your injury..." she became worried again.

Chapter 2953

"During this period, the driver will drive. After a few days, I will drive and take you to work myself," he said.

When the car stopped outside the Valda Studio building, Valda was about to open the car door and get out, but Brian suddenly grabbed her and buried his face in her shoulder.

"What's wrong?" she asked curiously, "Did something start bothering you again?"

"No," he murmured softly.

"So, you are..."

"I just feel a little reluctant to let you get off the car like this," he murmured, wishing he could keep her by his side and watch her every moment.

It seems like he's becoming more and more attached to the feeling of having her by his side.

Valda was stunned, is this...sweet talk? This kind of talk doesn't sound like something Brian would say, "I...I'm just going to work."

"I know, after work, I'll come pick you up," he said, finally letting go of her hand.

"That...bye." She said, moving her body towards the outside of the car.

Chapter 2953

4/4

Suddenly, as if she had remembered something, she leaned in and gave Brian a kiss on the cheek before getting out of the car, closing the door, and quickly walking into the building with a red face.

He stared blankly at her back in the car until her figure completely disappeared from his sight. It was only then that he suddenly came to his senses and gently touched the spot where she had just kissed him.

Chapter 2954

At that moment just now, he had an impulse to hide her away, to a place where only he could see her.

How much does he really like her?

As Brian Hart suggested, could it be that he has already fallen in love with her?

One morning, Valda was busy with work, as she had previously been delayed due to taking care of Brian in the hospital because of his injury.

In the afternoon, she received a call from the police station asking her to come over to verify her previous statement. The police informed her that the woman who drugged Camille at the bar and took her away has been detained.

After the call from the police station ended, Camille Strickland also called and said that the police asked her to go to the station in the afternoon to identify someone.

So the two of them agreed on a time and went to the police station together in the afternoon.

At the police station, the authorities asked Camille to identify the woman. Once she confirmed without a doubt, they had both of them redo the statement again.

with the hotel landlady to specifically target women who were alone in the bar, finding ways to drug them and then take them back to the hotel.

And these women, upon waking up, found themselves violated. In addition, videos and photos were taken of them, so naturally they dared not report to the police. Moreover, many of them were even blackmailed or forced to comply with the perpetrators' demands in order to prevent the videos and photos from being leaked. As a result, they were trapped in a vicious cycle.

Valda was stunned to hear that there were underground dealings like this in Emerald City.

"Thank you all for your help in enabling us to successfully dismantle this criminal organization," expressed the police with gratitude.

"Where... where..." Valda repeated.

Camille felt a wave of fear. If Valda hadn't found her in time, her fate would have been unimaginable.

As they walked out of the police station, Camille said, "Valda, you're like my guardian angel! Without you, I might have been done for!"

"If I hadn't gone to the bathroom, you wouldn't have encountered this situation," said Valda.

"It's none of your business. It was my own carelessness. I didn't guard myself properly and the bad guys took advantage of it."

Chapter 2954

"I have been discharged from the hospital," said Valda.

3/3

"That's good. I'm safe this time, and I should thank the Crown Prince properly. But how should I thank him?" Camille was having trouble deciding.

"Sending a banner or a thank-you letter? I doubt the prince would even accept them!"

Alternatively, she could invite the Crown Prince to a meal. However, many people have already extended such invitations to him. Even if she were to invite him, there is no guarantee that he would accept.

Alternatively, should we give a gift or money? I reckon if we present it to the prince, it would be a joke!

Chapter 2955

While Camille was lost in thought, Valda's voice rang in her ear, "Camille, Brian and I are back together."

"Getting back together would be nice," Camille replied casually.

After a few seconds, she suddenly seemed to realize something and stared at her friend with widened eyes, "What did you say? You and the prince are back together?"

"Correct," said Valda.

"You... why did you decide to be with the Crown Prince again? Is it because he saved you and played the hero this time?" Camille asked curiously.

After a moment of contemplation, Valda said, "I think this incident made me realize something. No one knows what the future holds, but at least for now, I have found someone I love and who loves me back. It's not easy to come by. Although I don't know if we can be together in the end, I don't want to give up without trying. I can't bear to."

