

Ex Convict 4181

Chapter 4181 No Longer Obedient

The news of idol star Kit shedding tears at the scene where Tina had an accident quickly became a hot topic.

This news, like a confirmation of the previous rumors, immediately sparked various discussions online.

Kit's manager was extremely worried. After all, releasing this kind of gossip news at this time would undoubtedly tarnish the reputation of the Hunter family and the Stephenson family, which would be equivalent to offending both families!

When Edmond saw this trending news, he was so angry that he stormed over to Kit and slapped him, saying, "Why did you go there? Don't you know that appearing in such a place will invite endless criticisms? Especially shedding tears in front of so many people, are you trying to tell others that you and Tina were really involved in a vague relationship?"

Kit's face turned to the side, showing the imprint of five fingers.

He suddenly sneered, "Back then, wasn't Father hoping that I could be involved with Miss Stephenson from the Stephenson family so that we could gain better resources? But now, he wishes I wouldn't have any connection with Miss Stephenson!"

"That was then, this is now!" Edmond said.

"Unfortunately, it's too late for Father to say anything now," Kit mocked, as the internet was already flooded with gossip.

"You-" Edmond raised his hand again, wanting to slap.

Kit coldly said, "If father slaps me again, then I won't have to act tomorrow. The slap mark on my face won't be hidden even with makeup!"

This made Edmond angrily put down his hand, but he still said to Kit, "You better come up with an explanation immediately. Clarify that you have no romantic relationship with Miss Stephenson, that you only consider her a friend. And apologize to the Stephenson family and the Hunter family for the online rumors. We can't let them blame our family!"

Kit coldly replied, "What if I don't just consider Miss Stephenson a friend?"

"What?" Edmond was taken aback.

"What if I really have feelings for Tina? Not everything that's being said online is false, at least part of it is true," Kit continued.

"You-" Edmond stared at his son, suddenly feeling a sense of panic.

"So, father, I can't do the apology and clarification you asked for. Because I don't want to lie to the public anymore!" he said.

He had already told enough lies to survive, to escape from the miserable days.

No Longer Obedient

So now, he didn't want to lie anymore.

"What do you mean? Are you defying me?" Edmond angrily asked.

Kit suddenly smiled, "Yes, from now on, I don't plan to listen to you anymore!"

Especially after hearing that the person who harmed Tina this time was Mr. Perkins!

Mr. Perkins, the person father originally wanted him to "accompany," just to obtain resources from him!

And at that time, it was Tina who saved him. But the price she paid for saving him was her current whereabouts being unknown, and it had already been such a long time without finding her. She might have already...

If time could be reversed, he would rather have truly "accompanied" Mr. Perkins that night, even if that person did something despicable to him. It would still be better than letting Tina become the target of Mr. Perkins' revenge.

What did he get from obeying his father's words?

He might have lost the person he loved!

So, he wouldn't listen to his father anymore!

Chapter 4182 Begging

"Do you know what you're saying?" Edmond stared fiercely at Kit.

"Yes," Kit said, "I won't listen to father anymore. Likewise, I will finish the last movie I have signed up for, and after that, I will retire from the entertainment industry!"

That movie was given to him by Tina, so no matter what, he would finish it.

After finishing it, he would completely retire!

"What?" Edmond looked at his son in shock, "You want to retire, are you talking nonsense?"

"I'm not joking, I'm serious," Kit said calmly.

Edmond's face turned extremely ugly. "You better think it through. If you quit the entertainment industry, you'll have nothing. Even if you're my son, I won't help you in any way, and I'll take back the house I gave you."

Kit replied calmly, "I've thought it through. I will quit the entertainment industry. As for what you want to do, it's up to you!"

He had always been afraid of having nothing, so he climbed up desperately.

But at this moment, when his father said he would have nothing, there was no longer that fear in his heart.

Perhaps it was because the thing he feared the most had already happened.

Compared to Tina, he realized that not having anything wasn't as scary as he had thought!

Moreover, from the beginning, she had nothing!

"You ungrateful child!" Edmond couldn't control himself and slapped Kit's face again.

