

Ex Convict 3961

Chapter 3961

After a while, she felt a slight depression next to her, as if someone's weight was pressing down on her.

Then Mick's voice came through the blanket and into her ears, "Nancy, I don't usually sleep with other people. Do you understand?"

1/4

Although he said he didn't usually do it, he had already slept with her twice.

The two of them lay quietly on the bed like this. Nancy didn't know how long it had been before she pulled the blanket off her head and turned to look at Mick lying next to her.

The next moment, her gaze met his dark eyes.

He wasn't sleeping, he had been watching her all along.

"Thank you..." Nancy pursed her lips and said.

"You really should thank me properly, so from now on, you need to repay me well." Mick's voice was calm.

"How do you want me to repay you?" If she had to repay him, at least it would make her feel a little better.

Chapter 3961

2/4

If Mick didn't need her to repay him, she would feel even more guilty towards him.

Just now, she had indeed had a nightmare, but after she hugged him, she slowly woke up.

And what she said to him later was not an uncontrollable outpouring of fear, but something she deliberately said to Mick.

It was just unexpected that Mick would agree not to let Clarissa get away with it.

With his words, Clarissa's fate was almost sealed!

Soon, she should be able to see Clarissa being thrown into jail.

She should be happy that her plan succeeded and her revenge is about to be fulfilled, but at the same time, she feels guilty about Mick.

From beginning to end, she only used his affection for her,

"What do you think? How can you repay me?" Mick asked in return.

"Anything I can give, I will give it all." Nancy said eagerly.

Chapter 3961

3/4

"Anything?" He raised his eyebrows, as if waiting for the little prey to jump down.

"Yes." She promised that even if he wanted her body now, she would not hesitate.

"Then for the rest of your life, don't fall in love with any man other than me." Mick spoke up.

Nancy was stunned, blinking her eyes, as if she was a little skeptical of what she heard.

"What, can't do it?" He asked.

"Why did you bring this up..." She asked in confusion.

"Because I don't want the woman I like to still like other men. I don't like to share in this matter." Mick said.

Nancy's expression became even more stunned. What did he mean by that sentence he just said? Could it be... "You... like me?" She asked in a trembling voice.

"Yes, Nancy, I like you." Mick said seriously, "So, don't like any other men anymore, okay? In the future, stay by my side forever."

He had no resistance to liking her.

Chapter 3961

Her car accident made him completely understand his own feelings.

4/4

"From now on, I will protect you, accompany you, and never let you feel sad or scared again," Mick said softly. He had never really felt anything for love before, and if he never fell in love with anyone else in his life, he wouldn't feel any regret.

But now, he felt that if he hadn't met her in this life, it would have been a regret.

Chapter 3962

Nancy stared at the person in front of her, her nose suddenly becoming sour, and a strange feeling surged up in her heart, making her feel confused.

Can it be? Can he really like her like this?

Although she was full of calculations, he was so serious about his promises.

At this moment, Nancy felt that she was despicable to the extreme.

The next day when she woke up, Mick had already left, but he sent bodyguards to stay in the hospital to guard her room.

And on the note he left her, it said that he had some business to attend to at the company, but he would come back at night.

At night...looking at the note in her hand, Nancy suddenly felt a sense of anticipation.

Sure enough, Mick came to her hospital room to keep her company at night.

Looking at his figure standing in the room, Nancy felt warm in her heart.

Chapter 3962

2/4

Is this what it feels like to be protected?

Since her mother's death, the feeling of loneliness had faded away a lot because of Mick's presence.

Nancy has been in the hospital for almost a week, and Mick has been staying overnight for a week as well.

When it was time for her to be discharged, Mick suggested, "Since you're just getting out of the hospital, why don't you come stay at my villa to rest? You'll have servants to take care of you."

"No, thank you. My injuries aren't that serious, and they won't hinder my movements. I can take care of myself," she declined his offer.

"Don't you want to move in with me?" Mick asked.

