

Ex Convict 4171

Chapter 4171 Police Station Call

Even though only a small part of the Hunter family's dowry was announced online, it has already stunned many netizens. They didn't expect the Hunter family's wealth to be even more impressive than they imagined.

The couple bracelets bought from the Cupid Temple that Chandler and Tina are wearing have also been sought after by many young people, and the Cupid Temple even became a popular tourist spot for taking photos!

Although Tina's wedding dress was a bit rushed, the Hunter family hired dozens of top-notch wedding dress craftsmen and finished it on schedule.

When Tina appeared in front of Chandler wearing a white wedding dress during the dress rehearsal, Chandler's eyes lit up and his gaze became fixated on her, unable to look away for a long time.

"This dress is beautiful, isn't it? You can't take your eyes off it," Tina said with a smile as she leaned closer to Chandler.

"The dress is nice, but the truly beautiful person is you,"

Chandler said.

Tina's face turned red!

She's not the type to blush easily, but when someone who doesn't often speak sweet words suddenly says such sweet words, the impact is naturally extraordinary!

"Now, bend down," Tina suddenly said.

Chandler raised an eyebrow slightly but didn't ask anything. He just bent down as Tina instructed.

Her lips were close to his ear, "We're having a baby."

Her soft voice flowed into his ears through the air.

He stood there dumbfounded, momentarily without any reaction.

Tina glanced at Chandler, who was staring blankly, and thought to herself, "Hmm... this is not how I imagined it. Shouldn't this be a happy moment?" She was really pregnant, which meant that once the child was born, his suffering would be relieved.

"Aren't you happy?" Tina spoke up.

Chandler looked at the person in front of him and said, "I... I'm happy, but at the same time, I'm worried. You know about the Hunter family curse. Maybe our son, or grandson, or great-grandson... at least, our descendants will be like me. Will you... blame me?"

Tina frowned and then firmly held Chandler's face in her hands. "The one to blame is not you, but the person who cursed your family! And I believe that future generations will find better solutions. I also believe that our descendants will encounter someone who can help them lift the curse. They will be just as happy as we are!"

Her voice was so resolute and pleasant!

He was truly lucky to have her.

Just then, Chandler's phone rang, and the caller ID showed that it was the police station!

Chapter 4172 Suspicious Person

Chandler answered the call and listened for a moment. His face slightly changed, and he said, "Okay, I'll come over this afternoon."

After ending the call, Tina asked, "What happened?"

"It's about the fire at the factory last time. The investigation report is out. It was a deliberate arson, and the police have arrested a suspect. However, this suspect was also manipulated by someone else, and they can't determine who that person is. So, the police want me to come over." Chandler explained.

Upon hearing this, Tina immediately said, "Then I'll go with you!"

Chandler looked at Tina and said, "It might be boring."

"No, it won't be boring. It's a big matter concerning your factory. And now that we're married, it's my factory too! I care about our 'family' business, so how could it be boring?" Tina said.

The mention of "family" gave Chandler a special feeling, as if it brought them closer.

In the afternoon, they arrived at the police station. The police explained the situation regarding the arrested suspect and the fire, and then asked Chandler if he had any enemies.

Although they couldn't uncover the mastermind behind the suspect, they did get some useful information. When the suspect was contacted by the person using a voice-changing phone, they said something.

"Since Chandler and that bitch embarra*sed me, I'm going to make him suffer too!"

Tina listened, furrowing her brow. Bitch? For some reason, she had a feeling that the insult was directed at her!

But had she and Chandler done anything to make someone want to seek revenge by humiliating them?

Chandler had several competitors in his business, and it was natural for there to be hidden grudges. However, she couldn't think of anything that would warrant being called a bitch or being humiliated.

"If I come up with any useful leads, I'll contact the police promptly," Chandler said.

"Alright," the police nodded.

As they left the police station, Tina turned to Chandler and asked, "Did we do anything together that would make someone want to humiliate us?"

"Why, do you think that the person the suspect referred to as a bitch is you?" Chandler asked.

"Otherwise, have you done something embarrassing with someone else?" Tina asked.

Suspicious Person

"It's not impossible," Chandler thought to himself. He didn't want Tina to be the person behind the arson, because that would mean she could also be the target of that person.

If that person has dealt with him now, then they might go after Tina next.

"But I still think it might be related to me," Tina said, wondering if this was a woman's intuition.

