

Fall for You 71

Chapter 73

There was an old lady introducing a potential partner to Briana. She asked Briana to friend the person on Line. Unable to resist the enthusiasm, Briana took out her phone and was about to scan the QR code, while thinking about explaining the situation to the person after adding them.

Suddenly, a slender hand stretched out from above and snatched the phone from her hand.

Briana turned around in surprise and saw Maxim, unable to help but furrow her brows.

“Give me back my phone.”

Maxim looked at her with indifference and directly put the phone into his pocket.

“It’s not safe to leave it with you, I’ll keep it for you.”

The other old ladies who were present had no idea that Maxim and Briana were married. They looked at Norma with confusion and asked, “Norma, what’s going on?”

Norma was about to explain when Maxim spoke lightly, “Ladies, I’m sorry to inform you that Briana is already married. I am her husband. My grandmother just said that to provoke me, hoping you wouldn’t mind.”

Maxim’s words were like dropping a depth charge into the calm sea, instantly drawing everyone’s attention to Norma’s face.

“Norma, is this true?! Why didn’t you tell us before? You kept it hidden so well!”

“I can’t believe it, we used to guess that Maxim would be the last one to get married, but it turns out he is the first among all of us grandchildren to get married!”

“Norma, you have gone too far. It’s clearly your own daughter-in-law, but you lied to us and said she was your granddaughter! No, you must treat us to a meal, otherwise this matter won’t be so easily forgotten!”

Seeing everyone’s attention shift to Norma, Maxim immediately pulled Briana away.

Maxim didn’t let go of Briana’s hand until they left the area where it was scorching hot and walked into the quiet little grove next to it.

“Are you stupid?! Grandma just asked someone to introduce a potential partner to you earlier, and you didn’t know how to refuse?!”

Briana looked at him calmly and asked, "Why did you refuse?"

Maxim's face turned pale, he gritted his teeth and looked at her, saying, "Briana, don't forget that we haven't divorced yet!"

Briana nodded, "I know, so I'm just planning to get to know the other person now, I don't intend to do anything."

"You!"

Maxim saw anger in his eyes, Briana reached out her hand and said, "Can you give me back my phone, please?"

I had planned to come over and have a good barbecue, but now it has been ruined by Maxim again. It seems that wherever he is, there is never anything good happening.

Maxim held her hand and said, "Stay with me for a while, and I will give you back your phone."

Briana frowned and abruptly pulled her hand out, coldly saying, "I gave you the phone!"

Worst case scenario, she bought another one and had to spend time alone with Maxim, which she couldn't bear for a moment.

Seeing her turning around to leave, Maxim hugged her from behind and whispered, "Briana, I misunderstood you today, I'm sorry."

Briana's body stiffened for a moment, then she turned around and pushed Maxim away, taking a few steps back and looking at him with a cold expression. "You don't need to apologize to me. If you truly felt sorry, you wouldn't have let Kiley stay by your side unharmed after watching the surveillance footage."

Maxim's face changed, "I will definitely not let Kiley hurt you again in the future."

Briana suddenly laughed, with no warmth in her eyes. "Since you chose to protect Kiley, don't apologize to me. I won't spare Kiley just because of these three words from you."

"What did you want to do to Kiley?!"

Chapter 74

Briana looked at him mockingly, "It was just to teach her a lesson."

Seeing Briana finish speaking and turning to leave, Maxim grabbed her hand and coldly said, "If you do anything to harm Kiley, Uncle Chi and Aunt Chi will definitely not let you off."

"I haven't done anything to her yet, and you're already feeling sorry for her?"

Maxim frowned, "Briana, did you have to misinterpret my meaning?!"

He was clearly afraid that Zane and Mallory would do something to her, in her eyes, he became someone who cared for Kiley!

Briana smiled and said, "Whether it's a misinterpretation or a fact, you know it deep down."

She shook off his hand and turned around to leave directly.

Maxim stared coldly at Briana's back, his heart filled with anger.

On the way back, Briana met Hector

Seeing Briana, he finally breathed a sigh of relief.

"Briana, Mr. Yoder didn't do anything to you, right?"

I saw Briana being taken away by Maxim earlier. He didn't want to intervene because Briana had told him in the morning not to interfere in her personal matters.

However, later on, the worry overwhelmed the concern, and I got up and caught up with them.

Seeing the undisguised concern in his eyes, Briana felt a bit touched, but for the sake of Hector's career and safety, she looked at him coldly.

