

Ex Convict 4261

Chapter 4261 Proposing a Divorce

Tina stood up and quietly looked at Chandler.

These past couple of days, she had been trying to calm herself at home and think about what had happened between her and him.

She even wondered what state of mind she should be in to face him.

But she hadn't expected to be in such a calm state right now.

He looked a bit worn out, and even seemed a bit lost.

Was it just her imagination?

After all, since she came back, and in those photos and videos from before, he had always been so composed and calm.

"You came at the right time. I have something to tell you," she said. Since he was here, she might as well say it now.

Chandler trembled as if he already anticipated what she was going to say. After a while, he spoke with a trembling voice, "Okay, go ahead."

"I want a divorce," Tina said bluntly. "This marriage is not what I thought it would be. From the very beginning, it was filled with hidden motives. I don't feel any need to hold it together."

Chandler felt his heart sinking.

Although he had suspected that she might make this decision, hearing it from her was like falling into an endless abyss, unable to climb out.

"Is it because of what you heard that night?" he asked with a broken voice.

"It's because from the very beginning, our relationship, including your kindness towards me, had a purpose," Tina explained. "So even if you stand in front of me now and say you love me, I don't know if you truly love me or if it's because of the curse that haunts your family."

He opened his mouth, seemingly wanting to say something, but in the end, nothing came out.

"Of course, I now know that the umbilical cord blood and placenta of the child we would have can save your life, so..." Tina looked at Chandler intensely. "I will have this child, but only through artificial insemination, and after the child is born, custody will be mine."

Chandler was taken aback, looking at her with shocked eyes.

"You want to have the child?"

“Even if we divorce, even if I didn’t like you from the start because of your hidden motives, I don’t actually want to see you die because of a curse. Although the curse seems ridiculous to me, if it’s real, then I will have the child. However, I don’t want the child to know that the reason for their birth is to save you!”

Originally, in her eyes, the birth of a child should be the result of two people’s love, surrounded by anticipation and happiness.

But now, the birth of this child is only to save Chandler’s life,. completely unrelated to love.

She doesn’t want the child to grow up thinking that they are merely a tool to save lives.

Chandler’s hands fell to his sides, his palms still not healed, pierced again by his nails.

So this is what it feels like to be abandoned by her!

She had been by his side all this time, and even when she found out about the curse, she didn’t abandon him. She even agreed to marry him earlier than planned.

But now, it’s different!

Tina now doesn’t love him anymore!

“Is this really what you want?” he asked softly.

Chapter 4262 Tears Flowing Nonstop

“Yes, this is what I want!” Tina said firmly, looking at the person in front of her.

Chandler stiffened, his facial expression turning from pain to numbness.

“If this is truly what you desire, then I agree to the divorce. You can decide when to proceed with the divorce and you can draft the divorce contract. I have no objections,” Chandler said in a low voice.

At this moment, his heart felt as if it had died.

Tina’s intention now is to completely separate herself from Chandler, and having the child is just her inner kindness, not wanting to see him die.

Or perhaps, this child will sever the connection between them!

“Alright,” Tina said. “I’ve said everything I wanted to say. Now, do you have something to say to me?”

His gaze held a sense of emptiness. Originally, he wanted to explain to her, to tell her that although he had ulterior motives at the beginning, they had long disappeared when he fell in love with her. The motives no longer mattered to him!

Say

anymore!

“What I wanted to say is no longer important. So I’m leaving!” Chandler said, looking at Tina with deep affection.

That look made Tina's heart suddenly beat strongly. A wave of sadness unconsciously spread in her chest, and she even subconsciously wanted to hold Chandler's hand, not wanting him to leave!

What is happening to her? Tina suppressed this inexplicable feeling and said to Chandler, "Alright then, I won't see you off."

"Okay..." he replied softly, finally lowering his gaze and walking away.

After Chandler left, Tina's body suddenly became limp, and she sat down heavily in a nearby chair.

