

Ex Convict 3061

Chapter 3061

He desperately reached out his hand, wanting to pull her back to the shore, not wanting her to die!

"Valda... don't... don't... I won't allow you to die... You can't die, no matter what..." He shouted desperately, and his hands were reaching out desperately, but he couldn't grasp anything.

"Ah!" Suddenly, he abruptly opened his eyes, only to find a white ceiling in front of him.

"Valda!" In front of me, it feels like my dreams and reality are constantly intertwining.

He sat up abruptly, wanting to rush out of bed to save the woman who was about to be engulfed by the waves...

"Mr. Hart, you can't get out of bed right now." Someone held him down, preventing him from getting up.

"Let go of me, I have to save Valda, let go of me!" Brian shouted desperately, trying to push the person stopping him away. "If we don't save Valda now, she'll be washed away by the water. I have to go, get out of my way!"

At this moment, he could no longer distinguish between reality and dreams.

Chapter 3061

2/3

Until a voice suddenly sounded, "Brian, snap out of it. Valda has already been washed away by the water. If you keep struggling like this, you'll only make your condition worse. Do you want to collapse before finding her?"

This voice made Brian's struggle come to a sudden stop.

He stared blankly at the person in front of him, "Valda... she's been washed away by the water?" The words seemed to be squeezed out of his throat.

"Yes, the police and the people around me are all looking for Valda's whereabouts." Jason said, "Even if you really run to the river now, what can you do with your current physical condition? Everything you can do is being done by professionals!"

Brian's body suddenly trembled, and he closed his eyes abruptly. So it turned out that reality was even more cruel than his dreams. So it turned out that Valda had already been washed away by the water.

"How long have I been unconscious?" After a long time, he finally asked, his voice hoarse.

"It's been a day and a night," Jason said.

"So... you've been looking for Valda for a day and a night too, right?" Brian muttered.

3/3

Chapter 3061

"Yes," Jason replied.

"A day and a night, and you still haven't found her?"

"Not finding her can be good news sometimes," Jason said. In other words, if they haven't found Valda's body after a day, it's possible that she's still alive.

"Good news?" Brian suddenly laughed, but the laughter was tinged with endless sadness. He suddenly opened his eyes and stared at Jason, "You're saying it's good news? Why? Why did she have to die? Why couldn't it have been..."

His voice suddenly stopped, choked with bitterness!

Although he didn't finish his sentence, it was already enough to understand what he meant.

"I'm sorry, it's the Reed family that owes her," Jason said. He rarely apologizes or admits fault, but he was saying it now.

"Sorry? Jason, I don't want your apologies, I just want Valda, give her back to me!" Brian's eyes were bloodshot as he glared at Jason, screaming in agony.

Jason was also shocked as he looked at Brian's expression.

Chapter 3062

This Brian is unlike any he has ever seen before.

"Brian, do you really love Valda?" Jason murmured.

Brian's body suddenly trembled, and in his phoenix-like eyes, there seemed to be an endless amount of pain.

1/3

"Love...yes...yes, I love her...I love her so much..." At this moment, he finally spoke clearly and confessed his love for her.

"Why am I so foolish? I clearly love her, so why can't I bring myself to admit it? She's been wanting to hear me say 'I love you' all this time! But...when she asked me before, why didn't I say it? Why? Why?!"

At this moment, he intensely hates himself,

Why didn't he have the courage to confirm his love for her back then? Why didn't he speak up at that time?

Even when she was engulfed by the waves, he never said "I love you” once in his life.

Will she be disappointed? Will she be sad?

Until her death, she thought he had never loved her!

Chapter 3062

No, she won’t die, she definitely won’t die!

“Jason, find Valda for me, find her, I want to tell her I love her,

I want to tell her...” At this moment, Brian was shouting like a madman.

2/3

Jason seemed to see himself back then.

After Grace fell off the cliff with the car, he almost went crazy with pain.

Only those who have experienced it can understand that kind of pain.

But in the end, Grace and the children returned to his side.

But can Valda still come back to Brian alive?

“I love her, I love her, haha... I love her...” Brian was shouting, crying and laughing at the same time, his handsome face twisted in madness.

At that moment, Jason suddenly had a feeling that if Valda was really no longer in this world, then Brian would go crazy.

Become a complete and utter madman!

For three consecutive days, Valda was not found. Only a piece of torn cloth from her dress was found downstream on the second day.

Chapter 3062

3/3

This piece of fabric, however, is treasured by Brian and he wraps it around his wrist, always carrying it with him.

