

Ex Convict 4301

Chapter 4301 I Don't Need Your Pity

Tina sat in the car blankly, her expression filled with disbelief.

Was she rejected again?

Has Chandler rejected her twice?

Didn't he love her very much? But when she said she loved him, he didn't believe her?!

"Chandler, I'm not sympathizing or pitying you!" Tina turned to him and said.

"If that's not the case, then why did you go from not loving me to loving me in such a short time?"

Chandler said calmly, "Tina, you're not good at lying, so when you said you didn't love me, it was true, right?"

Tina couldn't argue.

At that time, she really thought that way, but it wasn't actually true.

"Then why isn't it the truth when I say I love you now?" Tina asked back.

"Sometimes, people have illusions. Illusions that make you think or love. Just like what you said before, even though you lost your memories, you still like the things you used to like. You used beverages, dishes, and cocktails to prove it. So naturally, you would think that you loved me before and would still love me now."

Chandler paused, his gaze meeting Tina's, "But people are not objects. People are different. Objects are fixed, like the taste of the food you've eaten before, it's still the same taste when you eat it again. But people change, and feelings change. So someone you loved before may not be loved in the future. You just mistakenly thought that you fell in love with me."

"I..."

Tina wanted to retort, but Chandler's finger pressed against her lips, stopping her from continuing.

"Tina, I appreciate you, and I never expected you to plan to save me in this way. But I really don't need it. Since I signed the divorce agreement, it means I've truly decided to let you go. So you don't need to pity me, you don't need to sympathize with me, and you definitely don't need to do these things for me!"

Tina felt her lips burning.

Since losing her memories, this was the first time she clearly understood her own feelings and expressed them!

But then she realized that he no longer believed her!

Even if she argued now, he still wouldn't believe her, right?

What should she do? If it were the old Tina, the Tina who hadn't lost her memories, what would she do?

Just as Tina's mind was in chaos, Chandler's voice sounded again.

"Alright, we're here."

Where were they? Tina suddenly snapped out of her thoughts and realized that the car had already arrived at the entrance of the Stephenson family mansion.

Chandler opened the car door and let Tina get out.

"I won't come in. You've been drinking today, so get some rest early tonight!" After saying that, he got back in the car, and it slowly drove away from the Stephenson family mansion.

Tina stared at the departing car, suddenly feeling a sense of powerlessness.

Meanwhile, inside the car, Chandler's gaze fell on the driver in the front seat. "No matter what you heard just now, you must not say a word about it. Otherwise, you won't have a place to stand in Emerald City."

"Yes!" The driver broke out in a cold sweat and quickly responded.

Chandler turned his head and his gaze fell on the scenery outside the window, which was steadily receding. His hand slowly touched his heart.

He knew very well that she was just being sympathetic, so why was his heart still pounding so intensely?!

Chapter 4302 Because I Love Him

However, what surprised Chandler was that Tina kept appearing in front of him in the following days.

He was a bit at a loss, but she said seriously, "You think it's just sympathy, and I want to know too. The best way to verify it is to spend more time together."

"Tina!" Chandler said, "What's the point of doing this now?"

"Isn't there any point?" Tina looked at him intently. "Do you no longer love me?"

"I..." Chandler paused. Faced with the face he still loved, he couldn't bring himself to say those insincere words. So he could only say, "I will slowly stop loving you. One day, I will be able to let you go."

Suddenly, Tina felt a pain in her chest!

She didn't want him to let her go, not at all. The thought of this man in front of her no longer loving her made her deeply uneasy.

Almost instinctively, she grabbed him, pulled down his collar with force, and then stood on her tiptoes to kiss his lips.

Chandler was stunned. He didn't expect her to suddenly kiss him like this.

KISS ed him with all her focus, feeling the warmth of Chandler's lips.

This kiss made her feel familiar and attached as if they had kissed like this countless times before!

After who knows how long, Tina finally ended the kiss, gasping for breath.

She looked at Chandler and said, "Even if you want to let me go, I won't let you. Chandler, do you really think my feelings for you are just sympathy?"

He pursed his lips tightly and pulled her hand, which was holding onto his collar, apart. "Tina, don't casually say things that you might regret in the future. Do you know what consequences you might face if I don't let you go?"