"I-" Her words seemed to get stuck in her throat, unable to come out.

How should she say it? Was it because she wasn't sure about their relationship? She felt like she was walking on a tightrope, ready to fall to the ground at any moment.

If she moved in with him now, she was afraid that her dependence on him would only grow deeper.

Chapter 3962

3/4

"If you feel more comfortable in your rental, it's okay not to move in. Just let me know if you need anything, okay?" Mick's words relieved Nancy.

After returning to her rental and after Mick left, Nancy went to her mother's memorial and prayed with her hands together.

"Mom... I survived this time, and Mick promised to make Clarissa pay for what she did. Your revenge is finally fulfilled. Clarissa will go to jail, even if the Schultz family has power, they will fall this time!"

As she spoke, Nancy's eyes became moist.

"But... Mom, why am I still so sad? I used Mick's feelings for me to take revenge. I don't have any feelings for him, but I lied. to him and said I liked him. Mom... What should I do? Should I confess to him? Will he forgive me?" Only her voice floated in the air, and everything else was silent.

The following days seemed to return to the days before Nancy was hospitalized. She worked at the hotel every day, met Mick for dinner after work, and then Mick would send her back to her rental.

On weekends, they would go out to watch a movie, go shopping, or stay in his villa to read books and watch TV shows.

Chapter 3962

These days were like a dream.

In this dream, she often has the illusion that she is dating

Mick.

Or rather, they are dating, but it feels like they are walking on a mirror that could collapse at any moment. Perhaps it will shatter completely in the next moment.

Chapter 3963

In addition, there is one more thing: Clarissa has been charged with murder and will soon be on trial.

1/4

This is also big news in Emerald City. It is said that the Schultz family has been trying to use their connections to save their daughter.

But anyone who knows a little bit about the inside story understands that Mick is the one who will prosecute Clarissa. So who would dare to help the Schultz family?

Helping the Schultz family is equivalent to offending the Reed family.

Moreover, this time Clarissa's guilt is conclusive, and there is no possibility of overturning the case.

When Nancy was at work, Francis came directly to the hotel to find her.

As soon as he saw Nancy, Francis put on a remorseful expression. "Nancy, I know that the Schultz family mistreated you and your mother. Clarissa has been your sister for so many years. Can't you consider the sisterhood and not let her spend her best years in prison?"

Chapter 3963

"Didn't she also disregard sisterhood and plan to kill me?"

Nancy said bluntly.

2/4

"That was just Clarissa's momentary impulse. She is not a bad person..."

But before Francis could finish his sentence, Nancy interrupted him. "Not a bad person? So after pushing my mother off the balcony and killing her, she can feel no guilt? Not a bad person? She was determined to kill me. As for the so-called sisterhood, she would slap me and insult me at the slightest provocation during these years with the Schultz family. I never felt like she treated me as a sister!"

Francis's face immediately became ugly. "So, you're not planning to drop the charges?"

"This is a criminal case. It is impossible to drop the charges," Nancy said. "Moreover, when you do something wrong, accepting legal sanctions is only natural, isn't it?"

"Fine, you ungrateful wretch! The Schultz family raised you with so much effort, and this is how you repay us?" Francis angrily raised his hand and slapped Nancy.

A red mark immediately appeared on her cheek.

The father and daughter from the Schultz family really are

Chapter 3963

3/4

alike! Nancy coldly looked at Francis. "If what you said to me today is all you have to say, then you can leave now. The next time we meet, it will be in court."

"Do you – do you believe I'll kill you?" Francis threatened.

He used to look down on his stepdaughter, but now she dared to talk to him like this.

"Do you believe that if you touch me again, the Schultz family won't exist in Emerald City anymore?" Nancy bluntly countered with a threat.

Francis's face changed. He thought of Mick backing Nancy up and gritted his teeth before leaving in anger.

Nancy touched her still burning cheek and estimated that it was swollen. She would need to apply ice later.