The other side of Kit's cheek now bore the marks of five fingers.

Kit, however, remained calm as if he didn't feel the pain on his face.

Because for him, the pain in his heart was even stronger!

It kept throbbing, again and again!

72 hours of the golden search period had passed, a week had passed, half a month had passed...

Tina still hadn't been found.

This river led directly to the sea outside the city, so it was very likely that Tina's body had been washed into the sea by the current. But no one dared to say such a thing.

Chapter 4182 Begging

3/4

Chandler continued to stay on the boat day and night, searching for Tina.

When he was hungry, he would take a few bites of bread; when he was thirsty, he would drink a few sips of water.

Even when others advised Chandler to get off the boat and rest, he rejected them all!

He was like a madman searching for Tina on the surface of the river, not giving up even a glimmer of hope.

When Eugenia saw Chandler, she could hardly believe that the person in front of her was Chandler.

The man who used to look handsome and cold now wore wrinkled clothes, disheveled hair, and a face full of stubble, looking exhausted.

“Chandler, that’s enough!” Eugenia couldn’t help but cry. “Please take a rest. If you don’t rest properly, your body will collapse. If Tina knew that you were destroying yourself to find her, she would be upset.”

After hearing the name “Tina,” Chandler’s body stiffened. “Tina doesn’t like the cold. If she’s in the water, she’ll definitely complain. I... I need to find her quickly. I can’t let her stay in the cold water.”

Write your

“Even if we’re searching and there are others helping, we haven’t found her after all these days. Doesn’t that mean Tina is still alive? Maybe she’s been washed ashore somewhere, or maybe someone took her to the hospital...” Engenis choked up.

Chapter 4183 Worry

“Yes, she’s still alive. She must be.” Chandler murmured. “But I need to find her. I need to find her quickly...”

Eugenia was becoming speechless listening to Chandler’s words. If Tina couldn’t be found, or... if they only found Tina’s body in the end, would this man break down?

Eugenia didn’t dare to imagine further.

A deep sense of guilt spread through her body once again.

This guilt had almost completely overwhelmed her these past few days!

Thud.

She knelt directly in front of Chandler. “I’m sorry, I’m sorry! Chandler, I couldn’t hold onto Tina. It’s my fault. Tina came to save me, but I couldn’t save her!”

If it wasn’t for her, Tina wouldn’t have been swept away by the water, and her fate wouldn’t still be unknown!

Chandler’s gaze, at this moment, finally fell on Eugenia. “Yes, why didn’t you hold onto her? If you had held onto her, she wouldn’t have been carried away by the current!”

A chill suddenly surged up Eugenia’s spine.

That icy gaze was as if it wanted to kill her, making her feel like she couldn’t breathe.

“I’m... I’m sorry...” At this moment, Eugenia didn’t know what else she should do besides continuously apologize!

“Sorry?” Chandler sneered. “At this point, what use is it for you to apologize to me?”

As he finished speaking, he reached out his hand and grabbed Eugenia's throat.

In an instant, Eugenia couldn't breathe, her face turning red.

Chandler's subordinates rushed forward, wanting to stop him.

But Chandler held on tightly, and they couldn't pry his hand off.

Eugenia tried to struggle, but in the next moment, she gave up. Yes, at this point, what use was it for her to apologize?

If Chandler really wanted to take her life, then maybe she could go underground and accompany Tina!

Just as Eugenia thought she was going to die, suddenly, the fingers on her neck loosened.

Her legs went weak, and she sat down on the deck, choking uncontrollably.

Chandler looked down at her from above, seeming to cry and laugh at the same time. "If you die, Tina will be sad, right? You're the person Tina risked her life to save. Hahaha... She saved you but forgot about me. How could she make that kind of choice, how could she!"

Chandler's voice, choked with despair.

It pained Eugenia deeply.

If it had been her who died back then, would things be better?

Tina wouldn't be in trouble, and Chandler wouldn't be so desperate!

Tina, she must still be alive, right...

But where exactly is she?

Can we really find Tina?