She raised her hand, pressing it against her pounding heart.

Why is her heartbeat so intense? It kept throbbing, making her feel incredibly uncomfortable as if a sense of sadness was spreading throughout her body.

And this sadness seemed to be caused by Chandler's final gaze towards her.

Tap!

suddenly froze, staring at the tear that fell onto the back of her hand!

Did she cry?

She lifted her hand and slowly touched her own cheek, her face already covered in tears!

Cried?

It wasn't that she wanted to cry, but it was the instinct of this body to cry!

How much did the previous her love Chandler? Even though she lost her memories, does the instinct of her body still love Chandler?

So, did the previous her know that all of Chandler's goodness towards her was with a purpose?

So, stop crying, stop crying again!

Tina kept telling herself this in her mind, but tears kept falling, they couldn't be stopped!

"Tina!"

When Lina came to her daughter's room after Chandler left, she was startled by her daughter's tear-stained face.

"What's wrong? Why are you crying? Did you have a fight with Chandler?" Lina asked anxiously.

When Chandler left earlier, his face was lifeless, as if he had lost his soul, leaving behind only an empty shell.

And now, her daughter was crying like this again!

What happened between the two of them in the room?

Tina shook her head, but her tears only flowed more fiercely!

Chapter 4263 It Doesn't Matter Anymore

Lina sighed and wiped her daughter's tears.

"If you don't want to say, it's okay. But Mom wants you to be happy. Whatever the problem is, I'm your mother and I will stand by your side!" Lina said.

At this moment, she was her daughter's biggest support.

F

Tina continued to cry while tears streamed down her face. She choked out, "Mom, I don't know why I feel so sad. He already promised to divorce, he didn't say anything hurtful, and he agreed to all my requests. But why am I so sad, I..."

Tina cried and found it hard to catch her breath.

Lina gently patted her daughter's back. "Tina, Mom just hopes that whatever decision you make, you won't regret it!"

Because in this world, there are things that can be regretted!

But some things can't be regretted!

If one day Tina recovers her memories, will she regret the decisions she's made now?

No, even without her memories, Tina might still end up regretting it!

"I..." Tina was at a loss for words.

She didn't know if she would regret it!

All she knew was that she was feeling very sad right now, a pain as if her soul was being torn apart!

Chandler returned to the villa where he and Tina had planned to get married. Many things here were arranged by Tina, and it was filled with her presence.

Divorce?

He thought that finding Tina, knowing that she was still alive, would be the beginning of happiness.

But he never expected that it would be the start of a different kind of pain.

The trust and love they once had had vanished.

The person in front of him, though she was Tina, she was no longer his Tina.

When Tina suggested that they should get along well, he was genuinely happy. He felt that there was hope again.

But that hope shattered so quickly!

Chandler laughed bitterly. Now, he was only going from one

pain to another.

But at least, Tina is still alive.

He had prayed before, that as long as Tina was still alive, he would do anything.

Now, it's just a matter of fulfilling his wish!

Although it's painful, the fact that she's alive brings him. comfort.

T

After a few days, Chandler saw Tina again. He stared at her almost greedily. She looked even more haggard than the last time he saw her. She had just recovered from a serious illness, and now she looked fragile as if a gust of wind could knock her over.

"This is the divorce agreement that my lawyer drafted. You can take a look," Tina took out a divorce agreement and handed it to Chandler.

Chandler took it, but instead of looking at it, he picked up a pen and was about to sign the agreement.

"Wait!" Tina quickly stopped him. "Are you going to sign it just like that?"

"Hmm," he replied softly.

He would give her everything she wanted, whether it was the agreement or anything else!

"But you don't even want to take a look. Aren't you afraid that I might harm you? Aren't you afraid that the terms of the agreement might be unfavorable to you?" Tina asked again.

"It's okay," Chandler said quietly.

Because for him, many things are no longer important!

