

Ex Convict 3241

Chapter 3241

William listened quietly, and his eyes gradually became clear.

What he wants is not just to play the piano well to please Jasper, but also to stand by her side in the future, become a stronger presence, and get the person he desires.

So, for him, the piano is actually not the most important thing!

He has many more important things to accomplish.

"I understand," said William.

"Now that you understand, go to bed. There are things to do tomorrow," said Philip.

William nodded and followed his father out of the music room. But as he left, he glanced back at the piano, lost in thought.

Philip patted his son's shoulder. "Well, since it was your decision, don't regret it."

William pursed his lips and looked up at his father with a determined gaze. "I won't regret it!"

However, half a month later, William suddenly came to

Chapter 3241

2/4

Emerald City on a weekend, claiming that Philip had business.

to attend to here and he came along.

As a father, Philip naturally wouldn't expose his son's lie. He came here for business, but he could have sent someone else to handle it. He didn't have to come in person.

The main reason for coming to Emerald City was that his son was thinking about Jasper. That's why they came from Deer Capital.

At this moment, in the Reed family's mansion, Lawrence met William for the first time.

Although Jasper had shown her a photo of William before, it wasn't until she actually met him that she truly felt that sense of oppression.

The other person was taller than him and was wearing clothes that didn't look cheap. The servants respectfully called him

Mr. Barlow.

When Jasper saw the other person, he immediately rushed over and naturally hugged them.

Jasper's happiness was so evident.

"William, this is Lawrence," Jasper introduced, then turned to Lawrence and said, "Lawrence, this is William."

Chapter 3241

3/4

Two boys were staring at each other, it was their first formal meeting and they were sizing each other up.

William appears calm, while Lawrence seems a bit uneasy.

"Hello, Lawrence," said William.

"You...hello, Mr. Barlow," Lawrence stuttered in response.

"Jasper has been saying that you play the piano very well. Can you play a piece for me to listen to?" William asked.

"Of course...I can," Lawrence quickly replied.

"This is a gift I prepared for you when I came. I hope you like it," William politely said, then took out a beautifully wrapped small box and handed it to Lawrence.

Lawrence was pleasantly surprised to receive a gift.

Jasper's eyes lit up and she asked, "What about me, William? Did you bring me a gift?"

"Of course I did," William said, taking out a butterfly hair clip and placing it in Jasper's hand. "I saw this and thought it was pretty, so I wanted to give it to you."

It was a beautiful butterfly hair clip with pink and purple crystals embedded in the wings and eyes. Jasper's face immediately lit up with a big smile, clearly showing that she liked the gift.

4/4

Chapter 3241

Chapter 3242

"Thank you, William!" Jasper said with a smile, giving William a big hug.

At that moment, Lawrence suddenly felt a little envious of William.

After a while, Jasper pulled Lawrence to sit in front of the piano and started playing a piece for everyone to listen to.

Lawrence is playing the piano. These days, he has been receiving guidance from a teacher who is teaching him about piano playing. As a result, he has made significant progress in his technique. Previously, he had some areas where he was not very smooth, but now he has corrected those issues.

William listened quietly, his young face displaying an unusual seriousness.

Hearing it live like this is much more impactful than watching a video beforehand. He can now better understand why

Jasper loves the Lawrence piano so much.

The sound of the music that evokes such a feeling, perhaps he will never be able to play it himself.

2/4 If we were to compare natural talent in playing the piano, he has actually lost to Lawrence.

Just like his previous teacher's evaluation, he has reached a level of skill that can rival many professional pianists, but his piano playing seems to lack emotion and fails to resonate with others on a deeper level.

Because he simply cannot integrate his emotions into the music he plays.

After a song ended, Jasper took the initiative to ask William, "Isn't Lawrence's playing very beautiful?"

"Yes, it sounds very nice," William smiled and replied.

Jasper casually said to Lawrence, "I knew it, William will definitely love your music."

Lawrence gave a shy smile.

In the evening, Lawrence left the Reed House and went back home with the gift that William had given him.

When he opened the gift box, he saw a children's watch inside.

