Chapter 1221 Children Obeying (1)

Every time when Madeline made an unreasonable request, Lawrence was all disgusted and cold.

But as soon as Madeline is pampered and aggrieved, he will immediately surrender.

Jocelyn, "You can supervise your sister and only take three bites."

Madeline has a weak gut.

Three bites is the limit.

Lawrence nodded his head.

He then looked at Madeline with a cold face and said, "Go on, follow me."

His tone was overbearing.

Madeline then followed Lawrence.

The moment the two children walked to the door, Jocelyn admonished, "After the ice cream, take your sister to bed, got it?"

Lawrence, "Got it."

He didn't even look back, he just coolly led Madeline away.

As the children grew up, the family's baby-sitters left.

Jocelyn rehired four more nannies for the two children.

The nannies are responsible for the children's food and living, but for the cooking and cleaning of the house.

Over the years, she has become increasingly busy with Noah.

Time is scarce.

Even when they have time, they are with their children.

There is no time for housework.

So even though they really disliked strangers in the house, they still got four nannies.

The home is too big for four nannies to take care of the children, laundry, cooking and housekeeping.

Once the two of them reached the kitchen, the two nannies, Ava and Aubree, followed behind them in silence.

One is to monitor their safety.

The second is to monitor that they don't eat ice cream indiscriminately.

When they reached the kitchen, Ava and Aubree stood in the doorway.

Instead, Lawrence opened the freezer and took out a box of ice cream for Madeline.

After opening the ice cream, he pulled Madeline to sit on the floor, while he carefully dug two bites with a spoon for Madeline.

Once she had finished eating, Madeline opened her mouth again.

Two bites were not enough for her.

But Lawrence put the lid on the ice cream and put it back in the drawer full of ice cream.

With a cold, domineering look on his face, he ordered, "Don't eat too much, your body can't take it."

Madeline resorted to the old tactics and began to pout pitifully towards Lawrence.

Lawrence doted on his sister, but there was still a bottom line, for his sister's good health.

Madeline's pampering was useless, so she frowned, complaining, "Humph, brother is so bad."

Lawrence, "It's for your own good."

Madeline, "Hmph."

Lawrence, "Go to bed."

Although Madeline did not speak, she obediently took Lawrence's hand and followed him, leaving the kitchen.

The two siblings, who grew up together, spent time together.

It was this brother that Madeline loved the most.

Although her brother sometimes dislikes her, she knows that he actually loves her very much.

Her brother is a person who is cold on the outside and hot on the inside.

When he got back to his room, Lawrence acted like adult and took Madeline to wash up.

At this time, he then took Madeline in his arms, patted her back and put her to sleep

Madeline, however, closed her eyes and could not sleep.

Lawrence began to sing a lullaby to Madeline that her nanny often sang.

In the warm embrace of her brother, Madeline soon fell into sleep.

The four nannies stood in the doorway and were all warmed by the sight.

Although this scene is a regular occurrence in this home, they still get warmed up on a daily basis.

Once Madeline had been put to sleep, Lawrence carefully placed Madeline's head on the pillow.

And then naturally, he took another small pillow, covered him with the quilt and slept with Madeline.

Outside the window, the night is quiet.

A beautiful summer night with a starry sky and cicadas chirping.

Occasionally, there will be a single firefly, fluttering beautifully in a swarm.

Two siblings in a luxurious and cosy room were just quietly asleep.

Jocelyn and Noah saw this scene when they walked into their room.

The two couldn't resist hooking their lips at once.

Then they sat together by both their beds.

They are so happy to see such a frugal couple.

Thanks to fate, they are blessed with such a pair of cute babies.

Jocelyn finished helping to register the two children.

Soon both children were well on their way to the nursery.

And the two children have taken on a whole new identity.

Madeline, the daughter of the South City Property Group.

Lawrence, the son of the South City Property Group.

South City Property Group is a local company of considerable renown in South City.

It is ranked around the top 500 in the country.

At Phaeton Kindergarten is considered the most common status.

All of Phaeton's children are rich.

There are even grandchildren of some heads of state.

The two of them are the most insignificant of all here.

Chapter 1222 Children Obeying (2)

In particular, Lawrence has always taken special care of his sister Madeline.

In the class, he's almost like being Madeline's dad.

Madeline's personality is one of the more crybaby-prone types.

But because Lawrence was there, Madeline was very well behaved throughout.

Both Jocelyn and Noah knew that it must be Lawrence, the older brother, who had given his sister enough security.

When they saw the two children enter the house, Jocelyn and Noah were immediately filled with joy and could not wait to walk towards the children.

It was clear that they were supposed to be separated a lot during the day.

But today, the two of them are missing their two children extraordinarily.

Maybe it's because the two children have just started school, so they are both extra worried.

Soon, Jocelyn and Noah picked up Madeline and Lawrence respectively.

The moment both children were picked up, the corners of their mouths curled into a gentle smile.

It was the first time in their lives that they both wore school uniforms.

Look cute and lovable.

They have a nice school uniform, the boy has white shirt, black tie and black English style suit.

The girl, on the other hand, have white shirt, black tie, black pleated skirt, and English-style slim-fitting short mini-suit, as well as white calf-length socks.