The longer he was tormented by the parasite, the less rational he would become.

If the parasite in his body couldn't be successfully extracted, he might go crazy. Once his rationality diminished, it would mean that he would become increasingly unable to control himself.

At that time, he might do crazy things driven by his instinctual desires.

Looking at Chandler's serious expression, Tina said, "But I'm not saying these things casually."

"Whether you're saying them casually or not, just stop." He took a step back. "And from now on, don't come to me actively. We should keep some distance."

After speaking, Chandler let his secretary into his office and said, "Help me escort Miss Stephenson out."

The secretary cautiously approached Tina and said, "Miss Stephenson, please."

Tina let out a long breath. There was no need to rush things anyway. "Then I'll go back first." Besides, she could come and find him again tomorrow!

She returned home, where Hadwin and Lina were.

Hadwin looked at his daughter and said, "I heard that you've been going to see Chandler frequently recently?"

"Yes," Tina admitted honestly.

"Since you and Chandler have already separated, then don't..."

Before Hadwin finished speaking, Tina interrupted, "I want to get back together with Chandler."

"What?" Hadwin and Lina were both surprised by her words.

"I want to be with him again because I love him!" Tina said to her parents.

Chapter 4303 The Hunter Family's

Bride

Hadwin stared at his daughter. "Are you serious?"

"Yes, I'm serious." Tina said, "I've realized that I still love Chandler. Even without my memories, I still have those feelings."

Instead of being surprised like her husband, Lina looked at her daughter as if she had expected this.

"What about Chandler? What does he say?"

Tina smiled bitterly. "He doesn't believe that I love him. He just thinks it's sympathy."

Lina sighed. "He's probably scared. He experienced the feeling of gaining and losing once before, so he's afraid of going through it again."

Tina pursed her lips. Now, she regretted why she had insisted on divorcing Chandler so resolutely. If she could have just held off and stayed calm, maybe the situation wouldn't be so bad now.

But on the other hand, she vaguely understood that at that time, she was so angry and eager to divorce him because she loved him.

So she found his betrayal unbearable!

"What do you plan to do in the future?" Hadwin asked.

"I'll probably... keep pursuing him. With time, he will eventually believe that I truly love him," Tina said.

The best way would be to regain her memories. Once her memories were restored, Chandler would probably believe that she loved him.

But memories weren't something that could be restored so easily!

However, when Tina went to find Chandler again, she was informed that Chandler had returned to the Hunter family mansion.

"What?" Tina was stunned. "He went back to the Hunter family?"

"Yes, if Miss Stephenson has any message to convey, I can help pass it on," Chandler's secretary said.

"No need!" Tina said.

He suddenly went back to the Hunter family, could it be to avoid her?

But since he can go back to the Hunter family, then she can go find him!

Tina immediately packed her things and headed to the Hunter family.

After learning about her daughter's plan, Lina originally wanted to go with her, but Hadwin held her back. "Let her go alone. Since she and Chandler haven't divorced, they are still husband and wife. This is their private matter. It's not good for us to interfere."

"But..." Lina still had some concerns.

"The driver will follow her. If anything happens, the driver will report it. Moreover, even though the Hunter family may not be happy with Tina, she hasn't actually divorced Chandler. They wouldn't make things too difficult for him," Hadwin said.

Lina finally agreed to let her daughter go on her own.

However, when Tina arrived at the entrance of the Hunter family, she was stopped by the people from the Hunter family.

"The old Mr. Hunter said, please leave, Miss Stephenson. Your current identity is not suitable for entering the Hunter family estate," the person in front of Tina said.

Tina stared at the person in front of her. It seemed that the people from the Hunter family really didn't like her anymore.

However...

"Shouldn't you be calling me Ms. Hunter? I am still the daughter-in-law of the Hunter family. Since when does the Hunter family not allow their daughter-in-law to enter? Is this

The rule of the Hunter family?" Tina said loudly while taking out a document from her pocket!

It was the marriage certificate!

Suddenly, the Hunter family security guards who were blocking Tina looked at each other in shock.

