

Falling For My Ex-Husband
chapter 14

The beginning of her fall

Mira's pov

Atharv caught my wrist and shoved me inside his car.

"Atharv, where are you taking me? I want to see my parents....i want to show him Anurag's truth....give me the papers..."

"It's not the right time Mira, i won't take any risk regarding your safety...i heard the news that Anurag has been released from the jail....he can come after you anytime...so it's better that you should hide for few days..."- Atharv started his car.

I stared at him in shock.

"But i will be safe with my parents..."- i said to him.

"You will be only safe with me....what if Anurag already has convinced your parents? You have already seen how much your parents trust Anurag...."

I kept silent. He has point. But I'm dying from inside to show mom and dad his true face.

Few weeks back, Atharv showed me the details. I find out that Anurag is planning to sell my father's company illegally. Atharv knew about his motive that's why Anurag was keeping me away from Atharv.

But after knowing the whole truth, i see only red out of anger. I felt extreme pain from inside. It's true that i never liked Anurag but i felt he is a good person. My trust shattered completely that night. I cried so much.

The thing that Anurag is backstabbing my father broke my heart. My father considered him as his own son, he gave him a life and what he did in return?

He is planning to destroy my father!

I started to hate Anurag so much. That night Atharv gave me the idea to destroy Anurag. He showed me the exact way through which i can hurt him.

So, i started to act with him. I started to play with his emotion. I just wanted to take revenge from him.

But something changed inside me while playing this love game with him.

I started to feel weak from inside. Whenever he stared at me deeply, i felt the beating of my heart which i never felt before.

I tried hard to shrug those foreign feelings and focused on my goal but i failed miserably. Whenever i looked into his eyes, i only saw love and admiration for me. I found no deception. I found only honesty.

But then whenever i remembered the evidences which Atharv showed me, i understood that Anurag is a great actor. He is hiding his true face.

I stared out of the window and unknowingly some tears spilled down to my cheeks.

Why my heart is churning in pain? Why my heart is aching so much? Why I'm feeling like to go back and hug my husband tightly?

Why I'm feeling like to cry and cry until no tears left inside me?

Why his painful eyes are bothering me?

I did the right thing, then why I'm feeling so much guilt?

When the police officers were dragging him, i felt so much pain from inside.

He was planning our destruction, i did the right thing to save my family from his evil intentions.

Then why something so strange is screaming inside me?

"Mira, don't stress yourself too much....have some water and try to sleep...everything will be fine"

I took the water from Atharv and drank in one go. I closed my eyes and tried to sleep.

"You can't study in empty stomach"

"This will protect you in my absence...."

"You are very very immature Mira...i wish one day you will get mature enough to understand me"

Silent tears rolled down to my cheeks. I felt dizzy and fell asleep soon.

I opened my eyes with some heavy noises. I rubbed my eyes and looked in front. I'm lying in a room. But i don't know this place.

I got up from the bed. My head is still throbbing in extreme pain. I stared at the surrounding and i cringed so much.

The room is very dirty.

All over the room are dirty images on the wall. I closed my eyes out of shame.

What place is this?

I walked towards the door and came outside. I can see small cozy rooms. I found many women were arguing and cursing so badly among them. Everywhere is only dirt.

I saw two women are fighting so much.

"Listen shalu, don't try to snatch my customer next time....if you ever try to do that i will cut your non existing nipples and feed to street dogs"

"Shut up you bitch...customers are not interested to a fat old bitch like you....they want slim girls like me...they prefer tight holes, not a big man hole like you"

I closed my ears tightly and looked here and there in fear.

What is this place???

Where have i gotten into?

Suddenly a middle aged woman appeared from somewhere and stood in front of me. She looked at me in a very vulgar way from head to toe and smiled in satisfaction.

"That motherfucker was right....you are really a beauty....god these hips, these tight boobs...so untouched and virgin...."

I mentally cringed at her words.

"Who are you??? Why I'm here?"- i almost yelled.

Everyone's attention now shifted at me.

The woman started to laugh and other girls also joined her. They all are looking at me with smirks and enjoying my state.

I stared at them hatefully. I decided to walk away from there. I was about to go but the woman grabbed my elbow and pushed me hard.

"Where the hell are you going slut??? I payed so well for a virgin like you...now go and change....your duty will be start from tonight"

I was stunned. I stared at her being dumbfounded.

"What duty??? Whom you payed???"- i screamed and cried.

My heart is hammering in fear.

The woman walked near me and clutched my jaw tightly.

"Voice down whore....your new life will be started from today...the life of a prostitute"

I had enough of her. So i pushed her hard.

"Stay away from me....."- i yelled.

Suddenly a hard slap landed on my cheek by that woman. I felt a sharp stinging pain all over my face. She grabbed the fistful of my hair and threw me away. I cried out pathetically.

She stood near me and started to kick my stomach. I cried in pain by holding my stomach.

"Mom....dad.....mom....."- i cried so much.

Everyone was laughing around me.

"Don't ever raise your voice at me....I'm the owner of this place, Bakuli tai never listen to anyone and never takes anyones shit...you little whores always work after receiving the beatings....shalu, mala,,,,take her with you....get her ready....she needs a good fuck in the evening.....without force these bitch can never agree....."

Two girls dragged me by holding my hands. I felt exhausted. My abdomen is painning like hell. They placed me into the bed.

My legs quivered and i cried so much by holding their hands.

"Please....help...me...please...let...me.....go"- i mumbled painfully.

One of them jerked my hand.

"Listen, there is no way out from here....if you have taken a step inside this place, you can't escape...this is our fate....try to cooperate...soon you will accustomed to this life"- that girl said harshly to me.

They left the room by locking it from outside.

Now the fear crawled up to me. I covered my mouth and cried out loudly. Only one face is appearing infront of my eyes. The face which gave me comfo rt always.

"Anuraaaggg.....save me....."