However, as she turned around, she unexpectedly saw Irene walking out from the corner.

"I'm sorry, I didn't mean to eavesdrop. I happened to hear your conversation when I walked over here, so... um, sorry for coming out." Irene immediately apologized.

"It's okay," Nancy said.

After all, this was a public area and not just her own space.

Chapter 3964

Just as Nancy was about to leave, Irene suddenly asked, "The last thing you said to that man, was it because of Mick?"

Nancy paused and squinted at Irene.

"Um... the thing about you and Mick dating, it's true, right? I read in the news that Mick was the mastermind behind getting Clarissa imprisoned," Irene said.

"No comment," Nancy replied with just this simple sentence. Her relationship with Irene was nothing more than ordinary colleagues, and she had no intention of sharing her personal life with Irene.

“Do you really think you’re good enough for Mick?” Irene asked again.

“Whether I’m good enough or not is between him and me, and has nothing to do with others,” Nancy replied.

“Do you know? The ugly duckling will always be an ugly duckling in the end. They think they’ve turned into a swan, but in the end, they’re just a joke,” Irene looked at Nancy firmly and suddenly said, “Nancy, you will also be a joke in the future!”

Chapter 3964

2/4

Irene’s gaze was a bit cold, completely different from before.

This coldness made Nancy feel a little uneasy in her heart.

“Irene, I don’t think I need you to judge me. Whether I’m an ugly duckling or a swan is not for others to decide!” Nancy finished speaking and walked away.

Irene stared at Nancy’s back with a cold look on her face, full of undisguised jealousy!

She used to be a joke, so... Nancy will definitely be a joke too!

Definitely!

Mick looked at the obvious handprint on Nancy’s face and asked calmly, “Who did this?”

“Francis,” Nancy replied. Anyway, even if she didn’t say anything, he would be able to find out quickly.

“Did you put medicine on it?” Mick raised his hand and gently touched the swollen mark on her face.

“I passed,” she said.

Chapter 3964

“Francis was looking for you, about Clarissa’s matter?” he asked again.

“Yeah,” he replied.

3/4

“You refused to let Clarissa go,” this was not a question, but a statement. After all, if she had agreed, there wouldn’t be a handprint on her face.

“Clarissa killed my mother and almost killed me. Why should I let her go?” Nancy said.

Mick smirked. “An eye for an eye, not bad. We really are alike in this aspect.”

But when Nancy heard this, her heart skipped a beat.

Alike? He also believes in an eye for an eye. Would he forgive her if he found out about her deception?

Nancy stared at the person in front of her, suddenly feeling an urge to confess everything to him, to tell him about her use of him and hope that he could forgive her!

“Nancy, what’s wrong with you?” Mick’s voice rang in her ear again, interrupting her thoughts.

“Nothing,” she came back to her senses and forced a smile.

Chapter 3964

His dark peach blossom eyes stared at her, making Nancy suddenly feel guilty, as if his gaze could see through all her thoughts.

4/4

“If you have any troubles or difficulties, you can tell me. There’s no need to hide anything. I promised to protect you, and I meant it. I hope our relationship can be closer, but not in a physical way. I want you to feel comfortable around me, without any burden,” Mick said.

She was stunned, only hearing him continue, “Sometimes, you always seem to have a heavy heart in front of me, making me feel like you’re close, but also far away from me.”

“I...” Nancy opened her mouth, but the rest of her words seemed to be stuck in her throat, unable to come out.

Chapter 3965

“It’s okay if you don’t want to talk now. When you’re ready to talk, just tell me. I have plenty of time to listen,” Mick said.

1/3

Nancy pursed her lips. After the Schultz family's situation was resolved and Clarissa was imprisoned, she would confess everything to him and beg for his forgiveness.

Even if... he didn't want to forgive her at that time, it was what she deserved!

But just thinking about it, a piercing pain spread in her heart and lingered for a long time!

