Chapter 141 Is There Anyone Better Than You?

Jocelyn didn't answer the phone, but just continued to talk to Paige.

"Okay, okay, it's up to you." Paige said helplessly.

"That's it. I have something else to do. Let's have dinner together another day." Jocelyn then hung up the phone directly.

After transferring 100,000 dollars to Paige, Jocelyn directly called Ryan back.

"Where are you? Can we have dinner together tonight?" Ryan's voice on the phone was as clean and gentle as ever.

"I'm in Murphy Properties Group." Jocelyn said.

"I'm going to pick you up. I'll be there in half an hour." He said again.

"Okay." Jocelyn hung up the phone.

After reading the documents for a while, and seeing that the time was almost up, Jocelyn quickly put on makeup, then tied her hair into a neat high ponytail, and went downstairs with her handbag.

At this moment, a black Rolls-Royce stopped.

It stopped directly in front of her.

Soon, the car window was rolled down and Ryan's smile appeared in front of her.

He was driving by himself. There was no one else in the car.

"Get in the car." He said.

Jocelyn looked around. After confirming that no one was around, she directly got into Ryan's car.

The heating in the car was very strong, which instantly warmed her.

Because of that phone call, she felt a little embarrassed staying with him in this confined space.

It was so awkward.

She moved slightly and quickly fastened the seat belt.

"I've made a reservation in the restaurant. Let's go there directly." Ryan still looked at ease, as if nothing had happened.

"Okay."

Chapter 142 The Qualification to Be My First Love

"Are there not many around you? What's so good about me as a married person?" Jocelyn always maintained a polite and friendly smile.

"Then why can't I see it? I think you are the best. Since you plan to get a divorce, why don't you leave a place for me? When you get divorced, I can be your boyfriend directly." The look in his eyes was more and more affectionate.

"I have always regarded you as a partner and a friend."

"Then don't treat me as a friend, but as a backup."

It was hard to imagine that this person who was chased after by countless people would actually say that he wanted to be a backup.

He was Ryan!

He was the Prince Charming in many girls's eyes.

However, Jocelyn was still not moved, "I don't have the habit of keeping a backup. Ryan, you are very good. Listen to me, look forward. Don't waste time on me."

"I will wait for you." Ryan didn't want to give up just like that, "I will keep this qualification for you to be my first love."

First love?

These two words surprised Jocelyn.

Such an excellent person had never been in love before?

Before deciding to sign him, she asked Paige to check him. He had a very clean background and hadn't any love history.

But at the time, Jocelyn just thought that he probably hid it well. It was absolutely impossible that he had never been in any relationships.

Unexpectedly, he didn't lie. He was purer than she imagined.

"It's really not necessary. Leave such a good opportunity to others."

"I said I would wait for you." He was almost paranoid, still not going to give up, "You are the person I liked for the first time since I was a child. No one has ever made me have such feelings, so I won't give up."

"You know what? When I saw you for the first time, I had a crush on you, but at the time, that crush wasn't the love. Then I paid attention to you for a long time. I liked you more and more. Now, I'm sure that I love you."

Chapter 143 Stay Away From Jocelyn, Ryan

They all looked the same, but their temperaments were completely different.

One had a strong sense of oppression, and the other was handsome without aggression.

One was cold and awe-inspiring and the other was warm and pure.

"Why are you here and still asked them to bring me here?" Ryan was a little unhappy.

What the hell was Noah doing? He actually forcibly interrupted his appointment, and asked someone to take him out of the restaurant.

"Why did you not answer Tom's phone call?" Noah took a deep drag of cigarette, and then slowly exhaled it. The smoke was swirling around. The pair of sharp eyes was filled with unreadable emotions.

"I didn't turn my phone on when I was working. I saw it after I finished work, but because I had more important things to do, I forgot to call back." Ryan said truthfully.

"The important thing is to date with Jocelyn?" Noah asked.

"Why do you seem to know my whereabouts well? Have you arranged anyone to follow me? Why? Did Dad ask you to do this?" Ryan felt even more dissatisfied.