Chapter 4304 Meeting Again

Ten minutes later, Tina finally entered the Hunter family mansion and arrived at the main hall.

The old Mr. Hunter was sitting in the front, and below him on the left were Colin and Adele.

Tina approached and politely greeted, "Hello, grandfather. Hello, mom and dad!"

After all, they were not divorced, so it was normal to address them this way.

The old Mr. Hunter looked at Tina. "You and Chandler really haven't divorced?"

"No," Tina answered firmly. "If you don't believe it, you can check. It's not something I can fake."

The old Mr. Hunter remained silent, his eyes fixed on Tina as if scrutinizing her words.

Adele spoke up, "Since you haven't divorced, what is the situation between you and Chandler?"

"It was a misunderstanding," Tina said, feeling a little embarrassed.

"Misunderstanding? What kind of misunderstanding?" Adele asked.

"I thought... he didn't love me that much, but now, I believe that he truly loves me, and I also love him. So, I want to reconcile with him," Tina said bluntly.

Not beating around the bush, but openly expressing her feelings.

Adele was taken aback by Tina's words and couldn't respond for a moment. Colin looked at Tina, "Your memory..."

"Hasn't recovered," Tina said, then added, "But it doesn't prevent me from falling in love with him again. After all, Chandler is someone I once loved, so it's not strange for me to fall in love with him again, right?"

The three members of the Hunter family looked at each other, unsure how to react to Tina's words.

Finally, the old Mr. Hunter cleared his throat and coughed a few times. "You truly love Chandler?"

"Yes!" Tina answered with utmost certainty.

The old Mr. Hunter sighed helplessly and asked the servants to leave.

Suddenly, in the main hall, there were only Tina and the three members of the Hunter family.

"You know about the curse of the Chandler's parasite. To lift the curse, you need to have another child with him. Are you willing the old Mr. Hunter stared at Tina.

Facing the old Mr. Hunter's gaze, Tina didn't flinch or hesitate. "I am willing!"

"Are you really willing?" Adele suddenly became excited and rushed to Tina's side.

"He loves me, and I love him. Why wouldn't I be willing to have another child with him to relieve his suffering? Unless..." Tina paused. "Unless he doesn't love me anymore!"

"How could Chandler not love you!" Adele immediately said.

As his own mother, how could she not know!

Unless he doesn't love her, otherwise, loving someone means loving them for a lifetime. During the time Tina was missing, her son almost risked his life.

Tina smiled. "So, I will have a child with him. I will definitely help him lift the curse. Mom, let me see him first, okay?"

"Well..." Adele hesitated and turned to look at the old Mr. Hunter.

The old Mr. Hunter asked, "Does Chandler know about your decision today?"

"Yes, he knows," Tina replied.

"He didn't agree, did he?" the old Mr. Hunter asked again.

Tina smiled awkwardly and said, "No, he rejected me. He thinks I'm pitying him."

"Are you?" the old Mr. Hunter asked.

"Of course not. If I give money to someone, it might be out of pity, but I won't have a child out of pity for anyone!" Tina said firmly.

Chapter 4305 A Difficult Problem

The old Mr. Hunter looked at Tina intently for a while before saying, "Chandler is no longer with the Hunter family."

"What?" Tina was stunned. "Then where is he now?"

"The Quentin family," the old Mr. Hunter said.

Tina's body suddenly stiffened. "How did he end up in the Quentin family..."

Her voice stopped abruptly, and her eyes widened. "He isn't planning to lure out the gu worms right now, is he?"

"That's his plan. I originally wanted him to go to the Quentin family later, but he said that since he had to go sooner or later, he might as well go early," the old Mr. Hunter said.

"Then I'll go to the Quentin family to find him!" Tina said, about to rush out.

"Do you know where the Quentin family is?" the old Mr. Hunter's words made Tina abruptly stop in her tracks.

She really didn't know where the Quentin family was.

The Quentin family was also a member of the Crypt families. Families like these have their mansions built-in hidden places and are not open to the public. Ordinary people would not know where these mansions are located.

Just like the Hunter family's mansion, if it weren't for the engagement between the Stephenson family and the Hunter family, she wouldn't have known.

