Chapter 321 Never to be seen again

Robert could not have imagined that Zoe would suddenly say such that.

For the past few months he and Zoe have been getting along well.

Including money, cars, houses, jewellery, designer bags, designer clothes, he gave everything he had to give.

Zoe is arguably the best treated woman of all the mistresses.

Robert immediately let go of Zoe, sat up, his eyes full of puzzles, "Zoe, why are you? This period of time, I have gave you all the things that I should. In the whole city, no one can be so good to their mistress."

In this instant, he felt his heart harden.

Zoe nodded, "Yes."

Robert continued to press the issue, "So, what is this about?"

Zoe sat up, looking at him with a pale face and all tears under her eyes, "This morning, a woman called you, and you said you would go over to her in the evening."

"Yes, so what's wrong?" Robert wondered.

"It's true that it would be normal if I just thought of myself as your mistress, but I'm in love with you, and I can't accept that. I know I shouldn't be in love with you, and I know that even if I were, I should also suppress my feelings and not care too much about you, but I can't. Every time you're with someone else, it makes me feel bad inside.

Every time your phone rings, I'm on tenterhooks, I'm afraid you'll be called away by another woman. I don't want to live like this anymore, so set me free.

I know you love freedom, you won't fall in love with anyone. Since you can't give me the love I want, give me the freedom I want." Zoe said earnestly, tears broke out violently.

It was as if something had opened a large gash in his heart so viciously that the pain of his heart was unbearable.

She had also thought that she would stay by Robert's side and keep silent, waiting for the day to come when he would fall in love with her over time.

She thought she could wait and put up with it.

But in the end, she found that she really couldn't.

The more she loved him, the more she mind him being with someone else, and the more her heart hurt.

The words that poured into his ears shocked Robert.

He didn't expect at all that Zoe would say these words, and even more so, he didn't expect that Zoe would, in fact, be like this inside.

Chapter 322 Buying the EW Team

She immediately glanced at her mobile phone screen and saw the name Eric Spencer noted on the screen, she immediately pressed answer, "Boss Spencer, why do you have time to call me?"

"Didn't you say before that you wanted to buy my team? I'd better sell it to you." said Eric.

She did want to buy the EW team he was holding before, and he had said he was keen to sell.

But later, he said he couldn't part with it, so the deal didn't go through.

Shel thought it would be over, but she didn't expect him to come to her today.

"Sure. How much are you prepared to sell it for? Is it still the same price we negotiated last time?" Jocelyn asked.

"Well, come out tonight and we'll sign the contract." Eric said there.

Jocelyn snapped her fingers crisply, "Okay."

She had recently heard that his investment company was having a rough time and losing money, so she thought it was because of this that he had been ruthless enough to sell out his beloved team.

The EW team is a top five team in the League of Legends LPL, and has reached the World's Game three times.

Once in the top eight and twice in the top sixteen.

This team could be top if they take over and run it properly.

When the time comes to put the name of the Murphy Group on it, it will surely bring the Murphy's popularity to a new level.

Hanging up the phone, her phone vibrated again.

When she saw that it was Noah calling, Jocelyn pressed answer with joy, "This time of the day should be your busiest time of the day, right? How come you have time to call me?"

"I can't forget my wife even if I am busy." Noah said.

The smile on the corners of Jocelyn's mouth deepened again, "What's the call for?"

Noah, "What time will you get off work at night?"

Jocelyn, "About five o'clock."

Noah, "Well, I'll pick you up."

Jocelyn, "No, I have something for the evening, good news for you."

Chapter 323 She actually refused!

Eric also said that the EW team will be renamed XS team, and the XS team will definitely become better in the future because of the Murphy, and Jocelyn will also sign legendary players.

The number of comments, likes and forwards has exceeded 100,000.

With over 100,000 people in just one minute, it's clear how much attention this is getting.

[I didn't expect that Jocelyn will be interested in games. She's a woman, does she know anything about gaming?]

[Signing a legendary player? What kind of legendary player can she sign? Legendary players are not for sale at any club, right? Even if the Murphy's has more money, they can't buy them.]