Many of his classmates wear children's watches, but he doesn't have one. Although he envies them, he hasn't asked his parents for one because he knows their financial situation isn't good and children's watches cost over a hundred yuan.

Chapter 3242

3/4

Now, he has received a children's watch, which is obviously very good and looks better than those worn by his classmates. However, he feels like there is something weighing on his chest, making him uncomfortable.

"Oh, who gave you this watch? Was it from Miss Three?" Doran Abbott approached and asked his son, noticing the child's watch in his hand.

"No, it was sent today by Mr. Barlow from the Reed family," Lawrence replied.

"Mr. Barlow? Is that the same person who stayed with the Reed family a few years ago, and later discovered that he was a child from a wealthy family who had been lost and was brought back to Deer Capital by his biological father?" Wilona also walked over and said.

During this period, she also got to know some of the Reed family's servants. These servants knew that her son had recently become a favorite of Miss Reed, so they naturally tried to please her. She also learned a lot of gossip from these servants.

William's matter is also one of them.

Chapter 3242

4/4

Before, Wilona had mentioned William's matter several times at home. Because William had a good relationship with Jasper, Wilona specifically reminded her son to also get close to Mr.

Barlow.

"Yes, it's this Mr. Barlow," Lawrence replied.

Wilona picked up the children's watch in her son's hand, then took out her phone and searched for the brand of the watch online. Immediately, she exclaimed, "Wow, Mr. Barlow is really rich. The online retail price for this watch model is 130,000!"

Doran, who was beside her, was also shocked. Only wealthy families could afford a children's watch that cost 130,000.

Chapter 3243

Lawrence stared at the children's watch in his hand.

This watch... costs 130,000? He knew that his parents' monthly salary combined was not even 10,000 yuan. His parents often sighed at home about how difficult it was to earn money.

And now, this watch cost more than his family's annual income!

Suddenly, he felt an obvious "gap" between him and Mr. Barlow, and also between him and Ms. Jasper.

Mr. Barlow and Miss Three, they belong to the same social class, but he can never get in touch with them!

William and his father came to Emerald City this time, but they didn't stay at a hotel in tMason Swansonty at night. Instead, they stayed with the Reed family because the Reed House is big enough and has many guest rooms.

Jasper pulled William to her room to play with her. After playing for a while, she suddenly remembered something and pulled out a music score. "Oh, by the way, this is a new music score I just got. I haven't learned this song yet. Do you want to learn it? If you do, I can print out a copy for you later."

William took the sheet music and looked through it. After a moment, he turned to Jasper and said seriously, "Jasper, I will have much less time to play the piano in the future, and perhaps I won't have as much time to learn new pieces."

Jasper's eyes widened suddenly and he looked at the other person in a daze, "Do you... not like the piano anymore?"

He never really had much of a liking for the piano. The only reason he persisted until now was because she liked it. William silently thought to himself and then spoke up, "It's not that I don't like it, it's just that my time needs to be allocated to more important things."

"What's more important?" she wondered.

"In addition to studying during the day, I also have to attend some remedial classes. I also need to learn several foreign languages with some teachers, and my dad wants to hire a teacher to teach me some financial knowledge. Therefore, I don't have much time to practice the piano," said William.

Jasper looked surprised as he listened to the long list of things. he was supposed to learn. "You have to learn all of that? But...aren't we just elementary school students? My mom and dad say that as long as we study well in class and enjoy learning what we like, that's enough."

Chapter 3243

"But I can't," said William.

3/3

"Why?" she asked, looking completely puzzled.

William bit his lip slightly and returned the sheet music to Jasper's hand. "I need to learn more in order to have the ability to take over my father's company in the future. I also want to become stronger and have more opportunities to obtain what I desire."

Jasper was still a bit confused and asked, "William, do you want to become very powerful?"

"Mhmm." He nodded, "Yes, I want to. Very much."

"Because you want something, right? But what exactly is it?" she wondered.

"Wait until I actually get it, then I'll tell you, okay?" he said.

Actually, what he really wants is a person, someone who is standing right in front of him now. He wants to be with her every day, see her smile every day, and hope that she will love him back just as much as he loves her.