A few days later, the news reported that Francis was hospitalized due to worrying about his daughter's situation. However, there was another saying that Francis was attacked. When he was hospitalized, his cheeks were swollen and obviously beaten. It was said that he even lost a few teeth. It was unclear who he had offended.

Of course, the latter saying was just a rumor circulating online, and there were no photos or evidence to support it.

Chapter 3965

And Clarissa's trial was getting closer and closer.

Nancy felt more and more nervous as the trial approached.

2/3

Was she nervous about whether Clarissa would receive a fair trial, or... was she nervous about confessing everything to Mick after Clarissa's case was over?

Both Clarissa and herself were about to be tried.

On the day of the trial, the other party did not show up. Francis unexpectedly did not attend, and Mick accompanied Nancy to the court.

When Clarissa was brought out by the bailiff, Nancy almost couldn't recognize her.

Her face was haggard, her dry hair was tied up with a simple rubber band like straw, and she was no longer wearing designer clothes, but only the detention center's uniform.

Who would have thought that Clarissa, who was once so glamorous, would end up like this?

In court, Clarissa naturally denied everything and claimed that it was Nancy who intentionally jumped out and hit her car while she was driving, and that she had no intention of committing murder.

3/3

However, the lawyer that Mick hired was the best criminal defense team in Emerald City, with an unbeatable record.

Naturally, they refuted Clarissa's claims one by one, making all of her defenses seem weak and ineffective.

The final result was as expected.

Clarissa was sentenced to 20 years in prison, which meant that her best years would be spent behind bars. By the time she was released, the world outside would be a different place.

As the police took Clarissa away, she glared at Nancy with resentment and shouted, "Nancy, don't get too cocky. Do you think you've won? You're just a dog who relies on others. In the future, you'll be even more miserable than me. When I get out of prison, I'll still be the Schultz family's princess. I'll make sure to see what kind of person you've become!"

Her words were like the most vicious curse.

Nancy frowned, but before she could say anything, Mick coldly looked at Clarissa and said, "After 20 years, when you're released, the Schultz family may no longer exist."

Chapter 3966

"What?" Clarissa was dumbfounded.

But Mick didn't pay any attention to Clarissa and just took Nancy's hand, saying, "Let's go back."

"Okay," Nancy replied.

Before leaving, she glanced at Clarissa, who had turned pale.

In front of the powerful Mick, Clarissa, who had once been a nightmare to her, was nothing more than a clown.

The two arrived at Mick's villa, and Mick said to Nancy, "Get a good night's sleep. We have court today, and you didn't sleep well last night."

"Sleep here?" Nancy asked.

"Yes, sleep here. Before you sleep, you can take a good shower and I'll prepare some fresh clothes for you," Mick said.

Although Nancy had stayed at Mick's villa before, she had never taken a shower or slept there.

However, after hearing his proposal, she felt the exhaustion in her body and did not refuse his kindness.

Chapter 3966

2/4

After the servant prepared the water, Nancy walked into the bathroom.

In the large bathtub, warm water flowed, and as she immersed her body in the water, she became a little drowsy.

Mick was wrong. It wasn't that she didn't sleep well last night, but that she hadn't slept well for several days.

These days, whenever she thought about the upcoming court date, she became so nervous that she couldn't sleep well. Now that Clarissa was in jail, it was her turn next...

Unconsciously, Nancy leaned her head against the edge of the bathtub, her eyelids gradually becoming heavy, and finally closed as she fell asleep...

After a while, someone lightly knocked on the bathroom door, and when there was no response, they opened it. Mick walked in and looked at Nancy, who was already asleep in the bathtub. He couldn't help but smile and say, "What happened? She fell asleep."

He took the towel next to him, squatted down, and carefully lifted her out of the bathtub.

He covered her body with the towel to prevent her from Chapter 3966 catching a cold.

The person in his arms seemed to feel his presence and nuzzled her head against his chest.