On the way back, Tina couldn't stop thinking about whether she had offended anyone recently. And especially if she had offended someone along with Chandler.

If we exclude the people at school, then it would be someone she has encountered in her life.

In her life...

Suddenly, Tina remembered someone who made her sick to her stomach.

"I got it!" she suddenly exclaimed to Chandler. "Could it be Mr. Perkins?"

"Mr. Perkins?" Chandler was puzzled.

"The one we had dinner with before, the one we met with Kit! Wasn't he planning something inappropriate with Kit, and then I beat him up? And after you arrived, he didn't dare to touch me anymore!" Tina said. "Now that I think about it, Mr. Perkins is highly suspicious!"

Chapter 4173 Father-in-law's Thoughts

Chandler pondered for a moment. "I will mention it to the police and have them investigate Mr. Perkins."

At the same time, he said to Tina, "Recently, I will arrange for some people to be by your side to protect you."

Tina wanted to say it wasn't necessary, but seeing Chandler's worried expression, she nodded. "Okay."

For the next few days, Tina would have bodyguards by her side, protecting her.

Eugenia, seeing this situation, pulled her friend aside and said, "Why did Chandler arrange so many bodyguards to follow you? Did something happen? Is he worried that you'll run away before the wedding, so the domineering CEO hired all these bodyguards to keep an eye on you?"

Tina rolled her eyes in exasperation. "Do I look like someone who would run away from a wedding?"

"Well... not really. I can see the desire in your eyes to devour Chandler!" Eugenia teased.

Tina couldn't help but laugh at her friend's joke.

But in truth, Eugenia's words were not far from the truth. She did have that desire.

"Speaking of which, if you didn't want to run away, why are there so many bodyguards around you? Could it be that there's a woman madly in love with Chandler, and he's worried that she might harm you out of jealousy, so he's protecting you like this?" Eugenia asked.

"It's not because someone loves him, but because someone might have a grudge against him. So he's worried about my safety," Tina explained.

"A grudge?" Eugenia shuddered and imagined a series of dramatic scenes in her mind, then glanced at the bodyguards following her friend. "Well, maybe Chandler should hire even more people. I don't think the number of bodyguards is enough."

"It shouldn't be a problem. In a few more days, we should be able to successfully catch that person," Tina said.

Ever since they identified Mr. Perkins as the mastermind behind the scenes, the police have been secretly investigating him and have gathered some evidence. They will soon launch a capture operation!

"That's good," Eugenia reassured.

"But since that person hasn't been caught yet, let's not talk about this to anyone else," Tina reminded once again.

However, in the evening, when Chandler came to pick up Tina, he delivered some bad news, "Mr. Perkins has escaped."

"What?" Tina exclaimed.

“But the police have already issued an online wanted notice for Mr. Perkins, and they have also deployed officers. They should be able to catch him in a few days!” Chandler said.

“Hmm,” Tina responded.

In Tina’s eyes, Mr. Perkins was truly insane.

Not only did he exploit resources and commit such acts against Kit, but he also directly set fire to the Hunter family’s factory as revenge against Chandler and her.

If it hadn’t been for someone discovering the fire in time, the consequences could have been even more devastating, and many people could have died.

Therefore, Tina only hoped that the police could catch Mr. Perkins as soon as possible and bring him to justice!

Unfortunately, on the day of Tina’s wedding, Mr. Perkins still hadn’t been caught.

On the bright side, her unborn baby was doing well. All the check-ups showed normal results, and all the indicators were good.

Upon learning about his daughter’s pregnancy, Hadwin was both happy and angry!

He was happy because he would have a third generation, but angry because his daughter was now pregnant at such a young age and would become a mother so early. Moreover, pregnancy and childbirth are too strenuous for women!

As a result, after learning about his daughter’s pregnancy, Hadwin became even more critical of Chandler, finding fault with everything he did.

Chapter 4174 The Wedding Begins

However, compared to Hadwin’s attitude, Lina was quite happy. Even though it was still early in her daughter’s pregnancy, Lina couldn’t resist the urge to start buying things for the baby.

Lina even began organizing some things her daughter had used when she was a child, intending to dress her future grandchild in them and create a nostalgic experience.

On the day of the wedding, Tina was pulled out of bed early in the morning, and a makeup artist started working on her.

Her bridesmaids also had their own makeup artists, who were busy getting them ready.

Eugenia, as Tina’s best friend, naturally became one of the bridesmaids.

They all stayed close to Tina throughout the preparations.

