Chapter 1171 Gathering

Abel's father's eyes were full of joy as he looked at Jacob.

Just at this moment Mariam walked in from outside.

Seeing the reaction of both Abel's father and mother, Mariam instantly let out a long, helpless sigh.

Mariam then walked to sit beside Abel's father.

She first looked at Paige Abel said, "Brother and sister-in-law, sorry I had a temporary matter over at school, so I wasn't able to pick you up from the hospital."

Hearing this, Paige immediately smiled lightly and said, "It's okay, it's enough to have mum and dad to pick me up."

And at that moment, the attention of both Abel's father and mother was still on Jacob's body.

The two looked inside Jacob's eyes with love almost overflowing out.

Mariam immediately shook her head helplessly once again, and then couldn't help but tease, "If it were before, I really wouldn't dare to think that you could be so good to my brother and my sister-in-law's child, Mom, Dad."

"How about that, doesn't it sound good now?" Mariam said again.

Hearing these words, Abel's father and mother both immediately coughed lightly in embarrassment.

And then they exchanged a look at the same time, neither of them saying anything.

"Well, Mariam, that's all in the past, now let's have peace and happiness as a family, don't mention the unhappy ones." Paige said.

Once upon a time, she thought of all those bad memories that she would probably never forget in her lifetime.

In the end, it was washed away inside the river of time.

She was now full of good things about this family.

Mariam immediately said with a smile, "Sister-in-law, you are really generous, if it were me, I wouldn't be able to."

Abel's mother, "Paige is open-minded, and you are small-minded."

Mariam, "Because I just said something you don't like to hear, so you're deliberately retaliating against me? Is that right?"

Abel's mother instantly gave her a blank stare.

In the evening, Jocelyn, Noah, Ryan, Rosa, Zoe, Robert all gathered at the house.

Abel's mother prepared a large table of delicacies and entertained everyone.

Once everyone had eaten and drunk, they all came together in the living room and set up two tables of mahjong.

Jocelyn, on the other hand, did not participate and reached the nursery in silence.

At this moment, inside the baby's room, Paige was watching a few baby-sitters feeding Jacob.

The whole space is filled with the strong smell of milk.

Just smelling this smell made Jocelyn's heart melt.

Paige sat on the bed with a smile in her eyes.

Seeing Jocelyn, Paige immediately moved to the side, patted the position beside her and said, "Come and sit."

Jocelyn sat next to Paige, smiling and asking, "Bored?"

Paige nodded heavily, as if she had seen a soulmate, and said, "Yeah, I really feel like I'm going to explode with boredom."

"I wish now that I could end the next month without leaving the house early and get to the office, work hard and get on with my day."

"You don't even know how much I'm really attached to the company right now. I always feel it, the company can't leave me for a day. I'm really worried about you being alone too busy."

"In fact, as I meant it, it's normal for a month, but his parents doesn't agree."

Paige complained while sighing, "But since so, I'll just listen to them. After all, they are doing it for my own good, and I can't make them unhappy over this child."

Jocelyn nodded with a smile, saying, "Recuperate well at home, a woman needs to be well taken care of during her recuperation period after giving birth."

"As for the company, even if you're not there, I can still handle it well on my own, don't worry about it." added Jocelyn.

Paige nodded helplessly, "Even if I am not at ease, what can I do? Now it is as if I am imprisoned by their hands and feet. I can not look at anything, can not worry about anything."

At this very moment, Abel pushed open the door and walked in.

Seeing the two chatting so happily, Abel immediately became curious.

He instantly walked to Paige and sat down next to her.

And then with one hand naturally wrapped around the sunken shoulders, lazily folding his legs, he looked at Jocelyn and asked, "What are you talking about?"

"It's still necessary for you to come over, Jocelyn. Only when I see you, my Paige will be extra happy."
Abel added.

Watching Paige happy, at this moment, he couldn't have been in a better mood.

Hearing this, Jocelyn immediately smiled and responded truthfully, "We decided that the two families would set a baby marriage, and in the future, when Madeline grows up, she will marry Jacob."

"How about it, do you agree?" asked Jocelyn.

Abel immediately nodded without a second thought, "That's good, then I can only say that Jacob is as voluptuous and blessed as his father."

"Madeline is perfect, to get such a perfect daughter-in-law, that's an honour for our family, okay?" Abel said again.

Abel is in favour of this with both hands.

And immediately, Jocelyn said, "Then it's settled, haha."

Abel nodded again, "Okay, you can't go back on your word."

Jocelyn smiled lightly, "Don't worry, I won't."

Abel smiled with joy at her words.