"Tina, I will give you everything you want," Chandler said softly. He picked up the pen, signed the agreement, and handed it to her!

Chapter 4264 May You Have a Safe and Happy Life

Tina looked at the divorce agreement handed to her and suddenly felt a sense of bewilderment.

Is this really what she wanted?

Is it really okay to divorce Chandler like this?

“So according to the contract, when I am in good health and the doctor considers me fit for pregnancy, we will go to the hospital for artificial insemination...”

Before she could finish her sentence, he interrupted her.

“No need,” Chandler said.

Tina was stunned. She never expected Chandler to say that.

“But you said...”

“Yes, what you heard that day was only part of it. Breaking the curse doesn’t necessarily require the umbilical cord blood and placenta of a child. There are other ways, albeit more difficult. But as you said, the birth of a child should not be solely to save someone’s life. It should be because two people love each other. I don’t want this child to resent me for the reason of its birth, and I don’t want you to have this child for such a reason!”

So there are other methods?

After hearing this, Tina didn’t know whether to feel relieved or not.

But there was a hint of disappointment in her heart!

It was as if the bond between them had diminished!

Oh my God, Tina, what are you thinking! She shouted at herself in her mind.

Isn’t it better this way? Since she chose to divorce him, their bond should be as little as possible!

“Since you put it that way, then I won’t say anything,” Tina said, getting up to leave.

“Tina!” Chandler also stood up. “Wait!”

She turned to look at him. “Is there something else?”

“Can I hug you again?” he asked.

She hesitated for a moment, and he quickly added, “Just a hug. I won’t bother you anymore. Even if I want to visit our daughter, if you don’t want to see me, I can have someone bring Quinn over and then send her back to you at the agreed time.”

His tone was almost humble.

Tina felt her heart become heavy!

If possible, she didn’t want him to speak to her in such a humble tone. It only made her feel uncomfortable.

“Okay!” she agreed and opened her arms willingly. “Just a hug. And even though we’re divorced, if you want to visit our daughter, you can come anytime. I won’t consider it a bother!”

He stared at her and walked up to embrace her!

The person he loved the most!

He had always thought that there would be a good ending between them, but he never expected that their ending would lead to them becoming strangers.

If they didn't have a daughter, maybe in the future, they would truly just be two strangers.

The future...

Thinking about this, Chandler self-mockingly wondered if he even had a future.

But there was no need for Tina to know these thoughts.

All he could do was set Tina free and not let her be trapped in his destiny.

Chandler held Tina tightly, feeling the warmth and breath in his arms, feeling that she was alive!

At least, as long as she was living well, that was the most important thing. Everything else didn't matter.

"Tina, whether you believe it or not, I love you. I wish you a safe and happy life!"

Chapter 4265 Coughing up Blood

After saying these words, he reluctantly let go of her hands. and left behind the divorce agreement that he had signed, turning around and leaving.

Tina stared blankly at the divorce agreement. As long as she had the lawyer take the agreement to the registry office, the divorce procedures could be taken care of on her behalf.

She wouldn't be bound by this marriage anymore!

But why did her heart feel so heavy? Like that day, she couldn't help but want to cry.

But she didn't even understand, why she wanted to cry!

Chandler didn't need her to reluctantly give birth to another child. Wasn't that a good thing for her?

A child shouldn't be born just because of the reason to save a life, they shouldn't be burdened with some kind of fate from the moment they're born!

But the tears couldn't be controlled and fell one by one until her face was soaked with tears...

Chandler returned to the company, and his subordinates approached him to report on work.

However, what surprised his subordinates was that after the report, Mr. Hunter didn't give any instructions as usual. He seemed absent-minded and his face was extremely pale.

"Mr. Hunter?" the subordinate said.

Chandler seemed as if he hadn't heard.

The

"Mr. Hunter?" the subordinate raised his voice slightly.