On the third day, both Phoebe and Whitney were caught.

These two individuals had originally planned to escape to a foreign country and had already made careful arrangements.

However, in the end, it was all for naught.

After being arrested, Whitney shifted all the blame onto Phoebe, claiming that she was merely being used and that Phoebe was the mastermind behind everything.

All the plans were made by Phoebe.

Regarding this, Phoebe neither admitted nor denied it. She simply made a request to meet Brian!

She will only confess everything after seeing Brian.

When Brian heard Phoebe's request from the police, he agreed to

Chapter 3063

In the detention center of Deer Capital, Brian saw Phoebe.

Compared to the well-dressed Miss Cross from the affluent Cross family in the past, Phoebe now looks disheveled with messy hair, wrinkled clothes, and rough skin.

"Long time no see, Brian," Phoebe said with a gentle smile as she looked at him.

Brian wanted nothing more than to cut this woman in a thousand pieces, his eyes filled with intense hatred.

Phoebe seems oddly satisfied with these hateful eyes. "Since we were young, I always thought you were very cold, indifferent to people, and distant. It's as if no one can enter your heart."

Phoebe spoke slowly, "Later on, I found out that there was someone in your heart, someone who had saved you when you were young."

"You love Grace, I know. Who made me unable to save you when we were young? Later, Grace married Jason, so I waited for you, hoping that one day you could love me. But... why would you rather give a chance to Valda, a worthless woman, instead of giving me a chance?"

Chapter 3063

2/3

"I, Phoebe, what aspect am I inferior to Valda? Why can Valda be your girlfriend, but not me? And even...you're willing to destroy the Cross family for Valda?! You've left me with nothing for the sake of Valda, what's so great about her?"

As Phoebe spoke, her emotions became more and more intense.

“Have you said enough?” Brian asked, looking at Phoebe with a gaze of disgust and bone-chilling hatred. “I only have one question for you: Did you intend for Valda to die when you chose to have her trade the password?”

“What, do you want to know?” Phoebe laughed, “Since I’m seeing you today, it’s only natural that I’ll tell you everything you want to know!”

From the beginning, my goal was to make Valda pay the price. Money was just an extra thing. I wanted to find Whitney so that I could successfully kidnap Grace’s child. Choosing Valda’s password was to give her the choice of who would survive between herself and Grace’s child.

“After all, Grace is the woman you love the most. If she lets this child die to protect herself, you will never forgive her in your lifetime. Moreover, you will be consumed by endless self-blame. Your relationship with her will only become extremely bad. Even if she survives, she will only be living in hell.”

“But if she chooses to let the child live and die herself, then she won’t have the chance to be with you anymore. Even if she was arrogant in front of me before, in the end, she will still drown and get nothing!”

Chapter 3063

3/3

Phoebe suddenly burst into laughter, as if she was admiring her own wonderful plan.

Actually, I had hoped that she would abandon the child and save herself. That way, she would experience the feeling of being hated by you. You might even want to kill her. I would like to see if she can still laugh at that time,” Phoebe said with a hint of regret.

Suddenly, Brian lunged forward and leaned over the table, grabbing Phoebe’s head with one hand and pressing it firmly onto the table.

“Phoebe, you’re asking for trouble!” Brian gritted his teeth and said through them.

Phoebe’s face was almost distorted from the pressure, but she still struggled to speak, “Are you angry? Do you hate me? Haha, Brian, even though I can’t have your love, I still... have your hatred, don’t I? But what did Valda get? You don’t love her, you don’t hate her, she lost her life and got nothing!”

Chapter 3064

Brian’s expression changed suddenly. “Yes, it’s true,” he thought to himself. “I’ve fallen in love with Valda, but she hasn’t gotten anything out of it.”

“Phoebe, why do you want to seek revenge on her? You could have sought revenge on me instead!” Brian hoarsely shouted this.

But Phoebe was insistent, “If it weren’t for Valda, you would have been with me! Who is Valda anyway? I want her to suffer more than me... But... do you think she’s stupid? She’s willing to give up her own life for a child that’s not even hers... Why bother?”

Brian muttered, “Yeah, she...is too foolish, foolish enough to not think about herself.”

Valda is willing to sacrifice her own life to give Jasmine a chance to survive. It’s not so much for Grace as it is for him!

Valda was afraid that if Jasmine died, he would feel even more guilty and self-blaming, so... that’s why he resorted to this method.

She gave up the chance to survive to Jasmine, thinking it was the best way.