"The fact that the Crown Prince was willing to take a stab for you shows that he truly cares for you. I think you two have a good chance," Camille said with a grin. "Come to think of it, maybe my mishap was a blessing in disguise. Otherwise, you and the Crown Prince might not have reconciled so quickly. If you two get married in the future don't forget together. You're already thinking about marriage. Isn't that too far-fetched?"

2/4

"Is it? Don't you want to marry the Crown Prince?" Camille teased.

Marriage... If they get married, they will have children. Then, she remembered what Brian said this morning about eyelashes being a dominant gene. Their children would most likely inherit long eyelashes...

What would their children look like?

"Hey, what are you thinking about?" Camille's voice interrupted her thoughts.

Valda suddenly realized that she was thinking too far ahead.

"By the way, it's almost dinner time. Why don't we go out and have a meal together? There's a mall nearby..." Camille suggested.

Valda suddenly remembered, "Oh no, Brian said he would pick me up after work today!"

She took out her phone and quickly dialed Brian's number as she spoke.

After a moment, the other end of the phone was answered and Valda said, "Brian, I'm not at the studio right now, you don't need to come pick me up."

All A

Chapter 2955

"I'm at the police station right now, just came out from there. The police caught the woman Camille brought up last time, so we came here to confirm it." Valda said, "Later, Camille and I will grab a bite nearby. I'll come back after I finish eating."

"Let me come over then, do you mind having one more person?" he said.

She paused for a moment, glanced at her friend beside her, and then quietly relayed Brian's words.

Camille immediately smiled and said, "Of course I don't mind. I was just thinking of treating the prince to a good meal to thank him for saving my life!" This was the perfect opportunity.

So Valda and Brian mentioned the name of the mall they planned to go to, "Once Camille and I arrive at the store, I'll send you the name of the store and the seat number, but we're just going to eat at a regular restaurant in the mall." It wasn't the fancy club that he had taken her to before.

"Okay, I understand," Brian responded.

Camille and Valda picked a Cantonese restaurant in the mall. Camille specifically chose a relatively upscale one, with the intention of repaying Valda's kindness. Naturally, she selected at better one within her budget.

"First of all, let me make it clear that I'm treating you today. Thank you very much to you and the Crown Prince for saving my life.

Otherwise, I

Chapter 2955

would feel guilty." said Camille.

4/4

"Is it a bit expensive?" Valda looked at the menu and said, the dishes on it are not cheap, and it is estimated that it will cost her friend half a month's salary for a meal.

Chapter 2956

"It's alright, it's alright!" Camille waved her hand. "Just think about it, you saved me and recovered my huge loss. A meal is nothing compared to that!"

After ordering a few dishes, Camille went to the restroom while Valda sat alone at the table. She sent the table number and restaurant name to Brian and continued to browse through the menu in front of her.

At that moment, a voice suddenly spoke up, "You are... Valda, right?"

Valda looked up and saw a woman wearing a suit and delicate makeup staring at her, while a middle-aged man in his 40s wearing a suit stood next to her.

"You are..." Valda felt that the woman in front of her looked somewhat familiar.

"I'm Zelda Holmes, we were in the same class back in high school," the person said.

Valda suddenly remembered that the person in front of her was her high school classmate.

"I remember now, Zelda, hello," said Valda politely. They had an ordinary relationship as classmates in high school, but Valda recalls that Zelda's family situation was not good. She was thin

Chapter 2956

But looking at Zelda's attire now, it's clear that she's been doing well.

"I didn't expect to run into you here," Zelda looked at Valda and then introduced the person next to her with a smile, "This is my fiancé, Ginger Bond. Ginger, this is Valda. We went to the same high school together. Valda's parents passed away back then, and she was living with relatives. Life was tough for her. I remember she used to collect empty plastic bottles after school to make some money."

Valda frowned involuntarily. Although she did collect plastic bottles to sell for money to buy art supplies during high school, hearing it from Zelda now gave her a strange feeling.