In the next moment, a mouthful of blood suddenly sprayed out from Chandler's mouth, and his tall body fell straight to the ground.

"Mr. Hunter!" The subordinate was frightened and quickly supported Chandler!

And when Chandler was taken to the hospital, members of the Hunter family rushed to the hospital upon hearing the news.

Looking at her son lying in the hospital bed, his face pale, Adele couldn't help but shed tears.

"What's going on with you? The doctor said your physical condition is very poor and you're burdened by something in your heart, which caused you to cough up blood. What

"I'm fine," Chandler said calmly.

"Is it because of the curse in your body?" Adele continued, "I've been saying that you should quickly have another child with Tina so that you can be saved. Otherwise, if this continues, your health will only deteriorate further! The next time the curse strikes, no matter what, you must go through it with Tina!"

But Chandler said, "I won't be with Tina any more."

Adele was stunned, "What do you mean by that?"

The old Mr. Hunter and Colin also looked at Chandler.

"Tina and I have already divorced!" When Chandler said this, the three members of the Hunter family were shocked.

"What? Divorced? You actually divorced Tina?" Adele couldn't believe it, "Are you trying to kill yourself?"

"Mom, I don't want to bind Tina with marriage!" Chandler said.

"Nonsense!" the old Mr. Hunter said sternly, "Divorce is a matter of life and death for you. The two families had an agreement in the past, and this marriage cannot be ended just by the two of you saying so!"

With that, the old Mr. Hunter turned to his son and said,

“Go to the Stephenson family and inform them that we will pretend we never heard about the divorce. Tina must be with Chandler!”

“Alright,” Colin replied. After all, it concerned his son’s life.

“No one is allowed to go to the Stephenson family, especially not to find Tina!” Chandler struggled to get out of the hospital bed, “This is between Tina and me, none of you should interfere!”

“But what about your own life?” Adele cried.

Chapter 4266 What if she regrets in the future?

“I will survive, I won’t die so easily!” Chandler said.

“You say that so casually, but how will you live if you and Tina don’t have a child soon?” Adele stared at her son with teary eyes.

“We can extract the curse. If we remove the curse from my body, then I can survive,” Chandler said.

Upon hearing Chandler’s words, the three members of the Hunter family’s expressions changed.

Adele said directly, “I forbid you to do this!”

The old Mr. Hunter’s face grew serious.

Colin looked at his son earnestly, “You should know that everyone who has done this in the past, except for one person, died. And the ones who survived had their body completely ruined! From then on...”

“I know!” Chandler said, “I have thought it through! Besides, I have always been lucky. I don’t think I will die!”

Yes, he has always been lucky.

He was able to discover Tina’s existence so early on, be with Tina, and make Tina fall in love with him, and even after learning about the curse, Tina took the initiative to marry him early...

He often thought that his luck was too good!

Later on, Tina disappeared, but eventually, both mother and daughter were safe!

His luck still held.

It’s just that he couldn’t make Tina fall in love with him again in the end.

But as long as Tina lives well, it is already a kind of fulfillment for him!

He thought that his luck was still very good!

Colin sighed, "Do you love Tina that much?"

Chandler said, "I don't want to impose my fate on her. The curse was originally my own business. If I hadn't met her, I probably would have taken a gamble and extracted the curse from my body."

"But the Hunter family saved Tina and her mother's lives! If it weren't for the Hunter family, they would have lost their lives long ago. And now they are doing this. No, I will go to the Stephenson family and reason with them!" Adele said unwillingly.

"Mom!" Chandler shouted, "If you really want me to survive, then don't go looking for Tina any more. She doesn't owe me anything! When she was missing and couldn't be found, I felt that there was no meaning in living. But when she came back, I wanted to live, even until now."

Tina is his motivation to live!

Adele's tears fell even harder, "For one Tina, how much are you going to torment yourself?"

"It has nothing to do with Tina, this is my own choice!" he said.

"You..."