"Thank you for your concern, but this is a matter between my spouse and me. It would be better if you don't inquire about it in the future."

Hector's face froze, and it took him a while before he spoke, "Briana, there's actually something else I came to tell you."

"What?"

"Maxim's secretary had approached me before, wanting to buy the villa from me. He must have mistakenly thought that the villa was mine."

Briana frowned, remembering that she had indeed intentionally changed the name of the villa to someone else's in order to avoid being discovered by others.

But Maxim was able to find out that the property was under Hector's name, which made her feel somewhat strange.

What they didn't know was that when Rayan asked someone to check the villa at that time, the person entered the wrong house number, which is why they found the villa registered under Hector's name.

"I knew it, thank you for telling me about this."

Briana went back to her room and took a shower before going straight to bed.

She decided to leave early tomorrow morning. The things she encountered at this resort were all frustrating, and she would rather —sleep at home.

In the middle of the night, she heard the sound of the door card swiping on the sensor with a "beep", and instantly woke up.

She lay in bed without moving, waiting for her eyes to adjust to the darkness. After they did, she saw a figure slowly approaching the side of the bed.

The moment the dark figure approached the bed, Briana immediately flipped over and lunged at the person.

No one expected that Briana was awake, but her body instinctively dodged to the side the moment Briana pounced.

Briana squinted her eyes, seeming to be a fitness enthusiast.

She was planning to continue attacking the opponent when the switch by the bedside was suddenly turned on.

After seeing the person standing diagonally in front of her, Briana's eyes flashed with anger. "Maxim, why are you sneaking into my room in the middle of the night like a thief, not sleeping?!"

This hotel actually gave out their room key cards to others without any restrictions. She will definitely complain tomorrow morning when she wakes up!

Maxim looked at her with a faint expression and said, "Briana, don't you plan on explaining why you are so skilled?"

If it weren't for his quick reaction just now, his face would probably have been bruised.

Briana coldly looked at him, "Didn't you also hide many things from me? Why should I explain to you?"

"Even if you don't explain, I will still go and find out myself."

Upon hearing this, Briana smiled and said, "Sure, then you go ahead and check."

As long as he could find it!

Seeing her calm expression, as if she was certain that she couldn't find anything, Maxim pursed his thin lips and a coldness flashed in his eyes.

Briana, however, had run out of patience to continue wasting time with him. "You came to my room in the middle of the night just to ask this nonsense?"

Her eyes were filled with displeasure and irritation, which deepened Maxim's gaze.

"I returned the room I had before."

Chapter 75

Briana looked indifferent and asked, "So what?"

"Tonight, I slept here with you."

Briana almost burst out laughing. How could he calmly say these words when their relationship was so terrible?

"Since you want to stay here, I will go and open a new room."

Seeing Briana grab her coat and prepare to leave, Maxim couldn't bear it any longer and said, "Briana, my patience has its limits, tonight you must stay in the same room as me!"

Briana turned around and glanced at him, "There was nothing that was necessary."

She walked quickly towards the door, and just as she opened it, a large hand suddenly reached out from behind and slammed the door shut with a loud "bang".

The next second, Briana was immediately picked up horizontally.

Briana's eyes were filled with anger as she gritted her teeth and said, "Maxim, if you're sick, go to the hospital and get treated. I'm not a doctor, I can't cure a mental illness!"

Maxim pretended not to hear and threw her directly onto the bed, then lay down beside her and held her tightly in his arms.

"Go to sleep!"

After saying that, he really closed his eyes and started to sleep, which infuriated Briana.

"Let me go!"

Briana struggled in his arms, but his hand clasped around her waist like an impenetrable fortress, unmoved by her efforts.

Not long after, Briana suddenly felt Maxim's gaze on her become incredibly deep

She became even more angry instantly and gritted her teeth, saying, "Hooligan! Pervert!"

"If you didn't want to sleep, we could do something else!"

Seeing the faint desire flickering in his eyes, Briana froze for a moment and indeed did not move again.

Finally, Briana also didn't know how she fell asleep, and when she woke up again, it was already daylight.

Maxim was still maintaining the same position as last night, holding her. She furrowed her brows and reached out to shake Maxim, impatiently saying, "Can you let go now?!"

Maxim opened his eyes, even though he had just woken up, his eyes were already clear.

He tightened his grip on Briana's hand and his voice became slightly hoarse, "Go back to sleep for a while."

"You sleep on your own, I am getting up now, let go!"

She pushed Maxim, but he didn't give her a hard time. He immediately let go of her hand.