The two children looked exceptionally good in their school uniforms.

Immediately, Jocelyn could not resist kissing them both separately.

Jocelyn then rested her forehead on Madeline's forehead and looked at Lawrence and asked, "How is the first day of school today, do you feel good?"

Although she knew they were all happy, she, as a mother, had to be concerned in their presence.

Lest the two children feel that their mother does not care for them and that bad feelings will arise within them.

Jocelyn has always been very attentive to the children's emotions and some very minor mental activities.

Lawrence nodded and said coolly, "It was fun to go to kindergarten."

Madeline soon nodded and opened her mouth softly, "Yes, yes, it's really great, I think it's much more fun than at home, basically only my brother plays with me at home, but at kindergarten, there will be so many other children."

"The children are so friendly to me." Madeline added, "And so friendly to brother."

At the mention of the subject, Lawrence's face went cold.

Soon, he looked at Madeline with a disgusted face and frowned, saying, "Don't let boys just kiss your face in the future, understand?"

While Lawrence said this, Jocelyn and Noah were both flabbergasted.

The two of them were staring at the classroom monitor a lot today though.

But not every moment is spent staring at it.

They really didn't know about this when Lawrence said it.

Did Madeline actually be kissed by a boy on her first day of school?

Are all young boys nowadays so precocious already, to kiss a good-looking girl?

After Jocelyn and Noah were confused, both of their faces instantly turned serious.

In particular, Noah's face was as gloomy as the sky before the rain.

At that moment a mountain of coldness rained down on the living room.

"What do you mean?" Noah asked, looking at Lawrence.

Lawrence then frowned coldly and said, "There was a boy who kissed her on the face, but she foolishly did not resist and hugged his neck."

"Probably because we kiss my sister like this, so my sister thinks it's normal to be kissed on the face, after all, my sister is still young and doesn't know anything."

Lawrence said it with the look of a young adult.

Their two children, though, have always spoken in a sweet voice.
However, the diction is very clear.
The words are logical and clear.
Jocelyn thought that if she closed her eyes, she would not believe that it was spoken by this boy.
He was born just bit before his sister.
Jocelyn laughed and looked at Lawrence with a helpless face, "Like you're very big."
Lawrence responded coolly, "I'm not very big either, but I'm the older brother, so I have to be more mature than her."
Noah nodded, and then looked at Madeline and said, "In the future, except for mommy and daddy, brother, and our family's relatives and friends, you can't let anyone kiss you casually, understand?"
"Especially not boys," said Noah.
Although Madeline did not understand why Noah said that, she nodded obediently.
"Okay," said Madeline.
She still had a good face.
When she finished, she naturally took Lawrence's hand and said, "Brother, don't be angry."
Lawrence, "What a fool, a girl has to learn to protect herself outside."
The lines of Lawrence are more mature than one.
But both Jocelyn and Noah have seen it all before.
Madeline nodded obediently once again.
Lawrence, "Come on, I'll take you to your room and review what you've studied today."
Madeline nodded obediently once again.
At these words, Jocelyn and Noah put down their two children in unison.
The two children had just come home and Jocelyn hadn't had enough of them yet.
Hearing that they were about to go up to study here, Jocelyn immediately leaned down, propped her hands on her knees, looked at the two children and asked.

Chapter 1223 Class

There was nothing left for Jocelyn to regret now, except that she would regret that her parents were not alive and that she could not do her filial duty in front of them.
The more she likes it, the more she sometimes wishes her mum and dad could come to life.
So that she could show them her happy life.
Thinking of this, Jocelyn hugged Noah.
"Honey, I'm craving for your steamed eggs with shrimps." Jocelyn said.
Noah, "I'll go and make it for you."
Jocelyn, "Okay."
Noah then strolled into the kitchen.
Jocelyn sat down on the sofa, clutching a large pile of snacks, and ate them.
All these snacks were bought by Noah for Madeline and Lawrence.
But neither child eats many snacks.
Most of the stuff went into her stomach.
...
Time, as it were, continued to wander forward minute by minute.
The long river of time keeps pushing the years forward.
In a blink of an eye, two children both started their first year of school.

At six years old, children know a lot more than they used to.

Much more obedient too.

The children are thriving.

And the same goes for the company of Jocelyn and Noah.

Today, Murphy Group is long ready to stand shoulder to shoulder with Griffin Group at the top of the world.

Two people complete and evenly matched.

And Jocelyn, for several years running, has been named a world-renowned woman of power, among other titles.

Over the years, Jocelyn and Noah's life has been smooth and prosperous.

On this day, Jocelyn was at X Entertainment as usual to approve documents.

Halfway through the document, a phone call from a nanny came in.

Jocelyn pressed answer.

"What's wrong?" Jocelyn asked.

"The two children are beaten up in school, and now they are forcing two children to kneel down, and if they don't apologize, they will have to kick two children straight out of the school."

"It is a local family, with noble background and the family business is in the top ten global. They are arrogant, and now the director is on their side, for he can't offend the other party."

"Why don't you come over? Madeline is crying a lot right now, totally terrified, and all those adults are bullying Madeline."

Hearing this, Jocelyn immediately felt her heart being stabbed hard by something.

Intense anger spreads instantly through the heart.