[After searching for Jocelyn's picture, I don't feel she looks like someone who can play games. Is it really okay for someone like that to run the club?]

[I don't think much of Jocelyn either, she is a woman, what kind of club can she manage?]

[Why are you still sexist? But I don't fancy Jocelyn either, let alone the EW team signing any legendary players.]

The comments section below was filled with various voices of distrust towards her.

After she calmly read everything, she didn't care and simply exited the page and moved to her homepage, intending to look at the hot research.

At this time, the home page suddenly refreshed.

The official Gaming channel posted a blurb saying that player Alex and Jocelyn had followed each others' account, speculating that Alex might sell to Jocelyn in the future.

The Weibo also immediately attracted an explosion of countless netizens when it was posted.

[Don't be ridiculous, okay? I'll eat shit live if Jocelyn signs with Alex. This guy is not for sale at IM, right? As far as I know the owner of IM is rich, he will sell Alex to Jocelyn?]

[The fact that Jocelyn has taken over the team and needs the heat is understandable, but isn't it a bit too much to pull Alex out of the crowd? This is just a normal mutual concern, right?]

[Did Jocelyn pay you to write this? Why do I suddenly feel that Jocelyn is so scheming? She's not even ashamed of herself for the sake of publicity.]

[Leave Alex and the XS team alone,, I thank you all, that's the funniest joke I've ever heard].

"Five minutes ago, the Sky Hotel was declared bankrupt!"

She didn't expect Griffin Group's action to work so well at all, and in just such a short period of time, the Sky Hotel was declared bankrupt.

Jocelyn promptly clicked in to read it, and it clearly stated the reason for the bankruptcy.

The Group's capital chain was severely disrupted by loan repayments by the world's major banks, as well as the withdrawal of all major investors and the wildly falling share price.

It eventually had to declare bankruptcy.

After reading this news, Jocelyn withdrew her attention and went straight upstairs in style.

Upstairs in the room, Noah is standing in front of the floor-to-ceiling window, holding a glass of red wine and slightly shaking it.

He had just had a shower, his hair still half dry, and a bath towel around his lower body.

His back is straight, more perfect than the man in the pictorial.

The immaculate glass reflects his appearance at the moment.

"You are back," he took a shallow sip of his glass of wine and raised his eyes to look at her, deep emotion running through his eyes.

Jocelyn stepped up to look out the window, "Yes, it went well."

"Well, I saw that." He set the goblet down next to him and pulled her directly into his arms.

Jocelyn's heartbeat went haywire again, "I'm going to see the property under the Murphy's tomorrow and find a good base for the game team."

Noah, "There's already a place for you, next to the Blue River, a whole building."

Jocelyn was surprised, "You're ready for this?"

The place he was talking about was all some five-storey luxury river view villas, each of which was five storeys, and the place was so expensive that the unit price was as high as 200,000 per square metre.

Such a high specification is arguably a rarity in the entire LPL.

The first player of jungle, Song, is the number one in the country of jungle.

The first player of support, Lian, is the second in the country of support.

The first player of ADC, Chen, is the number one in the country of ADC.

And the three substitutes, one is a substitute support player called Xin, one is a substitute midsolo player called Yi, and a substitute jungle player called Wang.

When they saw Jocelyn enter, the players were instantly stunned and the movements of their hands stopped.

Everyone rested their eyes on Jocelyn and even forgot to say hello.

As professionals, they have seen a lot of beautiful women, the main female anchors of the major online platforms, as well as the official hosts, all of whom are the best in beauty.

Yet none of them, more than Jocelyn, wowed them.

She is a goddess!!!

Receiving the crowd's gaze, Jocelyn smiled blandly and walked behind them, saying, "Let me introduce myself first, I am the future boss of your Team, my name is Jocelyn Murphy, and I will definitely make you all better in the future."

"Alright, you guys continue ranking. I'll leave you guys alone, I'll walk around on my own." Jocelyn added, "After this, don't continue. I've booked a place to eat at noon, let's go out to eat together, then I'll introduce Alex, the future new member of the Team, to everyone."