But she didn’t know that he didn’t want her to die more than he Chapter 3064 wanted to feel guilty.

He wanted her to live!

2/4

When she was washed away by the river, his whole world was collapsing...

“Phoebe, Valda didn’t get nothing. She will be my wife, my beloved wife for the rest of my life!” Brian said to Phoebe.

Whether Valda is alive or dead, she will be his wife!

Phoebe looked at Brian in disbelief, shocked. “Wife? Are you planning to marry her?! Brian, are you planning to marry a dead person?!” she exclaimed.

“She’s not dead, she will live!” he said, staring at her.

“Haha, alive? Brian, when did you become so good at deceiving yourself?” Phoebe said. “Valda can’t possibly still be alive, and...

it’s been three days now, past the golden 72 hours. Valda can’t possibly still be alive!”

Her voice shattered the faint hope in his heart.

His fingers suddenly gripped her neck, preventing her from speaking.

“Valda will live, she must... she must live.” His eyes were red with tears, and he spoke these words as if he had used all his strength

Chapter 3064 to say them.

3/4

Because...he simply cannot handle the news of possible death in his current state!

That is a burden he cannot bear!

But Valda seemed to have disappeared from this world. Despite the efforts of the police and the Reed, Hart, Barlow, Gregory, and Palace families of Deer Capital, no one has been able to find her for a month.

For the past month, Brian has been staying in Deer Capital with a piece of Valda’s clothing wrapped around his wrist. He spends almost all day and night by the river where Valda was washed away by the water.

He has hated himself countless times, wondering why he didn’t push away those people who were pressing him down. Why didn’t he jump into the river earlier to find her?

Even if they didn’t have enough time to swim back to the shore, at least he could hold her hand. At least, when she was swept away by the waves, she wouldn’t be so lonely.

Valda... Valda...

This name has been called countless times in his heart, but every time he calls it, it brings him deep pain!

Chapter 3065

Mr. and Mrs. Hart, who are elderly, also arrived in Deer Capital. However, no matter how much they tried to persuade and advise, it had no effect. Even though everyone had come to a conclusion, Brian was still convinced that Valda was alive.

He doesn't even allow anyone to say the words "Valda's death" in front of him.

Finally, after three months, the police announced that they had stopped searching. Only the Hart and Reed families were still searching for Valda's whereabouts.

When Grace arrived with Jasmine in her arms and Jason to visit

Brian, she could hardly associate the man in front of her with the Brian she knew from her memory.

The person has messy hair, stubble on their face, and a thin body.

Even standing up, they give off a feeling of being unsteady.

It looks like he's a beggar, who would think that he was once the entertainment industry's prince?

The old Mr. Hart and the old Mrs. Hart saw Grace and Jason approaching, and said, "You should also talk to Brian and advise him to stop behaving like this. Although we really like Valda and hope she can become our daughter-in-law, but... no matter what, the living must continue to live well. Brian cannot continue like this, it's not good!"

Chapter 3065

2/3

"We will persuade him," said Grace.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart, who were elderly, have passed away. Grace approached Brian and said, "Brian..."

Brian slowly lifted his head and said with a miserable expression, "So, are you really planning to listen to my parents and persuade me?"

"I..." Grace faltered. At this moment, the gaze from those phoenix-like eyes looking at her felt so unfamiliar. This kind of expression was something she had never experienced before.

“What do you want to advise me? To stop looking for Valda? Or to encourage me to pull myself together? Or maybe to suggest that I forget about Valda, and just consider her as a passing figure in my life?” Brian’s voice was hoarse.

This series of questions left Grace speechless.

How should she persuade these words?

Although others may offer advice, she is not qualified to say these things!

“I’m sorry, I know that no matter how many times I say sorry, it won’t change anything. But I think if Valda knew that you’ve become like this because of her, she wouldn’t be happy either.

Chapter 3065

3/3

What Valda wants the most is for you to be well and happy!”

“Am I okay?” Brian said with a smile that seemed to be mixed with tears. “I’m okay, but what about her? Why isn’t she okay? Why did she risk her life to save your child, but lost her own life in the process? Why...why...”

His voice grew louder and louder, while his phoenix-like eyes stared straight at Jasmine, who was being held in Grace’s arms, with a strong hatred in his gaze.

“He believes Valda shouldn’t have saved the child! He should be the one to bear the guilt and regret! At least then, she would still be alive and with him!”

Suddenly, Brian jumped up and rushed towards Jasmine in Grace’s arms, his hands reaching out to strangle her.