Briana got up and freshened up. When she finished freshening up,

Maxim also got up.

"We will have breakfast together later."

Briana did not speak, and her hands did not stop packing.

After Maxim entered the bathroom, Briana left directly with her bag.

As I opened the door, I saw Kiley standing at the entrance with a somewhat unpleasant expression on her face.

Briana ignored her and walked past her towards the elevator.

Just as she took a few steps, Kiley's icy voice came, "Briana, don't think you've won, Maxim loves me!" Perhaps afraid that Maxim would hear, she deliberately lowered her voice.

Briana didn't even stop her steps, showing no interest in what she said.

It didn't matter to Maxim who he loved, as long as he divorced her as soon as possible.

Back at the villa, Briana took a shower and planned to order takeout to eat before going back to sleep.

What she didn't expect was that Maxim came along with the takeout.

Seeing the other person's dark face, Briana's complexion didn't look any better.

"Maxim, you really are persistent! I have distanced myself from you, yet you still refuse to let me go?!"

Maxim looked at her coldly and said, "Come back with me.

He originally wanted to buy this villa, but Hector's side refused to budge.

Briana was getting impatient. "I won't go back with you! Please leave right now, or I'll call the police!"

Unexpectedly, Maxim raised an eyebrow and sneered, saying, "Alright then, let's see if the police care about you living in another man's villa!"

Chapter 76

Briana: "...

After a moment of silence, she grabbed the takeout and turned directly into the villa, deciding to pretend that Maxim didn't exist.

After finishing the meal, Briana was getting ready to go upstairs to sleep, and Maxim, sitting across from her, finally lost patience.

"When did you come back with me?!"

Briana looked at him with indifference and said, "I never said I wanted to go back with you."

"Briana!"

Seeing that Maxim was really angry. Briana raised an eyebrow and said, "You don't have to shout like that, it doesn't affect me at all. Even if you tie me up, I will still find a way to escape, so don't do anything useless."

Maxim looked at her coldly and gritted his teeth, "Fine! You better not regret it!"

"I regretted."

Seeing the surprise that flashed in Maxim's eyes, Briana smiled and said, "I regret not moving out earlier, otherwise I wouldn't have had those unpleasant experiences later on."

Maxim angrily left, and Briana thought she could finally rest.

In the afternoon, Briana received a call from Norma, asking her to go to the Harmony Villa.

When Briana arrived, Norma was drinking tea in the living room.

Seeing Briana, she had a kind smile on her face. "Briana, come and sit here quickly!"

"Grandma, did you call me for something?"

After she sat down beside her. Norma held her hand and sighed, "Briana, do you really want to divorce Maxim?"

After a few seconds of silence, Briana nodded firmly and said, "Hmm."

"Is there really no chance of salvaging this? I truly can't bear to let go of you as my daughter-in-law..."

Briana smiled and held Norma's hand, saying, "Grandma, even if I divorced Maxim, you will always be my grandmother in my heart!"

Norma nodded and said, "Alright, then Grandma will be the main character for you this time and get you divorced from Maxim!"

"Grandma, thank you!"

She originally thought that Norma was just casually mentioning the vacation resort, but she didn't expect it to be serious.

Seeing the sincere smile on her face, Norma felt a slight pang in her heart.

Maxim, who was blind to reality, actually fell for Kiley. He completely wasted the guidance I had given him before!

Soon, Norma had her lawyer draft the divorce agreement.

"Briana, take a look and see if there is anything else that needs to be modified."

Briana looked through it and discovered that Norma had unexpectedly given her a 10% stake in the Yoder Group. She quickly said,

“Grandma, I don’t want the Yoder Group’s shares. This is too valuable, and Mr. Yoder surely wouldn’t agree either.”

The Yoder Group’s 1% stake was worth billions, and she felt that holding onto this money would only make her feel uncomfortable.

“If he dared to disagree, I would break his legs!”

Briana was amused by Norma’s serious expression, but she still shook her head and said. “Grandma, I really don’t want it. I divorced Mr. Yoder because I don’t want any more involvement.”

“Briana, this is the dowry I promised you. With this 10% share, if you divorce Maxim, no one will dare to underestimate you! Besides, if you really don’t want any involvement with the Yoder Group, you can also sell the shares to Maxim!”

Norma saw Maxim without even blinking, and Briana couldn’t help but feel that he was indeed her biological child.

However, she still had no intention of taking this share. She doesn’t need the money now, and the 8 million dollars she earned from the previous mission was also of no use. That 8 million dollars would be enough for a long time.