Jocelyn then frowned deeply and stood up with her jacket, "Got it, I'll go over there now."

Now hearing about this situation with the two children, there was nothing that Jocelyn could care about.

She just wanted to see her daughter soon.

She hid the children's identities so that they can thrive happily inside the nursery and live a healthy, happy and undisturbed life.

It is not for the children to be aggravated inside the kindergarten.

Originally, she thought that the parents of Phaeton Kindergarten, who are quite high quality, would not have happened.

Inside the office of the director of Phaeton Kindergarten, Madeline had been crying with her head bowed in resignation.

On the other hand, Lawrence was shielding his sister behind him.

A group of adults surrounded the two of them.

Inside were the director, three teachers from their two classes, and the parents of the young boy with whom they had a conflict, as well as the family's bodyguards.

Everyone was looking at them with a grim look on their faces.

And the boy who had the conflict with them was sitting on a chair next to them, watching it all coldly.

He was staring dead at Lawrence.

His eyes were full of provocation.

Soon the nanny, Ava, came in and shielded the two children once again.

"You two brats, don't apologize yet, do you? Do you want to be thrown out straight away?"

"I'm telling you, if you don't apologise, not only will you be thrown out, but your mum and dad will be out of luck."

"I will never let you family off the hook."

The boy's father pointed coldly at Madeline and Lawrence and scolded.

With an icy face, Lawrence looked at the boy's father and said coldly, "Throw me out? Make our family suffer great bad luck? Try it."

"As I said, this matter is not the fault of my sister and I. The reason why your son was beaten by us is because your son was shameless and molested my sister."

"Not only did he forcefully kiss my sister's face, but he even fondled her body. He deserves a beating." Lawrence continued.

He spoke with power.

Chapter 1224 Angry

The head gardener's words, and what was going on in front of her, destroyed Lawrence's awareness. At this moment, Lawrence understood deeply the hypocrisy of the head gardener and this group of adults.

He became even angrier.

He clenched his fist again and looked at the head gardener and said, "Who am I to apologize? It is obvious that they are bullying people, if Phaeton Kindergarten is this kind of standard, then I think, I and Madeline do not stay."

At the end of the sentence Lawrence rushed to the man, and then took off his small leather shoes and threw them at the man's face.

Lawrence's movements were fast and steady, just like a gust of wind

By the time the man reacted, the leather shoe had been thrown in his face.

And it hit him on the bridge of his nose.

Everyone in the room was shocked.

No one expected that Lawrence, a child, would have the guts to do such a thing.

The man became even angrier when he was hit.

He lifted his hand and viciously threw a slap towards Lawrence's face.

Because of the tremendous force, Lawrence soon fell straight to the ground.

The limbs collided wildly with the cold tiled floor, and the moment the sharp pain spread, Lawrence's face was instantly white with pain.

To the side, the little boy who had clashed with them, seeing this scene, immediately hooked his lips in satisfaction.

And then the little boy was coldly looking at Lawrence and said, "What an insouciant fool, you really deserve to be beaten by my father, hahaha."

Lawrence was hit and all his temper came up at once.

And when Madeline saw that Lawrence had been beaten, she was even more distressed and ran straight to Lawrence's side.

While pulling Lawrence up, she looked at the man and said in aggravation, "Bad man, you're really dead."

But the head gardener, and the teachers, and the others who were watching, refused to speak for the two children.

Everyone looks on with a cold shoulder.

The man snorted, "I'm dead? How are you going to let me die, are you going to just beat me to death with a leather shoe?"

"You two brats are the ones who are dead, and I'm telling you, not only are you dead, your mum and dad will be dead too"

"Parents who can give birth to two bitches like you are bitches and deserve to be stepped on hard by me."

This instant, anger rose to the fore.

All of Madeline's fear disappeared.

Madeline instantly wiped the tears straight from her eyes.

Then she shielded her brother Lawrence behind her.

With her arms crossed, she looked at the man with dominance and said, "Okay, I remember everything you said, I hope you won't shit your trousers in fear."

"What a joke, why would I be scared to shit my trousers?" The man sneered again.

And all those people around who were watching found what Madeline said very funny.

Everyone laughed.

In everyone's opinion, it was impossible for Madeline's family to do anything about this man, even if they did everything they could.

The two of them, though, share the same name as the two children of the Mason family.

But fate, and family background, are worlds apart.

Madeline immediately turned her head to look at the nanny and asked, "Did you call?"

The nanny immediately nodded her head.

The man immediately laughed coldly once again, "Oh, call to gather people? Fine, get all the people you can mobilize, no matter how many people come, it's still the same, you have to kneel in front of me, beg for forgiveness and admit your mistakes."

"Remember, your family's group should suffer reprisals from others, it is really your family's own doing, invited by you two troublemakers."

The man's wife opened up at this point.

Lawrence grunted coldly and stopped paying attention to her, just waiting quietly for the family to arrive.

"What, no more talking? Is it that you don't dare? I'll give you one more chance, get down on your knees and admit your mistake right now, then go lick my son's leather shoes clean."

"In that case, I can let them off the hook."

The man said again.

The man's words were more sarcastic and meaner than one another.

Every sentence kept challenging Madeline and Lawrence's bottom line.

