Chapter 201 Scented Pouches

Jocelyn was the most talked about person in the room because she was sitting with the Vice President's wife.

The eyes of the crowd always fall on them from time to time.

Because the auction had not yet started, those at the top of the food chain kept coming over to say hello to Ruby.

Apart from responding to them politely, Ruby would also introduce Jocelyn to them.

Some of these people are even prominent young men in powerful circles.

Because of Ruby's relationship and her own beauty, every one of them treated Jocelyn with courtesy.

There are even some powerful people who have taken the initiative to add Jocelyn's WeChat.

For a while, Jocelyn was a sight to behold.

There was no woman in the room who didn't envy her, including Bella.

Looking at Jocelyn's look, Bella was almost furious.

Why is Jocelyn so lucky? She was able to get to know the Vice President's wife and even get in touch with those powerful people without much effort, while she, Bella, had been unlucky all night long.

The Vice-President's wife introduced Jocelyn to those famous young men, many of whom she wanted to meet.

The more she looked at this, the more she trembled with jealousy... it wasn't fair! The world was simply not fair!

Jocelyn's gaze inadvertently glanced over Bella just in time to see the way Bella was shaking with anger as she looked at her, and her heart felt another surge of pleasure.

She ignored Bella, her eyes skimming over her, before falling back to the powerful men and women around her.

Many of these people are beneficial to X Entertainment, and to Murphy Group, so she must be careful with all of them.

Chapter 202 What is Wrong with her?

Jocelyn's speech drew applause.

The crowd looked at her with approval in their eyes.

Ruby, in particular, was on the verge of becoming a fan of Jocelyn, with her eyes hanging on her almost all the time; she hadn't expected at all that Jocelyn, at such a young age, would be so knowledgeable about this area.

Not only does it make clear the origin of the scented bag, but it even tells the poignant love story behind it.

Amidst a chorus of applause, Jocelyn sat down calmly, her gaze rippling as she landed on Bella's body.

Bella was on the verge of exploding with anger at this moment, not noticing at all that Jocelyn was looking at herself, just looking at the amulet on the auction stage with an unhappy face.

She originally expected Jocelyn to make a fool of herself, but to her surprise, not only did she fail, but she also made use of this to make a splash .....

And in front of so many powerful people! What's up with Jocelyn? Why is she suddenly so knowledgeable about antiques?

Didn't she used to not be interested in antiques at all? Why does she seem to be a different person now?

At the thought, her heart began to rise with anger and her face was tinged with a blood red.

The change in Bella's expression was captured completely by Jocelyn, and she felt in a good mood just by looking at her.

On such an occasion, she was too lazy to continue to dwell on Bella, so she returned her attention to the antiques.

Ruby glanced coldly at Bella and didn't bother with her again.

"This beautiful woman, not only is she beautiful, but she is also quite knowledgeable, so she is really talented and beautiful."

"Yeah, Even if she is good looking, she knows so much at a young age ....."

The men and women in the hall did not mince their words in praise of Jocelyn.

Hearing the compliments from the crowd, Jocelyn felt quite embarrassed inside.

These words were honey for Jocelyn, but arsenic for Bella. Every word seemed to carry poison, and when they fell on the ears, the eardrums twitched wildly.

Bella's hand, which was under the table, couldn't help but clench into a fist.

Chapter 203 What exactly is Robert's identity?

Jocelyn returned the smile and whispered, "Yeah ....."

Having spent 50 million over its original value on this object, it is strange that Archie would not be angry.

Immediately afterwards, a collection that Allie wanted was pushed up.

After a flurry of introductions by the auctioneer, the crowd began to raise their bids.

The starting price of 10 million was raised to 20 million.

Still with the raise becoming less, Jocelyn held up her sign, "Twenty-one million ....."

Many people have chosen to give up, and in the end, this collection, successfully, was pocketed by Jocelyn.

Jocelyn was content.

Immediately afterwards, another item from the collection that Allie wanted, a 1950's F Country Supreme sapphire necklace was pushed up .....

When the gemstone necklace was pushed onto the stage, the countless ladies in the audience, one after another, were in awe.

This necklace, despite its age, still shines.

The chain part of the necklace, which is joined by a single round sapphire, is chased below by a big sapphire in the shape of a teardrop of magnificent beauty.

Jocelyn was completely amazed by the necklace in front of her.

It is just too good to look at.

After carefully introducing the necklace, the auctioneer gave the starting price, 20 million .....

The people in the auction room began to scramble to raise their bids.

Jocelyn did not rush and chose to wait and see.

By the time the necklace had been bid up to fifty million, with few bids raised, Jocelyn raised her card and offered fifty-one million.

Chapter 204 Powerful Mr. Moore in Flento City

"There's only one powerful Moore family in Flento City, right?" The woman chuckled.

Jocelyn couldn't believe her ears anymore.

A powerful family with the surname Moore in Flento City?

Then there is no second family except that Moore family she knows, that Moore family is a famous and noble family .....

The so-called high society is actually divided into classes, with the powerful being the first class and the rich the second.