"Then, Grandpa, why don't you tell me where the Quentin family is?" Tina said. If Chandler can go to the Quentin family, then it means that the old Mr. Hunter should also know where the Quentin family is located.

"I can't tell you," the old Mr. Hunter said, "because I don't know either."

Tina was stunned. "How is that possible..."

"The Quentin family is one of the most mysterious among the Crypt families, so naturally, we only have a rough idea of where their family is located. To enter the Quentin family, you would be injected with an anesthetic and taken inside by the Quentin family's people while you're asleep," the old Mr. Hunter said.

"But aren't you worried that the Quentin family might inject something other than an anesthetic? Being injected with drugs has its risks, and if the Quentin family has malicious intentions, it could be life-threatening,” after all, being injected with drugs carries certain risks, and if the Quentin family has malicious intentions, it could be life-threatening.

“That’s why people from other families won’t want to enter the Quentin family unless absolutely necessary,” the old Mr. Hunter said.

“If you want to enter the Quentin family, you need to get the consent of the Quentin family’s people. If you really love Chandler as you claim, then find a way to enter the Quentin family yourself and stop him,” the old Mr. Hunter said.

Tina frowned and asked, “What if the Quentin family’s people don’t want me to enter?”

“The Quentin family’s people like to trade things and lives. If you have something that interests them, they will naturally let you in,” the old Mr. Hunter said.

“What interests the Quentin family’s people?” Tina asked again.

“That’s something you’ll have to figure out for yourself,” the old Mr. Hunter said.

Tina understood that the old Mr. Hunter couldn’t provide any further help. The way he spoke was actually a test for her, most likely to see if her love for Chandler was genuine.

“I understand. Then I’ll go back first!” Tina said, turning to leave.

Adele watched Tina’s departing figure with unease and looked at the old Mr. Hunter. “Dad, why don’t you just give Tina something that interests the Quentin family so she can enter and persuade Chandler to change his mind?”

After all, no one knows what consequences will arise from luring out the gu worms.

If her son ends up disabled because of this, then she...

Thinking of this, Adele felt an overwhelming heaviness in her heart.

“If she can’t even enter the Quentin family, it means that her feelings for Chandler are not as strong as she claims. Even if I let her in, there still won’t be a result between her and Chandler,” the old Mr. Hunter said in a deep voice.

Chapter 4306 Contact

Adele and Colin looked at each other upon hearing this.

As the daughter-in-law, Adele naturally understood the old Mr. Hunter’s character and knew that when he said something like this, it was already a decision that wouldn’t change.

She understood that the reason the old Mr. Hunter gave Tina this test was because he was afraid that if Tina’s love for Chandler wasn’t firm enough, it might cause Chandler further harm.

But in comparison to the danger of Chandler luring out the gu worms, Adele naturally hoped that Tina could have a second child with her son to relieve his suffering.

At this moment, all she wished for was that Tina's love for her son was truly as Tina claimed.

After returning from the Hunter family, Tina did not go directly back to the Stephenson family. Instead, she came to the Hart family and went straight to find Harley.

"Can you help me make an appointment with Lornell? I have something to discuss with him," Tina said.

"What do you want to discuss with Lornell?" Harley asked, puzzled.

Tina didn't hide anything on this matter. "Chandler went to the Quentin family, but outsiders can't enter the Quentin family. If I want to enter the Quentin family, I have to find someone from the Quentin family and ask."

Harley was taken aback. "Chandler went to the Quentin family? What is he doing there?"

Tina remained silent.

Having grown up in the Hart family, Harley understood that it wasn't something to be taken lightly that Chandler was entering the Quentin family.

"Okay, I'll contact Lornell," Harley said immediately.

Tina was taken aback by his prompt response. "Don't you mind that I didn't tell you the reason?"

"Since the reason is inconvenient to disclose, it's fine that you didn't tell me. If you want to enter the Quentin family, I'll help you," Harley smiled.

"You..." Tina's face showed shock.

Harley said, "Tina, don't be surprised. Actually, we had a good relationship before you lost your memory. You just forgot some things. It's normal for me to help you."

"Thank you," Tina sincerely thanked him.