Chapter 3244

He wants to be able to stand by her side in the future without anyone telling him he can't!

All of this requires him to constantly work hard and become stronger.

"Okay." Jasper nodded and reached out his right pinky finger, hooking it with William's pinky finger.

"Let's pinky promise. If you get it, you have to tell me!"

"Okay." He smiled slightly. If that day comes, he will definitely tell her that what he wants is her!

One month seemed to pass particularly quickly. When Kyla received a call from the wedding dress tailor informing her that her wedding dress had arrived, she was stunned and suddenly felt uneasy.

Because if the wedding dress was ready, it meant that it was time to take wedding photos. And when the wedding photos were taken, she would have to say the words that could release Martin from hypnosis.

No one knew how Martin would feel about her once the hypnosis was lifted.

Chapter 3244

2/4

But she had to do it because she didn't want to live in fear of the future. She wanted to continue living a happy life with him.

Especially in this past month, she could feel that their relationship had become closer, and there was more laughter and joy in their home.

All of this was what she had always pursued – a warm and happy life.

If this happiness is built on fragile ground, it's better to take the initiative to break that thin ice and work hard to bring them back to their own shore, where they can stand firmly and securely together.

That way, it can last longer!

Kyla arrived at the photography shop and tried on her custom-made wedding dress. It fit perfectly and didn't require any alterations.

Then she confirmed with the staff the time for taking the wedding photos.

After everything was settled, she went to Martin's office building on the Emerald City side.

Since the two of them started living together, Martin has been spending most of his time in Emerald City. As a result, many of his work responsibilities have also shifted to Emerald City.

Ter 3244

3/4

Weiss Group's office building is located in Emerald City, but Kyla rarely visits. As a result, the security guards and receptionists at the entrance do not know her and did not let her in at first.

So Kyla had to call Martin's phone directly, "Are you currently on this side of the company?"

"I'm here, what's up?" said Martin.

"I am right downstairs at your company, could you please ask the security to let me in?" she said.

Martin said, "Okay, then you make a video call and I'll talk to him."

Kyla switched the call to a video call and placed her phone in front of the security guard.

In the video, Martin said to the security guard, "Let her in, she's my wife."

The security guard immediately widened his eyes. The person in the video was indeed their own chairman!

So, you mean the person in front of us is the chairman's wife?!

Chapter 3244

Thinking of this, the security guard's forehead immediately broke out in a thin layer of sweat, and he quickly said, "Yes, yes, I understand."

4/4

After the phone call ended, the security guard respectfully escorted Kyla to the elevator and even pressed the button for her. It wasn't until Kyla had entered the elevator and the doors had closed that the security guard let out a long sigh of relief.

As he walked past the front desk, the receptionist asked in a low voice, "When you called that person the chairman's wife just now, is she really President Weiss's wife?"

"Of course it's true. The chairman just said it himself on the video call," said the security guard.

Chapter 3245

The front desk suddenly fell silent, with a look of surprise in their eyes.

So that person is actually the wife of the chairman who is rumored to be extraordinary in the company!

The experience of that lady has been circulating in the company, and it can almost only be described as legendary.

She was once the girlfriend of the chairman, but was cruelly abandoned and even went to jail. She had a child out of wedlock, but despite all of this, she was able to continue her relationship with the chairman and even got him to marry her. She is now officially known as Mrs. Weiss and has even given.

birth to a second child.

How many women can have such an experience!

She's like a fighter jet among women!

She originally thought that the chairman's wife would be a shrewd and possibly dominant woman, even glamorous.

However, the person just now was introverted and quiet, with a hint of elegance and gentleness, completely different from what she had imagined.

Chapter 3245

2/4

So it turns out that the chairman's lover is actually this type of woman.

Kyla took the elevator to the floor where Martin's office was located. The secretary recognized her and greeted her immediately, saying "Madam, President Weiss is currently in his office."

With that, the secretary led the way in front.

Kyla followed the secretary to the door of the office. The secretary lightly knocked on the door twice, then pushed it open.

Kyla walked into the office.

