

Ex Convict 4091

Chapter 4091

This is...a kiss?

He's kissing her?

Tina was a bit slow to react for a moment. After all, Chandler's situation just now seemed very wrong. How did it suddenly...

Bang!

At the same time, the door of the room was suddenly pushed open, and a group of people rushed in.

"Young Master, you..." The rest of the words were stuck in their throats.

Anyone could see that the person who was half-soaked in the medicinal pool at the moment was in the middle of a kiss, and the initiator was their Young Master.

The pa*sive party was obviously struggling to breathe from the kiss!

Tina felt like she was being devoured. She was being kissed by her brother Chandler, which made her feel strange.

Even if she wanted to push him away and find out what was going on with him first, her strength was useless in front of him.

It seemed that no matter what he did, she could only pa*sively endure it!

After what felt like a long time, the kiss finally ended. Tina gasped for air, then turned her head and was stunned!

There was already a row of people standing around them, but she didn't know when they had arrived!

Those people are staring at them in shock right now.

So... everything was seen by those people just now?!

Especially now that she and Chandler are still in the medicinal bath, with her soaking wet and Chandler not wearing anything!

Tina can already guess what those people are thinking.

Even though she's usually carefree, her face is now red with embarra*sment.

Chandler, on the other hand, faces those who barged in with a stern expression and says, "Everyone, get out!"

"Yes!"

Those people quickly file out.

Suddenly, the room is left with only Chandler and Tina.

"Are you... okay?" Tina looks at him with concern.

Although he looks like his usual self now, with no signs of the pain he showed earlier, there was a hint of agony on his face just a moment ago.

But now, he seems fine.

"I'm fine," Chandler says, using both hands to lift Tina under her arms and placing her on the edge of the bath.

"You should go out first. I want to continue soaking in this medicinal bath," he says.

"But I want to stay here with you," Tina says, still feeling uneasy.

"No need!" Chandler refused, "You better clean yourself first. This medicinal bath may be useful for me, but for ordinary people, it may not only be useless, but also harmful."

"But..."

"You go clean up

first. When I finish soaking in the medicinal bath, I will come find you!" Chandler said.

Tina could only leave the room.

In the room, only Chandler was left.

Until now, he felt somewhat powerless as he fully immersed his body in the medicinal bath!

Clearly, soaking in the medicinal bath would make his whole body ache before, but strangely, that feeling of pain disappeared

now. Even the medicinal bath gave him a comfortable feeling.

And this change... was all because of Tina!

Because Tina's proximity earlier had made him impulsively kiss her.

Even at the moment of kissing her, his mind was blank, and it was purely instinct driving his body to make that kind of action.

If it weren't for those servants barging in, he might have really...

Thinking of this, his body seemed to be filled with some kind of heat, making his skin gradually hot.

"Tina..." Chandler called out this name in a low, hoarse voice.

The voice was hoarse... but also emotional!

Chapter 4092

After Tina was asked to leave the room, Hunter's servant arranged for her to have a room to bathe in and even prepared clean clothes for her.

Tina wasn't sure if she should praise Hunter's attentive servant for this.

After she washed off all the medicinal smell from her body, she was led by the servant to an antique room.

In front of the room sat an old man.

Tina immediately recognized him as Chandler's grandfather and Hunter's current patriarch, whom she had met during her engagement to Chandler.

"Hello, Grandpa Hunter," Tina greeted him.

Mr. Hunter responded expressionlessly, "How did you come here?"

"I came to see Chandler, so I found my way here," Tina replied candidly, without revealing that she had snuck in.

"You should know Hunter's rules," Mr. Hunter said sternly.

"I know, but I will marry Chandler soon and enter Hunter's old mansion. It's just a matter of time. So, is it okay for me to come in earlier?" Tina shamelessly asked.

Mr. Hunter frowned slightly. This girl looked bold and confident, but her words were so entangling.

"Regardless, rules are rules. I will have someone escort you out later, and don't come in again before you and Chandler get married," Mr. Hunter said.

If this girl wasn't Chandler's fiancée and the one who could save Chandler's life, she would have been thrown to the wolves by now!

In any case, she must marry Chandler in the future, have children smoothly, and continue the Hunter family line!

The longer she stays with Hunter, the more likely she is to find out his secrets. This could lead to some unexpected changes in their planned marriage!

“But I still have to meet with Chandler, he asked me to wait for him!” Tina quickly said.

