Chapter 381 Zoe is Found

"Well, there is one more document to read." He held her with one hand and continued to read the document with the other.

The documents that he had access to were all top secrets of the company.

Yet, he never shied away from her.

After reading the document, he signed his name.

The words were strong and powerful.

The words were as good as his person.

Casually throwing the document on the table, he stood up with her in his arms and carefully placed her on the table.

Jocelyn realized what would happen next and immediately grabbed his lapel with both hands resistantly, "Not today..."

However, before the words could be finished, the man's kiss then fell.

Soon, he began to do something indiscriminate.

And she, too, slowly gave up her resistance.

In the luxurious nanny car, Ryan's legs were naturally folded, leaning lazily on the soft chair, quietly watching the video of Jocelyn dancing.

It played over and over again.

The video showed a side of her he hadn't seen before.

She looked her best, no matter what.

Soon, the nanny car stopped at the airport.

Ryan got out of the car under the protection of a group of bodyguards.

As soon as he stepped out of the car, countless fans rushed over.

The crowd almost swallowed him up.

Everyone was chanting his name frantically, saying they loved and missed him.

He, on the other hand, didn't feel a thing.

What he wanted more than anything was to hear the words I love you from Jocelyn's mouth.

Sweet and sour, bitter and spicy, intertwined together, poking her heart hard.

She did not expect that Robert would appear here, and for a moment, she did not know how to react.

Under her feet, as if they were stuck with 502 glue, she couldn't even lift them up.

They looked at each other through the black glass..

This glance seemed to be as long as 10,000 years apart.

Robert couldn't wait to open the car door and walk up to her.

There was a sudden loss of strength in her hands.

In the next second, the rubbish bag fell to the ground unconsciously.

The rubbish bag hit the back of her foot and she snapped back to attention.

"Zoe, how are you?" Robert excitedly hugged her in his arms, "I finally saw you. Do you know, these days, how much I really miss you?"

Robert was incoherent with excitement.

His words were as unexpected as his appearance today.

Tears, undeniably, fell from her eyes.

Why did he chase her here after she had left? Even saying he missed her?

Wasn't he quite happy when she was breaking up with him at that time?

Could it be that, after she left, he finally realised how important she was and realised that he loved her?

But he had clearly said that he would never fall in love with anyone.

He had also said that he could not give her anything but material things.

The familiar embrace, the familiar smell of tobacco, the familiar warmth made her forget to react in any way.

"Come back with me, okay? I regret it. Until you left, I didn't know how much you really meant to me, I love you, Zoe." He hugged her tightly.

She subconsciously raised her hand to hug him, but it stalled in mid-air when it was about to touch his back.

After half a minute, she suddenly held back all her tears and pushed him away, "Mr. Moore, please behave yourself, the two of us are no longer related."

"As long as you want, we can be related. I can give you whatever you want." Robert clutched her hand tightly, afraid that she might flee.

Chapter 383 Meeting Ryan by chance at the airport

"Something happened at the Y Country branch, I need to go." Noah's tone was light and breezy, his eyes were waveless.

"What is it?" Jocelyn's heart tightened.

"A mobile phone had an explosion."

As soon as she heard this, Jocelyn's pupils immediately shook slightly, "What?"

If it was a big deal, a brand would be destroyed.

"Don't worry. I need to go to investigate the cause, and also solve this matter. At present the matter suppressed, will not make a big deal." Noah said.

"Okay, I'll help you pack your luggage." After saying that, Jocelyn then braced herself to sit up.

However, just as she sat up, Noah reached out with his long arms and pulled her to the bed once again, holding her tenderly in his arms and kissing her forehead, "Take some rest, I'll do it myself."

"I can do it." Jocelyn was unconvinced.

"No, I can't let you do it." He spoke in a soft voice.

Her heart unconsciously raced.

"I may need to stay for a week, or half a month. While I'm away, behave yourself. If you need help, come to me." Noah explained with a patient face.

"Okay."

After that, he went to get up and pack his luggage.

His private plane was parked at the airport.

After the two of them finished their breakfast, Jocelyn accompanied Noah, escorted by a group of bodyguards to the airport.

The group was so vast that many people's eyes were attracted.

As it was a private jet, there was no need to go through any check-in procedures. When he arrived at the airport, Jocelyn followed him from the private jet gate to the front of the plane.

The beautiful stewardesses were standing at the entrance of the plane at the moment, respectfully waiting for orders.

Jocelyn stopped and looked at Noah, "Honey, have a safe trip, call me when you get there."

"Okay." Noah placed his gaze on her face, and in a moment, his eyes were gentle.

In the next second, he took her into his arms, his chin rubbing the top of her hair, "Honey, be good while I'm away, okay?"

Although the two of them only spoke a few words briefly, the fans present, at this moment, were upset.

They had been chasing Ryan for so long, and they couldn't even say a word.

But Ryan was so nice to Jocelyn, even taking the initiative to walk up to her.

Even though they knew that there was nothing between them, the fans still felt very envious and uncomfortable in their hearts.

Outside the airport, the nanny car was already waiting.

The bodyguards opened the way for Ryan and escorted him to the car.

After Ryan got into the car, the bodyguards followed him, and then the car door closed.

The fans, however, still had no intention of leaving and stood outside the car, but they did so in a neat and orderly manner and did not block the traffic.

Once again, they shouted.

"Ryan, fans will always follow."

This time, the shouting was neat and tidy.

Ryan, who managed to break away from the crowd, let out a long breath, opened the curtains, looked out at the fans, and waved politely towards them.

Soon, the car started.

The nanny car was away from the crowd.

The fans eventually turned into one small black dot after another in his line of sight and disappeared.

Pulling the curtains closed, he slowly closed his eyes.

