Du Juan glanced at Xue An a few times, then turned her head in disgust and cooed, "Mr. Lin, it's all such old news, let's not bring it up, his heart only has room for you now!"

Lin Feng let out a cold chuckle, feeling immensely pleased.

Back when they were in school, he had always found Xue An disagreeable.

Although Xue An came from a modest background back then, he was handsome and many girls liked him, which made Lin Feng extremely jealous.

Now, seeing Xue An in such a sorry state, he naturally felt very comfortable.

"Pa-pa, that auntie is so ugly," said Xue Xiang suddenly.

Du Juan's face turned purple with fury.

Xue An smiled slightly and bent down to pick up his two daughters, "Some people are just ugly, we don't have to look at her!"

"Xue, what do you mean by that? And who are these two wild brats?" snapped Du Juan, enraged and embarrassed.

Xue An suddenly stopped in his tracks, his eyes narrowed as he stared at Du Juan.

Du Juan, previously full of bluster, found herself frozen under Xue An's gaze, unable to move.

"Pa-pa," the call from Xue Xiang brought Xue An back to his senses.

He had indeed harbored a murderous intent just now.

Someone who dared to insult his daughters was someone he could not let go.

But it would be too ostentatious to act on such an impulse in public.

Xue An gave the petrified Du Juan one last indifferent look and turned to leave.

It was only when Lin Feng approached that he discovered Du Juan had wet herself from fear.

Meanwhile, as Xue An was leaving, others not far away had also taken notice of him.

It was three people—one was a white-haired old man, another was a pure and graceful girl, and then there was a brawny, black-clothed bodyguard.

“What a strong aura! This young man is no ordinary individual!” the elder exclaimed.

“Grandpa, are you talking about that man holding the kids? I don’t think he’s all that,” the girl said with disdain.

If anyone else had been there, they would have exclaimed in surprise.

For this old man was none other than Qin Yuan, the chairman of the largest company in Beijing City, Longtai Group.

And the girl was his granddaughter, Qin Yu.

“Yu, you don’t understand. That young man just now, he had a flash of murderous intent. Though it was fleeting, it was incredibly intense. If you don’t believe me, ask Lao Hei!”

“Lao Hei, is that guy really that amazing?” Qin Yu asked.

Lao Hei, the burly bodyguard, nodded solemnly, “Very powerful. The intensity of his murderous aura is something I’ve only seen in General Lin of the army!”

General Lin!

Even Qin Yu’s expression changed drastically.

That was a name like a myth.

He was known as the King of Huaxia’s soldiers!

Lao Hei actually claimed that this young man, a seemingly ordinary father, had an aura that could rival General Lin’s?

“I don’t believe it!” Qin Yu watched Xue An’s retreating figure with skepticism.

At that moment, Xue An sensed the hostility behind him, turned around, and caught Qin Yu’s unconvinced look.

He smiled slightly and walked over.

Lao Hei stepped forward to block Xue An's path in front of Qin Yuan and his granddaughter.

Xue An said indifferently, "Old man, did you know you're about to die?"

Upon hearing this, Qin Yuan's face changed dramatically.

Qin Yu was furious, "Lao Hei, teach this punk a good lesson!"

Lao Hei grunted and his muscles suddenly swelled as he threw a punch.

The punch, carrying the sound of the whipping wind, aimed straight for Xue An's face.

Xue An said calmly, "Xiang Xiang, Nian Nian, close your eyes."

The two girls obediently closed their eyes.

At that moment, with Xue An holding the children and facing the other's earth-shattering punch, it seemed he had no way to avoid it.

But Lao Hei's expression was grave because he perceived extreme danger lurking within Xue An's seemingly frail frame.

“

This feeling was even more terrifying than the time he faced General Lin alone.

It was as if there was an ancient giant dragon lurking inside the opponent, ready to choose someone to devour at any moment.

"Stop!" At that moment, Qin Yuan shouted.

Lao Hei's fist halted just an inch away from Xue An's nose.

The wind from the punch even made Xue An's hair sway erratically.

But Xue An didn't even blink.

On the other hand, Lao Hei seemed relieved and quickly stepped aside.

Qin Yuan then stepped forward and suddenly gave Xue An a deep bow.

"Young master, please save my life!"

At this moment, Lin Feng and Du Juan also saw this scene, especially when they saw the tall and burly Lao Hei raising his hand against Xue An, they were thrilled.

Unfortunately, they were ultimately stopped by the old man.

This made Lin Feng somewhat unhappy.

When he saw Qin Yuan showing such respect to Xue An, even asking for his life to be saved, Lin Feng almost split his sides with laughter.

“Hey, old man, I know this kid. He’s nothing but a vagrant who abandoned his wife and children. You asking him to save your life, it’s just hilarious!”

Xue An’s gaze gradually turned cold.

While humans would not bother with the provocations of ants, if the ants kept courting death time and again, they couldn’t complain about the consequences.

“Do you want to live? Then let’s start by destroying the family of the person who just spoke!” said Xue An indifferently.

“Ruin my family? Xue An, I’m beginning to wonder if you’ve been in a mental hospital these past four years, how can you be so nonsensical? With this old man’s help? Destroy my family?” Lin Feng laughed heartily.

Qin Yuan stood up, and respectfully said, “Yes!”

Then he turned to Lin Feng and asked in a deep voice, “Who are you?”

“This is our Young Proprietor, the heir of Lin Corporation,” Du Juan said preemptively.

“Lin Corporation?” Qin Yuan frowned slightly, then asked Qin Yu beside him.

“Is there a Lin Corporation in Beijiang City?”

Qin Yu shook her head, “I’ve never heard of it!”

At this time, Du Juan coldly laughed and said, “How could you bunch of country bumpkins know about Lin Corporation? Let me tell you, all the medicinal materials in Beijiang are under the control of Lin Corporation!”

Lin Feng smiled complacently, “Old man, aren’t you about to die? Our family just happens to sell medicine, would you like us to send you some?”

Before Qin Yuan could respond, Qin Yu was already beside herself with rage and began making a phone call.

Lin Feng’s greedy eyes roamed over Qin Yu’s form, then he sneered, “Calling for help? Great! I’d like to see who in Beijiang dares to cross Lin Corporation!”

Qin Yu made the call and said sternly, "Fully sanction Lin Corporation!"

Du Juan covered her mouth and mocked with a sneering laugh, "Young Proprietor, isn't it hilarious how these people think they can sanction your family with just a phone call?"

Lin Feng chuckled, "These days, there are too many people bragging, that's why things are so chaotic!"

But within two minutes, Lin Feng's phone rang, and when he picked up, he saw it was from home.

"Hello, Dad? What's the matter?"

A roar came through the phone.

"You wretched offspring, who on earth have you offended? Why has Longtai Group suddenly announced they're fully sanctioning Lin Corporation!"

"What?" Lin Feng was shocked!

"Longtai Group?"

The name was like a curse, petrifying Lin Feng and Du Juan on the spot.

It was the leading enterprise in Beijiang City, a true behemoth.

Compared to it, Lin Corporation was no different from a pancake stall on the street.

"Dad, are you sure you're not mistaken?"

"How could I be mistaken? Longtai Group's secretary personally called to say it was the direct order of Longtai Group's young miss!"

"It's all over, everything's finished!" Lin Feng's face went pale as he slumped to the ground.

He never dreamed that the person he had carelessly mocked would turn out to be the daughter of Longtai Group's owner!