Soon, Maxim arrived.

As he saw the divorce agreement handed to him by Norma, his face suddenly turned extremely ugly.

“Grandma, I didn’t agree to the divorce!”

Norma stood up directly and looked at him with a cold expression,

“Come with me to the study.”

After the two entered the study, Briana felt that time was passing exceptionally slowly.

If Norma couldn’t convince Maxim to get a divorce, it would be even harder for her to get a divorce in the future. She really didn’t want to waste any more time on Maxim.

Chapter 77

After a while, Maxim finally walked out behind Norma, his face extremely cold.

He walked to the edge of the table, picked up the pen and signed his own name, his gaze at Briana as cold as ice that could almost freeze a person to death.

“Briana, are you satisfied now?!”

Briana was completely unaffected and smiled lightly, saying, “I am very satisfied.”

She signed her own name and was about to put away the divorce agreement when Maxim’s slender hand quickly took it away.

Briana's heart skipped a beat, afraid that something else might go wrong. She looked at Maxim and said, "Mr. Yoder, let me take care of the divorce agreement."

"I didn't trust you."

"What does it mean?"

Briana frowned at him, her eyes filled with confusion.

Maxim sneered, "After all, you can even get Grandma to give you 10% of the Yoder Group's shares. If you try to manipulate the divorce agreement again, won't I end up losing more than I gain?"

Briana pursed her lips and said, "Grandma offered me that 10% share, but I didn't intend to take it."

Just now, it was also because the joy of him agreeing to sign the document overwhelmed his mind, so he forgot about this matter.

140 (Vouchers

Maxim's eyes were filled with mockery, "Do you think I would believe you?"

"If Mr. Yoder doesn't believe it, he can now reprint a divorce agreement in front of us, removing the Yoder Group's 10% share, and I don't want a penny of compensation."

As soon as the words fell, Norma spoke.

"Briana, since I have already decided to give you 10% of the shares in the Yoder Group, it will not change. Accept the shares and divorce Maxim, or don't take the shares at all. Today's events will be considered as if they never happened. It's your choice."

"Grandma..."

Briana was somewhat helpless. She wanted to divorce, but she really didn't want the shares either.

"I have given you the choice, you decide for yourself."

After hesitating for a moment, Briana finally compromised.

"Alright, I agreed to accept the shares."

At worst, we can find another opportunity to transfer it to Maxim later.

Maxim on the side sneered and turned around, leaving the living room directly.

Briana was about to catch up, but Norma grabbed her

"Briana, don't worry, he agreed to sign it himself. He wouldn't do anything suspicious."

Although she still had some worries in her heart, Briana could only nod at this moment.

When she left, Norma looked at her with reluctance, her eyes slightly red.

“Briana, if you ever miss me in the future, you can come back to see me anytime. Even if you divorce Maxim, I will always be your grandmother!”

Knowing that Norma truly loved her, Briana felt a bit sad. “Grandma, don’t worry, I will come back to see you whenever I have time!”

Norma let go of her hand, feeling sad inside. They all knew that after Briana and Maxim divorced, she would rarely come to the Harmony Villa.

“Well, go back and take care on the way.”

Briana turned around immediately, and her eyes also turned red.

Although Norma was not her biological grandmother, she made her feel the long-lost affection.

If it weren’t for Maxim’s infidelity, perhaps even if I didn’t love him anymore, I would still have been willing to be a respectful couple with him for Norma’s sake.

Unfortunately, there was no “if” in the past...

After leaving the Harmony Villa, Briana went straight to Glamor Villa to find Maxim.

Seeing her, Maxim’s expression turned cold. “What are you here for? The 10% stake in the Yoder Group isn’t enough for you?!”

Chapter 78

Briana smelled the scent of alcohol coming from him and couldn’t help but frown. “I came here to return the shares of the Yoder Group to you.”

Maxim sneered, “Briana, you went through all this trouble to find Grandma just to get a divorce, and now you want to give me back my shares. So, you don’t want to divorce anymore?”

Briana looked at him coldly and said, “No.”

“Since there is none, do not provoke me again. You keep the shares, and from now on, we owe each other nothing!”

After a moment of silence, Briana spoke up, “When do you plan to notarize the divorce agreement?”

A cold glint flashed in Maxim’s eyes, “I will go tomorrow morning, don’t worry, I won’t intentionally delay.”

Briana nodded, “Okay, I had nothing else to do.”