Once Jocelyn had finished, she glanced once again at the near-stunned players, nodded politely towards them, and then walked towards the team's management, asking them to show her around.

The players went into frenzy straight after Jocelyn left -

"Crap, the boss is good looking, isn't she? I thought she looked good when I saw the photos yesterday, but I feel she was better looking in person."

"Just those dream girls of mine can't compare with her. Even if they were actresses, they would have to pale in comparison to her."

"Our boss is so beautiful."

"I heard the boss got married."

Abel got up directly, lazily walked to Jocelyn and said, "I brought him here, you guys talk, I have to go first."

Jocelyn's eyes were full of puzzles, "You're not staying for a meal together?"

Abel shook his head, "Robert is a bit abnormal, I have to go with him."

Robert who had always given Jocelyn the impression that he was rather heartless, so Jocelyn was a bit surprised to hear Abel say that Robert was in an abnormal state, "What's wrong with him?"

"It's about his relationship. Zoe left him, he is probably a bit sad. Don't worry, he's like a heartless guy, he'll be fine in a few days." Abel added.

Robert is sad and upset over a mistress, which is even less expected to Jocelyn.

Once upon a time, he didn't seem to care about any woman at all.

It was the first time she had heard of a mistress abandoning her sugar daddy.

It seems that the girl was really in love, probably because she didn't want to, at his side, watch him wander among countless women.

She suddenly realised that Robert might have lost, in his lifetime, the woman who loved him most.

How could she have made it this far if she hadn't loved him?

"Not necessarily." said Jocelyn.

Abel's eyes were full of confusion, "What do you mean by that?"

Jocelyn said, "Robert has fallen in love."

No emotion, absolutely no sadness.

Abel let out a long sigh, "Maybe. Anyway, I'll go first."

Jocelyn nodded.

Abel then went.

Chapter 327 Cleaning up the woman

The young man chuckled, "Anyway, no pretty girl I know is good at playing games, and no one likes to spend their time soaking in them, I don't believe her when she says she's good at it."

This time Alex came out of the private room.

As soon as he went out, he just heard the young man's taunts, and he instantly stepped forward quickly, walked over to Jocelyn and said, "Well, how about, let my boss show you?"

"Yeah. Jocelyn, do you dare? We pale together, I'm average, just a national fifth." The young man added.

This man was annoying to Jocelyn though it was the first time they met.

It was obvious that the reason he did it was all to kiss Tyler's ass, because she, the rich one, was not as powerful as Tyler.

"Sure, but only after I've finished eating." Jocelyn said, there was a room full of people waiting for her inside, and it was a bad time for her to leave.

"Don't be a wimp, it's not fun anymore." The young man added.

"Now then." Alex said directly, his eyes full of determination, before looking at Jocelyn and saying, "Go ahead, Boss, we can wait for you, don't let anyone underestimate you."

The young man's eyes were full of certainty and trust in her, without a trace of doubt.

Jocelyn chuckled, "So confident in me?"

Alex nodded, "Well, I know you must not be lying."

Jocelyn asked, "Why are you so sure?"

Alex, "Intuition, go and prove it to them, don't let them underestimate you and underestimate our team, I'm going to go and tell everyone now."

Jocelyn nodded firmly and looked at them both indifferently, "There's an internet cafe across the street, why don't we go to the internet cafe? You two have one game each, play against me, but what if you lose?"

Tyler coldly grunted, "I'll go to RS Team's official account when I lose, mention you and apologize to you."

The young man said, "I'll go to Weibo and apologize to you too, and I'll not only apologize to you, I'll call you dad."

"Good," said Jocelyn, and walked away.

The two followed closely behind.

The three went directly to the upscale Black Cat Internet Cafe opposite the Everland Hotel.

Or maybe, that brother-in-law was just a newbie.