Although she was mentally prepared to be sent home by Hunter after being caught, she didn’t expect it to happen so soon!

She had only spoken a few words with Chandler.

However, Mr. Hunter obviously ignored Tina’s words and called for a servant to come in and escort her out.

“Wait, I don’t...” Tina protested.

Hunter’s servants, one on each side, lifted her up. Although she knew some martial arts, this was Hunter’s territory and she was an intruder. It wouldn’t be wise to fight back.

Besides, there were so many of Hunter’s servants that she wouldn’t be able to handle them all!

Just as Tina was thinking about how to persuade the old man to let her stay with Hunter, Chandler’s voice suddenly rang out.

“Let her go!”

The servants holding Tina looked to the old man for instructions.

The old man frowned and said to Chandler, “She broke the rules!”

“Rules are made by people. Whether she stays or goes is up to me!” Chandler replied.

The old man’s frown deepened. “Aren’t you afraid that letting her stay here will lead to unexpected changes?”

Chandler took Tina from the servants and said to the old man, “If anything unexpected happens, I will take responsibility for it myself.”

Chapter 4093

“What can you handle? You are now the only legitimate successor of the Hunter family. If you...” The old man was angry and seemed like he was about to scold, but he held back because Tina was also present.

"If you're really afraid of not having an heir, then I can at least guarantee that Hunter won't be without one," Chandler said. Even if Tina didn't want him anymore and he couldn't live properly.

So as long as he donates sperm, Hunter's bloodline can continue.

But there won't be any emotional connection between him and the child!

"You—" Mr. Hunter was clearly more angry at Chandler's words.

Ignoring the old man, Chandler took Tina's hand and left the scene!

Tina was confused at the moment. What happened? What does she have to bear? And how did they get to talking about not having an heir?

Does the old man think she can't conceive?

By the time Tina came to her senses, she and Chandler were in another room.

This room looked like a bedroom.

It was just a dark gray color scheme with some simple furniture, giving a particularly cold feeling. The whole room was too simple, as if there was no warmth.

"Is this... your room?" Tina asked.

"Hmm," Chandler said.

"It's different from your bedroom in Emerald City," Tina muttered.

In his villa bedroom in Emerald City, there were many scattered things.

For example, there were teddy bears, picture frames with their photos, and various decorations that she thought were pretty.

Of course, these things seemed to have been accumulated in his room by Tina over the years, like a mouse moving house.

When they get married in the future, Tina also wants to add some warm things to this room so that it doesn't look so empty! Tina thought to herself.

"How did you find this place?" Chandler's voice suddenly interrupted Tina's thoughts.

"Uh..." Tina looked guilty.

Seeing her like this, he knew that she probably used some unsavory means. "You know, I won't blame you," he said.

"Well, you said it yourself!" Tina said as if she had caught a lifeline. "Actually... I put a doll in your car, and there's a locator inside the doll."

Chandler's eyes flickered slightly at her words.

He was always vigilant, but he had no guard against her at all.

If someone knew that she had found Hunter's location like this, he would probably be laughed at.

"Why did you suddenly want to come here to my family's house?" Chandler asked.

After all, he had returned to his family's house many times before, but she had never secretly followed him like this before.

"Because..." Tina bit her lip and was a little embarrassed. "I want to know you better."

"Know me better?" he raised an eyebrow.

but

"Like when you were soaking in the medicinal bath just now, I had no idea you were going to take a bath, and what's with the black lines on your body?" She had seen his upper body before, but she hadn't seen those black lines on his body.

Chandler remained silent. How could he explain Hunter's secrets, his regular medicinal baths, and the black lines on his body to her?

Chapter 4094

"Have you fallen ill?" Tina asked with concern.

"What if...I really am sick?" Chandler murmured.

"Then of course we need to treat it!" Tina said matter-of-factly. "What kind of illness is it? Is it difficult to cure?"

"It's not particularly difficult, but without a specific medicine, it's hard to treat. However, if we find the specific medicine, it's easy to cure," Chandler said.

"So...have you found the specific medicine?" she asked with wide eyes.

He stared at her for a while before saying, "Yes, I have."

But he couldn't tell her directly that the medicine he found was the placenta of their future child!

They had to have a child!

If he told her this, how would she react?

He was afraid!

Yes, afraid!

There were few things that could make him afraid, but this was one of them.