If we can't find Tina, then what will happen to Chandler... Eugenia can't bear to imagine!

And the Hunter family members share the same fear.

Colin and Adele are filled with worry, and the old Mr. Hunter ended up in the hospital because of this.

After all, for the Hunter family, Tina is not just a daughter-in-law, but also the person who can save Chandler's

Now that Tina's whereabouts are unknown, what should Chandler do?

What the Hunter family is truly worried about now is... whether Chandler's life can be saved!

Chapter 4184 Desolate Chandler

Half a year after Tina's disappearance, Kit finished filming his last TV drama, which Tina had secured for him.

Then Kit announced that he would retire from the entertainment industry.

This announcement immediately caused a stir!

Many people online were discussing this matter, and some of his fans even had extreme reactions, protesting and trying to persuade him to stay at his company.

There were even some who threatened to jump into the river in refusal to accept Kit's retirement from the entertainment industry.

But Kit remained indifferent to all of this and insisted on leaving the entertainment industry.

Later, there were rumors online that Kit's retirement might be because of Tina.

After all, Miss Stephenson from the Stephenson family used to be Kit's fan, and they seemed to have a close relationship. Since Miss Stephenson still hasn't been found after six months, it's very likely that she's no longer alive!

However, Kit didn't respond to any of these online rumors.

After that, he seemed to disappear from the entertainment industry, and over time, people online gradually stopped talking about Kit.

After all, in the entertainment industry, there are always new idols replacing the ones who are gone.

On the other side, in the Hunter family, after searching the river for Tina in vain, Chandler collapsed and was admitted to the hospital.

One week after being discharged, Chandler locked himself in the house he shared with Tina and stayed there for a month, not seeing anyone!

Finally, with the help of Eugenia from the Hunter family, she rushed in.

Eugenia tearfully said, "Chandler, if Tina were to come back and see you so depressed, she would be furious. You know how much Tina loved to see you looking handsome and attractive. She always told me that her future husband should be the best-looking. Even if it's for Tina's sake, you shouldn't continue like this!"

When she mentioned Tina's name, Chandler finally showed some reaction.

Chandler's gaze fell on Eugenia's face. "What did Tina say and do when she came to save you?"

Desolate Chandler

Eugenia shuddered and quickly recounted the events of that time.

Although she had already told the police, the Stephenson family, and the Hunter family multiple times, she had never said it in front of Chandler.

Chandler listened quietly, and after a long time, he said to Eugenia, "Tell me everything else between you and Tina that I don't know."

"Huh?" Eugenia looked at Chandler in a daze, but after a moment, she nodded repeatedly. "Okay, I'll tell you. Tina and I in school..."

Eugenia stayed in the villa, constantly talking to Chandler about everything related to Tina.

And Chandler listened quietly, no one knew what he was thinking at that moment.

Eugenia almost spent another month telling Chandler everything she knew about Tina, including their college days and Tina's cosplay photography.

Eugenia even brought many photos of her and Tina together.

In short, anything related to Tina, no matter how trivial or boring, Eugenia mentioned it.

After a long time, a slight curve appeared at the corner of Chandler's lips, as if crying and smiling at the same time.

Desolate Chandler "Tina, when will you come back to me?"

Chapter 4185 Shadow

In a remote village in the mountains with inconvenient transportation, there is a small village that is quite backward.

A pregnant woman is working in the fields, sweat constantly dripping from her cheeks.

The people here only call her "Drogo's wife" because she was picked up by Drogo, and everyone says that the child in her belly is also Drogo's.

But she knows it's not true!

Although she has forgotten everything, even her own name, she knows that the child in her belly is definitely not Drogo's.

There have been several times when Drogo tried to violate her in the middle of the night, and she struggled desperately. She even grabbed something and hit Drogo's head, causing him to bleed.

She had originally wanted to escape from Drogo's house.

However, she was captured back by Drogo.

Because this village is backward, the villagers sometimes unite and help Drogo watch over her, preventing her from escaping.

As her belly grew, Drogo became more obedient, but he frequently nagged that once the child was born, she would become his legitimate wife.