As soon as the words fell, Maxim immediately closed the door of the villa.

The next morning, as soon as Briana walked into MY, George came over with a contract in his hand.

“Ms. Schneider, this is the project we planned for six months before. Take a look, and if there are no issues, we can start working on this project once you sign.”

Ignoring the pleasing smile on George's face, Briana took the documents and said calmly, "I understand, Mr. Landry, you can go back now.

George's smile froze on his face, "Ms. Schneider, aren't you looking now?"

"I have other contracts to review, and after I finish, I will find you."

George's face turned sour, "Alright, I got it."

Walking out of Briana's office, George's face instantly turned extremely gloomy.

Thinking about Sammy's threat, if he couldn't get this project, how would he have money to give to Sammy!

No, he insisted that Briana sign this contract!

After he received the funds, not only could he repay Sammy's money, but he could also take the remaining money and make a fresh start. As for MY's life or death, it was none of his concern!

After George left, Briana always had an inexplicable sense of unease in her heart.

She impatiently checked the time. The courthouse was about to open, and Maxim should be calling her soon.

Thinking this way, she felt that time was dragging on and hoped that this time she could really leave smoothly.

It was past ten o'clock when Briana received a call from Rayan.

"Ms. Schneider, the president had a car accident and now requires a signature surgery. Could you please come over?"

Briana's heart sank, "I'll be right there!"

Hang up the phone, Briana immediately rushed to the hospital.

After signing the documents, Maxim started the surgery before finally turning to Rayan beside her and asking, "How did the car accident happen all of a sudden?"

"This morning, the president went to the courthouse to notarize your divorce agreement. On the way there, a car was following them. The driver noticed something was wrong and tried to shake off the car. However, when they passed the Grand River Bridge, the car accelerated and tried to ram the president's car into the river."

"Later, the driver suddenly turned the steering wheel and crashed into the oncoming bus, which took the opportunity to leave as well."

Briana's face looked extremely unpleasant as she coldly asked, "Did you find any information about that car?"

"We are still investigating, but that vehicle was a cloned car. It will take some time to ascertain the details."

"I got it, don't tell Grandma about this, let's wait until the surgery is over to talk about it."

Rayan nodded, "The CEO had given the same instructions before he fell into a coma, and now the CEO's parents are abroad. Ms. Schneider, the CEO may need your care for a while."

Briana was about to speak when the phone in her bag suddenly rang.

The music sound was very peculiar, and it was impossible to tell which instrument was playing it. However, Briana's face changed instantly.

She walked to the side and took out her phone, and a sentence appeared on the phone screen.

"Iris, among the people we let go before, one of them was the real Scorpion. He disguised himself as an underling with the purpose of successfully escaping. Now that we have been exposed, Scorpion's people are hunting me down. It won't be long before they find you, so please take care of yourself!"

Soon, that paragraph gradually faded and disappeared.

Briana lowered her gaze, unsure of what she was thinking.

Chapter 79

She put away her phone and turned around to see Rayan looking at her with a puzzled expression.

"What happened?"

"Ms. Schneider, your cellphone ringtone is quite unique. I feel like I have heard it somewhere before."

Briana's face changed slightly, "Where have you heard it?"

This ringtone is a unique ringtone created by a hacker in the Mercenary League, and only the members of the Mercenary League will have this software on their phones.

Rayan shook his head, "I also forgot, but this ringtone is very unique, so when I heard it, it reminded me of something I had heard before."

Briana did not ask any further questions, and the two fell into silence.

After a while, Rayan looked at Briana and said, "Ms. Schneider, the car that the president was sitting in crashed into a bus and quickly caught fire. The other subordinates only managed to rescue the driver and Mr. Yoder. It is estimated that the divorce agreement..."

Briana also anticipated this result and nodded, saying, "Hmm, let's wait until he's better to discuss this matter."

She also wanted to find out if this matter had anything to do with Scorpion, after all, she had heard that Scorpion's modus operandi was to slowly torture its prey rather than killing them directly

The two of them waited outside the door for over eight hours, and the lights in the operating room only went out.

When Maxim was pushed out, the anesthesia hadn't worn off yet. He lay on the hospital bed with his eyes tightly closed, his face devoid of any color, completely unrecognizable from his usual decisive and commanding self.

The doctor took off the mask, his face looking somewhat grave.

"Mr. Yoder was injured in the car accident, and his previously injured leg was affected. There is a possibility that he may never be able to stand up again in the future. You should be mentally prepared for this."