"Ginger, since I ran into Valda today, why don't we invite her and her table to join us for a meal?" said Zelda.

"Okay, as long as you're happy." Ginger said indifferently.

"Valda, feel free to order whatever you want for this table. I'm treating everyone today," said Zelda with a smile on her face. However, her tone of voice gave off a sense of superiority."

"No need, my friend is treating me today," said Valda.

"Valda, don't be polite with me. I'm treating you, and it will also give you face in front of your friends. However, I still want to remind you about your attire. It's better to match your identity. Even if you want to pretend to be rich, wearing a limited edition knockoff will only make people laugh at you more. Please don't dress like this next time!!

Chapter 2956

"Counterfeit goods?" Valda looked confused and didn't understand at first.

"The clothes you're wearing are a limited edition from Chanel's spring collection this year. There are only 100 pieces in the world, and the official price is 2.8 million yuan per piece. I know you used to be poor and that's why you buy knock-off designer clothes, but at least you should understand that some clothes will only make you a laughing stock when you wear them." Zelda said with a seemingly kind tone, but there was a hint of disdain in her eyes.

Valda looked down and glanced at the long-sleeved T-shirt she was wearing. She had stayed at Brian's villa last night, so the clothes she was wearing today were the ones Brian had bought for her.

Because all of those clothes are from luxury brands, she specifically chose the most inconspicuous T-shirt, but this T-shirt costs a whopping 2.8 million?

Valda feels like her view on money has been shattered. Today, she's not wearing a t-shirt, but gold!

Chapter 2957

And upon hearing Zelda's words, Ginger looked at Valda with a hint of disdain in her eyes.

1/3

"If you really want to wear some branded clothes, why don't I give you some of my old clothes instead? Although I've worn them before, each piece is worth several thousand yuan. Ginger bought them for me. Whenever I want to buy clothes, Ginger will buy them for me without considering the price."

Zelda is giving Valda her old clothes as if she's giving charity, while also showing off their affection, implying a significant difference between the two.

When Valda first saw her old classmate, she thought Zelda was pretty good. But now, she feels completely indifferent towards Zelda.

"No need, you can donate your old clothes to those in need. I have my own clothes," Valda refused.

Zelda looked displeased for a moment and was about to say something when suddenly a man's voice interrupted, "Valda."

Zelda looked up and saw a man wearing a white shirt and black pants walking towards Valda. It was clear that he knew Valda.

Is this the friend that Valda was talking about?

Chapter 2957

In the past, she and Valda both came from poor families. She was 2/3 abandoned by her parents and left to live with her grandparents, while Valda had to rely on the kindness of others for a place to stay.

However, Valda's grades have always been better than hers and she is one of the top students in the class. Additionally, Valda has a talent for drawing.

And she, her grades are at the bottom of the class, and she doesn't have any particular talents.

The teacher often compares her to Valda, saying that Valda is good at both academics and drawing, while she is not good at anything.

After graduating from high school, she didn't get into college and went straight into society. Later, she used connections to obtain a fake diploma and then helped Ginger, her current employer.

Although Ginger became wealthy overnight due to the demolition of her rural family's home, which brought her several million yuan, she is still unhappy with her age and appearance.

But for her, this kind of partner is already quite good. In the past, when she met with her old friends, they would always look at her with envy.

She has always been very satisfied.

But now, looking at the man standing next to Valda, she suddenly

3/3

"I met a former high school classmate," Valda said to Brian. "You go ahead and sit first." She clearly had no intention of introducing Brian to Zelda.

Brian naturally understood Valda's meaning, and with a casual glance at Zelda and Ginger, he sat down.

Zelda took a step forward and addressed Brian, who was already seated in the chair. "You're Valda's friend, right? I'm Zelda, her high school classmate. Valda is a really nice person, even though she comes from a less privileged background. She worked hard in school, and I think she wears knock-off designer clothes just to impress you. I hope you don't mind."

Chapter 2958

Zelda's words may seem like she's speaking up for Valda, but in reality, she's actually belittling her.

"Counterfeit goods?" Brian narrowed his eyes.