And Tina and Chandler's wedding naturally became the hottest news in Emerald City today.

People online kept posting content about the wedding, and reporters crowded outside the Stephenson family's house and at the wedding venue.

Kit looked at the posts online about the two families' weddings.

The posts were accompanied by photos, one of which showed Tina in a white wedding dress getting out of a car, with Chandler approaching and holding her hand.

They looked into each other's eyes, filled with love.

Anyone could see the affection in their eyes.

No wonder the media called them the most beautiful love story of the year.

But this scene in the photo deeply pierced Kit's eyes.

It was like a precious treasure that he wanted but couldn't have, and he could only watch that treasure belong to someone else!

Tina changed into another wedding dress in the hotel. This dress was for the opening of the wedding.

A makeup artist was touching up her makeup while she played with her phone, browsing through web pages and replying to some messages.

Suddenly, Tina froze because she received a picture on her phone.

The message was from Eugenia's phone account.

But the photo inside was a picture of Eugenia tied up like a dumpling.

What is going on?!

Tina stared at the photo in her hand.

Was it a prank? Was someone trying to scare her with such a picture? Or...

Then her phone rang.

The caller ID showed Eugenia's name.

But when Tina answered the call, she heard a man's voice.

"Tina, your good friend is in my hands. It's all because of you that she ended up in my hands. If you don't appear in front of me in half an hour, I will strip all of your friend's clothes and livestream it online! Then I will tell everyone that because you couldn't save your friend, this is what happened to her!"

"Who are you?" Tina tried to calm herself down. She couldn't panic at a time like this.

"What's wrong, Miss. Stephenson? Can't recognize my voice? Miss. Stephenson, don't you still want to bring me to my demise?" the other person's voice said coldly.

Tina was shocked. If there was someone recently who had a grudge against her, then this person was... "Mr. Perkins?!"

"Sure!" The other person gave a disgusting smile. "Whether or not I save your friend depends on your choice. And remember, no calling the police or telling anyone else. Come alone to the location I give you. If I find out you've reported to the police, your friend will be in grave danger!"

"Okay!" Tina agreed.

"By the way, I should remind you that I've installed surveillance cameras and bugs in inconspicuous places in the hotel, so... if you secretly call the police or tell someone about this, I'll know! Next, you're not allowed to make phone calls or send messages. I will send someone to pick you up."

Chapter 4175 Leaving Clues

After ending the call, Tina's face turned pale.

There was also a makeup artist in the room with her.

However, the makeup artist didn't hear the content of her recent conversation, so she didn't know what had happened. She just noticed that Tina's expression was off and asked with concern, "Miss Stephenson, are you okay? Feeling unwell?"

"It's nothing." Tina glanced around the room. Did Mr. Perkins install any surveillance or listening devices here?

She couldn't take risks, especially when the cost of taking risks was Eugenia's life!

But she couldn't just go alone to save Eugenia either. That might put both of them in danger. Regardless, she had to get this information out.

After thinking for a moment, Tina said to the makeup artist, "I'm feeling a bit nervous. Could you please go and get me a gla*s of EATMOON? It's a new cocktail, and Chandler knows it's my favorite!"

"Okay." The makeup artist agreed and left the room.

A while later, someone knocked on the door. Tina opened it to find a stranger.

"Miss Stephenson, please come with me," the person said.

Tina pressed her lips tightly and followed the person out of the dressing room.

Obviously, the person deliberately avoided the surveillance cameras.

The people they pa*sed by, even if they saw her in a wedding dress, wouldn't say anything more than a greeting.

A car, the hotel's side entrance.

Tina got into the car, rea*suring herself that everything would be fine. Chandler should find the clue she left behind and come looking for her.

Along the way, she would discreetly tear off some small shiny pieces from her wedding dress and drop them on the ground.

And when the makeup artist couldn't find her and went to tell Chandler, as long as the makeup artist mentioned the name of the cocktail she ordered, Chandler would know it was related to Eugenia.

Because there was no such cocktail called EATMOON!

But would Chandler be able to deduce that she got into this car based on the location where she boarded?

As long as they could identify the vehicle, they could track it through the road surveillance cameras!

"How much did Mr. Perkins pay you to do this?" Tina casually engaged in conversation.

"You don't have to worry about it, Miss Stephenson," the other party said.

“What if I offer you triple the price?” Tina said.