Martin stood up to greet her, "Why did you suddenly want to come here?"

"I came over after leaving the wedding photography place and seeing that there was still some time left. I wanted to come and see you," Kyla said. "We're shooting three scenes. with three outfits in total. Besides the wedding dress, I want to wear casual clothes for the other two outfits. I want to take some warm and cozy everyday photos."

"Sure," Martin had no objections. "Then let's take a family

Chapter 3245

3/4

photo with your mother-in-law, Nelson, and Trista next time.”

“Let’s do that next time,” Kyla smiled slightly. “This time, let’s take photos of just the two of us. We can take family photos next time.”

When he was no longer under hypnosis and had regained all his emotions, taking family photos together would surely be a completely different experience.

“Okay,” Martin agreed.

“Then you can continue working. I’ll wait for you here until you finish work. You don’t have to worry about me,” Kyla said, walking over to the sofa and sitting down.

“Okay, so what do you want to drink or eat later? Just tell the secretary,” Martin said.

“Okay,” Kyla replied.

Martin went back to his desk to work, while Kyla opened her phone and started searching for various ways to “chase a man.”

If he doesn’t want to be with her after she breaks the hypnosis, then she will have to chase him again and work hard to win him over!

Chapter 3245

4/4

At this moment, she can look at the methods others have used online and see which ones are better and more suitable for her to use.

There are all kinds of ways to chase a man online, some of which even left Kyla stunned and amazed at the creativity of some netizens.

It can only be said that there are many talented people among netizens!

“What are you looking at?” Martin’s voice suddenly sounded in Kyla’s ear.

She looked up suddenly and saw that he had walked up to her without her noticing. She quickly instinctively turned off her phone screen and said nervously, “Nothing...I wasn’t looking at anything.”

Chapter 3246

But in her heart, she kept guessing whether he had seen what she was looking at just now.

If he had seen it, would he be able to guess what she was planning to do?

However, he had previously mentioned that if she wanted to say the code to release the hypnosis, it would be best to do it without him knowing, because if he was prepared, it might not work.

“What’s wrong? Do you have something on your mind?” Kyla changed the subject.

“I have a last-minute meeting to attend. I might be working late tonight. If you want to go back first, I can have the driver take you,” he said.

“No need. I’ll wait for you here. I’ll call my mom later and tell her we’ll be home late,” she replied.

His eyes flickered slightly. “Then I’ll go to the meeting first.”

After Martin left, Kyla looked around the spacious office and walked to Martin’s desk, where she saw her own photo.

Chapter 3246

It was a photo taken in the first year of their relationship, when she was smiling and carefree.

But her carefree days ended so soon.

2/4

Kyla lifted her hand and gently touched the photo frame. She didn’t expect Martin to put this photo on his desk.

Why did he put this photo in a place where he can see it every time he looks up?

I just don’t know if, after he’s out of hypnosis, he’ll still want to put her photo back in this spot.

Kyla let out a soft sigh. But no matter what, even if he didn’t want to maintain their marriage at that time, she would still pursue him and be with him again.

Because she believes that she is the only woman he has ever loved in his entire life!

When Martin returned to the office, he only saw Kyla lying on the couch, as if she had already fallen asleep.

He furrowed his brows slightly, walked up to her, and took off his coat to cover her body.

I wonder if she will catch a cold sleeping like this. Doesn’t she ask her secretary to bring her a blanket?

Chapter 3246

Just as he was about to straighten up, he hesitated for a moment when she murmured “Martin” under her breath.

3/4

She didn’t wake up and was still sleeping. The utterance of “Martin” was just a murmured sound in her unconscious state of sleep.

“Martin...” she murmured again, the words spilling from her lips, “You can’t... leave me...”

He stared at her fixedly, wondering what kind of dream she had just had to make her say such words.

However... “Kyla, don’t worry, I won’t leave you,” he said, lowering his head and placing a kiss on her forehead.

No matter what happens in the future, he thinks he will never leave her!

When Kyla woke up, she realized that she was in a car and Martin was driving.

“I...am I not in your office? How could...” she said, looking a bit confused.