She knew she had to escape, but now her belly was getting bigger and it was becoming more difficult to move. If she waited until the child was born to escape, the chances would be even smaller.

Moreover... she could feel that Drogo despised the child in her belly. Every time, he would stare at her belly with a poisonous gaze.

If the child was born, she even doubted whether the child could survive!

She had to escape while she still had some mobility.

She knew that today there was a ceremonial event in the village, the once-a-year big event in the village. Drogo and his parents would go to watch the ceremony, and at that time, she would be locked in the room.

Tonight was the chance to escape, as long as... she could manage to unlock that lock!

Nightfall came quickly.

As she expected, Drogo's family locked her in the room and locked the door.

She carefully pulled out an iron wire.

She accidentally discovered it while working and secretly kept it.

Chapter 4185 Shadow

At this moment, her hand reached through the door crack, holding the lock cylinder, while her other hand held a thin wire, turning it inside to unlock the door.

She couldn't remember how she learned to pick locks.

It seemed like there was a voice deep in her memory whispering to her, "Tina, if you learn how to pick locks, at least you'll have one more skill. In case of any emergencies, you can save yourself. But I hope that you'll never have to use these self-saving skills, because that would mean you're always safe."

Whose voice was it? Who was speaking?

Was Tina calling her? Is her name Tina?

But when she tried hard to recall, her head throbbed painfully, preventing her from remembering anything.

Click!

The lock opened.

She felt a glimmer of joy and cautiously pushed open the wooden door, walking out quickly.

She had already investigated the road out of the village during her time working in the fields.

Now, as long as she could leave the village before the ceremony ended, perhaps she and the child in her belly could be safe.

“Baby, please bless Mommy so that she can take you and leave safely!” She lowered her head and spoke to her swollen belly.

She suddenly felt a movement in her belly, as if the child was responding to her!

Chapter 4186 Escape

She took a deep breath and walked briskly ahead.

She is now a mother, willing to take any risks to protect her unborn child.

Just as she was about to leave the village, suddenly, the flickering flames of the ritual extinguished!

She exclaimed in her mind, “Oh no!”

This meant that the ritual ended earlier than she had anticipated.

She had to be quick! Quick to escape!

Before Drogo and the others returned home and discovered her escape, she had to leave the village as soon as possible!

Suddenly, it started drizzling from the sky!

She forced a bitter smile. The rain would only slow her down and make her escape even more difficult!

Could it be that fate was going to throw even more obstacles her way?

It was particularly difficult for her to run with her big belly.

Even walking briskly was already a heavy burden on her body.

She didn't know how long she had been walking, but finally... she walked out of the village, only to find an even longer road ahead.

She remembered hearing someone say that if she walked a long road outside the village, she would reach the town where there was a police station and many people.

If she made it to the town and found someone from the police, then she would be saved!

Even if she couldn't remember anything, the police would help her, help her find her family, and... the father of her child.

What kind of person was the father of her child?

Although she couldn't remember, whenever she thought about it, she felt a sense of nostalgia. She must have loved the father of her child!

Just then, she heard the sound of hurried footsteps behind her, along with flashlight beams and people shouting, making her heart race even faster.

They were chasing after her!

She had to be quick, she had to be fast!

She had to escape from here quickly!

"Here! I see her, she's up ahead!" someone shouted.

Then more footsteps echoed.

"We can't let her get away!"

"If she escapes, the Drogo family will be finished! Where will Drogo find such a beautiful and lively daughter-in-law again!"

"The Drogo family promised that whoever helps them catch their daughter-in-law will be rewarded with 1000 dollars!"

1000 dollars, in this backward village, was a big amount of money. The villagers who came to catch her became even more excited upon discovering her trail, their eyes shining!

As the crowd chasing her got closer and closer, she stumbled and fell to the ground.

Worriedly, she looked at her belly, relieved that she had been on all fours and her belly hadn't hit the ground.

But her elbow joints and knees were throbbing with pain.

Chapter 4186 Escape

4/5

However, at a time like this, she couldn't care less about her injured body. All she had to do was run!