"I also hope that you and Chandler can reconcile. Although I'm not sure what happened, I can sense that you want to go to the Quentin family to be with Chandler, right?" Harley said.

Tina looked at him in surprise. He had already guessed it.

"Yes!" Tina said while asking Harley, "What about you? Have you entered the Quentin family?"

Harley shook his head. "No, the Quentin family is not something you can just enter. Lornell and I are only engaged, not married yet, so I don't have the qualification to enter the Quentin family."

Tina was a little surprised. "I didn't expect the Quentin family to be stricter than the Hunter family. I thought you could enter since you're already Lornell's fiancé."

After all, when she was Chandler's fiancée, she had already been to the Hunter family!

But because of her memory loss, this was what she learned from her parents.

Harley's expression darkened. Yes, even though she was Lornell's fiancée, she still couldn't enter the Quentin family.

In the Quentin family, no one would look highly upon her as the fiancée. Everyone knew that she had a marriage contract with Lornell only because he was kind and wanted to save her life!

Tina realized that she shouldn't have said that. She hastily said, "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to say those things, I..."

"It's okay!"-Harley smiled lightly. "Let me contact Lornell!"

Chapter 4307 Conditions of the Quentin Family

Harley contacted Lornell. "Lornell, is Chandler currently in the Quentin family? Tina wants to go find Chandler."

"Do you still not know the rules of the Quentin family? It's not. something anyone can enter," Lornell's cold voice came from the other end of the phone.

Harley shrank back. "I know, so Tina wants to meet you first. Can you meet her?"

There was a moment of silence on the other end of the phone before Lornell said, "Alright, tomorrow then. I'll send you the address later."

"Okay." Harley breathed a sigh of relief. She was really afraid that he would refuse.

After all, he wasn't someone who enjoyed socializing, and his relationship with Tina used to be average. His relationship with Chandler was a good one.

After Chandler and Tina separated, Lornell's attitude towards. Tina naturally became average as well.

Harley said to Tina, "Tina and Lornell agreed to meet tomorrow. I'll go with you then."

Thank you!

The next day, Harley took Tina to the meeting place agreed upon with Lornell.

It was a high-end club, and Lornell was already waiting for Tina in a private room.

"This club belongs to the Quentin family, so what we say here shouldn't be heard outside," Lornell looked at Tina and said, "Of course, today I'm meeting you because of Chandler!"

"I want to go to the Quentin family to find Chandler," Tina said directly.

"Only those who have something that the Quentin family wants can enter the Quentin family. Do you have something that would interest them?" Lornell looked at Tina.

Tina said, "The Stephenson family's assets. If there's anything that interests the Quentin family, I can bring it up."

She had already discussed this with her parents before meeting Lornell.

Her father had said, "If all the Quentin family wants is money, then the Stephenson family can provide it. It doesn't matter how much. But if they want something else, then it's difficult. We may not be able to obtain what the Quentin family likes in a short period."

With the phrase that her father was willing to sacrifice for her. The Stephenson family's assets were built by her father's hard work.

Now, he was willing to give them away without counting the cost, all for her sake!

However, Tina's words didn't seem to elicit any reaction from Lornell.

"The Quentin family never wants money. If they wanted money, they could easily obtain it," Lornell said.

Tina fell silent. Indeed, the Quentin family had excellent medical skills.

No matter how wealthy someone was, they would still be tormented by illness and would seek help from the Quentin family. The Quentin family naturally didn't lack money.

"Lornell, can't you make an exception?" Harley couldn't help but plead.

Lornell raised his eyes and looked at Harley with a smile that wasn't really a smile. "You want me to make an exception?"

Harley was taken aback. At this moment, his expression seemed as if he thought she had just said a joke as if he was asking her why he should make an exception.

Harley's eyes dimmed. Yeah, why should she? Did she really think that her plea would have any effect?

She wasn't someone he liked to begin with, so naturally, she didn't hold much significance in his heart.

At that moment, Tina spoke up, "Harley, could you please step aside for a moment? I would like to have a private conversation with Mr. Quentin."

Chapter 4308 Conditions of the Deal

"Alright," Harley responded, then left the private room.