Jason quickly stepped in front of his wife and daughter, asking,

“Brian, what are you doing?”

Brian replied fiercely, “Valda shouldn’t have saved her! If it weren’t for this child, she wouldn’t have died!”

Chapter 3066

“Do you think Valda only wanted to save the child? What she really wanted to save was...”

Before Jason could finish his sentence, Grace interrupted him with a scolding, "Jason, don't say anymore!"

Jason paused and looked at his wife.

Grace pleaded with him, "Jason, please stop. It's our fault, everything is our fault! Valda disappeared because of us!"

Meanwhile, Jasmine in Grace's arms was crying loudly, frightened by the situation.

Grace quickly comforted her daughter, "Jasmine, don't cry. Uncle Brian didn't mean to scare you just now!"

Jason looked at Brian and said, "I won't let you lay a finger on Jasmine. If you really want to harm Valda, you can come after me instead."

"Fill my destiny?" Brian suddenly laughed, but with that mournful laughter, two lines of clear tears flowed from his reddened phoenix eyes.

Actually, he is the one who deserves to be sentenced to death!

Chapter 3066

2/3

"In fact, I'm the one who should die, it's all my fault! I'm the one who let Valda down! It's me who deserves to die!" Brian shouted, feeling a sharp pain in his chest.

These days, the pain seems to have already enveloped him, even to the point where it's so intense that he feels numb.

However, there was never a "most painful" before, only "more painful"!

He thought he was so numb from the pain that he couldn't feel it anymore.

But now... he feels the pain again.

Ouch! The pain was so intense that he clenched his fists and repeatedly pounded his chest, saying "It's me, it's all my fault..."

"Brian, don't do this!" Grace handed the child to Jason, took a quick step forward, and grabbed Brian's hand. "Don't do this. If Valda finds out you're acting like this for her, she'll be hurt and upset."

“Feeling sad?” Brian murmured, “But do you know? I’ve made her feel sad too many times. Why...why was I so foolish before? Why didn’t I treat her better when she was by my side? Why did I always make her feel sad?”

Brian keeps blaming himself.

Chapter 3066

3/3

“I knew exactly what she wanted to hear from me, didn’t I? I knew she had been waiting for me to fall in love with her! She was so eager, but I didn’t say anything! I had already fallen in love with her a long time ago, but I foolishly thought I hadn’t! Hahaha... Is there anyone in the world more foolish than me? Why, why did she have to fall in love with a fool like me!”

Brian was crying in pain, his body trembling and curled up like a desperate beast. It seemed that for him, the remaining time was just waiting for death.

Grace couldn’t stop crying. In front of her was Brian, and she didn’t even know what she could say to help him pull himself together.

Maybe... only Valda can do it!

Grace looked at Jason beside her, but he just shook his head slightly, his eyes telling her that nothing needed to be said right now.

Because...saying anything now is useless!

Chapter 3067

1/4

In a small village downstream of Deer Capital, there lies a simple house where an unconscious woman is lying.

A woman’s leg is in a cast, and an elderly woman is taking care of her, helping her turn over and wiping her body.

After a while, the old woman finished taking care of the unconscious woman and then left the room.

“Hey, Lisa, did that woman you found wake up?” asked someone from the same village curiously.

Lisa shook her head.

“Why hasn’t she woken up yet? She’s been in a coma for over three months,” said a villager. “Is she now what people call a vegetable? Why did you choose to pick up someone like her? If she never wakes up, you'll have to take care of her for the rest of your life!"

Lisa sighed and said, "I'll just consider it as if God has given me another daughter to take care of, so I'll raise her."

The villagers all know that Lisa's husband died many years ago, and she relied on her daughter for companionship. However, when her daughter was ten years old, she accidentally drowned in the river.

Chapter 3067

From then on, Lisa was left all alone. Her most frequent destination was the river where her daughter drowned. She would often burn paper offerings by the riverbank.

2/4

Who would have thought that over three months ago, Lisa found an unconscious woman by the river, and the woman's leg was even broken.

Lisa spent a lot of her savings to bring an old village doctor from a nearby village to treat the woman. Although the woman's legs are in casts, she has been unconscious the whole time.

As a result, many people in the village are saying that Lisa is a burden and that her family now has an "undead" person living with them.

Some people even encouraged Lisa to throw the woman out, saying that she wouldn't wake up anyway, so what's the difference between that and being dead.

However, Lisa persisted and refused to give up. She said that even if the person couldn't wake up, their life was still valuable and couldn't be discarded so easily.