When you care more and more about someone, you become more afraid of losing them.

"That's good then!" Tina breathed a sigh of relief.

"Also, it's very late today. I'll have someone arrange for you to stay here for the night and send you back tomorrow morning. But tonight, you need to stay in the room and not wander around," Chandler said.

"Can't I stay here for a few more days?" Tina asked. She had taken a few days off from school for this trip.

"Be good and listen to me," Chandler said.

Tina pouted, feeling like he was still treating her like a child.

"Then I'll just sleep in this room tonight!" she suggested as a compromise.

After some thought, Chandler said, "Okay, you can stay here tonight. I'll sleep in another room."

"What?" Tina was surprised. She wanted to sleep in the same room as him.

If he went to another room, what was the point of her staying in this one?

"Why do you have to go to another room? Can't we just share one room? I promise I won't do anything to you tonight!" she said, suspecting that he was worried she might make a move on him.

"Hunter is conservative. Although we're engaged, we're still unmarried, so it's best to sleep in separate rooms. When we get married in the future, even if you want to sleep in separate rooms, I won't allow it," Chandler explained.

Tina blushed slightly at the thought of what they would be like after they got married.

In the end, Tina followed Chandler's advice and slept in another room.

Hunter's servants were clearly curious about her and couldn't help but stare at her when they saw her.

That night, Tina couldn't sleep in Hunter's guest room.

I just can't fall asleep!

Being in an unfamiliar environment, especially this room which is far away from Chandler's room, makes it even harder.

It's like Hunter purposely arranged for her to be so far away!

Speaking of which, she came here because she listened to Weldon and wanted to see the real Chandler.

But after coming here, besides finding out that Chandler is sick but has medicine and it's not a big deal, there doesn't seem to be anything else!

Oh, wait!

Tina suddenly shuddered. Because so much has happened, she forgot to ask Chandler about what the servant said regarding a previous incident where a servant went in while he was taking a bath and came out with abnormal behavior.

Chapter 4095

Did something happen between him and the servant?

So, she can't sleep now and decides to go to Chandler's room to ask him about it. It should be okay, right?

Tina makes an excuse to go to Chandler's room in the middle of the night.

Chandler's room is a distance away from her guest room, but luckily Tina had already memorized the route beforehand, so there weren't any obstacles for her to go there alone at night.

The Hunter family at night is even colder than during the day.

And because it's nighttime, she didn't see any servants coming or going on her way here.

The excessive silence makes her feel a bit scared.

Just then, in the silent air, a hoarse shout suddenly rang out.

Mixed in with the wind, faintly, it even made Tina wonder if she had misheard!

But then, she heard this kind of shout again.

As if suppressing deep pain.

It's not an illusion!

Someone is really making a painful shout.

Even this sound gave her a strange feeling of familiarity.

Tina's heart suddenly beat violently.

As if instinctively sensing that something was about to happen.

Her footsteps suddenly became heavy.

Her sixth sense told her to quickly return to her room, pretending she knew nothing!

But reason made her step forward, step by step.

At least, she wanted to know what had happened, what was this sound all about!

Was this sound really made by Chandler?

What she finally arrived at was the church she had accidentally broken into earlier today.

Tina stood outside the partially open door, looking in at the lit room.

The heavy breathing accompanied by suppressed pain became increasingly apparent.

"If you had married that girl from the Stephenson family earlier, you wouldn't have to endure this pain now!" Mr. Hunter's voice came through.

Tina shuddered. What did he mean? What pain was Chandler enduring?

"I...hope Tina can think clearly...about whether or not she wants to be with me..." Chandler's voice came through, but it was hoarse and strained compared to his usual voice.

It seemed like speaking was an extremely difficult task for him.

"If you want her to think clearly, then why haven't you told her anything?" Mr. Hunter's voice came through again.

Then there was silence.

All Tina could hear was the heavy, strained breathing and the muffled groans of pain.

She cautiously looked through the crack in the door to see inside.

Under the light, Mr. Hunter sat on an old mahogany chair, while Chandler lay on the ground in a disheveled state. His shoulders trembled constantly, and his fingers clawed at the ground.

Because he was facing away, she couldn't see his expression.

But she had never seen him in such a disheveled state before.

"Are you afraid she'll change her mind? Afraid that if she or the

Stephenson family find out that you only saw her as a baby-making machine, they'll do anything to annul the marriage? Afraid that if she finds out what your true intentions were when you first approached her, she'll despise you?" Mr. Hunter's voice continued.

