

Ex-Wife 1887

Chapter 1887

Tiffany watched Madelyn with teary eyes, then said carefully, " Mommy, I love you.

I've always loved you.

I've never been mad at you...

and I've wronged my brother.

Can you forgive me?" She was just a child, but she understood Madelyn's mood swings and feelings toward her.

She did not blame Madelyn, and instead, held on by recalling how nicely Madelyn had treated her before.

If Madelyn called her, Tiffany would rush over without hesitation regardless of how much Madelyn had hurt her.

"No, I should be the one apologizing..." Madelyn admitted finally.

"I wasn't good enough.

I made you feel insecure, so you were anxious about the arrival of your brother.

I wasn't good enough, so your daddy had no confidence that I would treat you well." "It's okay." Madelyn's words moved Tiffany to tears, and the little girl threw herself into Madelyn's arms. "I'll always be your daughter as long as you want me to.

I see you as my biological mother!" "Thank you for forgiving me.

I hope this realization of mine hasn't come too late." Madelyn hugged Tiffany and cried until her eyes turned puffy.

At that moment, the mother and daughter who had once loved each other finally made peace.

"How touching." Adie's eyes were glossy with unshed tears as he thought about Renee and Stefan.

He shouldn't have made such a fuss.

There was probably a reason why Renee hadn't come to look for him immediately.

"Madam, let's go back.

I miss my daddy and mommy too," Adie sobbed as he looked at his surroundings.

He wondered if his parents missed him.

"T can't go back..." Madelyn let go of Tiffany and laughed bitterly.

"I made such a big fuss that there's no way your parents will let me go, and Tiffany's father will surely leave me.

The yacht has an automatic driving mode, and you're smart enough to learn how to use it.

Just go with Tiffany...

I'll stay here." "No, we can't do that." Adie shook his head.

"We'll leave together.

There's no way you can live on this island.

Tiffany finally made peace with you, and I don't want to see her lose her mommy' "You're a smart boy i'm sure you realized that there was no way out for me the moment I kidnapped you both.

Don't worry about me, I don't want to go back either Madelyn had already made up her mind that she would leave this world and end her pain.

Before this, she had wanted to take Tiffany with her but now she but e to leave now decided to leave on her own...

"Don't worry about that.

My parents won't punish you -I'll make sure of it," Adie patted his chest Ne and said confidently.

At that moment, a strong gust of wind hit the island, creating huge waves.

The trees on the island swayed back and forth, looking like they were going to collapse.

"Oh no, it looks like a hurricane is coming...

We have to leave!" Adie said anxiously.