Madeline sneered, with those big slightly red eyes, looking at the man, disdainfully said, "If you are a sensible person, you should kneel down now and apologize to us and admit your mistake, so that when people come from my family later, I can still consider it and let them let you off."

"The opportunity is too good to miss. I promise, you will regret it in a moment." Madeline said again.

Lawrence added, "Right."

The man, however, laughed helplessly, "Haha, scaring me? Would I be intimidated by you two?"

"I've put my word here today that I won't be afraid of whatever people you have coming here."

"If I'm fucking scared, I'll cut off my head and use it as a bench for you guys, what kind of people have I seen over the years?"

When Jocelyn walked to the door of the director's office, she heard the man's arrogant voice and saw the man's fiery face.

Looking at the man in front of the two children, Jocelyn was instantly even more furious. What kind of man is this in front of two children? Jocelyn pushed her sunglasses upwards and stepped into the office, saying, "Yes?" When everyone saw Jocelyn, for a moment, everyone was silent. At this moment, although Jocelyn looked gentle, she was shrouded in a layer of eerie coldness. It was as if the sound of a pin falling on the floor could be heard in the office. No one expected that Jocelyn would suddenly appear here. "Mummy." Madeline and Lawrence spoke in unison. And then the two children ran to Jocelyn's lap and hugged her thighs together in a resigned manner. When they saw this scene, everyone inside the office couldn't help but suck in a cold breath. The teachers and the director, as well as the parents of that child, were inwardly remorseful. "These are your son and daughter?" The man looked at Jocelyn with an incredulous expression and asked, pointing to the two children. Jocelyn ignored it and just frowned deeply, looking at the faces of her two children. The two children, looking bruised and battered, are heartbreaking. And what hurt her most was the slap mark on Lawrence's face. Obviously, that's caused by an adult. There is no way a child could be that strong. It was even more unlikely that it could have left such a large mark on Lawrence's face. For a moment, Jocelyn became even more furious.

Chapter 1225 About to fight

Jocelyn glanced indifferently at the adults around her who were quiet. And then she asked, "Who beat my son?" At the same time, a group of bodyguards, which Jocelyn had with her, arrived at the office door. At this point everyone was standing neatly. A black mass of people fills one with a sense of oppression just by looking at them. Everyone was about to choke. The man opened his mouth with trepidation, "It's me, I'm sorry, Miss Murphy, it's because I didn't know that these two children are your children, if I knew, I certainly wouldn't have done that." Jocelyn ignored it, "Which hand did you hit him?" The man took a deep breath and said, "The right hand." Jocelyn frowned deeply, "Got it." "Wait, someone will come for your right hand," added Jocelyn. Hearing this, the man became even more frightened. The man then trembled and looked at Jocelyn, "I'm sorry, Miss Murphy, I am really sorry." Jocelyn snorted coldly, "If being sorry worked, why would you need the police?" The man knew he was about to be finished. Immediately kneeling on both knees, looking at Jocelyn and Madeline and Lawrence, he said, "I'm really sorry, I beg you to forgive me" Lawrence and Madeline grunted coldly at the same time, before turning his gaze to the side. No one wanted to look at this man more than once. "Who's the teacher?" Jocelyn asked, looking at the crowd. The two female teachers immediately went up to Jocelyn and said, "I am."

Jocelyn, "It's obvious that the other party is at fault, why don't you guys just ignore it?"
The head gardener sniffed immediately and walked to Jocelyn, intimately took Jocelyn's hand and said,
"We are just investigating, not ignoring."
Jocelyn, "Oh? Is that so? Then how come that's not what I heard?"
The head gardener smiled bitterly, "I think there was some kind of misunderstanding."

Jocelyn grunted.
Even without going into detail to track it down, it was clear to Jocelyn.
And the two teachers aside began to look at Jocelyn ingratiatingly -
"Miss Murphy, we really didn't intend to leave it alone."
"Yeah, you misunderstood"
"Misunderstanding or not, I know it in my heart, I sent my children here because I thought highly of you guys, you know that, right?" Jocelyn said, "Because I thought your school would be a great place."
"Now it really seems that I was wrong about the quality of you all, even less than those affordable kindergartens."
"I will have someone come tomorrow to process the withdrawal."
"And you will pay the price for your actions. My children are not there for you to bully."
The more Jocelyn said, the more angry she became.
At this moment, she really wanted to beat up all these teachers.
From the nanny's mere words, she had understood everything.
Plus the state of the place when she just came in, it's a glimpse of what's going on in there.
These teachers are clearly on the other side.
Her children were so young to have seen this and she really wasn't sure if it would cast a childhood shadow on them.
Just thinking about what the children had just been through Jocelyn felt her heart break.
Children have never been a scourge to her.
Whoever touches her children or provokes her children is her enemy.
When Madeline and Lawrence saw Jocelyn, their hearts warmed up at the same time.
The two children looked at Jocelyn with a touched look on their faces.
Lawrence began to explain the events leading up to the fight.
And Madeline kept nodding beside her, catering to Lawrence's words.
Listening to everything the two children described in concrete terms, Jocelyn felt even more angry.
And immediately afterwards, Lawrence began to tell Jocelyn all about the encounter he had just had inside the office in its original form.
What the man said and did.
What the man's wife said and sat on.
And what the teachers were doing, Lawrence told Jocelyn all about it.
All the people on the sidelines heard this and started to panic.
They all really wished that Lawrence would say less.
Who would have thought that a child's ability to express himself would be so amazing?
They can't believe that he was able to say all of that complicated thing in one fell swoop.
And it manages to render the emotions all particularly well.
The boy is a real genius now.
The more Jocelyn listened, the harder her face became.
She has a problem with being protective.

