

Journey of the Fate Destroying Emperor #Chapter 2: Reincarnation - Read Journey of the Fate Destroying Emperor Chapter 2: Reincarnation

While the whole world and government of different countries were trying to find the cause of this phenomena and how to properly deal with it, something incredible happened to Wang Wei. As soon as his intuition took effect, he got up and ran outside. Unfortunately for him, before he got far, a space crack suddenly appeared and swallowed him.

Afterward, Wang Wei found himself travelling in a vacuum-like environment--except that there was no planet or stars around him. The only thing around him was darkness. Sadly for him, it did not take long before his body was destroyed. The only thing remaining of his existence was a milky white cloud like substance that he assumed to be his soul.

"Danm, I'm in big trouble this time," he proclaimed. "I have to find a way out of this situation or I will definitely die."

Many negative emotions were going through his head. But he forced himself to calm down. He focused his attention around while ignoring the fact that his soul was slowly dying out. He soon noticed a bunch of blue light spots scattered around in the void; they shined like stars in the night, yet strangely, if you did not focus on them, you could not notice them.

"No time to think now. This may be my only chance."

He moved his already fading soul to the nearest spot. As soon as he touched the light spot, it was immediately absorbed by him. He discovered that these blue light spots could stabilize his dying soul. Afterward, he moved his soul and absorbed as many of the blue spots as possible. Wang Wei did not notice that as he absorbed more and more blue spots, his soul started to turn purple. All he cared about was how to save his life.

During his travel, he lost his perception of time: he felt that eons had passed, at the same time, he felt that only a few seconds had passed. Wang Wei didn't know how long he took, but he suddenly found a very bright light in front of him and he rushed into it.

Myriad Emperor World, Central Continent, Dao Opening Sect.

A man dressed in a white ancient gown laced with golden thread stood in front of a room. There were many other people standing behind him, indicating that this man had a great status. Although he looked calm on the surface, you could see the worry in his eyes.

At the same time, if you look at close at him, you could feel a supreme sword intent that could sunder the heaven itself. His name was Wang Tian, the Sect Master of the Dao Opening Sect. The people behind were the Great Elders, Elders, and Deacons of the sect.

Each of these people had a tremendously high status in the world and a single word from them could affect the lives of billions of people. However, they all stood in front of a house, not daring to make a sound.

The reason for that is that today, the Sect Madam will give birth. They all had a look of expectation in their faces and a look of worry.

During this stressful time, many people were watching and waiting for the birth of this son. A great deal of expectations were placed onto this unborn child. Many powerful Divine Senses were secretly observing this delivery to ensure that no mistake will take place.

However, despite all the commotion, despite that all the powerful cultivators of the sects who were spying on this room, no one noticed a shadow standing in the delivery room looking weirdly at the just born Wang Wei and his mother.

The shadow blended with the world, and yet was still separate from it. It stood there waiting for something. As for what he was waiting for, only he himself knew.

The people outside did not have to wait long when something unexpected happened. The moment the baby was born, a great pressure of the soul swept throughout the whole world.

The feeling was like a supreme emperor looking at them: they felt like ants looking at the might of Heaven. The feeling only lasted for a few breaths, but had a lasting effect on the whole world. Many powerful cultivators felt that supreme breath and looked in the direction of the Dao Opening Sect.

Soon afterward, a vision soon enveloped the entire Central Continent. The vision involves many auspicious beasts such as dragons, phoenixes, and Qilin hovering around. They seemed to be celebrating the arrival of this baby. Then there were many Sages and Supreme Beings paying their respect: they displayed the utmost respect to the being superior to them. Then myriad races appeared and kowtowed to the baby.

All these visions were accompanied by Heavenly Music that sooth the soul and countless purple clouds.

This vision shocked the many forces in the Myriad Emperor World. They only had one thought in their mind: a True Heaven Chosen has appeared in the Dao Opening Sect. The majority of people were not happy about this.