And the Moore family is undoubtedly in the first tier.

Not even the internet can find much information on the members of their family.

She really did not expect that Robert actually possessed such an honourable status.

Why would someone of his status hang out with Noah? By all rights, Noah should not be in his sight at all.

How could Mr. Moore to engage in underworld?

All sorts of doubts began to spread again and again in her mind, and her expression followed in a daze.

A noblewoman gently put her hand in front of her eyes and shook it, smiling, "What's wrong? Scared?"

Jocelyn instantly snapped back to her senses and continued to look at the noblewoman's face, "Is what you said true? That person who auctioned off the pink diamond jewellery for three hundred million is the young master of the Moore family?"

"Yeah... what good would it do me to lie to you?" The noblewoman smiled again.

Jocelyn shook her head.

She does have no reason to lie .....

"We'll go first ....." The noblewoman took the other noblewoman's hand and went straight away.

It had been a long time before Jocelyn came back to her senses and went to do what she had to do.

Chapter 205 Who the Hell Are You?

Noah raised his sword brows slightly and she looked at him with a serious face, "Who the hell are you?"
His face was unruffled, "Why are you suddenly asking about this?"
In the next moment, a searching emotion coloured his eyes.
"It just seems to me that you're not as simple as I see you." Jocelyn said.

"Like what?"

"I went, today, to an auction ....."

"Well, you said that."

"That auction is not normally accessible to the general public." Jocelyn added.

"You said that too."

"Then I saw Robert, and I heard others say that Robert was the young master of that famous Moore family in Flento City." Jocelyn explained truthfully.

His face remained half-exhausted, "So?"

"So I suspect that you are also the young master of some powerful family ..... even more than Robert, and I suspect you of lying to me." Jocelyn was straightforward.

At this time the doorbell rang.

Without answering her, Noah stood up and went to open the door.

Outside the door stood several black-clad men in suits.

Except for the man at the head of the group, whose hands are empty, all the others are holding square, carved rosewood chests of varying sizes.

Seeing Noah, several people bowed their heads with a respectful face.

"Sir, hello ..... we are the staff of Flento City Auction House, and we are holding something that Miss Murphy has just auctioned off at our auction house." The man in black who was in the lead said respectfully.

Chapter 206 Your Credit Card is Suspended for One Year

Bella was completely confused as to why exactly he was so angry.

He was the one who wanted the vase, wasn't he? She got it back for him, and now he shouldn't thank her?

"I did tell you that you had to get it back for me, but you have to be practical. Eighty million and you want it too? Didn't I tell you that this bottle was worth 30 million at most?" Archie reprimanded her with a huff.

"But you like it, don't you? Buy it if you like it, what does it matter if it's 50 million more?" Bella was also upset.

"You ....." Archie was so angry with her that he couldn't speak for a moment, raising his hand to slap Bella hard on the back of her head once again, "You loser... . what I mean by that is naturally don't buy past this price."

Sharp pain spread across the back of her head, and Bella was dizzy as she gently rubbed the area where she had been slapped while complaining, "Then why didn't you make it clear? How did I know you meant this?"

"You've spent so much more money than you should have, and you're still justified, aren't you?" Archie raised his voice and scolded, "Do you believe I'll ask someone to break your leg?"

Bella subconsciously shivered, not daring to say another word at all.

Phoebe carefully and gently took Archie's arm and whispered, "Okay, just don't be angry, let's go upstairs first."

Archie glared angrily at Bella, "I won't buy that sports car you want."

Bella was instantly anxious, "Dad, you originally promised everything."

She loved that sports car, her friends had bought it and she had boasted to them that her father would buy her something better equipped than they had.

If he hadn't bought it, wouldn't she have been ashamed of herself?

Chapter 207 Come to His Arms

In the next moment, the familiar scent of mint perfume mixed with tobacco hits the nose.

Lifting her head, she found herself bumping right into the man's arms.

His hand was shielding her forehead so she didn't get a painful bump.

And then the next second, the man's low, textured voice rang out above her head, "Coming to my arms early in the morning?"

Jocelyn instantly blushed and quickly took a step back, "What are you talking about?"

The neckline of the robe she was wearing was a little low, and he could see the tantalising lines clearly when he looked at it from this high angle.

The image instantly made his abdomen tighten.

He frowned, "I'll get the door ..... you stay here."

"No, I'll just open it ....."

"No ....." he spoke dominantly before pushing open the door to her room and shoving her inside.

Without waiting for her to say anything more, Noah took his long legs and strode away.

Since someone had gone to answer the door, Jocelyn dismissed the idea of going downstairs and went straight back to the bathroom and began to rinse herself off.

After a quick wash, she changed into a light blue silk loungewear outfit, put on a dry hair cap and went straight downstairs.

The downstairs living room is filled with the rich aroma of fried eggs.

Such a smell adds a touch of life to this large and luxurious house, and adds a sense of stability to her heart.

She didn't have to go inside to imagine the man standing at the stove, wearing a plain black apron, frying eggs in earnest.