"Well, that's good," said Jocelyn, giving them another cold look.
With those words, she then waved indifferently towards the door, "All come in"
The bodyguards immediately ran in and formed a circle around the scene.
Surrounding everyone inside the circle.
The bodyguard had heard everything that Lawrence had just said.
Everyone is angry at the moment.
How can these people trample on the two children?

Chapter 1226 Dreaming Kindergarten

Jocelyn glanced indifferently at the closed door.
And then she pointed to the head gardener, Madeline and Lawrence's teachers, and the boy's parents, and looked coldly at the bodyguards and said, "Teach them well to behave."
She had never been one to use force easily.
Unless she really can't help it.
When something like this happened to Madeline and Lawrence, none of those present were innocent.
The children are the scales of Jocelyn's rebellion.
Anyone who touches the children, then she can use force at all costs.
At this moment, all she wanted to do was to get back what the children had endured a thousand times over.
At the thought, Jocelyn's face turned even colder.
It was at this time that those who had been named by Jocelyn knelt down en masse.
Jocelyn, however, did not wait for them to say anything and turned around and walked straight out.
Thinking about the faces of these people, the words that were said before.
And look at the humble appearance of these people now.
Jocelyn couldn't help but feel sarcastic.
At this moment, she suddenly felt that it was really quite good to be rich.
It's really quite good to be the chairman of Murphy Group and the wife of the chairman of Griffin Group.
The moment she turned around, the office wailed.
But Jocelyn was not turning around at all.
After closing the door, Jocelyn took a step and left the office building.
When she returned to the car, Jocelyn saw Lawrence sitting obediently in the passenger seat with Madeline in his arms.
And the nanny sat in the back.
Seeing Jocelyn get into the car, Madeline and Lawrence gave a thumbs up towards Jocelyn with eyes full of admiration.

Today Jocelyn has backed them both up in front of so many people.
Both of them felt their mummy amazing.
"Mummy, Mummy, you were really so valiant just now, I really adore you." Madeline said.
"Yes." Lawrence spoke coolly.
The face, which had been punched, was now flushed with a greenish tinge.
It hurts to watch.
When Jocelyn saw this scene, her heart immediately throbbed hard once again.
She immediately reached out and gently stroked Lawrence's face, asking, "Does it still hurt?"
Lawrence nodded, "It's okay, it hurts bit that guy really hit too hard, mommy, he must have been beaten violently, didn't he?"

Lawrence knew very well that the reason why Jocelyn had sent him and Madeline all away was actually to beat those people violently.

Jocelyn nodded, "Yes, whoever bullies my babies, I will return the violent beating, provided, of course, that my babies are reasonable."

Lawrence immediately nodded, "We understand."

Seeing this, Madeline immediately nodded in a good manner.

Jocelyn, "As long as you two are right and not wrong in any principle, then Mummy can be the back up for you two for the rest of your lives."

These words touched the two siblings, Madeline and Lawrence, deep inside.

At this time of the year, Jocelyn is infinitely more secure for them.

Seeing how well behaved the two of them were, and remembering what the two children had just suffered, Jocelyn became even more furious.

"Mummy, so where are we going to go to school if we both don't come to this school from tomorrow?" Lawrence asked.

Jocelyn thought seriously for a moment and said, "Wait until I discuss it with your daddy tonight, there is no hurry."

Lawrence and Madeline nodded at the same time.

"Let's go home now, in your case, Lawrence, you need to hurry up and ice it, otherwise this face won't heal for a few days." Jocelyn said again.

And once again, Lawrence nodded obediently.

Soon after, Jocelyn started the car and took Madeline and Lawrence back home.

After applying ice to Lawrence, Jocelyn played with the two children in the children's room.

The children were all extra humble towards Jocelyn because she had stood up for them.

Whatever their favourite toy is, in their case it's Jocelyn first.

The two children were tired of playing and fell asleep in the end.

And Jocelyn was sitting next to them, working on her laptop.

In the evening, after a busy day, Noah came home and walked into the children's room.

As soon as he entered the door, Noah saw the swollen face of the sleeping Lawrence in bed.

Noah's face darkened instantly.

The man then walked straight to the bed at a quicker pace, looked at Lawrence and asked, "What's going on?"

Although, the swelling was on Lawrence's face hurt Noah's heart.

Jocelyn closed the laptop and got up to tell Madeline and Lawrence's afternoon encounter to Noah in full.

After hearing all this, Noah's face became even darker.

"What? How can this be happening? Get all of this group at once."

"I already beat them." Jocelyn said without waiting for Noah to finish.

Chapter 1227 CP

Dreaming Kindergarten is the second most expensive nursery after Phaeton.

In any respect, it's very good.