“You fell asleep on my office sofa, and you looked so soundly asleep that I didn’t want to wake you up,” said Martin.

Chapter 3246

“So...how do I get to the car?” Kyla asked.

“I carried you into the car,” he replied.

4/4

She looked embarrassed and said, “Did you carry me all the way from your office to your car?”

“Yes,” he said.

She immediately looked embarrassed and asked, “So... how many people saw it?”

“Not far, the elevator goes directly to the underground parking lot. However, some people from other companies saw us over there,” said Martin.

Kyla said, “Actually, you can wake me up.”

“We are a married couple, so it’s not wrong for me to hold you like this and get on the car, right?” he said.

Hmm... that seems to be correct.

Chapter 3247

1/4

“Also, if you want to take a nap in my office next time, you can ask my secretary for a blanket to cover yourself. Otherwise, it’s easy to catch a cold with the air conditioning on in the office,” he added.

“Oh,” she responded, glancing at the blanket covering her. It seemed that sometimes men could be more attentive than women, especially when it came to details.

“By the way, you...” She suddenly spoke up as if she had just remembered something, but after saying three words, she hesitated.

“What is it? Do you have something to say?” Martin asked.

Kyla bit her lip and asked, “Why did you put that photo on your desk?”

Even though she didn’t specify which photo, he immediately understood.

Because there was only one photo on his desk!

“Because I really like it, but also regret it,” he said.

Chapter 3247

2/4

She looked puzzled. She understood why he liked it, but why regret it?

“What do you regret?” she asked.

He suddenly turned the steering wheel and parked the car on the side of the road, turning to look at Kyla intently.

For a moment, there was silence in the car.

After a while, Martin murmured, “I regret that I lost your smile.”

Kyla’s heart suddenly shook, and her nose became sour.

Martin raised his hand and gently stroked her face, “I’m sorry, Kyla. If I hadn’t done those stupid things back then, you wouldn’t have lost that smile so early. I ruined your life, but I also ruined my own.”

“Even if that smile is gone, there will still be new ones,” she said.

"But it's not carefree anymore," he said. Later, even when she smiled, there always seemed to be layers of pressure, exhaustion, and worries underneath.

She could smile gently, elegantly, and peacefully, but she would never smile carefree again.

Chapter 3247

3/4

"People always grow up, and no one will always be carefree. Sometimes, the more experiences you have, the more you understand what to cherish," Kyla said.

"Yes," Martin murmured, "the more experiences you have, the more you know what to cherish."

So he cherishes every day now.

"Kyla, no matter what happens in the future, I won't leave you," he suddenly said.

She hesitated for a moment, "You—"

"So I hope you can be happier," he said.

She smiled slightly, "If you can really do what you say, then I will be happier."

"I will definitely do what I say." As he finished speaking, his lips landed on hers.

How could he bear to leave her? He couldn't bear it!

On the day of the wedding photo shoot, Kyla appeared front of Martin in a white wedding dress with delicate makeup, and he felt a sense of confusion.

Chapter 3247

3/4

"People always grow up, and no one will always be carefree. Sometimes, the more experiences you have, the more you understand what to cherish," Kyla said.

"Yes," Martin murmured, "the more experiences you have, the more you know what to cherish."

So he cherishes every day now.

"Kyla, no matter what happens in the future, I won't leave. you," he suddenly said.

She hesitated for a moment, "You—"

"So I hope you can be happier," he said.

She smiled slightly, "If you can really do what you say, then I will be happier."

"I will definitely do what I say." As he finished speaking, his lips.

landed on hers.

How could he bear to leave her? He couldn't bear it!

On the day of the wedding photo shoot, Kyla appeared in front of Martin in a white wedding dress with delicate makeup, and he felt a sense of confusion.

Chapter 3247

It was as if he saw her from years ago.

4/4

Back then, she had once said to him with a naive face that when they got married in the future, she would wear a beautiful white wedding dress and become the most beautiful bride.

Chapter 3248

1/4

Unfortunately, he never gave her a wedding, not even this wedding photo shoot today, which was delayed for so many years before they finally took it together.