"If you didn't make trouble, how could I arrange anyone to check your whereabouts?" Noah responded lightly, then snuffed out the cigarette butt with his bare hands, and threw it into the trash can outside the car accurately.

"Make trouble? What trouble did I make?" Ryan had absolutely no ideas what Noah was talking about.

He had been busy with work lately and hadn't done anything else.

"Is it because I confessed to Jocelyn on Weibo? What does it have to do with you?" Ryan looked puzzled,

"You don't agree that I like a married woman?"

"Jocelyn's husband is not good to her at all. They have already separated and will divorce soon." Ryan said.

"You just confessed her?" Noah raised his eyebrows slightly and stared at Ryan.

"Yeah, but I was rejected." Ryan sighed.

Noah didn't frown. The expression on his face was gradually ease.

"I don't know if that guy has bad eyes. He would leave such a beautiful woman aside." Ryan added again.

Hearing this, Noah frowned again, and pulled a long face.

After dinner, Ryan drove Jocelyn home.

Along the way, he remained silent and frowned.

The inside of the car was extremely dark. Jocelyn didn't notice the expression change on his face.

When they arrived at the Murphy mansion, the car stopped steadily.

During the meal, Jocelyn drank some red wine. At that time, she didn't feel nothing wrong, but now she felt that she was a little drunk.

Ryan drove her directly home.

The car stopped steadily at the entrance of the main building. Jocelyn turned to look at Ryan, "Thank you for driving me back. Be careful on the road. Good night."

After saying that, she closed the car door and walked home.

"Wait a minute..." Ryan also got out of the car.

The cold wind was oncoming, and they two moved slightly.

"Whenever you need help, you can come to me. Since we can't be lovers, I hope we can be good friends." Ryan looked sincere and his eyes were smiling.

This smile was purely heartwarming.

"Okay, bye." After speaking, Jocelyn waved to him and walked away.

Ryan stood silently in the same place. Tears flew down without a sound.

But no one noticed.

Noah on the balcony could see all this in the yard clearly.

He took a deep puff of cigarette and narrowed his eyes slightly. His eyes were so deep that others couldn't see his emotions.

When Jocelyn returned home, she received a message from Paige.

Bella had been sentenced to be imprisoned for a month.

When Jocelyn saw this message, a smile appeared on her face.

When she looked up, the sky was full of dazzling stars.

The lights at home were always on, which was enough to comfort her on this cold winter night.

"I have scissors in my room. We can just use it." Jocelyn really couldn't stand keeping such a distance with him anymore.

If it continued, she was afraid that her heart would stop pounding.

"Well, then follow me and walk slowly." After speaking, he led her into the room little by little.

"The scissors are in the drawer of my bedside table." Jocelyn pointed to the position of the bedside table and said.

Noah didn't speak. He took her little by little to the side of the bed.

Then, they two sat down together.

He carefully stretched out his hand towards the drawer, intending to get the scissors. But when he moved, she felt so painful.

"Wait a minute. It hurts so much..." Jocelyn said.

Noah didn't speak. He just pressed her head against his chest, and continued to reach for the scissors.

Under the incomparably ambiguous posture, countless feelings were growing wildly.

She felt her heart tingle and uncomfortable again.

Soon, he got the scissors.

He carefully cut off those disobedient strands of hair, then put down the scissors and pushed her away carefully, "Okay."

She took a long breath as if she had been released. Then she moved to the side, trying to keep herself as far away from him as possible.

The belt and one corner of his nightgown were sat under her, but she didn't know it.

Feeling that the scalp was still very painful, Jocelyn gently covered her stinging scalp. She didn't know why she didn't dare to look into his eyes. She just looked at the night scene outside the window, "Thank you."

"Does it hurt?" he asked lightly.

"Yeah." Jocelyn nodded.

"Let me see."

"No need??"

However, before she finished speaking, he domineeringly turned her head to the side, and then carefully checked her scalp.

Because of the constant pulling just now, it had turned slightly red.