Jocelyn then nodded at his words.

The two people just happily decided everything.

In the evening, Allie and Scott came to the house for dinner.
Noah cooked it himself.
The family had a lovely hotpot.
After the meal, they all sat together in front of the TV in the living room.
Watch this year's White Jade Awards ceremony live.
The White Jade Awards ceremony, one of the four major award ceremonies, has always been a much-anticipated presence.
In previous years, the award ceremony was held abroad.
Rarely does it arrive in the country this year.
The organiser of this award ceremony is Griffin Group.
They were supposed to be there.
But in order to be at home with the children, people then choose to watch live at home.
This time, Ryan, Denis, was nominated for the White Jade Award for his double male lead military drama film The Sea.
This award ceremony was of particular concern to Jocelyn.
She was curious to see which one of them would get the film award at the end of the day.
Will he get a movie star.
Over the years, Ryan's and Denis's careers have been growing.
Both the film and the TV series have achieved a clean sweep.
Denis, in particular, has improved by leaps and bounds over the years, much to Jocelyn's relief.
What pleased her most was Denis's usual understated and humble personality.
Even though he has won numerous awards in the film and television industry and is firmly established at the top of the pile, he still never forgets his originality.
He is moving steadily forward each and every day.
He is always polite and courteous.
Whatever work the company assigns, he will do it without complaint.
Apart from Ryan, her favourite person in the company is Denis.
Earlier he used to worry that he would jump ship when he had a track record.

But he didn't.
Countless people have offered high prices for blatant poaching over the years.
But Denis never wavered.
No matter how much or how many resources people give him, he doesn't even look at them.
Being the boss.
It was hard for her not to like such an employee.
The Best Newcomer Awards segment was being shown on TV at the moment.
The camera sweeps across the stage.
Jocelyn clearly saw Ryan and Denis.
As two top stars in X Entertainment today, a legendary presence in the entertainment industry.
The camera was on them for quite a long time before it left.
Tonight they were both well dressed.
Denis was dressed in a black slim-fit suit with a white shirt, and was handsome with light make-up.
Ryan was dressed in a taro purple suit with a white shirt, with light make-up and equally handsome.
Both have a clear and gentle air.
Although surrounded by handsome men and women, they continued to be the most beautiful sight in the entire awards ceremony.

The actresses around them would look at them twice now and then.
The two of them are in the limelight.
After the Best Newcomer award was presented, the cameras once again turned to them.
They are talking with their heads down.
The most beautiful faces and similar temperaments, just saying a few words, are the most beautiful images.
Soon after the nomination for the White Jade Award for Most Promising Actor, the cue went to Denis.
The camera is once again focused on the Denis and Ryan's position.
When Ryan heard Denis' name, the corners of his mouth immediately curled up in a satisfied arc.
The same is true of Denis.
"I would like to announce that the winner of this year's White Jade Award for Most Promising Actor is..."
"Denis."
A man and a woman presenting the award spoke up.
With a smile on his lips, Denis stood up and politely bowed towards the surroundings.
At this time Ryan stood up and naturally hugged Denis, "Congratulations"
Denis smiled faintly and hugged Ryan.
Everything is perfectly recorded by the camera.
After the hug is over.
Denis stepped up to the stage.
Ryan gently eyed him off.
As a senior, Ryan felt extremely pleased to see such a promising junior in the same company.
Denis' popularity has risen over the years, as has his ability.
The two of them started to have a lot of competition for resources.
Many people say they are rivals and do not share the same fate.
But only they know that although they are rivals, they have been in healthy competition.
And he never wanted anything to do with Denis.
The entertainment industry has such a good seedling in Denis. He feels so good.
All eyes on the world.
Denis stepped up to the stage.
Even if countless people demand for the camera, he remains calm and collected.
After many years, he has long since moved on from his initial youthfulness.
No matter how big the occasion, he is always at ease.
At home, Jocelyn was sincerely happy to see all this.
Allie looked at the camera, "Denis is really handsome."
Jocelyn, "You've been liking Denis lately?"
Allie, "Yes, I am his fan, and as a fan, I would like to say, Jocelyn, you must take good care of my Denis."
"Bring more resource to him, okay?"

Chapter 1228 Two Movie Kings

After looking at that title for a few seconds, Jocelyn clicked straight in
It was full of people and marketing numbers who were fans of the coupling.
Each one posted some video of the two of them together.
And it was accompanied by paragraph after paragraph of text -

[We spoke of our hidden love to the fullest in a house.]

[But I look only to his eyes, and what millions of people cheer, I care not.]

The words that came to her eyes were all lyrics from a song that Jocelyn was very familiar with.

Those lyrics, paired with the two making eye contact in the same frame, and the image of looking only at each other.

It really adds to the CP feel.

Jocelyn could understand the group's feelings.

Because of in the crowd, it was already a big fan of a couple.

But what Jocelyn couldn't understand was how this group of people could couple them when Ryan was obviously married.

As the view continued to move down, Jocelyn saw that both of them had completed their CP super talk, which had been established.

CP super talk name is called, [Thumping Star]

She instantly felt that this group of netizens were really very talented

Continuing down the page, she saw more and more statements -

[Denis and Ryan are really good as being together].