Lornell looked at Tina and said, "Tina, what do you want to talk to me about? Let me make it clear, I cannot break the rules of the Quentin family. Besides, we don't really have any relationship between us, do we?"

Tina looked at the indifferent face of Lornell. She had heard her father comment about the Quentin family before, saying that they were all cold-hearted.

Perhaps it was because the Quentin family members were already accustomed to life and death, and they were all absorbed in improving their medical skills, which made them even more ruthless than ordinary people.

For the Quentin family, studying medicine has never been about helping others, but merely about pursuing the pinnacle of medical knowledge.

When it comes to saving lives, the Quentin family doesn't save just anyone; they only choose to save those they want to save.

Even if a patient is pitiful and begs desperately, the Quentin family won't be moved an inch if they don't want to save them.

That's why it was so rare for Lornell to take the initiative to save Harley's life at such a young age, especially for someone from the Quentin family.

It made Tina think that maybe Lornell wasn't as heartless as the Quentin family members.

Taking a deep breath, Tina said, "You know about the Chandler curse, right?"

"Yes," Lornell replied calmly.

"So, do you know how to break the curse of the insect?" Tina asked again.

"What?" Lornell was taken aback.

Seeing his expression, she knew that he probably didn't know.

"The parasites in Chandler's body will find people they are attracted to. Of course, that person is not specific and may not even be encountered in a lifetime. But if they do meet, the parasites in Chandler's body will react, and at that time, it will be known who that person is," Tina explained. "Back then, when my mother was pregnant with me, Chandler met my mother and sensed that she was the person who could cure the parasites. So when my mother had a difficult childbirth, the Hunter family intervened and arranged for me to be engaged to Chandler."

On Lornell's usually indifferent face, a rare expression of shock appeared.

'So you have an engagement because of the parasite
asked.

"Yes," she replied.

"Then what is the method to cure the parasites?" he stared at her.

"I can tell you the method to remove the curse, and even provide support after I remove the curse from Chandler, to facilitate the Quentin family's research. But you must allow me to enter the Quentin family and help me remove the curse from Chandler," Tina laid out her conditions.

Lornell listened to the conditions Tina proposed and found them quite unexpected. He hadn't thought that Tina would propose such conditions.

"I can let you enter the Quentin family, but if you can remove the curse, why do you need my help?" Lornell asked in response.

A hint of embarrassment flashed across Tina's face. "To remove the curse, I need to give birth to a child with him and use the umbilical cord blood and placenta. The Quentin family should have good means to ensure a successful pregnancy."

Lornell raised an eyebrow. Was she asking the Quentin family for help in ensuring a successful pregnancy?

"And also..." Tina's expression became even more embarrassed. "Having a child is something that requires two people to accomplish. If Chandler is not willing, you have to help me convince him."

"What do you mean?" Lornell frowned.

"You Quentin family must have some kind of drug to make Chandler have a sexual relationship with me. But it has to be guaranteed that using that kind of drug won't have any effect on the child when I get pregnant," Tina said.

Chapter 4309 Promise

Lornell didn't expect Tina to say such words directly.

His lips twitched, "I do have such medicine, but are you sure you really want to use it on Chandler? If he doesn't want it and you force him to take it, aren't you afraid he will be angry afterward?"

"Being angry is still better than the parasite continuing to threaten his life," Tina said. As long as she could solve the hidden dangers of the parasite and prevent him from experiencing the pain she had seen before.

If he gets angry, she can bear it.

Lornell suddenly chuckled, "You said that really made me think you've regained your memory. It feels like you're in love with Chandler or something."

"I do love him!" Tina confessed.

Lornell's eyes flickered, "If you love him, then why do you want to divorce him?"

"We haven't divorced yet, so I'm still his wife!" Tina corrected.

Lornell was taken aback, "Not divorced? But..."

"We did sign a divorce agreement, but I didn't go through with the procedures, so legally, said.

"If that's the case, then why did you sign a divorce agreement with Chandler? Is it some kind of game for you?" Lornell said coldly.

A touch of sadness flashed in Tina's eyes, "I guess it's because I realized my true feelings too late."

At this point, Tina's gaze fell directly on the other person, "And what about you? Do you understand your own heart?"