He frowned slightly and rubbed it gently, "It's a little red, but it's fine. I'll rub it for you."

The man's fingertips seemed to carry some currents. Wherever his fingers went, she felt tingle.

She even forgot to breathe.

Unintentional flirting was often the most tempting.

The bestial words made Jocelyn feel extremely harsh.

She frowned slightly, took a step forward, and glanced at Joseph coldly, "Joseph, watch your language."

Jocelyn knew that the reason why he rushed over this time was probably because he wanted to take advantage of Bella's matter to get even with her.

"So what? Didn't you once beg me to fuck you?" Joseph sneered, and his eyes were full of sarcasm.

These words were like a needle which stuck in the deepest part of her heart, touching her sore spot.

All kinds of unbearable pasts popped into her mind.

Back then, when she was ugly and fat, in order to keep him, she asked him to have sex with her once.

But he told her righteously that he wanted to do that stuff on their wedding night, and that he refused to have sex before marriage.

Jocelyn really believed him stupidly and felt so moved, thinking that he was different from other men and he was a real gentleman.

So she loved him even more. In order to keep him, she became even more humble.

But she didn't see his true face until she saw he had sex with Gloria.

There was only one reason why a man didn't want to have sex with a woman, which was the other party was not good-looking or sexy enough.

Which men could resist a sexy and beautiful woman?

Jocelyn was ashamed of who she used to be. Those behaviors were really silly and ridiculous.

That night, Joseph should feel so disgusting when she came on to him, right?

"Shameless!" Jocelyn reprimanded.

"I'm telling the truth. How could it be shameless?" Joseph pinched her chin lightly, with the frivolous expression on his face.

"Take off your dirty hands. If you come to me just to say this, just get away." Jocelyn pushed away his hand in dissatisfaction and turned around to get into the car.

Chapter 147 Fuck Off

Joseph really didn't know what to do.

Recently, every time when his father saw him, he could only get criticism. He would not be accepted by his father no matter what he did. He really felt that he was going crazy.

All kinds of things were intertwined, making him desperately need to vent.

Jocelyn, who personally put his sister into prison, was very suitable for him to vent.

Thinking of the various things that happened recently, Joseph began to tear Jocelyn's clothes like crazy.

"Jocelyn, even if I was wrong, you shouldn't be so cruel to me! I have nothing now, you know?"

"You son of bitch! You don't even think about it how I could continue to love you when you were like that back then."

"You were fat like a pig. How could I fuck you? I really tried my best to stand it so long before breaking up with you."

"I can't help it either. Every time I saw your ugly face, I felt like I was going crazy."

"What you lost is just a kidney, but do you know what I lost? What I lost is my beautiful world."

"Every time I saw your face, I really felt that the whole world was not beautiful."

Joseph said while tore the light blue jeans Jocelyn was wearing under her sweater.

He had completely lost his mind and blurted out in an instant.

These words, like knives, fell straight into Jocelyn's heart.

The severe pain constantly stimulated her brain, reminding her of those humiliating, humble and hateful images.

Looking at this hideous face, listening to these words that constantly stimulated her, she really wanted to tear him apart with her own hands!

But she couldn't!

Right now, she couldn't even say a word!

She clearly knew what she was going to face next. She could only wait for death.

The mirror above her head clearly recorded her embarrassed and helpless appearance at the moment.

She wished that at this moment someone would break in to save her.

Chapter 148 Dare to Hurt You? I Will Kill Him

Seeing that the person who was proud now became like this, Jocelyn wasn't so angry now.
This scene was extremely bloody.
She didn't want to take a second look.
So she buried her head in Noah's arms and shook her head, indicating that she was not injured.
Noah gently rubbed the top of her head with his chin, and asked softly, "What do you want to do with him?"
She tried her best to open her mouth. At this time, she found that she could speak. She immediately breathed a sigh of relief and said, "It's alright. Send him to the hospital."
No matter what, they couldn't kill people. Otherwise, they would get in the trouble.
After saying that, she hugged him tightly again.
She had just recovered. Only by hugging him like this could she quickly break free from the fear.