3/4

She was like a small animal, making people feel sorry for her.

Mick placed Nancy on the bed, dried her body with a towel, and was about to dress her when she suddenly murmured,

"Mick..."

"Hmm?" He thought she had woken up, but when he looked, her eyes were still closed. Obviously, she was still asleep.

He chuckled and dressed her.

She was like a obedient puppet, letting him dress her as he pleased.

Mick had always thought he had enough self-control. In the past, there were women who tried to seduce him, even stripping naked in front of him. But he had no interest in them. and would just throw them out!

But now, facing Nancy's body, he felt a growing heat and his blood seemed to be gathering in a certain part of his body. Even the simple act of dressing her seemed like a form of torture.

Chapter 3966

If he hadn't known she was asleep, he might have...

(The text ends here.)

Thinking of this, Mick couldn't help but mock himself. When did he become so unable to control himself?

4/4

It took him a while to change her clothes, and then he let out a long sigh of relief.

Chapter 3967

1/4

Just as he was about to get up and go to the next room to take a cold shower, his body suddenly froze.

It was because her fingers had unknowingly grabbed onto his clothes.

He bent down and carefully tried to pull her fingers apart.

Her muffled voice suddenly sounded, "Forgive me...please...you must...forgive me..."

He couldn't help but smile. She still had her eyes closed, obviously still in a dream.

What did she dream about that made her say such things. even in her sleep?

"Okay, I forgive you," he murmured.

And she, as if hearing him, gradually loosened her grip. Her slightly furrowed brow also relaxed.

In her sleep, Nancy felt an unprecedented sense of peace enveloping her, making her want to sleep forever.

Chapter 3967

2/4

There was a gentle voice whispering in her ear, assuring her that no matter what mistakes she made, he would forgive her!

So, she didn't need to worry about anything!

By the time Nancy woke up, it was almost evening.

After dining at Mick's villa, she insisted on returning to her rental room.

"It's fine if you live here. And if you have any concerns, I can also publicly announce that you are my girlfriend," Mick said.

Nancy suddenly widened her eyes, "Girl...girlfriend?"

"Aren't we in a relationship now?" Mick asked with a smile. "Since we are in a relationship, you are naturally my girlfriend."

"I...can we not make it public yet?" she hesitated.

He furrowed his brows at her words, "You don't want to make it public? What are your concerns?" If it were any other woman, they would probably want to make it public.

"I want to...wait a bit longer before making it public. And if...by then, you still want me to be your girlfriend..." she said anxiously.

Chapter 3967

When she confesses everything to him, if he still wants to forgive her at that time.

3/4

"What, do you think I will change my mind?" Jasper chuckled lightly. "Nancy, I am not someone who easily falls for someone, so I won't easily change my mind either."

As he spoke, he took her hand and lowered his head to kiss her palm.

"As long as you don't change your mind, I won't either." His cold voice was so powerful.

This was his promise to her!

Back in her rental room, Nancy looked at her mother's portrait hanging on the wall, feeling heavy-hearted.

After Mick dropped her off and left, she was alone in her rental room again.

"Mom, Clarissa is in jail now, so you can rest assured. I finally fulfilled my promise to you and made Clarissa pay for what she did. But...Mom...was what I did wrong?"

A low murmuring voice echoed in the quiet rental room as Nancy chuckled bitterly, "From the beginning, I was using Mick because I couldn't make Clarissa pay on my own! But Mick really helped me, and yet... Mom, deceiving someone really isn't a good feeling. I deceived Mick by telling him I liked him. If I tell him everything, will he still forgive me? Or... will he destroy me?"

Only the photos on the wall continued to smile gently at the beloved daughter, but they couldn't provide any answers.

Chapter 3968

1/4

The secretary walked into the CEO's office and said to Mick, "Mr. Reed, there's a Miss Irene who wants to see you. She says she's... your sister."