"Yes, the clothes Valda is wearing are from Chanel's limited edition spring collection. The official price is 2.8 million, but what Valda is wearing is a knockoff," Zelda quickly added, hoping to embarrass Valda.

Brian sneered and said, "The clothes she's wearing, I had someone buy them. If they're really fake, we can go after the brand and demand compensation."

Zelda was stunned, what?! This man bought this dress?

And from the way the man said it, does that mean this clothing is really...?!

So, you're saying that Valda is wearing a genuine item worth 2.8 million! How is that even possible?

Brian turned his head at this moment and said to the waiter next to him, "Please call your restaurant manager over.

"Okay, sure," the waiter replied. After all, the other person's imposing aura and attire clearly indicated that they were not an con.

Chapter 2958

2/3

Brian, his face changed and he hurriedly greeted him, "Mr. Hart, you...you've come."

"Well, I'm having dinner with my girlfriend and I don't want it to be too noisy. Can you please ask those two people to leave?" Brian said calmly.

The two people he mentioned are obviously Zelda and Ginger!

Upon hearing this, the store manager immediately put on a serious face and said to Zelda and Ginger, "Today we cannot serve you in our store. Please leave."

Zelda was surprised, and Ginger said unhappily, "What do you mean by that? I am a VIP customer of your store. How dare you ask us to leave? Do you believe that I will bring your boss here?"

"Even if you bring the boss over, they will still ask you to leave the store!" The manager said bluntly, "Both of you, please leave immediately."

The surrounding guests all looked over in this direction.

Zelda and Ginger refused to leave, so the store manager called a few employees to physically remove them from the store.

The two individuals were taken outside of the store, attracting even more attention from bystanders.

Zelda is out of breath. Today was really embarrassing, especially in front of Valda! "I...I'm going to complain. Your store won't be stay open anymore!"

Chapter 2958

3/3

"Okay, you can go ahead and file a complaint, no one is stopping you," said the store manager. After speaking, he turned around and led the staff back into the store.

Zelda and Ginger looked at each other in confusion, the only ones left.

“What kind of person is Valda?” Ginger finally came to her senses. The manager’s treatment towards them was all because of something that man said.

And that man is Valda’s friend.

“Valda... she’s just an ordinary person!” Zelda said sadly.

“How could an ordinary person afford a 2.8 million dollar outfit?

You don’t even know what kind of friends she has, and you speak so recklessly. I can’t believe I have such a foolish fiancée!” Ginger said angrily, then turned and left.

Luckily, there weren’t many people they knew in the store today, otherwise he would have been completely embarrassed!

Zelda felt very wronged. She also wanted to know who the man was that Valda was friends with.

A wealthy person who could afford to buy Valda a 2.8 million dollar outfit, how could Valda have such a friend! Thinking of this, jealousy rose in her heart even more.

Chapter 2959

In the store, after the manager made sure that Brian didn’t need anything else, he left.

Valda looked at Brian and asked, “Do you know this store manager?”

“I should say I know the owner of this store, so I’ve been here a few times before. That’s why the store manager knows me,” Brian said.

www

Valda suddenly realized.

“This shop owner, you know him too,” Brian added.

Valda was surprised, “I know him?”

“It’s Patrick,” he said.

“Mr. Patrick?”

“Yes.”

Valda didn’t expect that Camille would take her to a restaurant owned by Patrick for dinner.

It just goes to show that the world is really quite small.

“Don’t associate with classmates like that in the future” Brian

Chapter 2959

“I just happened to bump into her here today. I had no idea she would say those things. We didn’t have any issues in high school,”

Valda muttered.

“Some people just can’t stand seeing others doing better than themselves,” Brian said, looking at Valda with a gaze that he himself didn’t realize was indulgent.

Even though she has experienced many ups and downs, Grace still retains a kindness and innocence at her core.

This kind of kindness and innocence has a fatal attraction for someone like him. He wants to protect her kindness and innocence.

At that moment, Camille returned and upon seeing Brian, quickly expressed her gratitude once again for saving her life.