She had to run, even if it was for the sake of the child in her belly!

Her body seemed to have an instinct telling her that no matter what, she had to protect this child, because this child was important to her...

This kind of importance seemed to come not only from maternal love, but also from some other reason.

But she couldn't remember!

The footsteps behind her were getting closer and closer. Just as it seemed like she was about to be caught, suddenly, she saw a car approaching not far away!

The bright headlights stung her eyes!

But at this moment, the car lights were her last hope of escaping from here!

She exerted all her strength, waving her hand towards the car and running towards it.

The car slammed on the brakes just a few meters away from

Bathed in the light of the car headlights the men might as the men wilting in the drivers

Chapter 4187 Saving Lives with Money

The two of them stared at each other through the car window.

Kit could hardly believe what he was seeing.

It was... Tina!

Even though she was wearing dirty clothes and her hair was messy, he immediately recognized her as Tina, the person he had been searching for for six months, the person he loved!

Kit trembled as he reached out to unbuckle his seatbelt, opened the car door, and hurried to Tina's side, afraid that it was just a dream in front of him.

“Save me, please, save me, and my baby in my belly!” she pleaded desperately, her face full of anguish.

“Tina, what happened? Is someone trying to harm you?” Kit asked urgently.

Just then, footsteps approached, and soon a large group of people, shining flashlights, came towards them.

Tina instinctively covered her face with her hand to shield herself from the light.

“Catch her, Drogo’s wife is here!” someone shouted.

In no time, those people surrounded Kit and Tina.

“No, I... I’m not...” Tina nervously grabbed Kit’s arm, as if he was her only lifeline in front of this unfamiliar man!

Kit looked at Tina’s pale face and her slightly trembling hand, and suddenly understood something.

“She’s my friend, I’ve been looking for her!” Kit spoke to the villagers.

“What? Just because you say she’s your friend, she’s your friend? This woman was saved by Drogo and is Drogo’s wife!”

the villagers shouted.

Obviously, if Kit didn’t hand Tina over, they would take direct action.

The other side had the advantage in numbers, and if they really started a fight, Kit would have no chance of winning.

Tina’s face became even more grim, but Kit remained calm and said, “Since my friend was saved by Drogo, I can offer Drogo’s family a compensation of 100,000!”

As soon as they heard the number 100,000, the expressions of the villagers changed.

After all, 100,000 was a huge sum of money in this remote village. With this money, one could marry several wives.

After a while, Drogo also came over. When he found out that Kit was willing to pay 100,000, his eyes flickered and he said, “Alright, give me the money now. No money, no leaving!”

“Okay! I can transfer the money to you through my phone!” Kit said.

The village was backward, and not everyone had a phone. As for mobile transfers, even fewer people would use this function.

Fortunately, the village chief’s phone had the transfer function activated. So, with the unanimous agreement of the villagers, the village chief helped Drogo’s family receive the money first.

Kit transferred 100,000 on the spot to the village chief’s account. After the village chief confirmed it, Drogo finally agreed to release Kit.

However, at this moment, some of the villagers greedily stared at Kit, as if they were looking at a fat sheep.

Naturally, Kit immediately noticed their intentions. “I came here after confirming with my friend. Before getting off the car, I sent my location to my friend. If something happens to me here, or if I don’t meet up with my friend within an hour, my friend will immediately call the police.”

As soon as he said that, the few villagers who had been eyeing him changed their expressions instantly.

The village chief’s face darkened as he said to those villagers,

“Enough, let him go! Don’t mess things up!”

Chapter 4188 What are you to me?

Finally, Kit drove away from the scene with Tina.

Along the way, Tina sat in the passenger seat, her head down, feeling restless.

Kit occasionally glanced at Tina from the corner of his eye.

Even though it had been over half a year since she disappeared after falling into the water, Emerald City was still searching for her. However, everyone had already lost hope, hoping only to find her body.

The Stephenson family had even prepared a grave for her, but they hadn’t put her name on the tombstone.

Perhaps there was still a trace of hope deep in their hearts.

And he never imagined that he would find her faster than the Hunter family and the Stephenson family!