The secretary hesitated when she said the last four words. However, Miss Lynch had spoken with such conviction and even showed a photo of Mr. Reed and her as children, so she came in to report it.

Mick frowned when he heard the name Irene.

This distant name in his memory was almost forgotten.

It was his words that allowed the Gregory family mother and daughter to enter the Reed family, and Irene became his adopted sister.

But later, Irene's mother framed his mother, causing the Gregory family mother and daughter to be kicked out of the Reed family.

Now, why did Irene suddenly appear? What was her purpose?

"Don't let her in," Mick said. He wasn't interested in whatever Irene's purpose was.

Chapter 3968

"But Miss Lynch said she wants to talk to Mr. Reed about Nancy and Miss Fowler," the secretary said.

Mick's eyes suddenly darkened.

Irene wants to talk to him about Nancy?

"Let her in," Mick said.

"Yes." The secretary stepped back.

After a moment, Irene walked into the CEO's office.

Irene's heart was in turmoil as she looked at Mick sitting behind the desk.

2/4

Once her prince charming, he had grown into a man.

His words had changed her fate, turning her into a princess admired by all. But when the real princess returned, she was cast aside.

When the Reed family kicked her out, she faced countless sneers and ridicule, mocking her delusions.

She had resented him countless times over the years, wondering why he didn't speak up for her when she was being kicked out. After all, he had wanted her to be his sister!

Chapter 3968

3/4

Despite her resentment, she couldn't help but feel a deep infatuation for him.

At least she was special to him, the only woman besides his family who had ever been close to him.

But now, he was dating a woman like Nancy, even going so far as to take down the Schultz family for her.

What was so charming about Nancy that he would do all this for her?

"Brother, it's been a long time," Irene said.

"I'm not your brother, you don't have to call me that," Mick said coldly and distantly. "How did you find out about Nancy?" After all, he and Nancy were dating and the outside world didn't know.

Irene didn't mind the coldness, or rather, she had expected it.

"Nancy is my colleague, and I also work at the hotel," Irene said. "I saw Nancy get into your car."

"What do you want to tell me about her?" Mick asked, wanting to know what this woman was up to.

"Why are you with a woman like Nancy?" Irene asked in response. "She's not worthy of you, and she's even scheming. She's with you for a reason!"

Chapter 3968

4/4

Mick sneered, "You're not qualified to say that. If you came here just to say these things, then...get out. Don't appear in front of me again, or I'll make sure you can never set foot in Emerald City!"

Suddenly, Irene took out her phone and pressed play.

Nancy's voice came out of the phone-

Chapter 3969

1/4

"Mom, Clarissa is in jail now, so you can rest assured. I finally did what I promised you, and made Clarissa pay the price she deserves."

"From the beginning, I was using Mick, because I couldn't make Clarissa pay the price on my own!"

Mick's body suddenly stiffened, his eyes fixed on Irene's phone. He was very familiar with Nancy's voice and could immediately recognize it.

But the words on the phone made him feel uneasy.

"What's going on with this voice?" Mick asked Irene.

"I secretly recorded it! This is indeed what Nancy said, without any falsehood. If you need it, I can give you the original recording, and you can have it verified by a professional organization," Irene said confidently.

Her method was to install a small device with recording and video functions in the teddy bear she gave Nancy as an apology gift.

Originally, she wanted to catch Nancy doing something

Chapter 3969

2/4

embarrassing, but she didn't capture anything inappropriate.

Instead, she recorded these words.

But these are enough!

How could the pride of the Reed family tolerate being deceived by others!

"Nancy is just a fraud. She has been deceiving you from beginning to end. She is only with you to use you against the Schultz family!" Irene's expression began to distort, "Mick, you are too confident in your intelligence , but you didn't expect to be deceived by a woman, especially an ordinary woman like her... Ah!"

Irene's voice suddenly stopped because the other party's hand had already pinched her neck.