“Mr. Hart, I’m treating you and Valda to this meal today as a way of expressing my gratitude,” said Camille. “If it weren’t for you two, I don’t know what else I would have faced every day.”

Brian didn’t refuse when he heard this, “You’re Valda’s friend, you can call me by my name directly.”

This statement is actually a recognition of Camille’s abilities.

Camille also smiled and responded happily.

The dishes began to be served on the table one by one, and Brian helped Valda set up the bowls and fork, arranging the dishes with

Chapter 2959

Camille looked at Brian, who was taking care of his friend like a little princess, and exclaimed, "Ah, having a boyfriend is so great! Even meals are taken care of by your boyfriend. I envy you guys so much. Watching you two is like watching a romantic drama."

Valda blushed slightly and said, "You're exaggerating too much, it's not like a drama."

"This is not an exaggeration at all. Your family member would be a perfect example if placed in an idol drama nowadays. If he were to act in one, the drama would definitely become a hit," said Camille.

Valda glanced at Brian beside her and felt that her friend's words seemed to be true. "If we really make an idol drama, it's indeed easy to become popular." After all, Brian's appearance is superior to many A-list male stars in the industry.

"Are you hoping that I will go and film an idol drama?" Brian asked.

"If I wished for it, would you really go and take it?" joked Valda.

"It's possible." He said, "If you're willing to be the leading actress, I can go ahead and shoot."

His voice sounded normal, but it gave the impression that if Valda was willing to take on the lead actress role at this moment, he would definitely film it.

Chapter 2960

"Cough cough..." Valda almost choked on her own saliva. "I don't have any acting skills, and besides... even if I wanted to be the leading actress, no director would be interested in me."

"If you want to, you can," he said with unwavering conviction.

She was momentarily stunned, but quickly realized that she almost forgot he was the prince of the entertainment industry. In the entertainment industry, there was probably nothing he couldn't do.

"Do you want to?" His voice, once again gentle, sounded.

"No...no thanks, I still prefer drawing comics," Valda said hesitantly.

"Oh my god, so sweet," Camille exaggeratedly said, "Are you trying to torture this single dog to death?"

"Well, you should hurry up and find a boyfriend too," Valda said.

"I haven't found the right one yet," Camille said.

"Should I introduce you to some people?" Brian asked.

Upon hearing this, Valda and Camille both looked at him in surprise.

person who would watch from the sidelines and not actively take on trouble.

"I don't like it, but you always say she's your best friend, right? In that case, it's natural to be different from others," he said, then turned to Camille and said, "You can tell me your requirements and I'll see if I know anyone suitable."

Camille was a bit slow to react, is the prince really going to introduce her to someone?!

However, when Camille thought about the people around the Crown Prince, she realized that she shouldn't aim too high. After all, not everyone can become a Cinderella.

"Thanks, when the time comes that I really can't find someone by my side, I'll trouble you to help me play matchmaker," said Camille.

"Okay." Brian didn't hesitate and continued to help Valda with the vegetables.

After finishing their meal, Camille suddenly turned serious and asked, "Brian, are you serious about Valda this time? You won't hurt her again, will you?"

Brian looked up at Camille, his pitch-black eyes carrying a sense of oppression.

But Camille faced Grace directly, even though she felt fear in her heart, she couldn't show it.

Chapter 2960

"I am serious about Valda. In the future, if she is ever sad, I will only be even sadder than her," said Brian sincerely.

"If you ever do anything to hurt Valda in the future, even if you are the prince, I will definitely stand up for Valda!" said Camille.

"I can't," said Brian. He wouldn't do anything else to hurt Valda, not even one thing!

Upon hearing this, Camille finally breathed a sigh of relief and smiled at her friend, saying, "Valda, congratulations on finding such a great boyfriend!”

Valda’s eyes were slightly red, “Thank you, Camille.”

This “thank you” is not only a congratulation to her friend, but also a gratitude for all the help she has received from her. When she was going through the darkest time in her life, Camille lent her a hand and helped her fight against campus violence.

If it weren’t for Camille, she wouldn’t be who she is today.