"Enough!" Colin interrupted his wife, his gaze on his son's face, "You know, I have never interfered with your decisions because I always believed that you would make the best choice. Even when you were a child, I let you make your own decisions. But this time, your decision, are you really not going to regret it? If one day, Tina recovers her memory and regrets divorcing you, what will you do?"

"If Tina regrets and still loves me, then I will naturally be with her. But if she never regains her memory and doesn't love me, then this is fine as it is," Chandler said.

"But what if she regrets when you are no longer alive? Have you thought about how she will feel when she recovers her memory and regrets?" Colin said.

Chapter 4267 I Will Survive

Chandler chuckled bitterly, but still firmly said, "Dad, I will survive!"

Colin didn't know how to persuade his son at that moment!

In the end, the old Mr. Hunter sighed, "Such a tragic fate! Well, you can do as you wish!"

"Dad!" Adele shouted, "Are you just going to watch Chandler die?"

"What else can I do? Can I force him to have a child with Tina?" the old Mr. Hunter said.

Adele was taken aback.

"Let's leave it at that for now," said the old Mr. Hunter. "Now that Chandler and Tina are like this, we can only think of other ways to remove the curse from Chandler's body."

Adele and Colin glanced at each other. Adele wanted to say something, but Colin stopped her with his eyes.

After leaving their son's ward, the old Mr. Hunter went back to the Hunter family first. Adele turned to her husband and said, you really agree with Dad's plan? It's so dangerous to try to remove the curse. If it were that easy to succeed, the Hunter family wouldn't have lost so many people before!"

"What else can we do? You know Chandler's personality. Once he makes up his mind, do you think you can change it?" Colin said.

Adele remained silent and didn't say anything for a while. Finally, she said, "Anyway, with such a big matter as their divorce, I still need to talk to the Stephenson family!"

Colin nodded. "That's fine!" This matter indeed required a meeting with the Stephenson family.

Soon, Hadwin and Lina received a call from the Hunter family, saying that they needed to have a serious talk about the divorce of the two children.

It was only at this moment that Hadwin and Lina learned that their daughter had already officially divorced Chandler.

After agreeing on a meeting time with the Hunter family, they came to their daughter's room.

"You and Chandler are divorced?" Hadwin asked.

Tina was taken aback. "He told you?"

"It was Chandler's parents who called, saying that the adults from both families should meet and discuss this matter," Hadwin said.

"Oh." Tina's eyelashes trembled slightly, and she responded.

Divorce? Although she had the divorce agreement signed by Chandler in her hand when she was about to hand it over to the lawyer to proceed with the divorce procedures, an indescribable feeling suddenly spread in her heart.

Uneasiness, fear, and reluctance!

It was as if she couldn't bear to go through with the divorce. Was it because of the lingering emotions in her body? How much did the old her really love him?

If the old her had known that Chandler's kindness towards her was only because their child could remove the curse from him, would she still love Chandler?

Would she still choose to marry him?

She didn't know the answer, but in the end, she kept the divorce agreement in her hand and didn't hand it over.

So strictly speaking, she and Chandler are not officially divorced yet.

But since the Hunter family now thinks they are already divorced, it's fine. Anyway, in a few days, she will proceed with the divorce procedures, and they will be officially divorced then.

"Did his parents say how Chandler is doing now?" Tina couldn't help but ask.

"Chandler is in the hospital," Hadwin said.

Originally, they should have visited Chandler in the hospital, but after learning that their daughter had divorced him, they decided not to go to the hospital temporarily to avoid awkwardness.

Tina was stunned. He's in the hospital?!

Chapter 4268 His Alienation

"Why is he in the hospital? Could it be because of his health..." Tina's mind suddenly flashed with thoughts about the curse of the Hunter family.

Could it be related to that curse?

"The specific situation is not clear yet, but ever since you disappeared, his health has not been good," Lina said.