The Dao Opening Sect was very powerful, but they had not produced a new Great Emperor for millions of years. In this generation, they did not even have a proper Heaven Chosen that could compete for the Heaven Will, but now, things have changed.

The two most worried groups after seeing this are the Emperor Enlightenment Academy and the Heaven Mystery Pavilion. The former was the direct competitor of the Dao Opening Sect, while the latter was having some trouble at this moment.

Somewhere in the Heaven Mystery Pavilion, the moment the visions appeared, an old man opened his eyes in shock and confusion. He looked in a certain direction and used his finger to calculate the secrets of heaven. He wanted to know why there was an anomaly in his prediction.

According to his calculation, the Dao Opening Sect should not be a major competitor for the Heaven Will this generation.

As he was calculating, a mysterious aura appeared around him. Then a river appeared behind: This was the famous River of Fate. As the old man--known as Old Chu--started calculating, he suddenly opened his eyes in horror and spit out a mouthful of blood, his body began to dry up and he turned so skinny that you could not tell the difference between his skin and his bones.

The sky in the Heaven Mystery Pavilion turned turbulent, which alarmed all the disciples and elders of the sect. When the Pavilion Master found the old man, he was shocked and said: "Supreme Elder Chu, what happened? What's wrong with you?"

"The Secrets of Heaven are in chaos and have been hidden. In this Supreme Era of Resurgence, the impossible will become possible."

After saying this, Old Chu passed out. The Pavilion Master and Elders of the Heaven Mystery Pavilion were greatly surprised. The Supreme Elder Chu was currently one of the best cultivators good at divination that was active, but he suffered from such serious backlash.

Soon afterward, news of the incident that happened in the Heaven Mystery Pavilion was spread throughout the world. Everyone knew that an undercurrent was going on. This generation's fight for the Heaven Will will be full of ups and down: it will not be as simple as past ones.

Meanwhile, in the Dao Opening Sect, Wang Wei opened his eyes and soon realized that he was a baby.

Meanwhile, the moment that the shadow was waiting for arrived, and a look of anticipation could be seen in his face--of course that is if anyone could actually see him.

The birth of Wang Wei had far greater impact than imagined.

In a higher dimension where the Myriad Emperor Word was located, there is no void or stars, or the concept of the universe known to Wang Wei's previous life:

There is only Chaos: the beginning and end of everything. Chaos gave birth to every living and non-living thing, and every living and nonliving thing will one day return to chaos.

In the endless chaos, there are many powerful worlds. Each powerful world has a lower dimension full of smaller worlds that provide them resources: mainly powerful cultivators.

The Chaos World associated with Myriad Emperor World is known as the Eternal Ascension World. Even among the countless Chaos World, The Eternal Ascension World is one if not the most powerful world.

In this powerful world, there are countless powerful cultivators whose breath alone is enough to completely destroy the Myriad Emperor World. However, Heavenly Dao prevents higher dimension creatures from going to the lower level: at best, they could send a projection if they are strong enough.

And among these cultivators, there are nine who stood at the apex and ruled the entire world. Their words are absolute law and anyone who disobeys or tries to reach their level will be destroyed without any hesitation. As such, fighting and competition between them is usually fierce. Well, to be exact, the competition between seven of the nine are as such.

The last two are different. Their power has reached a higher level than the other two and most mundane things are of no interest to them. However, they still try to keep the balance of power of this world.

Usually the Eternal Ascension World is quite peaceful, but today, seven powerful auras swept around the entire world at the same time. Even worse, soon the other 2 more powerful auras also woke up. Everyone wanted to know what awakening these 9 powerful bosses--especially the last two.

Of course if they know that it was because a just born baby, everyone would be shocked and would never believed such an absurd thing.

The moment Wang Wei was born, these powerful people begin to communicate with one another.

"Have you felt it," said an ethereal voice.

"Yes, someone's soul has reached the Paragon level and may break through to our realm at any moment," responded a beautiful and melodious voice.