Because the Hunter family and the Stephenson family were mainly searching for Tina's whereabouts in Emerald City and the surrounding counties and cities.

So he deliberately stayed away from those areas.

After he left the entertainment industry, he simply followed the waterway where Tina disappeared and drove downstream.

Originally, he had only heard that there was a ritual in the village where Tina escaped tonight, so he wanted to go and take a look. He didn't expect to encounter Tina.

It was like... it was arranged by fate.

Kit took Tina to a small town dozens of miles away and checked into a small hotel in the town.

Tina looked up and met Kit's concerned eyes. "Tha... thank you..."

Kit led Tina into the hotel room.

It was a double room, but quite spacious. Besides the two beds, there was a small sitting area with a sofa and a coffee table.

Seeing Tina's uneasy expression, Kit explained, "You can sleep inside. You can choose any of the two beds. I'll sleep on the sofa. The reason I didn't book two rooms is because you're pregnant, and I'm worried about any unforeseen circumstances. If I were in another room, I wouldn't be able to What are you to me? know. So... it's just for your safety."

Tina looked up and stared at the person in front of her.

Her anxious heart was calmed by his words.

This man was the one who brought her out of the village, the one who saved her. And for some reason, he gave her a familiar feeling.

Moreover, when this man got off the car, he called her Tina, so... "Do we know each other?"

"What?" Kit was taken aback.

"Do we know each other?" Tina asked.

"You... don't know me?" Kit widened his eyes and looked at Tina.

Tina bit her lip. "I... lost my memory. I don't remember anything from before. Because I was saved by the Drogo family, everyone in the village says I'm Drogo's wife. But... I know, I'm not Drogo's wife at all, and the child in my belly is not his!"

Kit looked at Tina in shock. She lost her memory... she actually lost her memory!

"You don't remember anything from before?" he asked.

"Yeah." Tina nodded. "Every time I try to remember things from before, I get a headache."

"You... are called Tina!" Kit murmured.

Tina, was that her name? Tina wondered to herself. "And what about you? What's your name?"

"I... I'm called Kit," he said.

"Then what relation do you have with me?" Her memory was a blank slate, and right now she seemed like a naive child, asking him.

Chapter 4189 The Biggest Lie of a Lifetime

Kit looked at Tina in front of him. This time, she didn't look at him with disappointment like before. She wasn't distant anymore, no longer like a gust of wind that he couldn't hold onto no matter how much he tried.

On the contrary, she was right in front of him, looking at him with eyes that seemed to be grasping onto a life-saving straw.

Those eyes were filled with him!

"I am... someone who loves you." At this moment, he could finally pour out his love for her so directly and boldly.

She paused for a moment. "You love me?"

"Yes, I love you very much." He whispered, raising his hand to gently stroke her messy hair. "Tina, you are the person I love the most. You don't know, but you pulled me out of the abyss little by little. You made me realize that there can be something pure between people, not just manipulation."

She wouldn't know how he felt when she noticed his efforts and progress on stage, when she looked at him with pure admiration, without the dirty looks he was used to.

"What about me?" Tina asked again.

"You really like me... really really like me..." he said. At least, she used to like him a lot for a while, like a fan liking an idol.

But later, the things he said and did disappointed her, so she no longer liked him, right?

But he didn't say these words. Even if she regains her memory one day, he wanted to preserve some of the beauty at this moment. He wanted her to think that she only liked him and nothing else.

However, Tina's next words made Kit's whole body stiffen.

She said, "So, are you the father of my child?"

Kit's pupils suddenly shrank.

Tina hurriedly said, "Did I... did I get it wrong? I'm sorry! Because I always had a feeling that this child in my belly is very important to me, more important than my own life. So I thought, maybe... you are the father of the baby, since you said I really like you."

Kit stared at Tina, an indescribable feeling filling his whole body.

He should have denied it!

The child in Tina's belly is not his, it's Chandler's! He knows this fact better than anyone else!

Chapter 4189 The Biggest Lie of a Lifetime

3/3

But at this moment, looking into her eyes, those eyes full of trust in him, he hesitated.