“Even if you offer me ten times the price, Miss Stephenson, I’m afraid I won’t be able to get out of this alive,” the other party stated bluntly.

Tina bit her lip tightly. The bribery attempt had failed. It seemed that turning someone against their own side was not as simple as she had thought!

The destination was a three-story abandoned building by the river.

Tina finally saw Eugenia, who was tied up like a dumpling!

“Are you stupid? Why did you actually come? Do you think they will let me go just because you’re here? We’re both going to die here!” Eugenia shouted. Mr. Perkins didn’t gag Eugenia’s mouth, seemingly enjoying the scene.

Although Eugenia was cursing, Tina could hear her friend’s concern for her.

This best friend of hers, she truly hadn’t made a wrong choice!

“Well, I may be stupid, but I can’t let anything happen to you!”

Tina said.

Eugenia had been implicated because of her, so how could she just leave Eugenia in danger like this!

Clap! Clap! Clap!

The sound of applause rang out, and Mr. Perkins laughed, “You two really have a deep sisterly bond. I wonder what our Miss Stephenson is capable of doing for her sister!”

Chapter 4176 Bargaining

Tina frowned, “What do you want?”

“Of course, I want Miss Stephenson to pay a price,” Mr. Perkins said. “If it wasn’t for you, I wouldn’t have ended up being wanted by the police!”

That was entirely his own fault! Tina silently criticized in her mind.

But to avoid provoking Mr. Perkins even more, Tina swallowed back her criticism.

“I didn’t expect you to be wanted by the police, but I can find a way to get you out of the country and give you a large sum of money, no less than your previous wealth,” Tina said. “You must understand that I have the capability to do it. After all, I am the Miss Stephenson of the Stephenson family and the wife of the Hunter family!"

"I understand that Miss Stephenson can do it, but I don't trust Miss Stephenson, so I need some assurance from her," Mr. Perkins said maliciously.

Tina asked, "What kind of assurance?"

"I kindly ask Miss Stephenson to undress completely right now, and then I'll film a video with my phone. Miss Stephenson just needs to say a few things to the camera," Mr. Perkins said, repeating the words Tina was supposed to say to the phone camera.

Tina felt disgusted listening to it. It was completely obscene language.

Well, considering Mr. Perkins was such scum, what good could one expect from him?

"As long as I have this video, I won't worry about Miss Stephenson changing her mind. Once I'm safe, I'll naturally delete this video," Mr. Perkins said.

Unfortunately, Tina didn't believe a single word he said.

All she could do now was buy time, delay until her parents and Chandler came to rescue her!

"This is quite difficult for me. Can I have some time to think about it?" Tina said.

"Sure, but I have limited patience. I'll give you ten minutes," Mr. Perkins said.

Alright, ten minutes is better than nothing. Tina then pretended to have a conflicted expression.

Chapter 4176 Bargaining

Eugenia, on the other hand, couldn't stop berating Tina, calling her names like "fool" and "idiot," saying that if she agreed, she would only be ruining herself.

3/4

Tina was dumbfounded. How could Eugenia not worry about herself!

If she didn't come, she would be completely useless and most likely be torn to pieces!

Mr. Perkins actually enjoyed watching Eugenia berate Tina, so even though Eugenia kept insulting her for ten minutes straight, Mr. Perkins didn't shut her up.

When the ten minutes were up, Mr. Perkins asked, "Have you made up your mind?"

“Um, about the sentences you asked me to repeat, I think it’s necessary to discuss them. For example, the first sentence has a grammatical issue, and the second sentence is too cliché... Also, you asked for eight sentences, but I think three would be enough. After all, you just want an a*surance!” Tina said.

Eugenia, who was tied up, felt like there was something wrong with her ears when she heard Tina’s words.

This... um, bargaining with the kidnapper?

And it’s even bargaining over how many sentences to say?!

Tina, at this moment, naturally continued to procrastinate, pretending to have a few things to say and not being able to remember the details, making Mr. Perkins repeat them several times until he got really angry. Then she reluctantly remembered those few sentences and started discussing with Mr. Perkins whether she could keep her undergarments on and offer him more money...

Even Mr. Perkins himself didn’t expect to be so overwhelmed by Tina.

Chapter 4177 Rescue

Finally, Mr. Perkins lost his patience and slapped Tina in the face, “Are you playing tricks on me?!”