"Not enough." After Noah finished speaking, he looked up at the man in black at the door. His face turned cold again, "Hit him hard."

"Are you fucking crazy? Do you know who I am? Do you think my dad will let you go if you treat me like this?" Joseph shouted.

"Then don't let me go." Noah snorted coldly and walked outside with her in his arms.

Joseph used all his strength to get up and tried to escape.

However, a large number of people in black soon broke in, forming a tight circle around him, and started punching and kicking him.

Seeing that scene, Jocelyn only felt scared.

She said immediately, "Enough! Just stop! Otherwise, we will have troubles."

She was really afraid that he would get into unnecessary trouble because of her.

He didn't say a word, but just hugged her and walked out.

When she was carried into the corridor, Joseph's mournful begging for mercy sounded in her ears.

It was so harsh that it made people tremble.

She raised her head cautiously and looked at his delicate and perfect jawline, as well as those cold and terrifying eyes, "Stop, okay?"

"Don't worry." His tone was firm, as were his eyes.

Noah turned his head slowly. He was looking at her face through the smoke.

After slowly exhaling a puff of smoke, he said lightly, "Then just owe me first."

"In order to express my gratitude to you, let's have dinner tonight." Jocelyn said.

"Okay." He said.

"I'll make a reservation for a restaurant and then send you the message." Jocelyn tried her best to force a smile.

"Okay." He looked docile.

"Do you have any restaurants you want to go to?"

"Whatever, as long as you like."

When the driver heard this conversation, he was so shocked. He couldn't help but looked up at Noah's face through the interior mirror.

He felt that he would be killed by such gentle Mr. Mason.

Could Mr. Mason be so nice? Why didn't he know?

Why had he never heard Mr. Mason say it in front of others?

This girl was amazing.

"When I first walked into the room today, I felt something was wrong with you. You seemed to have no strength. It seemed that you only recovered when I picked you up from behind. What's the matter? Did he drug you?" Noah was full of concern.

"Yeah, when I was unprepared, he sprayed something to me. I fainted first. When I woke up, I felt powerless and couldn't even speak."

"It was after you entered the room that I started to recover slowly." Jocelyn explained truthfully.

The more she thought about those experiences, the more angry she became.

If it weren't for the fact that Noah shot Joseph's wrist and let people beat him so hard, she would have chosen to call the police directly and let him live in the jail for a while.

But now that Noah beat him, if she called the police, the Stewart family would definitely make trouble. They would definitely take advantage of that he shot someone with the gun to threaten them.

Chapter 150 His Reputation in the Game Was Destroyed

The food looked so delicious. Jocelyn felt drooling just by looking at it.

"I want to eat it too. But I'm playing games now. I'll eat later." Jocelyn looked at the computer screen.

Now that the game had started, there was no reason to stop.

Although it was just a game, she still liked to go all out.

Noah sat down beside her silently, and put the computer directly on his laps, "I'll play for you. You eat first."

When he saw the ID above Jocelyn's game character, he was stunned for a moment.

Unexpectedly, she would be Seven who was the ranked one in Wecreau server and the one Abel had tried to sign with a lot of money.

It was no wonder that she would dismiss Abel's offer of 30 million a year to be a professional player.

That money was indeed not attractive enough to her.

"Do you usually play League of Legends?" Jocelyn asked.

"Um."

"Are you good at it?"

"...Maybe." Noah thought for a while and then said.

Besides her, the most powerful person was him, so he was considered to be a veteran.

"Then help me play it. I'll eat first, but what about you? Don't you want to eat?" After she finished speaking, she picked up the seafood rice he made and took a bite.

It tasted so yummy, which made her appetite.

"I'm not hungry for the time being. I'll eat when I'm hungry." He said.

doing the bloodiest thing in the most graceful manner. With just a few attacks, he instantly killed it by a thumbs up,
Way North, "It's amazing. You're so good, wow, wow!!!!!!
Huh?