"We must find the person and kill it in the bud before he rises," said another rough voice full of killing intent.

After this short conversation, nine powerful Divine Consciousness swept the entire Eternal Ascension World searching for something. After not finding anything, they did not give up, but used more magical means. They look through every space or dimension in this world--even those that were created by other cultivators.

Afterward, they look through time and space, the past and present. They look at different time lines and future parallel universes. After not finding anything, they look at the Destiny and Luck of every living being to see which one has the closest fate of being a Paragon.

However, their search seemed to be in vain.

After not finding anything after using so much of their power, the nine powerful beings were furious and used more aggressive means.

They looked at the karma of all living things, and even went as far as to look through Samsara to make sure that this person was not using the power of reincarnation to cover his track.

The lower level cultivators felt dreadful. They felt an invisible eye that could see through everything about them: their bodies, soul, spirit, mind,, past life, and even their future death. The feeling of having your life in someone else's hand was quite terrible and horrifying.

Unfortunately, despite all the commotions, nothing was found.

Actually there is a reason that Wang Wei was not found. These people did not believe that the lower dimension could give birth to such a powerful soul, so they subconsciously neglected this part.

Soon, the incident escalated beyond controlled.

A huge eye suddenly appears on top of the Eternal Ascension World. The first impression that comes to mind when seeing this eye is that it is mighty and indifferent; you could not see a single trace of emotion in this eye.

"Eye of Heavenly Dao!" exclaimed one of the nine rulers.

The moment this eye appeared, these rulers knew that things were more serious than just competition for right and resources. They could not get involved in things concerning Heavenly Dao--of course, this did not apply to the most two powerful rulers.

The moment the Eye Of Heavenly Dao appears, these two rulers know that something of great importance must have happened. So, they began to calculate Heaven Secrets to deduce the cause and effect of this event.

The reason that Heavenly Dao appears is because he detected a foreign soul invading the world. In fact, such an act often happens in a big world like the Eternal Ascension World, but usually, these foreign souls are weak and would be soon assimilated and become "permanent residents" of this world.

As for the powerful ones, they will be blocked outside the world or completely obliterated after entering Reincarnation.

Now, the Eye of Heavenly Dao notices a soul that managed to bypass its defense, and said soul has the potential to completely alter the fate and fundamental order of this world.

As the Supreme Ruler in this world, Heavenly Dao has no emotion and no desire. It is only a powerful consciousness whose sole purpose is to maintain the rules and order that makes the world function.

As such, this foreign soul or Wang Wei, must be eradicated.

The appearance of the Eye of Heavenly Dao brought a great catastrophe to Wang Wei without him even realizing it. Of course, even if he realizes the seriousness of the problem, there is absolutely nothing he could do about it now.

After all, he is just a baby now. Even if he has a powerful soul, he could not use it. In fact, it would take him a very long time for him to truly realize how powerful his soul actually is.

The Eye of Heavenly Dao is more powerful and thorough than these nine rulers. After checking the Eternal Ascension World, he begins to check the lower dimension.

The lower dimension is boundless and complicated. There are countless worlds, and these worlds are also divided from low to high into: Small Thousand World, Medium Thousand World, Great Thousand World, and Heaven Will World.

These classifications are based on the amount spiritual energy contains on these worlds, the amount of resources, the size and the highest level of cultivation that people can reach.

The lower the world, the more there are in quantity. For example there are more than ten millions smaller thousand worlds, less than a million medium thousand worlds, 100,000 or more greater thousand worlds.

As for Heaven Will World, there are no more than a few hundreds of them.

The Eye of Heavenly Dao took a while to scan all the small, medium, and great thousand worlds. Soon, it will be the turn of the Heaven Will Worlds--which is the category that Myriad Emperor World belongs to.

A great danger is quickly approaching our protagonist. How will he survive this great catastrophe? Will his journey end before even beginning? And what is the purpose of this shadow that seemed to have anticipated all of these? Is he a friend or an enemy?