

Ex-Wife 1910

Chapter 1910

Renee, however, had no idea who Tiffany's father was. She only knew her mother, who had kidnapped Tiffany and Adie, and unfortunately, she had died in the cave. Since Renee couldn't contact Tiffany's guardians, she had to take care of Tiffany temporarily. She led Tiffany to sit on the bench in the corridor, then held the little girl's hand and asked patiently, "Tiffany, tell me who your daddy is. Do you remember his contact number?"

Tiffany didn't say anything, but her gaze grew colder as she looked at Renee.

Renee knew that Tiffany resented her because she thought her hesitation indirectly killed Madelyn. She hadn't been able to save Madelyn in time, so she felt responsible for Tiffany and saw her as a daughter. "I know that you're mad at me... so let me apologize. I should have been more decisive back then. If I rushed in there and dragged your mother out, she might still be alive... I'm so sorry," Renee sobbed, her head hung in grief.

Once Quinton had finished getting Adie settled in his ward, he immediately went to search for Renee. "How's the girl?" Quinton asked carefully when he saw Renee hunched over, looking miserable.

"She's fine except for her mental state..." Renee heaved a long sigh and looked at Tiffany sadly. "She hasn't spoken a word since we got back, and I can't get in touch with her parents. The doctor told me she might become autistic if this goes on."

"Isn't she Adie's classmate? Why don't you ask the kindergarten teachers? I'm sure they have all the parents' contact numbers, Quinton reminded her.

"Oh, why didn't I think of that?" Renee's eyes lit up, and she quickly took out her phone and searched for the kindergarten teacher's number. She called the teacher and asked about Tiffany's condition, and after a while, her expression became even more miserable.

The teacher said sympathetically. "Tiffany is a very pitiful child. Her mother died from a difficult birth while giving birth to her, but luckily, her stepmother was kind to her and took good care of Tiffany. She saw Tiffany as her daughter back then, but in the past two years... something changed. She ignores Tiffany and doesn't care even if Tiffany gets bullied in kindergarten. Because of it, Tiffany has become very reserved and quiet. She's actually a very kind girl. Although her stepmother wasn't nice to her, she loved her stepmother very much. If the kids have to make any handicrafts in class, she'll always make them for her stepmother. She's tried everything to please her stepmother..."

"I can tell that she loves her stepmother very much." Renee held the phone and looked at Tiffany gently, then added, "She got into an accident and is in the hospital now. I can't... get in touch with her mother. Do you have the contact number of her father or other family members? She has to be hospitalized immediately."

"Tiffany's been hospitalized?" The teacher sounded worried and hurriedly said, "Okay, I'll contact her father now and ask him to meet you at the hospital!"

"Okay, thank you, Miss." Renee hung up and gently touched Tiffany's head. "Your daddy will be here soon, Tiffany. Let's wait for him together."