Chapter 4096

Chandler's body trembled, and every word the old man spoke felt like he was mercilessly uncovering things that Chandler least wanted to think about!

"Stop talking!" Chandler shouted weakly.

"Chandler, Grandpa just wants you to understand that no matter what, you must let Tina give birth to your child so that you can live well. And..." Grandpa paused and looked deeply at his grandson, who was lying on the ground in a miserable state. "If you don't want to go through this pain again, you should marry her as soon as possible. There's no need to wait for her graduation."

Chandler remained silent.

Grandpa continued, "There are still two years until she graduates, but during these two years, many things could happen. You are eight years older than her. Are you really sure that during these two years, she won't be tempted by anyone else? Will she obediently marry you when it's time to get married?"

Chandler suddenly shook, thinking of the scenes of Tina and Kit shooting posters.

Is that man a temptation for Tina?

"If Tina wants a divorce in the future, would you agree?" Grandpa's words were like a heavy blow, hitting Chandler hard and making him feel a sharp pain.

He gritted his teeth and endured the pain in his body. "I...I will agree. If she really doesn't love me and falls in love with someone else, then...I can let her go."

Even though he had thought countless times that he would never let her go.

But if she really couldn't accept him, then...he could let her go!

"You..." Mr. Hunter glared angrily at his grandson. "Don't you want to live?"

Chandler closed his eyes and endured the pain surging through his body again and again. "After Tina graduates, I will...tell her about my physical condition...If she really doesn't want to marry me, then the engagement between the Hunter family and the Stephenson family will be cancelled..."

"Do you want to let Hunter's family line end with you?" The old man was furious. "How could I have a grandson like you? Everyone said you were lucky to find someone who could cure the curse at such a young age, but what have you done? You've been dragging your feet on your marriage with Tina for so many years, and now you're saying such irresponsible things!"

"Grandfather...my life, whether I live or die...should be my own decision," Chandler said intermittently.

"You've been blinded by love!" Mr. Hunter scolded angrily.

Tina, who was listening outside, felt confused. She understood every word they said, but the meaning behind them was unclear.

What did her marriage to Chandler have to do with life and death? And...it seemed like she had to bear a child, not just for the sake of continuing the family line, but to make sure Chandler wouldn't die!

As Tina was lost in thought, someone grabbed her shoulder and pushed her inside before she could react.

"Master, she was cavesdropping outside!" the person holding Tina's shoulder said.

This was one of Hunter's security personnel patrolling at night. They weren't supposed to approach the church, but they saw Tina listening by the door and brought her in.

Chapter 4097

However, when the security personnel saw Chandler writhing in pain on the ground, they were shocked and quickly averted their gaze.

"Forget everything you saw tonight and don't say a word about it!" Mr. Hunter glared at the security personnel.

"Yes, sir," the person replied.

"You can go outside and wait," the old man said.

The security personnel left the room and closed the door.

Inside the room, Tina quickly crouched down and asked Chandler, "Chandler, what's wrong with you? Didn't you find a cure for your illness?"

As soon as her hand touched Chandler, he pushed her away abruptly, accompanied by a low growl, "Don't touch me!"

Tina's hand was left hanging in the air.

She stared at him in shock. It was the first time Chandler had ever pushed her away and yelled at her like that.

"Tina, we have indeed found Chandler's medicine," Mr. Hunter's voice suddenly came from behind her.

Tina urgently turned to the old man and said. "Then give the medicine to Chandler right away!"

Actually the medicine is..."

Don't say it! Chandler shouted, his eyes, bick and turned crimson all of a sudden! staring fiercely at his grandfather. "This is the medicine." Grandpa...you say a word!"

However, Mr. Hunter suddenly looked at him and said. "This is the matter between you and her, it's not for the Sunners."

Grandpa...please!" Chandler pleaded.

Mr. Hunter did not agree with Chandler's words, he turned his head and said. The medicine is what you want to relieve his pain, only you can do it now.

Chandler was full of anger at these words, while Tina was unfused.

MC?"

Best if you spend the night with Chandler he should feel much pain/the old man said, without batting an eye.

It was a difficult decision. Spend the night with him or couldn't he have been thinking, could it?

How could he watch him suffer like this?" the old man asked.

"Of course not! I don't want to see Chandler suffer like this!"