Speaking of this, she felt a pang of heartache for Chandler.

During that time, she watched the child become increasingly thin, watched him collapse stiffly from exhaustion, and watched him get injections in the hospital. But once he regained consciousness, he would pull out the needles and still want to go find Tina.

How many men in a woman's life would care for her like this?

Meeting him was indeed fortunate!

Tina was stunned. Chandler's health has not been good all along?

But she had no idea about it. When she woke up in the hospital and saw Chandler, he always appeared in a normal state in front of her.

"Alright, Tina, don't think too much. Your dad and I will talk to the Hunter family and discuss the details of your divorce. Since you're already divorced from Chandler, just live your life as you want from now on," Lina said.

Tina felt heavy-hearted.

Can she really live a good life from now on?

Can she live the life she wants?

The next day, Hadwin and Lina went out to meet Chandler's parents, while Tina came to the hospital alone after her parents left.

She couldn't explain her state of mind. Clearly, she wanted to divorce him, to put an end to it.

But why couldn't she help but want to come to the hospital to visit him when she found out he was hospitalized? Wanting to know how his health was?

He seemed fine that day! Why was he hospitalized?

Chandler's ward was the hospital's VIP ward.

Tina walked to the door of the ward, feeling inexplicably anxious.

What should she say when she sees him?

"Tina?" However, a familiar voice suddenly sounded behind her.

Tina turned her head abruptly, and that familiar figure came into view.

The only difference from what she had seen before was that he wasn't wearing a suit at the moment, but a hospital gown. His slightly pale face gave him a touch of fragility.

"You're not in the ward?" It took Tina a while to finally utter a word.

"I went to the attending physician's office to have a talk," Chandler said.

"Is there something wrong with your health? Is it serious?" Tina suddenly became nervous.

Chandler looked at the person in front of him. If it weren't for her insisting on getting a divorce, her current nervousness would have made him misunderstand and think that she liked him!

No misunderstandings, and he must not indulge in his feelings because of this.

Since they were already divorced, his health should no longer concern her, so she didn't need to worry about it, right?" Chandler said.

Tina was taken aback. Chandler's voice sounded distant.

It was the first time she heard him speak to her in such a tone as if there was a great distance between them!

Chapter 4269 Don't Let Him Misunderstand Anymore

"Of course, it's also possible that I misunderstood, and you were just asking casually, not really concerned!" Chandler's voice continued.

"I am genuinely concerned!" Tina blurted out!

After saying this, Tina was stunned. Did she really worry about him? He approached her and treated her well for a reason, and she should hate him, shouldn't she?

Choosing to divorce was also because of this!

But why did she still worry about him?

After hearing Tina's words, Chandler showed a bitter smile. "Tina, don't say these things to me anymore. Since you don't love me, since you don't want to be with me, then don't say things that will make me misunderstand in the future!"

That would only make it harder for him to suppress his feelings for her, and in the end, it would only make them both more miserable!

Tina uncomfortably bit her lip. "I just don't want there to be anything wrong with your health. After all, we have known each other for so many years, and my parents told me that during the time I was missing, you were not in good health because of looking for me."

Chandler said calmly, "Then you can rest assured. There's nothing wrong with my health. I just talked to the attending physician, and I should be discharged tomorrow."

Tina breathed a sigh of relief. If he could be discharged, then everything should be fine.

"Since you're fine, I'll go back now," Tina said.

Just as she turned and walked towards the elevator, she heard Chandler's voice behind her. "Tina, if it's not necessary in the future, don't greet me, don't care about me. Just treat me as a stranger, okay?"

Only if she disregarded him could he have no expectations, and only then could he properly control his emotions and continue to live!

Otherwise, he was afraid he couldn't suppress these feelings and would end up doing something to hurt her!

Tina's body stiffened suddenly. After a while, she replied softly, "Alright, I understand."

When she walked out of the hospital and got into the car, she heard the driver's surprised voice, "Miss Stephenson, why are you crying?"