Tina felt the pain on her face, but instead of crying out, she continued to stall for time, “How could I be playing tricks? My friend’s life and my own are in your hands. Naturally, I want to stay alive. I’m seriously discussing with you, Mr. Perkins. Of course, if you release us now, I will be extremely grateful. In the future, I can persuade my dad and Chandler to cooperate with you, and then Mr. Perkins’ position in Emerald City will be different...”

Tina continued to make empty promises sincerely while feeling extremely anxious inside.

She didn’t know if this delay tactic was truly effective, and she didn’t know if Chandler would discover the clues she left behind.

Just as Tina was running out of words, someone outside knocked on the door, “Boss, something happened outside, can you come out?”

Mr. Perkins frowned, “What happened?”

“Just now, Xiao Lu saw the news. The Hunter family and the Stephenson family didn’t announce the cancellation of the wedding. The wedding is still going on. What’s going on? Could it be that the person in front of me isn’t Tina?” Mr. Perkins said angrily.

“Well, boss, you should come out and see the live broadcast on TV!”

Mr. Perkins immediately ordered his subordinate next to him, "You keep an eye on her. I'll go see the live broadcast."

The subordinate acknowledged.

Mr. Perkins left the room.

But after a long time, he didn't come back, which made his subordinate uneasy.

The subordinate held a gun against Tina and pushed her forward, walking all the way to the door, "Open the door!"

Tina obediently complied.

When she opened the door and was pushed out, she saw the SWAT team standing right next to the door.

Tina immediately understood what had happened before.

Chandler must have discovered the clues she left behind, so he called the police and they came.

However, Tina remained calm and continued to walk forward slowly.

At the moment the kidnapper with the gun walked out of the room with her, the SWAT team acted swiftly and decisively.

One person grabbed the hand of the kidnapper holding the gun, while another person quickly pointed a gun at the kidnapper's head.

The kidnapper was subdued in an instant.

Tina breathed a sigh of relief. The kidnapping was resolved so quickly, she hadn't expected that!

The police entered the room and untied the bound Eugenia.

Eugenia hugged Tina and cried, "Tina, why are you so foolish? How could you come here? What if something happened to you? What would we do if no one came to rescue us? Are planning to do what that maniac said?"

you really

"Okay, okay, everything is fine now," Tina patted her friend's back to comfort her.

"Miss Stephenson, your parents and Mr. Hunter are outside. When you go out, you'll be able to see them," the police told her.

The police were carrying out their mission and naturally couldn't let ordinary people enter the crime scene.

Even though Chandler repeatedly hoped to accompany the police, he was still refused.

“Okay,” Tina replied.

After experiencing such an incident, she wanted to quickly see her parents and Chandler.

But just then, Mr. Perkins, who was being escorted by the police, suddenly stared at Tina fiercely and laughed wildly, “Tina, you bitch, do you think you’re saved? Haha, you’ll die here with me!”

Chapter 4178 Tina’s Choice

Tina felt a sense of unease rising within her.

But before she could speak, a loud explosion erupted.

Immediately after, a second explosion followed...

The three-story building began to collapse in an instant.

In just a moment, many people were trapped beneath the rubble.

Tina and Eugenia were also trapped beneath the rubble.

Tina smelled the scent of blood.

Her body was filled with intense pain, making it hard for her to determine where exactly it hurt.

“Eugenia... are you... are you okay?” Tina asked.

“I... I’m still alive!” Eugenia trembled and said, “Tina, we won’t die here, right?”

Just as they were rescued, they suddenly encountered this situation again, causing Eugenia’s spirit to almost collapse.

Her voice slightly reassured Eugenia.

But then, suddenly, an even louder explosion occurred, and shouts from outside could be heard.

“Oh God, it’s the dam, the dam has been blown up!”

“How could this happen? The water from the dam will come rushing down!”

“Quick, quick, save them!”

Tina’s heart skipped a beat. Was the dam blown up? Was it Mr. Perkins who did this?

So, Mr. Perkins meant it when he said they would all go down together!

It seems that Mr. Perkins had planned for every possibility!

The rocks that were pressing down on her and Eugenia were moved aside, but at the same time, the rushing water surged towards them in an instant!

“Ah!” Tina and Eugenia were both swept into the raging current almost at the same time.

A SWAT officer managed to grab hold of Eugenia, while Tina held onto Eugenia.

The three of them were like a chain.

Chapter 4178 Tina’s Choice

However, in the waves of rushing water, it was extremely difficult.

3/4

Tina saw that the SWAT officer holding onto Eugenia was about to give in.