In an instant. Briana's face turned pale, and she struggled to steady herself, saying, "I understand, thank you for your hard work, Dr. David."

"Well, Mr. Yoder is still in a critical condition at the moment. The next three days are crucial, so I will arrange for two nurses to take turns monitoring Mr. Yoder's condition. It would be best if you also assign someone to guard the entrance of the ward."

"Okay."

After Maxim was admitted to the ward, Rayan suddenly received a call from the head of the company's Public Relations Department.

"Rayan, there are rumors online that the CEO has been seriously injured in a car accident and admitted to the hospital. The shares of the Yoder Group have also been affected. Can you reach the CEO now?"

Rayan's face turned pale, "I'll be right back!"

Hanging up the phone, Rayan looked at Briana with some hesitation, about to speak, but Briana spoke first.

When she woke up, she hurriedly rushed to the hospital.

Seeing Maxim lying on the hospital bed, Norma's tears immediately fell, and her body trembled.

Briana quickly supported her, "Grandma, don't be too sad. Mr. Yoder must have safely passed the dangerous period!"

"Briana, if I had known that this would happen, I wouldn't have pushed him so hard to divorce you..."

Chapter 80

Briana felt guilty in her heart. Scorpion had targeted her, and even if she hadn't caused the car accident on the way to the courthouse, he would have found other ways to harm Maxim.

"Grandma, Mr. Yoder will be fine, I promise!"

She would definitely not let him have any trouble!

After comforting Norma, Briana returned to the door of the ward to continue standing guard.

Soon, Kiley, who had received the news, also rushed over.

Tears filled her eyes as she coldly looked at Briana and said, "I heard that Maxim had a car accident on his way to the courthouse for a divorce. Briana, you are simply a jinx. Whoever is associated with you is unlucky!"

Briana sneered at her and said slowly, "What's it to you? Don't forget. I haven't divorced Maxim yet. It's not your place, as a mistress, to meddle."

"You!"

After a moment of silence, Kiley spoke with a disgusted expression, "Maxim, I'll stay here and watch. You can leave!"

"It's you who should roll, Kiley. I haven't settled the matter at the stable with you yet. If you continue buzzing around me like a fly, I wouldn't mind taking care of you right now. It just so happens that Maxim is unconscious and no one is there to back you up."

Kiley pointed at her and gritted her teeth, saying, "This is your true face, all that gentleness and understanding, it's all just an act!"

"Gentleness and understanding are meant for those who treat me well. As for you, do you think you deserve it?"

"You wait for me!"

After driving Kiley away, the world finally became peaceful.

If it weren't for the fear of Scorpion's people coming to harm Maxim again, when Kiley said she would stay by his side, she would have immediately left.

And Maxim's leg was also a problem, she couldn't let him spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair.

After hesitating for a long time, Briana finally pressed a phone call that she hadn't dared to make for three years.

Just as the phone was about to disconnect automatically, the other side finally answered, and immediately a strange and sarcastic voice came through.

"Oh, you still remember this old man? If you had called a little later, you could have visited my grave."

Briana bit her lower lip and said, "Master, I..."

Hearing her hesitant speech, the old man spoke with some displeasure, "Calling me this time, is it for that boy Maxim again?!"

"Um."

The other side remained silent for a long time and sighed, "Let's not talk about this matter for now. Was he good to you?"

"It was good."

As soon as the words fell, the person opposite snorted coldly, "What a load of nonsense! Although I live in the deep mountains and old forests, I haven't reached the point of having blurred vision! If he really treated you well, you would have brought him to see me long ago!"

Briana pursed her lips, surprised that her master was so perceptive, and instantly felt embarrassed as if she had been exposed.

"Master, could you please spare me some face?"

"Do you still have any face? I told you three years ago, if you feel wronged, come back anytime. And what did you do? You thought I lived too long and wanted to anger me to death, is that right?!"

Briana: "..."

It must have been Wyatt who reported, otherwise how could the master, who was immersed in research all day, know about my affair with Maxim!

"Are you calculating in your mind to settle the score with Wyatt?"

"...I didn't have!"

"You say there isn't, don't I know you well enough?! Wyatt hasn't come back for three years either. Next time you come back with him, bring that kid Maxim along! I really want to see what tricks he has up his sleeve to deceive you!"

Briana: "...Okay."

"Alright, that's it."

For the next three days, Briana stayed outside Maxim's hospital room, but there was no sign of him waking up.

On the third day, around noon, Briana suddenly received a phone call from Melody.