"Shut up!" Mick's cold voice sounded, and his black eyes were filled with a cold and dead silence, "If you say another word, you're dead!"

At this moment, every hair on Irene's body stood up.

It was a kind of chilling fear!

Nancy came alone to her mother's grave, lit incense, offered fruits and the food she made herself.

Chapter 3969

Perhaps until now, she had truly accepted the fact that her mother had left her.

3/4

However, unlike the despair she felt when she first came here, she now felt a kind of uneasiness.

"Mom, when I go back later, I will go to Mick and tell him everything. Whether he is willing to forgive me or not, I will accept the result willingly." Nancy murmured, "Mom, I... I like him. Although I didn't like him at first, I think I like him now. He is probably the best person to me in this world."

She paused and looked at her mother's tombstone, "Mom, if you have a spirit in heaven, please bless me... I hope he can. forgive my past deception, and I hope we can have a good result."

The gentle breeze brushed her hair.

After a while, until the incense was extinguished, Nancy left.

But when she reached the entrance of the cemetery, she froze.

A figure stood at the entrance, looking particularly clear.

Today was not a traditional day for visiting graves, so the cemetery was deserted.

Chapter 3970

Therefore, Mick standing there was even more conspicuous.

In an instant, Nancy felt her heart pounding, a sense of inexplicable unease enveloping her.

As she approached him, the feeling of unease grew stronger.

Was it because he was looking at her expressionlessly? Nancy wondered to herself.

“Why are you here?” she asked.

“To find you,” Mick said expressionlessly. “Are you here to pay respects to your mother?”

“Yes,” she replied.

“Did you come to inform your mother because you have avenged your big grudge?”

His words made her suddenly startled, and her heart beat faster!

She opened her mouth, wanting to say something, but her brain seemed to be gradually blanking out, leaving her momentarily at a loss for words.

Chapter 3970

“Nancy, are you satisfied with using me?” His voice was like thunder, fiercely piercing her eardrums.

“What...what are you saying?” she stammered.

2/4

He approached her, “Do you really not know what I’m talking about?” His icy gaze reminded her of the first time she met him.

No, it was even colder than before.

She was at a loss!

He laughed in anger, "Nancy, you hate Clarissa for pushing your mother down the stairs. You want to get revenge on her and the Schultz family. But you also know that with your abilities, you can't shake the Schultz family in a short time. So when we met for the third time, you had already decided to use me, right?"

Her heart was in a panic.

"Do you still want to deny it? Or do I have to show you the evidence before you admit it?" He glared at her.

She bit her lower lip tightly, her body trembling slightly.

Chapter 3970

Is this...the worst outcome?

3/4

She had originally wanted to confess to him in person and beg for his forgiveness, but now he already knew the truth that she had used him.

Why was she always like this?

Slow step by step.

When her mother fell down the stairs, she was also a step too slow and couldn't catch her falling body.

And now, she was also a step too slow to tell him the truth.

"Yes, you're right. I...used you." Nancy slowly opened her mouth and admitted, "Because I couldn't deal with the Schultz family myself, I had to rely on you to help me put Clarissa in jail and make her pay the price she deserved."

He squinted at her and asked, "So what about the car accident? Did Clarissa really hit you?"

"Clarissa wanted to hit me, but at that time, I had the ability to avoid it. I just...didn't avoid it..." Then, she used his feelings for her to complete her revenge!

"You—" He stared at her fiercely, his chest heaving, a strange pain seemed to be spreading from his heart, "Nancy, you really dare to do this. You even let Clarissa hit you with a car just to get revenge. Aren't you afraid of death?"

Her eyelashes trembled slightly, "At that time, I had to take a gamble."

If it weren't for that car accident, if she hadn't been hit,

Clarissa might still be at large today.

“Take a gamble?” His voice suddenly changed, he grabbed her chin and forced her to look up at him,
“Are you gambling on whether your life is long enough, or whether I’m stupid enough?”

His sharp gaze carried a rare pain.