"Wait for me, I'm coming to you," Tyler said, and quickly logged into the game and went to the zone where Jocelyn was.
He was also the master in this zone.
The two added each other as friends, and then Jocelyn started another game in 1V1 mode to fight with him.
This time, he preferred Euphrates.
And as always, Jocelyn chose EZ.
The entire internet cafe was silent as more and more players, surrounding the few of them, followed the competition between Jocelyn and Tyler.
There were even more people, who took out their mobile phones and started shooting videos.
Tyler was starting to get nervous because he couldn't lose, if he did, he would be humiliated.
But Jocelyn was as calm as ever.

When the game started, she operated the game calmly, like a most elegant slayer, killing the most ruthless people with the calmest expression.

Jocelyn simply moved skillfully, Tyler then died, the game screen became gray.

What she brought him, an unprecedented sense of oppression, had left him breathless.

Who the hell told him that women are basically bad at this game in the future? And he was fucking pissed off with them!

The players around them all began to applaud and cheer for Jocelyn.

Jocelyn, however, automatically blocked everyone's speech and went straight around Tyler's corpse to add troops and demolish towers.

At this time Alex, with everyone from the XS team, pushed his way through the crowd and stood directly behind Jocelyn.

Chapter 329 Jocelyn is impressive

"What is the reason for the RS team owner to apologize to Jocelyn together with brother-in-law, a famous gaming anchor?"

Jocelyn didn't expect this at all to make headlines.

She instantly turned straight to the news:

"Just a few minutes ago, the official RS team mentioned Jocelyn and said that he was sorry and that he shouldn't have looked down on Jocelyn's level of play, while the famous gaming anchor, brother-in-law, likewise posed, stating that he shouldn't have looked down on Jocelyn's gaming level. The bizarre incident that occurred at the same time immediately attracted the intense attention of countless people in the gaming community.

Later, a player broke the news in the Tiger community that the reason why RS official and also brother-in-law posted was because Jocelyn said he was good at the game before and was despised by RS's boss and also brother-in-law together.

In order to prove herself, Jocelyn then made a date with them to go to an internet cafe, and if they lost, they posted an apology to Jocelyn, and without a doubt, in the end, they were both defeated by Jocelyn, and it is reported that both of them are masters in the national service."

Below the article, there are screenshots of her at an internet cafe, playing games with brother-in-law, and the owner of the RS team.

The comments section, as it were, has been uproar.

Countless people, typing question marks inside the comment section, praised her while scolding the RS team owner and brother-in-law.

She looked at it briefly and then went on Weibo.

As expected, this made the hot seat.

And there was more than one.

Jocelyn tapped into two separate topics to read them.

Everyone withdrew their eyes and followed Jocelyn with interest, taking the lift and looking over one floor at a time.

The second and third floors are where the players and the management door sleep.

On the door of each room are the names of different players, managers, leaders and presidents.

One room for one person.

Each person's room is equipped with a kingsize, fluffy bed and the same desktop downstairs, as well as a variety of equipment for live streaming.

On the fourth floor, there is a study, a badminton room, a billiard room, and a physiotherapy room.

On the fifth level, a large flat floor, above which is the huge indoor swimming pool that occupies the entire space. Each exterior wall, all made of toughened glass, offers a wide view, not only for swimming but also for seeing the night view at night.

Layer by layer, Jocelyn was satisfied and surprised.

The same applies to others.

Alex looked at the huge pool and said, "Boss, you're so considerate to have arranged so much recreational stuff for us."

"I didn't do it." Jocelyn was truthful.

"Who's that?" Alex asked.

"It's my husband," Jocelyn smiled at the mention of Noah.

"Wow. Boss, your husband is really giving it a go." Bob said.

"That's right, my husband is the best in the world." Jocelyn didn't mince her words in praise of Noah, then she glanced at the time on her wristwatch and said, "Everyone go back and prepare for the move, let's try to finish it by tomorrow night, I'm going to the office."

Others nodded their heads.

After saying goodbye to everyone, Jocelyn walked straight out of the villa and drove her own red Maserati all the way to the Murphy Group's location.

She hadn't driven very far from the villa when her mobile phone vibrated.