His body tensed up, and then he heard his own voice saying, "You... didn't get it wrong."

These few words were almost painfully spoken from his mouth.

He's lying! He's lying! He shouted in his mind, not wanting to deceive her! When he rescued her from those villagers, all he thought about was her safety!

But now, he felt even more greedy!

"You didn't get it wrong, so you..." Tina stammered, looking at the person in front of her.

"I..." Kit's lips parted slightly.

Stop talking, don't say anything else! A voice in his heart screamed, this lie is not something you can bear!

But his voice continued to emerge from his mouth, bit by bit.

"I am the father of the child... I am the father of the child in your belly!"

This was his lie, the biggest lie of his life!

Tina was stunned. She had only blurted it out without thinking, but she never expected that the person who had saved her from the village was actually the father of her baby.

For a moment, she just stared at him, unable to say anything.

Finally, Kit couldn't help but ask, "What's wrong? Are you disappointed because I'm the father of the child?"

He was afraid, afraid of seeing disappointment in her eyes.

He had once seen disappointment in her eyes, and it had made him feel cold all over, as if a pain was spreading through his body. Even breathing became difficult.

And he was so afraid of experiencing that feeling again.

"No!" Tina laughed, a sweet and content smile on her thin face.

Her smile almost mesmerized him.

"I'm happy, really happy that you're the father of our child. You're so much better than I imagined. You have no idea, I even thought maybe the father of the child was in prison or no longer in this world. That's why I ended up alone in the water and eventually ended up in the village," Tina said.

It was obvious that she had let out a sigh of relief.

Chapter 4190 He is a good person.

But Kit murmured, "But how do you know I'm a good person?"

"You saved me, didn't you?" she replied.

“Does saving someone automatically make you a good person?” he countered.

This question seemed to stump her, and Tina thought about it seriously before looking at Kit. “Then are you a bad person?”

It was a straightforward question, just like her character.

Even though she had lost her memory, she was still the same as before – direct and unassuming!

“...No,” Kit said.

But in a way, he was. Because just a moment ago, he had told her a huge lie, making her believe that he was the person she loved!

Tina breathed a sigh of relief. “That’s good, then!”

Then she looked at him curiously. “So, who are you, and how did we meet?”

“I... I used to be a singer. You were my fan,” Kit murmured.

“A singer?” Tina was surprised, not expecting Kit to have such a role. “Did I really like listening to your songs?”

“Yes, you really liked my songs. You bought many of my albums and noticed my efforts, the efforts that no one else had seen. You always encouraged me, supported me! And when I wanted to diversify my career, you even suggested that I try acting in period dramas,” Kit explained.

As he talked about their past, a smile unconsciously appeared on his lips.

Tina listened attentively as Kit recounted their past experiences.

“Did you later film a period drama?” Tina asked curiously.

“Yes, I did,” he replied.

“Can I see it?”

“I finished filming, but it hasn’t been released yet. Once it’s aired, you can watch it,” he explained.

“Can you sing a song for me?” she suddenly wanted to hear him sing!

“Sure,” Kit responded and started singing a cappella.

The beautiful melody, accompanied by Kit’s clear voice, captivated Tina.

Is this Kit’s singing voice? It sounds really good!

Indeed, his voice, just like he said earlier, could make her a fan!

So, was it because of the kind of feelings fans have for their idols that she gradually developed love for him? And even... had a child with him?!

When Kit finished singing a song, Tina was still a bit lost in the moment.

A strange feeling was stirring in her heart, instinctively telling her that she really liked his singing!

"It's really beautiful!" she praised, and when he was singing, it was as if he was radiating light.

If he were to sing on stage, he would surely be even more dazzling!

Is this the person she likes?

It seems natural to start liking someone after liking their songs.

"If you like listening to it, I can sing it to you every day," Kit said.

"Really?" Tina's face brightened.

"Yes, really," he said.

For him, being able to sing to her every day was a blessing!

"But you sing so well, why did you say you used to be a singer, aren't you anymore?" Tina asked, puzzled.