Tina paused, did I cry?

Did she cry again?

She raised her hand and touched her face, which was already wet with tears!

It turned out that even though she had made up her mind to separate from him, even though she had actually done so, when she heard him speak in such a cold voice, treating him as a stranger, she felt so miserable.

"I'm fine, maybe my emotions have been a bit unstable lately." Tina took a tissue and wiped away the tears on her face.

In a few days, she should give the divorce agreement to the lawyer to handle.

Since Chandler wants her to treat him as a stranger in the future, then it's best for her as well.

Although they still have Quinn between them, as long as he is Quinn's father, it's enough. As for her and Chandler, they can pretend to be friends even after the divorce, but other than that, they are just strangers.

Fortunately, she lost her memory and hasn't truly fallen in love with him, so she only knows the fact that he approached her with a purpose.

This way, even if it hurts, it's limited.

Because she still has time to withdraw her feelings for him!

Chapter 4270 Severing Ties

The parents of the Stephenson family and the Hunter family met at the Hunter family's home.

After all, it was Tina who proposed the divorce and actually went through with it. In this matter, the Stephenson family was always in the wrong, so Hadwin and Lina agreed to hold the meeting here.

However, the atmosphere of the meeting was not very friendly.

Adele angrily said, "Don't forget, when Lina was in difficult labor and saved your lives, how did you promise?"

Lina said, "But when it comes to feelings, they can't be forced. Tina is my daughter, and I know she used to love Chandler very much, but now that she has lost her memory and wants a divorce, as a mother, I don't want to see her suffer, so..."

"So should my son suffer then?" Adele said.

This was about her son's life and death, so at this moment, she had abandoned her usual demeanor as a noblewoman and only appeared as a desperate mother.

"I'm sorry," Lina said.

She also couldn't bear to hurt Chandler.

But all in all, Tina was towards her own daughter.

Even though she knew her daughter was in the wrong this time, she still wanted to do her best to help her.

"Does sorry matter? Do you not know how my son treated your daughter? When Tina went missing, Chandler almost lost his life too, and now, Tina has returned, but Chandler is really..." about to lose his life!

Adele couldn't bring herself to say the last few words, only tears streaming down her face.

Colin quickly patted his wife's shoulder and handed her tissues to wipe away her tears.

"Now that the two children have divorced, and according to the divorce agreement, Quinn will be raised by the Stephenson family, and the Hunter family will only have visitation rights. But Quinn is still a Hunter by name and is currently the only child of the Hunter family, so we hope that when the child is a little older, they can spend one-third of the year living with the Hunter family," Colin said.

Lina hesitated, one-third of the time?

As a mother, if she couldn't see her child for one-third of the time, she would definitely miss them very much.

"Fine!" Hadwin, however, was the first to answer.

Seeing this, Lina didn't speak

"In addition, all the projects that the Stephenson family and the Hunter family were cooperating on will now be handed over to the Hunter family, and the Stephenson family will withdraw from the projects," Colin continued.

The Stephenson family and the Hunter family have naturally had many cooperative projects over the years.

Now that the Stephenson family is completely withdrawing, it is undoubtedly a huge loss for the Stephenson family!

"Fine!" Hadwin answered without hesitation.

"Lastly, the two families will sever all ties, except for Quinn, There will be no more relationship between us, and there will be no business dealings in the future!" Colin said.

This is equivalent to cutting off contact.

Hadwin sighed, knowing that when the Hunter family said such words, the bond between the two families had truly come to an end.

"Okay, we'll do everything as you said!" Hadwin said.

After Hadwin and Lina left, Adele was still not satisfied: "Is that really it? Chandler waited for Tina for so many years, How can the Stephenson family just say 'let's get divorced' like that?"

"What else can we do? They have already divorced, and Chandler agreed to it himself." At this point, between the parents was just to settle the divorce matter!