"I just came up to see Jacob and Paige, take a look, I'm satisfied, I should go on down to play cards." said
Abel straight up.

At that Paige immediately shook her head helplessly, "Do you want to be so exaggerated?"

"There is a point most important, Denis, in their own relatives and friends, has good reputation, and he has never had a relationship."

"Didn't do anything wrong either, everyone's saying good old fashioned things about the kid." added Jocelyn, "I really think highly of him."

"I'm hoping that he will do a good job." said Paige with the same full eyes of expectation.

"I'm sure this will be the next Ryan." added Jocelyn.

She sat inside the nursery for a long time.

Only afterwards did Noah come in did she reluctantly leave.

After getting into the car, Jocelyn fastened her seat belt and looked at Noah beside her and said, "I made a very important decision with Paige today."

Noah's eyes were full of smiles, "What important decision? The betrothal, right?"

Jocelyn nodded.

Noah, "I know, Abel was so excited that he told me that he couldn't control himself."

Jocelyn mouth smile grew, "Well, the boy is really good-looking, I think with he is a good match to Madeline."

Noah, "It would be really good if these two children could really follow the path of life that we have planned in the future."

"We know the roots of the Mccall family? We will watch the child growing up. When Madeline marries into the Mccall family, she will not be at a disadvantage." Noah added .

At this time, Noah's face was full of seriousness.

Jocelyn nodded, "I think so too, no matter from any aspect, Jacob is the most suitable for Madeline."

Noah nodded, and then he lit a cigarette, put it in his mouth, started the car and left with a kick of the accelerator.

By the roadside, fiery red roses, still in full bloom.

[This is really a stunning face. Absolutely, I've been enchanted.]

Looking at the comments of the netizens, Jocelyn felt satisfied all of a sudden.

Denis' photo, from being taken, to being scattered everywhere.

It even bombarded the entire internet.

In fact, it's all because X Entertainment is behind it, pushing the envelope.

The reason why she is letting everyone see this young man at this juncture is for Denis' next talent show.

She wants to give Denis, publicity to build up the momentum, so that Denis can start that little bit higher.

She wants to make sure that Denis can make a smooth debut.

It was clear that their planning was successful.

Passers-by are enamoured by Denis' face and are even picking up on Denis' identity.

It gave birth to the identity of Denis.

Her purpose achieved.

She thought that with this operation, it would be difficult for Denis not to be noticed if she participated in talent shows.

This time, she saw another unread message on her Weibo feed that started exploding.

She instantly clicked straight on the message page and took a look.

Inside the page, all of them are private messages.

The content of the private message all about Denis -

"Let us serve you well for your meal. We have got the lunch ready, all dishes specified by Mr. Mason, your favorite dishes. You may now go down and have it."

A baby-sitter said, in all seriousness.

Jocelyn then nodded sharply, but her eyes stayed fixed on the two little cuties, Madeline and Lawrence.

Right now, she doesn't want to go down to dinner, she just wants to spend some time with the two childs.

They just didn't see each other for one day yesterday, plus one night.

She just couldn't take it anymore.

Now she felt as if she had been separated from them for half a century and then reunited afterwards.

She just wanted to make up for the hours of mother-son bonding that she missed.

Sometimes she really wants to be at home for a day with nothing to do and spend some time with her two babies.

When she was recuperating before, she was always looking forward to going out to work looking forward to breathing freely.

But after she was really free, she realized that she didn't seem to have much time to spare for her two children every day.

Of the twenty-four hours in a day, she has only two or three hours to spare for the children.

So she now misses, again, that time of recuperation.

At least in those days she was able to be with her two children all the time.

She can give them plenty of company.

"Miss Murphy, going down to dinner now?" A baby-sitter asked.

Jocelyn smiled, "No rush first, I'll spend time with the two babies."

That baby-sitter immediately nodded with a smile, "Okay, you keep them company, they should really miss you, although they won't say it, but we can see it."

"Last night, when you and Mr. Mason didn't come over, the two kids kept looking around like they were looking for someone."

"And, for the first time ever, they're staying up late, as if they've been waiting for something."

Hearing this, Jocelyn once again felt her heart melt.

"Is that so?" Jocelyn asked.

Chapter 1177 First Time Father

The parents had long since made him distrustful in a million ways.

Not to mention, he doesn't know if this is all a layout of them pretending to be sick, or if they are really sick.

Even if it were true, he wasn't interested.

They had, at one time, driven him to extremes with Zoe.

With their own hands they took the gentle piece of clean, white paper and painted it with various colours.

And he was, even nearly, never to be seen with Zoe again.