After all, the chances of survival were too low while dragging two people in the water.

Eugenia cried out, “Tina, hold on, don’t let go!”

But if Eugenia didn’t let go, then the three of them might all die in the water!

Tina mustered her last bit of strength and said to Eugenia, “Eugenia, I’m sorry... for involving you. Please tell my parents that it was my fortune to be their daughter. I hope in my next life, I can still be their child. And... tell Chandler I’m sorry, I couldn’t become his wife...

“I won’t tell, I won’t tell! Don’t let go!” Eugenia shouted desperately.

Tina smiled weakly; she knew Eugenia was kind-hearted, so she would eventually tell.

Slowly, Tina released her grip, and all she could hear was Eugenia’s screams.

But this was the best choice she could make right now.

Three people dying or one person dying, no matter how you thought about it, it was more cost-effective for one person to die.

She just felt sorry for her parents’ nurturing kindness.

And... sorry, Chandler.

She had promised Chandler so solemnly that she would save him! She would give birth to their child and save him!

But now...

“Tina!” a hoarse voice suddenly resounded, carrying a sense of fear that made one’s heart tremble.

Tina’s body was swept away by the surging waves, heading towards the distance.

She struggled to open her eyes and looked towards the sound.

Chapter 4179 Something Big Happened

No! Don’t!

She wanted to shout, but as soon as she opened her mouth, water kept rushing in.

“Tina! Tina!” Chandler shouted, trying to jump into the water, but his tall body was firmly held back by the approaching police.

Then several police officers pressed him to the ground together.

“Tina!” Chandler struggled, desperately looking up, but could only watch his beloved sinking and floating in the water.

Tina had never seen Chandler so miserable before. Hmm, if only she had a camera now, she could capture this moment.

Because it showed how much he loved her!

This moment, Tina couldn’t help but think in her mind.

But, it’s fine like this!

Although he looked miserable, at least he wouldn’t rush into the water and sacrifice himself!

Even if she were to die, she still wanted him to live well.

But before she could think further, another wave came crashing in, completely submerging her in the water.

Tina lost consciousness completely!

And the last sound that entered her ears was Chandler’s heart-wrenching cry of “Tina!”

A wedding turned into a separation of life and death!

Kit found out about this several hours later.

After finishing shooting for the day, his expression instantly turned desolate.

Today was Tina’s wedding day, and she must have looked beautiful in her wedding gown.

These days, Emerald City was flooded with news about the wedding of the two families, but he deliberately avoided looking at these news, afraid that he would become even more jealous and resentful.

If... he had known Tina since childhood, would some things have changed?

But now, nothing can be changed!

Something Big Happened

"Kit, something big happened!" The manager approached Kit and shouted.

"What could be so big? Did something happen to the original advertisement we were supposed to shoot?" Kit said calmly.

"It's Miss Stephenson!" the manager said.

Kit's body suddenly stiffened. "What happened to her?"

"It seems like she's been kidnapped, and when the police tried to rescue her, there was an explosion. Unfortunately, there was a reservoir nearby, and it burst open, causing the water to rush in and sweep her away!"

The manager spoke about the information he saw online.

Although some details may not be accurate, one thing is certain: Tina was swept away by the water, and her life is now in danger!

The color drained from Kit's face as he looked at the manager in disbelief. "Are you telling the truth?"

"How could I joke about something like this?" the manager said.

Kit quickly took out his phone and checked the latest news.

Sure enough, there was news about Tina's uncertain fate, appearing in the trending topics.

His fingers trembled as he clicked on the news and read the report.

Chapter 4180 Crying

After all, there had been rumors of gossip between Kit and Tina before.

If Kit goes to the scene where Tina had an accident now and gets photographed, who knows what kind of rumors will circulate.

Especially considering that Tina is Chandler's wife.

Even though her fate is currently unknown, today is Tina and Chandler's wedding day!

If any scandal spreads, it could be fatal to Kit's acting career!

The manager worried in his heart and immediately got into a car and followed.

Is there still a chance for Tina to survive?

If she really died like that, then he...

His heart felt like it was struck by a sharp sword, causing intense pain!

At this moment, the internet celebrities and journalists around them also recognized Kit. Their gazes turned towards Kit, and some even pointed their phones or cameras at him.

Suddenly, someone from the crowd let out a gasp.

Kit, with a pale face, looked at the spot where Tina disappeared by the river. Tears rolled down his cheeks.