The corners of her mouth involuntarily curved up in a nice curve as she thought about it.

Seeing a dark blue gold velvet necklace box sitting on the coffee table, Jocelyn knew it was the Blue Love from Ruby.

She then walked over quickly, sat down on the sofa and opened the box straight away.

Chapter 208 She's Jealous

Jocelyn's heart instantly lit up with a nameless fire, and her face, which was originally full of smiles, instantly froze.

She instantly quickened her pace, keeping her gaze coldly on the woman.

"I'm not interested in plastic-faced, easy-girl .....,," Noah said coldly, his gaze not glancing towards the girl, his sword brows furrowed, not hiding his dislike for him.

"What? easy-girl?" the girl gasped, her face turning pale.

"Aren't you, Miss easy-girl? You're taking my place." Jocelyn stood in front of her, looking askance at her face from above, her eyes full of indifference.

Noah's gaze fell on Jocelyn's face without a ripple, and the corners of his mouth curled up in a smiling arc.

The girl frowned in displeasure and stood up straight away, huffing and puffing as she looked at Noah and then at Jocelyn, "You guys are going too far."

"If you have the ability to come out and seduce my husbands, don't mind if they talk too much ....., " Jocelyn coldly grunted.

"What? Your husband?" The girl was startled, her aura instantly weakening.

"Yes, you have a problem with that?" Jocelyn asked rhetorically.

The girl instantly picked up her bag and prepared to leave.

Jocelyn directly blocked her path and reached out to pat her shoulder, "Girl, if you want to succeed in hitting on her, at least change your perfume, don't use such a sultry smell."

The corners of the girl's mouth twitched in exasperation.

Jocelyn didn't speak to her again, she simply pushed her away and sat down graciously opposite the man, once again taking out the small mirror to take a look at the lipstick she had just filled.

The girl, however, had absolutely no intention of leaving, she was completely enraged by Jocelyn and reached out directly to grab her hair.

Through the mirror, Jocelyn just happened to see the scene.

She immediately clutched the girl's hand before shaking it off straight away, glancing coldly at the girl, "If you don't want to die, then go."

At this time, all the people in the restaurant had their eyes on their position.

Many of those who saw what was going on began to whisper and accuse the girl.

Soon the door opened a crack.

A girl with dyed yellow hair, a double ponytail and bangs poked her head out.

The girl looked at him with her head cocked, smiling brightly like an untutored angel of innocence, making her look extraordinarily lovely.

"Why are you so late?" She complained, her voice sweet and clean.

"I'm not okay, why do you dye it that colour? It's ugly ....." he frowned slightly, a disgusted frown on his face.

Although there was disgust all around his eyes, his movements and eyes were very gentle.

The girl opened the door all the way and gave him a blank stare straight away, "This is a good colour to be in fashion this year? There's no taste."

"Fine, fine ....." I have no taste, all right?" With those words, he then lightly rubbed her hair once again and stepped into the room.

The girl followed closely behind and joined him on the sofa.

And then she naturally crossed her legs, casually picked up a lollipop from the coffee table and peeled it open, handing it to him, "Want some?"

"I don't want it." Noah said.

"You didn't tell Mummy that I was back, did you?" She asked, blinking her big, watery eyes.

"Would you be able to breathe so freely now if I told her?"

"That too, would have been packed up and dumped straight back in J Country long ago." She flattened her mouth, pitifully.

"It's still you are good, don't scold me I'm skipping class and coming back to play ....." she said as she ate her lollipop.

"You won't skip class if I scold you? Camille." Noah looked helpless.

"That's true .....", Noah spoiled a heated smile, his smile perfectly rendered, sweet and intoxicating.

With those words, Camille moved her neck once more and continued to look askance at several of them with a frown.

"You beat me up like that, you wait until you pay for it." The yellow-haired teenager panted and pointed at Camille's favored face, while his other hand continued to cover his key parts, stammering as he gasped in pain.

"Know what self-defence is? And you want money?" Noah snorted coldly and began to move his fists.

Several people, led by the yellow-haired teenager, were scared out of their wits at the sight of this scene, a strong look of timidity flashed in each of their eyes and their bodies began to tremble unconsciously.

"What do you want?" The yellow haired teenager's hand trembled to the extreme as he pointed at her.

"Of course, I'll beat you up again." Camille spoke lightly, smiling like a flower as she spoke.

She was smiling, but her eyes were very grim.

Several teenagers instantly dared not even breathe a word, and after a second of staring at each other, they spoke in unison, "Run!"

Then, a few of them rolled and crawled through the pain and scattered in a heap.

Watching this scene Camille slowly curbed her smile and pouted, frowning her good-looking brow and muttering, "This is so boring."

She then patted her hands and returned to her seat, putting on her headphones.

Those who were watching the action came back to their senses, whispering, their eyes full of admiration.

After finishing a game, Camille stretched casually and got up to go get a bottle of water.

The moment her eyes inadvertently landed on a machine, Camille was instantly stunned.