How could he let go of such a deep hatred?

The more he saw them, the more disgusted he became and the more he wanted to kill them.

So he felt that in order to make everyone feel better about each other, it would be better not to see each other again in this life.

They had done so many bad things to Zoe, and for his own comfort and Zoe's, then this was the best ending.

Zoe took it all in.

Zoe took a sip of water while adding a piece of beef and looked at Robert, "You can make whatever decision you want. I'm not even angry, you don't have to think about me."

It's her business that she hates Robert's parents.

However, she would not force Robert to follow suit and be nasty too.

At no time would she deprive, Robert of the kinship between them.

Anything Robert wants to do, he can do.

At the sound of her words, Robert's heart immediately warmed.

Comparing what his parents did, and then looking at Zoe, he really felt better and better about Zoe.

Robert then snorted coldly and gently held Zoe's hand, clasping fingers together, "Do you think it's possible?"

"I can never forgive them in my life, ever."

Robert nodded heavily, and then looked at Zoe again, with a gentle face, and asked, "Is it still hard now?"

Zoe nodded.

Robert immediately looked at Marcus and added, "Is it normal for her to have weakness all over, as well as fear of cold? Is there any way to make her feel better?"

Marcus said, "There is nothing to do but to rest more and sleep well, these are normal reactions. Generally speaking, if you make it through the first three months, everything will be fine."

"Of course, I've seen a small number of people, throughout their pregnancy, who are having a difficult time," Marcus added.

Hearing this, Robert's heart suddenly ached.

He instantly caressed Zoe's face, "I will definitely treat you twice as well in the future."

Zoe smiled, "It's nothing, every woman has to go through this, doesn't she?"

Robert, "It is hard for you."

Zoe, "Don't make a fuss, I'm not that pretentious."

Robert, "You can be big-headed, but I can't, you're the one I've gone to a lot of trouble to keep around."

At those words, Zoe's heart warmed once again.

At this moment, Zoe even felt that she was moved to cry.

Seeing this scene, Robert immediately felt as if he had been touched gently by a pair of warm hands, deep inside himself.

Robert immediately cupped Zoe's face with dotting eyes and said, "You are about to become a mother, is it appropriate for you to cry."

Zoe, "But I'm impressed."

Robert, "What a child."

Now Zoe felt happy.

"In the future I will work twice as hard to be good to you and to the child, I will be a good husband and a good father." Robert said again.

Zoe nodded immediately.

She knew that Robert would be able to do it.

"Also, don't say anything like that, I wasn't much of a purist myself in the first place, I didn't feel that I was in any position to dislike you. You've been through all that, but in my heart, you've always been the cleanest."

"Zoe, don't mention those things again, okay? Forget everything." said Robert again.

He knew that Zoe would be sad and upset every time she thought of those things.

So, he really wanted Zoe to forget.

How much of a shadow that incident had cast over Zoe, he knew in his heart.

Zoe nodded and subconsciously clutched Robert's hand.

When the two of them got back inside the house, Robert then carefully placed Zoe on the sofa.

The whole time Robert seemed to be pampering the national treasure.

After setting Zoe down steadily, Robert sat down besides Zoe, before taking out his phone.

At this time, Marcus just happened to send over some pregnancy precautions.

It includes some dietary contraindications and whatnot.

Robert instantly looked at it seriously.

Hearing this, Zoe could not help but give Robert a blank stare, "There's really no need to do that."

Robert, "Yes, yes, yes, you're right to listen to me on this, you know?"

Zoe nodded helplessly.

Robert is a man who is more stubborn than anything else.

When he has decided on a path, nothing can be changed.

On such a trivial matter, she didn't bother to continue arguing with Robert about anything.

Solely let him be.

"Robert, if that happens, I think I'll turn into a pig in three months."

"How so?"

"It's a wonder you don't turn into a pig when you're clothed and fed, you'll regret it when the time comes."

As soon as Zoe's words left her mouth, Robert carried Zoe and walked into the master bedroom, carefully placing her on the bed.

He then dropped to one knee and took off her slippers.

She lay down.

Inside the room, although the temperature was very comfortable, he pulled the thin summer cooler over Zoe's body.

This wave of manipulation made Zoe feel, even more, like a baby.

"How can I regret it?"

"I wouldn't look good if I turned into a pig, of course you'd regret it, who would want their woman to look like a pig?"

Robert smiled and lightly held his forehead, saying, "That doesn't matter to me, no matter what you become, I like you."

Zoe frowned slightly, with a touch of inquiry under her eyes, "You clearly said before that you like beautiful women with sexy bodies, why did you forget so?"