Tina denied.

"That's good!" Mr. Hunter said and then walked out of the church.

Before Tina and Chandler could react, the door suddenly closed and they heard the sound of it being locked.

Tina shuddered and immediately ran to the door, trying to open it, but it was locked from the outside and she couldn't open it!

"It's no use!" Chandler struggled to sit up, making a simple movement that seemed to use all his strength.

Grandpa deliberately locked him and Tina in the same room, so there was no possibility of them being released before dawn!

"What do we do now?" Tina was at a loss.

Should she try to break down the door directly? But the door looked very sturdy, and the window was on the ceiling, so it was impossible to climb out of it.

"Find a way to tie me up with something like a rope," Chandler said laboriously, his handsome face twisted with pain and covered in a flush.

Chapter 4098

"Tie you up?" Tina was startled. "Why do I need to tie you up?" Especially since he looked like he needed to be sent to the hospital right away, why would he need to be tied up?

"If you don't want anything unexpected to happen...then do it quickly!" Chandler spoke more and more laboriously, because at this moment, the worms in his body were like smelling a delicious bait, constantly stirring.

His blood seemed to be converging in one place, making him feel like his rationality could collapse at any moment.

His self-control, which he had always been proud of, seemed to be easily shattered in front of her!

If this continues, then he...

"What kind of accident could happen?" Tina persisted, digging for answers. "Did you spend the night with someone? Why did your grandfather say it would make you feel better? Were you drugged by someone with ulterior motives, and the only solution is to have S?"

She began to use her vivid imagination.

"Tina!" Chandler suddenly shouted, lunging forward and pinning her down.

His already bloodshot eyes stared intensely at her, his face covered in sweat. The drops of sweat kept falling onto her face. "I'm not joking. If you don't want to be treated that way, you need to find a way to tie me up or knock me out. Hurry...otherwise, I will..."

Suddenly, his voice stopped abruptly.

It was because her hand had already wrapped around his neck.

This simple action seemed to shatter all of his self-control.

“You...” He gasped for breath, his desire growing stronger.

“I’m willing!” Tina spoke up directly. “If it can make you feel better, Chandler, I have nothing to refuse. You don’t have to worry about hurting me. I’m doing this willingly!”

“You...you don’t understand...if you know everything in the future...you will regret it...”

“I won’t regret it because I love you,” she said, and her lips kissed his.

His last shred of sanity disappeared.

With a roar, he kissed her fiercely...

When Tina woke up, she wasn’t in her own room, but in Chandler’s room.

She got up and immediately gasped for breath!

It hurts so much!

Every bone in her body felt like it was falling apart.

Thinking about last night’s scene, she couldn’t help but blush again. But is it really okay to have that kind of thing happen in a place of prayer?

But thinking that Mr. Hunter locked them in, it should be okay.

By the way, where is Chandler?

How is his body? Is he still in so much pain?

Thinking of this, she quickly lifted the covers and got out of bed.

But as soon as her feet touched the ground, she immediately went soft and fell forward.

Bang!

Tina fell flat on her face.

She was lucky that the floor was carpeted, so the fall didn’t hurt much!

Just then, there was a “click” sound.

Immediately after, the door opened and Chandler walked in.

Seeing Tina lying on the ground, Chandler quickly stepped forward, “What happened? Did you fall off the bed? Does it hurt?”

Chandler quickly picked up Tina.

Tina blushed, not entirely due to shyness, but more due to embarrassment.

Chapter 4099

This is just too unfortunate!

After spending the night together, waking up in the morning. should be either warm or flirtatious, but definitely not falling to the ground.

But she fell in such an awkward position!

It made her want to find a hole to bury herself in!

"What's wrong? Are you feeling unwell?" He asked again, worried, as she had not spoken, and placed his hand on her forehead to check her temperature.

"I'm not uncomfortable..." She held onto his hand, and at most, her bones were a little sore! "Just... um, where did you go just now?"

"I went to see Grandpa," Chandler said, "After you finish eating, I'll take you back." -

"What?" Tina was surprised, "So soon?"

Although she had thought that she couldn't stay here for long, being sent back so quickly after spending just one night was completely unexpected.

"You came to find me, so I'll go back to Emerald City with you.

There's no need for you to stay here any longer," Chandler said.

Tina was stunned. Did he mean that... "Didn't you say you were going to stay at your family's house for a month? You're not... staying anymore?"