[This pair of CP is really sweet].

[Ryan is married, is it really okay for you guys to be say this?]

[Where did you put Rosa? Rosa said she was speechless, right?]

[Seriously, even though I know it's fake, I still think it's a good match].

[The love between a showbiz superstar and a rising top star in showbiz is really good.]

[The way Ryan looked at Denis, it was just nice, okay?]

[I don't care, they are real.]

Looking at the speeches, Jocelyn felt even more a bit confused.

However, it is particularly common to be fans of CP in the entertainment industry.

Usually, the artist and the artist's company will choose to ignore it.

So, Jocelyn wasn't going to pay too much attention.

When she exited the topic, Jocelyn looked at the other positions of the hot search.

Hot Topic 1 #Ryan Wear#

Hot Topic 2 #Denis Wear#

Both of them wore the word pop followed by the topic of their outfits.

And the conversation is hot, all of it has pretty much run its course.

Denis has been out for such a short period of time, and it's really gratifying to have such a hit, Jocelyn.

Clicking in, Jocelyn saw it, with all sorts of flatters from various fans.

Jocelyn is used to it, and after a brief look, she backs out.

After reading the tweets for a while, Jocelyn once again put her eyes on top of the award ceremony.

At this moment, a beautiful star, with a well-known director, walked onto the stage.

The actress said, "Next, it's time to present one of our most important trophies for this award ceremony, which is the Movie Star Trophy."

The director, "So who is it that has won the award for the movie star this time? Let's look at the big screen."

By this time the nominations for the various male stars began to appear on the big screen.

Among them were Denis, and Ryan, and others, former members of the film industry.

After the broadcast, the director said, "Let me announce that the winner of this time, the Award goes to

Denis."

The moment was met with thunderous applause

And Ryan immediately got up, hugged each other with Denis and said, "I'm happy to see you have such a good result."

Ryan, I am very happy that Denis won the award.

Over the years, it was clear to Ryan just how hard Denis had worked.

And the stars around them began to go wild, applauding for Denis.

Everyone was envious and jealous inside but kept a decent and enthusiastic look in front of the camera.

It seemed like everyone was having a good time.

And Denis' brain was blank at this point.

Over the years, although he has won many awards, none have carried more weight than this one.

At this moment, Denis felt a lot of emotions inside.

All kinds of images, from his first debut to his first film role later on, all flash before his eyes.

His debut was a smooth one, because he had Jocelyn as his boss.

But the process of acting in the film is not.

When he first announced his entry into the film industry, he had been ridiculed by countless people.

Many people say that there is a wall between idols and film actors.

More explicitly and implicitly, he was not good enough to act on the big screen.

Over the years, he has continued to prove himself.

And at this point, this award, more than anything else, proves to the world that he can really be a movie star.

There are no walls between idols and film actors.

If you work hard, you can be a movie star.

Just at this time, the actress added, "The director's words have just not been finished, and this time, there is another movie star."

Chapter 1229 Good Idols

"I'm going to use today's platform to make my position clear, I've had a lot of people come to me over this period of time wanting me to come to their companies."

"I even went out of my way to help pay for my astronomical breach of contract, and I'm grateful to this group of people here for looking out for me, but I want to say."

"No matter how good the conditions are out there, I won't leave X Entertainment, I will be bound with X Entertainment for the rest of my life, I hope everyone don't waste your time on me."

"I am with Jocelyn."

Denis said with true emotion in one word.

In fact, he hadn't really wanted to talk about these issues.

But there are just too many that come to the door these days.

It has even seriously affected his normal life.

So, he had to say it on this occasion and break everyone's mind.

Apart from that, there was a more important reason, and that was, he wanted to reassure Jocelyn.

He knew that the industry would surely spread the word when those people came to the door and made any offer.

And it was all bound to end up in the ears of Jocelyn.

Just because Jocelyn doesn't ask doesn't mean she doesn't know.

As a boss, it is natural to be upset knowing that her top star is on the minds of so many people. So, he wanted to take this opportunity to give Jocelyn a piece of mind.

Let Jocelyn know that his mind.

At these words, there was instant applause.

And at the same time, inside the award ceremony live stream, the pop-ups showed up -

[Denis is really affectionate and righteous.]

[Denis is really the best in showbiz.]

[Jocelyn has good eyes, every person she raises is excellent.]

[I'm sure Jocelyn must be a very good boss, otherwise the people under her wouldn't be so dedicated.]

This statement has made Denis' popularity explode.

All of a sudden the reputation is better.

At the end of his speech, Denis bowed deeply to the camera and to the crowd on stage.

He then stepped back to the side, giving his place to Ryan.

Ryan, on the other hand, walked with a calm face to where Denis had originally been.

And then he gave a speech about the award.

After thanking the company and his peers, Ryan added, "I want to thank my wife, thank you, for being by my side silently all this time to give me support and encouragement."

"For the rest of our lives, I hope the two of us can always be together."

"I hope we can be in love forever."

With his words, Ryan attracted the insane envy and jealousy of countless female celebrities on the scene.

There was thunderous applause.

The pop-ups in the live stream went even crazier -

[Ryan is really the best husband on earth.]

[What kind of perfect fate is Rosa? It must be a special deep love to say these words at such an award ceremony.]