They met too early, but were separated too many times, and too much time was wasted between them.

As Martin looked at Kyla, she was also looking at him, dressed in a black suit that wrapped around his slender figure, looking elegant and handsome.

She knew better than anyone else how good his figure was, and today's photo shoot was actually fulfilling a wish in her heart.

"You look beautiful," Martin said. "We will definitely take very beautiful photos today."

"Thank you," Kyla smiled. "You look handsome too. If I didn't know you, I might have thought you were a celebrity."

He chuckled.

The two of them, along with the crew, got into the car and headed to the shooting location.

Chapter 3248

Kyla chose a secluded place for the shoot, but it was surrounded by beautiful mountains and water, with picturesque scenery.

“Just like a place you would choose,” Martin said. “You once.

2/4

said that if you ever took wedding photos, you would choose a place with mountains and water.”

Kyla paused for a moment, realizing that it was something. she had said to him during the sweetest time they had spent together a long time ago.

“So long ago... do you still remember?” she murmured.

“Mmm, I remember,” he said. He used to think he would forget, but strangely enough, as time passed, the words she had said became even more vividly imprinted in his memory.

Kyla’s eyes were a bit moist, and she quickly took a deep breath, trying hard to suppress the urge to cry.

We’re about to take photos soon, so no crying allowed! Otherwise, your makeup will be ruined for nothing!

When the shooting began, Martin was exceptionally cooperative, and the combination of handsome men and beautiful women made the scene naturally very pleasing to the eye.

Chapter 3248

3/4

Even the photographer praised the natural feeling captured in their photos, with every smile and expression appearing genuine and not at all contrived.

After finishing the wedding photoshoot, Kyla and Martin went to two other locations to take photos in their everyday clothes.

When shooting a scene, Martin is required to bend down. and look at Kyla, while Kyla looks up and wraps her arms. around Martin’s neck. Their faces are close together, as if they are about to kiss, but their lips are not touching, creating a romantic and ambiguous atmosphere.

Martin followed the photographer’s instructions and bent down, his handsome face suddenly enlarged in front of Kyla,

As Kyla wrapped her arms around Martin's neck, the photographer instructed, "Get closer, yes, even closer...closer...alright, Mrs. Ye, tilt your head a little to the side..."

The photographer directed their movements for a while until he was satisfied and ready to start shooting.

Kyla gazed at the handsome face so close to hers and whispered in a voice only they could hear, "Martin, how much do you love me?"

Chapter 3248

4/4

His gaze slightly intensified as he replied in a low voice, "Why do you suddenly ask?"

"Just curious," she said.

He pursed his lips for a moment before answering, "I want to spend the rest of my life with you."

She smiled sweetly, and in that moment, it was as if the camera, the sound of the shutter, and everything around them ceased to exist. Her eyes were fixed only on him.

"Then don't forget that you love me this much, okay?" she said.

"Okay," he promised.

Forget? How could he ever forget?

Chapter 3249

At the end of the day when the shooting was over, Kyla was still a bit dazed and wondered, "Is it over just like that?"

1/4

And the end also means... the time to release from hypnosis is getting closer.

As Martin was driving back to the mansion, Kyla said, "Tonight, I booked a suite at the hotel."

"Did you book a room?" He paused, looking at her with surprise.

She said, "Today, I wore a wedding dress, so I want to spend a night with you in the hotel, as a way to make up for our wedding night. Will you refuse such a small request?"

"That mom and Nelson, they..."

"I have told my mom that she should tell Nelson that you went on a business trip today and I accompanied you, and that we will be back tomorrow," said Kyla.

"It seems like you have everything arranged. Which hotel are we staying at?" Martin asked.

Chapter 3249

2/4

Kyla mentioned the name of a famous upscale hotel in Emerald City, which Martin already knows the location of, so there's no need for Kyla to provide the specific address again.

Martin looked at the car while Kyla tilted her head and stared straight at Martin's face.

After a moment, the car stopped at a red light at a four-way intersection. Martin turned to Kyla and asked, "What's wrong?

Is there something on my face? You've been staring at me since earlier."