"Hmm, there's nothing else to do here. There's no need to stay at my family's house anymore," he said. After spending the night with her, the gu worms in his body seemed to have fallen asleep and were no longer restless.

He hadn't felt this comfortable and refreshed in a long time!

So, he probably wouldn't have to worry about his health for a while, and wouldn't need to soak in a medicinal bath anymore.

"Okay then, let me freshen up so we can head back early!" Tina immediately changed her attitude.

Hunter's family always gave her a creepy feeling, and Mr. Hunter's attitude towards her was strange!

If it weren't for Chandler being here, she wouldn't want to stay any longer!

Now that she could go back to Emerald City with Chandler, she naturally wanted to leave earlier.

Chandler picked up Tina and carried her into the bathroom to freshen up.

When Tina came out, she saw a pile of women's clothing.

The clothes Chandler prepared were all in line with Tina's preferences. After all, they had been together for so many years, and he knew her preferences very well!

Tina chose a set of beige casual clothes, and Chandler took the initiative to help her get dressed.

Tina wasn't shy, since they had already seen everything there was to see between them.

"I'm sorry about last night." Chandler spoke up.

Tina blinked, "Why apologize? I volunteered for it last night."

As she spoke, she also expressed concern for Chandler's health, "Is your body really okay now?"

"Yes, it's all good now," he said.

She suddenly smiled sweetly. "So, I'm really your 'medicine', right?"

He stared at her blankly. "Yes, you really are my medicine!" She was the medicine that could calm the insects in his body.

This medicine can help him live a complete life in the future!

However, at this moment, she was not sure what the word

"medicine" meant!

After dressing her, he said, "Okay, let's go eat."

Chapter 4100

Tina thought she would meet someone from the Hunter family, but after a meal, she didn't see anyone, not even Mr. Hunter. Chandler took her back to the car directly.

"Where are your parents and grandfather? Shouldn't I say goodbye to them before I leave?" Tina couldn't help but ask.

"My parents are not at home, and there's no need to see my grandfather." Chandler said. He went to see his grandfather this morning, hoping that his grandfather would not act on his own and not touch Tina.

No matter what happens between him and Tina in the future, he doesn't want her to be bound by the Hunter family.

If she doesn't want to, he won't force her.

As for last night, it was the best memory for him!

Chandler drove the car towards Emerald City himself, without hiring a driver.

On the way, Tina asked again, "By the way, last night, I heard Grandpa say outside the church that he wanted us to get married soon and have children early, so that you wouldn't be in pain. Is there any connection?"

Chandler's hand on the steering wheel tightened. "I'll tell you slowly in the future."

Couldn't he tell her now? Fortunately, Tina wasn't the type to pry into things. She just said, "But Grandpa was wrong. I'm not the kind of person who can be easily tempted. I will definitely marry you. It's hard to find a husband like you now. Eugenia said I was lucky."

Chandler hesitated for a moment. "We didn't use protection last night. Let's go to the pharmacy to buy some medicine."

"Buy medicine?" Tina was surprised. "Why?"

"You're still too young. If you really are pregnant..."

"Then I'll give birth!" she said confidently. "There are many mothers at my age, and when my mom was pregnant with me, she didn't think about getting an abortion."

So if she really was pregnant, she would definitely give birth!

Chandler pursed his thin lips and a complex emotion flashed in his eyes.

"Don't you like children?" Tina asked.

"No, I don't dislike children," he said. In fact... if she really gave birth to their child, it would mean that the parasites in his body could be cured.

But if she really was pregnant, did he have the courage to tell her everything?

Would she be disappointed in him?

Would she think he had been using her all along?

In fact, he had been with her since she was very young, cultivating their relationship, with the intention of using her.

But he never expected that he would be the one who fell deeper in love.

"I also like children," Tina smiled.

Especially their child, she should like him/her very much!

In her mind, she began to imagine what their child would look like, waving little hands in her arms, calling her “mommy,” and she would kiss the baby’s little face...

“Hmm, just thinking about it feels wonderful!”

“But will your parents agree? If you really get pregnant, it could mean dropping out of school and affecting your studies,” Chandler said.

“But compared to a little life, it’s worth it, isn’t it?” Tina said. “And don’t worry, my mom will definitely support my decision. As for my dad...well, you just have to dress a little more modestly when you come to my house.”

She thought her dad would probably beat up Chandler, though!