[If I were Rosa, I would have been moved.]

[I suddenly realized that they are really good, and my idol is really happy.]

[Ryan and Rosa are always together.]

With all eyes on him, Ryan bowed towards everyone in a gentlemanly manner.

He then led Denis off the stage.

And at this time, inside the home, Allie's eyes were on Denis the whole time, she kept looking at the camera inside Denis, committing nymphomania -

"My idol is really handsome, my God, even if he's glowing white, his features are so perfect, how on earth did he grow up?"

"I really want to see his mum and dad, I'm curious what kind of parents it is to raise such a wonderful child."

"My idol is really rooted, really good, at a young age, he won the White Jade Film Award."

At this moment, the only person in Allie's eyes was Denis.

Despite the fact that Denis was accompanied by her son, Ryan.

Yet, she doesn't even mention Ryan at all.

Jocelyn, on the other hand, was fully immersed in the acceptance speech that Denis had just given.

She hadn't expected him to make a declaration like that straight away, on such an occasion.

She knew that the reason why Denis was doing this was actually to give her, the boss, a sense of security.

But she was, in fact, not insecure about anything.

Because she knew that Denis would not leave her.

And at this point, Allie continued to talk, "Denis, I love you, I want to spend money on you."

At this time, Jocelyn's thoughts were once again pulled back by Allie.

Jocelyn said with a smile, "Ryan is very good, at this age, Ryan got the award, and tonight Ryan is very handsome. How you do not care at all?"

Allie helplessly skimmed her lips and said, "Although he's good, I'll get bored of watching him every day."

She has a point.

But Jocelyn was thinking, if Ryan's fans heard her mother-in-law say that, they would surely be upset.

Chapter 1230 Expectation

After washing up, Jocelyn went to bed with Noah.

With the lights off and in the darkness, the two embraced calmly.

No matter how powerful Jocelyn was outside, in front of Noah, she was always simple, as if she was a child.

On the outside, she is the strong woman.

At home, Noah can let her be a girl again.

"I wonder if the two children, by now, are asleep."

At the mention of the babies, Jocelyn is all smiles.

So did Noah, "I think they are asleep, the two children have been sleeping well."

Jocelyn, "I realized that it's actually really good to have twins, to have both children at once, and the two children can grow up together and keep each other company and not be alone"

Noah nodded slightly, "Yes."

Jocelyn smiled as her thoughts began to drift to a day in the future, "I wonder what our children will be like when they grow up, I wonder if they will both be as obedient as ever."

"I wonder if they'll still be that sweet when they grow up," added Jocelyn.

Noah hooked his lips shallowly, "I think they will, I believe they will grow up warm and upright."

Jocelyn nodded slightly.

That is, what she expects of them.

In fact, she didn't really aspire much.

More than anything, she hopes that her children will grow up to be warm and upright.

The ability to have a very positive outlook and to have a lot of positive energy.

It is like two suns, always warm and always bright, always born to the sun.

...

Time rushes on.

Fifteen years have passed in such a hurry.

Fifteen years have changed a lot of people and a lot of things.

The Griffin Group and the Murphy Group have been making continuous efforts within the fifteen years of their existence.

It continues to dominate the world's number one and number two leading companies.

He has become a youthful memory for a generation, an icon for a generation forever.

He has maintained a high status in the fast-changing entertainment industry.

Wherever he appears, there will always be a crowd.

The same goes for Denis.

He became a superstar of his time, just like Ryan.

The pinnacle of the entertainment industry.

His artist contract has always been with X Entertainment

However, both of them have invested in outside companies.

Both have opened entertainment companies and are doing well.

Their company, which not only scouts for idols, but works with X Entertainment to produce films, dramas, web series and more.

Over the years, their entertainment companies have been flourishing.

Their character, as well as their ability, is not only recognised by their fans.

And it has been recognised by the stars of the entertainment industry.

A large part of the actors and actresses inside the entertainment industry are fans of both of them.

Rosa has been following Ryan's side, going from being his agent to being a leader in his entertainment company.

Over the years, Rosa has long since honed her skills to become a big shot in the entertainment industry.

She is an absolute goddess in the hearts of showbiz stars, as well as various bigwigs.

She has long since departed from the image she once had and has become an absolute businesswoman.

Paige has been at X Entertainment, helping Jocelyn with everything.

Abel, on the other hand, took over the hostcall Group and expanded it, rapidly, into the third largest company in the world.

Became a man who regularly appeared in the headlines of financial magazines.

How many high society celebrities and showbiz stars are swooning over this man.

But this is a man who has loved his wife, Paige, for more than ten years.

Never changed.

The love between the two is something that has touched the hearts of many people and gained the hearts of many fans.

And Robert has not only made King Entertainment a success, but has operated it into the second largest entertainment company in the world.

He has been in the field of investment and has achieved immense success.

Not only that, but he has been active in charity work.

He has become a great benefactor in the business world.

He has become an icon for countless business people.

His relationship with the Moore family is still like a glacier.

For more than ten years, even though the two elders of the Moore family had been trying to break the ice with him, he did not give it a chance.

The past was something he could never let go of.

Zoe has always been by Robert's side, taking care of him in his life and career.