Furthermore, this woman was found in the river, which made Lisa feel even more like it was her deceased daughter coming back.

Chapter 3067

3/4

Lisa went to the old village doctor again to get the medicine. She cooked it in a clay pot and carefully fed it to the woman lying unconscious in bed, one spoonful at a time.

“When will you wake up? Everyone says you won’t wake up, but I don’t believe that. As long as my wife is alive, I will take care of you. It’s up to your luck whether you can wake up before my wife passes away.” Lisa muttered to herself, unaware that the woman lying unconscious beside her had twitched her left pinky finger slightly.

A year’s time has quickly passed.

During this year, for some people, it was just an ordinary year, but for others, it was a year of significant change.

Phoebe and Whitney have been sentenced to life imprisonment, and anyone who knows the details knows that these two will not have a chance of parole. They may even suffer various forms of torture while in prison.

But no one sympathizes with them.

Even Patrick, who had some acquaintance with Phoebe, never spoke up to plead for her even a little bit.

Everyone knows that the current crown prince is colder and more melancholic than ever before. He always has a piece of rag wrapped around his right wrist, but few people know what it is or what it means.

Chapter 3067

4/4

Just beside him, there was one less person, a girlfriend he had once admitted to having!

The three characters of “Valda” have become a taboo in front of him, and others cannot mention it.

Chapter 3068

Once it is brought up, no one can say for sure what the outcome will be.

Once, a journalist mentioned Valda's name in front of Brian and asked if they had broken up. As a result, Brian physically attacked the journalist and sent them to the hospital. Since then, nobody has seen that journalist in Emerald City.

The uncontrollable and frenzied behavior of Brian when he hit the reporter, along with his aggressive appearance, left a lasting impression on those who witnessed the scene.

At that time, people gradually began to understand that the three letters "Valda" were synonymous with taboo.

And now, the person most frequently seen with Brian is a woman named Camille. Many people are speculating in secret whether Camille is the prince's new lover.

Whenever Camille sees this kind of gossip online, she can only helplessly smile.

The reason why Brian became close to her and even met her once a week is because they both share a bond over "Valda"..

Every week, Brian would ask her to talk about things related to

Chapter 3068

2/4

Valda, whether it was their experiences in school or Valda's work experiences. Brian was desperate to know everything about Valda, even though this understanding now seems too late.

Brian goes to the apartment where Valda used to live every week to clean it himself, without relying on anyone else.

Once, when Camille was also at Valda's apartment, she saw Brian holding one of Valda's sketchbooks and crying like a child.

Later on, Camille found out that the booklet was filled with drawings of Brian, all done by Valda.

H

Even some of the paintings had Valda's personal messages next to them.

These were things that Valda left for Brian, but for Brian now, they felt more like a punishment.

A punishment for his missed opportunity.

The woman who once loved him so much was gone! She couldn't be found!

It wasn't until now that Camille truly felt that Brian had really fallen in love with Valda! How happy Valda would have been if she knew?

But...it was too late!

Chapter 3068

3/4

Once again, Camille arrived at Valda's apartment door and took out the key to the apartment.

Now, there were two keys to this apartment, one in her hand and the other in Brian's.

And when she opened the door, the lights in the room were on.

Could it be that Brian had come?

Camille thought for a moment, then closed the door and walked through the hallway to the living room. There was no one in the living room, so she figured Brian must have gone to Valda's bedroom.

Camille thought about it but didn't go into the bedroom to disturb.

Often, when she and Brian were both in the apartment, they wouldn't bother each other.

Camille sat on the sofa in the living room and picked up a Valda comic book, flipping through it casually.

Whenever she stays here like this, looking at everything in the room remaining the same, she feels as if Valda is still alive.

But with the amount of water released from the reservoir, there's no way Valda, who can't swim, could have survived!

At that moment, suddenly, there was a loud noise of something heavy falling to the ground in the bedroom, followed by a woman's cry of pain.

Chapter 3068

Camille's body suddenly stiffened.

What is this sound...

She almost abruptly stood up and looked straight towards the direction of the bedroom.

Is it possible? Could it be Valda?

Is Valda still alive? Did she even come back here?!

Chapter 3069

Camille put down the book in her hand and almost stumbled as she walked to the bedroom door and pushed it open.

1/3

What she saw was a slender figure struggling to get up from the ground. Camille stared at the figure in disbelief, her eyes turning red in an instant.

It was...Valda!

It was Valda!

Even though Valda had lost a lot of weight compared to a year ago, and her long hair had been cut short, but...it was Valda!