Lornell raised an eyebrow slightly, "What, are you planning to meddle in my affairs?"

"I heard a rumor that you got engaged to Harley because you saw my relationship with Chandler and wanted to experience what it's like to have a fiancé."

"That's true," Lornell admitted openly.

"So, do you love Harley?" Tina asked. "The relationship of being engaged isn't always permanent. It will eventually change, either by breaking up or getting married. Have you thought about where you and Harley are headed?"

Lornell squinted his eyes. "You don't need to worry about that."

Tina sighed, knowing she had no right to be concerned. "I just don't want you to end up in a situation like mine because you didn't truly understand your own feelings."

Lornell chuckled lightly, saying, "I'm not as foolish as you. The Quentin family never does anything they'll regret."

"Is that so? I hope it's true," Tina said.

"I can promise you entry into the Quentin family, and if you need it, I can provide you with the medicine you want. But after the matter is settled, the Quentin family will want your cooperation in researching curse bugs," Lornell concluded.

"Alright," Tina responded.

"Then three days from now, I'll take you to the Quentin family. I'll come to the Stephenson family to pick you up," Lornell said.

"So it's settled then!" Tina stood up and left the private room.

Outside the private room, Harley was waiting.

This surprised Tina a bit. She thought Harley would either rest in another private room at the club or go have some snacks.

"Tina, did you talk it out?" Harley asked with concern.

"Yes, in three days, I can go to the Quentin family," Tina said.

"That's great!" Harley genuinely felt happy for Tina. "Then you can see Chandler soon. Regardless, I hope you and Chandler can reconcile and be as close as before!"

Chapter 4310 Falling from the Clouds

"Thank you," Tina said. "Harley, I hope you can truly understand your own feelings and not end up like me, realizing afterward what you truly want and missing out on something."

Harley smiled, but there was a hint of sadness in her eyes. "Yeah, I will."

She understood that Tina said these words because she had noticed Lornell's indifference towards her before.

Although they were clearly engaged, no one outside knew about their relationship.

And even though later on, he introduced her to his medical school classmates and informed them of her status as his fiancée.

However, he only used her as a shield, making it easier for those girls who liked him to give up.

Perhaps it was he who proposed the engagement in the first place, so he never showed any signs of wanting to back out.

But she also knew very well that he had never truly liked or loved her.

foolishly put her feelings into it, without getting any response in return.

What does she really want, then?

After going in circles for a while, Tina still hasn't regained her memory, but she knows clearly that what she wants is Chandler's affection.

So what about her? Does she want Lornell's affection?

After Tina left, Harley walked into the private room and saw Lornell making a phone call.

It must be to someone from the Quentin family. Harley sat quietly beside him, not saying a word.

After a while, Lornell finished the call. Harley looked at him and said, "You promised Tina to take her to the Quentin family. Thank you."

"Why do you want to thank me?" he asked, "I agreed to Tina's proposal because the terms of the deal were very favorable, and the Quentin family had no reason to refuse."

Harley pursed her lips, "Does the Quentin family always have to calculate everything in terms of trades?"

"What's wrong with that?" he asked in return.

"And what about you? Do you also trade in everything?" she asked again..

He squinted his eyes slightly, "What exactly are you trying to say?"

"Do you have even a little bit of liking for me? Do you have even a tiny bit of feelings for me?" Harley couldn't help but ask.

Perhaps it was Tina's bravery in wanting to enter the Quentin family that influenced her, so now she finally asked the question. she had been wanting to ask!

Lornell stared at Harley, "Why, do you think I am a cold-hearted person?"

"I didn't feel that way." She bit her lip slightly and said.

"If I didn't like you and have any feelings for you, I wouldn't have saved you back then," Lornell said.

"People from the Quentin family may be used to life and death situations, and they may be a little colder than ordinary people, but it's not that extreme."

Harley's attention was focused on the first half of his sentence: "You like me? Have feelings for me?"

"Over time, people develop some feelings for their pets, let alone you, who can be quite amusing at times. However, you've grown up now and aren't as entertaining as you were when you were young,"

Lornell said casually, then stood up. "Alright, today's business is almost done. Should I take you home or back to school?"