"No, I just really wanted to look at you a little more," she replied.

"Hmm?" he raised an eyebrow.

She hesitated for a moment and said, "Well, you can understand it as... you're very handsome, so I want to look at you more."

He chuckled, "I'm already at this age, what's so handsome about me?"

Now, he has entered middle age.

"You're still very handsome, the charm of a mature man," she – said.

Chapter 3249

His eyes narrowed slightly, as if he was thinking about something.

“What’s wrong?” She suddenly felt a sense of guilt, as if his gaze had seen through something.

“I just feel like you’re a bit different today,” he said as the traffic light turned green and he started driving again.

“What’s different?” she asked.

3/4

“I feel like today, you’re starting to resemble the you that I first met,” he replied.

She couldn’t help but fall silent. In truth, the her from back then was the most authentic version of herself. But later on, due to the harsh realities of life, she quickly changed herself and gradually forgot what her original personality was like.

And today, she wanted to show him the original version of herself that she was when they first met!

When they arrived at the hotel, Kyla had booked the presidential suite and also ordered dinner, which was delivered by the hotel staff to their room. She even specially ordered scented candles, which made him feel nostalgic.

Chapter 3249

4/4

He remembered that when they were dating, she would always arrange candlelit dinners whenever she wanted a romantic meal. He never expected that after so many years, he would once again enjoy a candlelit dinner arranged by her.

But he was happy to accept it.

The dinner made them feel like they had gone back in time to their early days together. After they finished eating, Kyla took out her phone and played some music, filling the room

Chapter 3250

Martin raised his eyebrows slightly, while Kyla stood up and made an inviting gesture.

“Mr. Weiss, how about dancing with me?” She smiled at him.

“Do you still remember the steps?” He asked, looking somewhat surprised.

Today, she seemed to be constantly doing things that surprised him.

“I remember what you taught me,” she said softly.

He was taken aback for a moment, then a faint smile appeared on his lips.

Yes, he had taught her ballroom dancing. He didn’t know how many times she had stepped on his feet when he taught her the steps, but even so, he still wanted to teach her.

Because her apologetic expression with a red face was cute, because her serious learning expression was cute, and because her proud expression when she danced better and better was cute...

Chapter 3250

2/4

These cutenesses made him want to keep looking at her like this forever.

Martin stood up and gently took Kyla’s hand, and they began to dance slowly just like they used to, surrounded by candlelight and music.

Martin was surprised because he thought Kyla hadn’t danced in a long time and might be rusty or step on his feet a lot. However, this was not the case. They seemed to have an exceptional understanding and danced together as if it had only been a few years since they last danced.

As the song ended, Kyla gently tiptoed and held Martin’s face with both hands, taking the initiative to kiss his lips.

He hesitated for a moment, but then quickly reached out and wrapped his arm around her waist, leaning down slightly to respond to her kiss.

This kiss is passionate and intense.

After an unknown amount of time, the two finally ended their kiss. Kyla gazed steadily at the man in front of her, gently caressing his face with her fingers. “Martin, I love you. No matter what happens in the future, please remember that I love you. You can doubt anything, but...never doubt that I love you, okay?”

Chapter 3250

Her expression was too serious at the moment, causing a hint of unease to pass through his heart. He furrowed his brows and asked, “What’s wrong? Did something happen?”

Kyla shook her head slowly, took a deep breath, and said each word carefully, "Martin, for life, for eternity, you must never think of leaving me again!"

When she said this sentence, he was completely stunned. The sentence was...

"You—" His pupils suddenly contracted, staring at her in a daze.

Kyla's eyes turned red, and a layer of mist filled her eyes. "Martin, I want to lift the hypnosis you put on me. I don't want to live in fear of accidentally saying the trigger phrase to release the hypnosis and jeopardizing our future together. So, I want to take the initiative to do this. After you lift the hypnosis, I hope you remember what I just said to you that I love you, and it's genuine."

—

His brow furrowed gradually, and waves of pain kept coming to his mind. His heart was beating intensely, yet exceptionally clear.

Clear enough that he could count his own heartbeat with each beat.