"Valda!" Camille shouted suddenly, "You're alive? You're still alive?"

As she shouted, Camille ran to Valda and hugged her tightly. The real touch and warmth of her body told her that this was not her imagination!

"You're really alive! Why didn't you call me to tell me you're alive?"

Do you know how worried we were about you? Brian hasn't given up looking for you, he's been sending people to search for you all this time!" Camille said in a rush, tears streaming down her face.

Chapter 3069

"Sorry," murmured Valda.

2/3

"You know, do you have any idea how many tears I shed for you during these days? I thought I would never see you again," Camille cried and laughed, then suddenly remembered something and said, "By the way, does Brian know that you're alive? No, he probably doesn't know yet. If he did, he would probably be by your side now. I need to call him and share this good news!"

Camille spoke and quickly took out her phone. However, just as she was about to make a call, Valda's hand pressed down on her phone.

"Camille, don't hit!" said Valda.

Camille looked at Valda strangely and asked, "Valda, what's wrong? Are you planning to surprise him yourself? Should I find a reason for him to come over and then you can...?"

"I don't want to surprise him, I just don't want to face him yet, Camille. I came here today just to retrieve some of my personal belongings and I don't want him to know that I'm still alive."

Valda returned to her apartment and found the key to her door under the doormat, which was her habit. Surprisingly, the spare key was still there after a year.

So she decided to leave with something without disturbing anyone.

Chapter 3069

But unexpectedly, they met a good friend!

3/3

"Why?" Camille looked puzzled, her gaze fixed on Valda until she noticed her friend was wearing a long dress that reached down to her ankles.

Valda never used to wear long dresses like this before.

But then, her eyes widened as she noticed a crutch in the room.

This type of crutch is usually used by people with mobility issues, propped under the armpit. And now, there was one in the room.

"Valda, are you injured?" Camille asked with concern.

“Well, I got hurt, but I survived. It’s just that one leg is a bit immobile,” Valda said, bending down to pick up the crutch from the floor. She propped it under her armpit and picked up some personal items she had previously organized, hobbling out of the bedroom.

Chapter 3070

Camille quickly followed her out of the room. “How long will it take for your leg to heal? You’re having trouble moving around now, so you should tell Brian to take care of you!”

“Camille,” Valda took a deep breath and said seriously, “my leg... will never heal. It won’t get better.”

“What?!” Camille was stunned, her face full of disbelief. “It won’t get better? What does that mean?”

“It means that my leg will always be lame from now on,” Valda said. For the rest of her life, she would be a cripple.

Camille felt as if a huge rock had hit her chest, causing pain and making it difficult for her to breathe.

“I don’t know how you got injured, but you can definitely recover from it. I’m sure of it!” said Camille.

Valda’s eyes flashed with a hint of desolation as she gave a bitter smile and said, “It’s not looking good. My leg has already missed the best time for treatment, so no matter how I try to treat it again now, it’s too late!”

“So, it’s because of your limp that you don’t want Brian?” said

Camille.

Chapter 3070

2/3

“...I will meet her, I just haven’t figured out how to face him yet,” Valda hesitated for a moment and said, “I know he has been looking for me all this time. I have also seen some of his photos online and know that he has been going through a tough time. I never thought of letting him continue to suffer in this pain, I just...just...”

Valda hesitated and for a moment, she didn’t know how to continue speaking.

That conflicting mindset has been tearing her apart, it was like this before, and now it has become even stronger.

Camille saw her friend’s sad expression and quickly comforted her, saying, “Don’t worry. If you haven’t figured out how to face him yet, take a few more days to adjust your emotions before meeting him. You don’t even know how much he wants to see you!”

Valda bit her lip and pulled back her lame right foot.

Camille sensed her friend's insecurity and comforted her by saying, "Don't worry about your legs. Even if they don't get better in the future, Brian will still be with you. I've seen how much he misses you these days."

"Okay!" Valda interrupted her friend, "Stop talking, Camille. I'm sorry for only letting you know now that I'm still alive. As for what happened between Brian and me, I will deal with it on my own."

Chapter 3070

"Okay, so where do you live now?" asked Camille.

3/3

"I live in a nearby small hotel, where you don't need an ID to check in," said Valda.

In other words, it's like those cheap hotels. Camille understood the situation well. "Why don't you stay at my place first? I'm worried about you being alone in your current state. Besides, I finally get to see you and there are so many things I want to talk to you about."

Valda thought for a moment, nodded and said, "Okay."