He had spent a whole night in B City recording a variety show, and after he finished the show, he took a non-stop flight back to Flento City.

At this moment he felt exhausted.

"Ryan, I think in the future at the airport, you should stay away from our big boss, otherwise the fans will be jealous, today, I saw many of them are unhappy. "

Rosa proposed and took out the thermo glass to her, "Ryan, have some water to moist your throat."

Ryan slowly opened his eyes and looked at Rosa, "Got it."

With those words, he took the thermos glass and slowly took two sips.

A smile put on Paige's otherwise expressionless face.

She instantly put the folder under her armpit, and then replied, "Okay."

She seemed to have met love.

But it was an online love affair.

She didn't know what the other person looked like, and what exactly he did.

Just that, from what she heard, he ran a company.

They had been playing games together every day, and she was falling more and more in love with the man called Alexander.

She thought he must be an elite figure.

In the luxurious bedroom, Gloria was sitting on the huge balcony, watching Ryan and Jocelyn's hot topics, with a grimace on his face.

The comments on the topic that flattering Jocelyn made her more nauseous with every additional glance.

These days, Jocelyn was in the limelight.

Today, she was frequently in the hot search because of Noah, tomorrow she was in the hot search because she won a competition, and the day after that, she was in the hot search because of Ryan.

And every time she was in the hot search, those netizens started to phrase her like crazy.

Gloria was really about to die of jealousy.

Everything that Jocelyn had was the thing that Gloria longed for most in her heart.

But Gloria could not get it even if she tried her best.

Continuing to watch the topic, she also saw an even more eye-catching post: "Have you guys heard about Jocelyn and her sister, as well as her brother-in-law before? It's said that Jocelyn was supposed to marry her brother-in-law Joseph back then, but Joseph had an affair with Gloria."

The post was so heat that the forwarding and comments were all over a million.

Hanging up the phone, she realized that more than two hours earlier, Noah had sent a message, "Honey, I arrived."

Looking at that message, the corners of Jocelyn's mouth immediately curved up into a nice curve, happiness flowing within.

She instantly sent him a video call.

On the other side of the phone, K City in Y Country.

Noah was sitting in the large conference room of the branch office, meeting with a group of blonde executives to discuss the matter of the explosion of the new mobile phone.

His expression is cold and serious.

Everyone in the large conference room was sitting upright, not even daring to breathe.

The phone vibrated, Noah noticed that it was Jocelyn's video call, immediately picked it up.

Soon, Jocelyn's face appeared in the camera.

The background was the blue sky and white clouds outside the floor-to-ceiling window.

"What are you doing?" Jocelyn asked.

"Meeting.."

"Oh, then I won't bother you."

"Wait a minute."

"What for?" Jocelyn asked.

"Eat on time, okay?" Noah had a serious face.

"Got it, you too, and take some rest." Jocelyn added.

Chapter 387 The Powerful Big Shot

When the two of them walked into the private room, almost everyone had already arrived.

The two tables in the large private room were all full of people at this moment.

When Nancy saw Zoe, she immediately got up and waved at her enthusiastically, "Zoe, come here."

Zoe smiled and sat next to Nancy.

Yanis sat next to Aliza.

All of them were at the same table.

When Zoe sat down, only Nancy kept holding her hand and chatting with her.

Everyone else just casually nodded and greeted her, after which they all put their eyes on Aliza and kept flattering Aliza.

A few of them were already working, most of them were still in school.

But they did not have a good life.

To this group of people, Aliza was the most powerful being.

Nancy whispered in Zoe's ears, "That Aliza is so arrogant, what's so great about it?"

"Zoe, what are you going to do next?" Aliza looked at Zoe coldly and flicked the red manicure she had just done.

"I haven't thought about it yet, I will have some rest first." Zoe said.

"That's right, it's hard to find a job these days, Zoe, do you have a boyfriend?" Aliza asked again.

"No."

"Oh, I have." Aliza grunted coldly.

"Aliza, you're in a relationship? What's the status of your boyfriend? He must be rich, right?"

"Aren't you talking nonsense? Aliza is so rich, her boyfriend must not be too bad."

The people at the table looked at Aliza with interest, chattering, causing Zoe headache from all the noise.

"Well, he is the CEO of the website that I live on, his dad owns a design company and his mum is a doctor." Aliza said, then deliberately glanced at Zoe.

Zoe frowned slightly and looked at Robert, "I'm sorry, Mr. Moore, what should be said I have already made it clear to you."

After saying that, she walked to the roadside and beckoned for a taxi.

Before she opened the door, Robert then picked her up and stuffed her overbearingly into his black Bentley, using the seat belt to strap her into the seat.

He then got into the car from the other side and locked the door, stepping hard on the accelerator and rushing off into the night.

This scene once again stunned everyone at the door.

"It feels like this big shot is really humble in front of Zoe."

"It seems to be love deeply, the car that big shot is driving seems to be a Bentley, it costs tens of millions."

"Zoe is really something, to actually be able to hold such a big shot."

"She's going to marry into a rich family, right?"

Classmates exchanged comments.

Those who had initially despised Zoe for Aliza were now all regretting it.

They knew that she was the real big shot now, and had actually won the heart of a big shot.

Every word that poured into her ears was like a nail to Aliza, knocked raw into her eardrums.

"You laughed at Zoe, now probably you are dumbfounded now, right? The man that Zoe found is much better than someone." Nancy was straightforward.

After saying that, she went straight away.

As Nancy took a step, Aliza's boyfriend immediately clutched her arm, "What do you mean? Did Aliza mock that woman just now?"

The woman just now is deeply in Robert's heart, does his girlfriend want to die?

"Yes, your girlfriend offended the woman of the big shot you've had a hard time befriending. I think you're going to screw up."

After saying that, Nancy then shrugged off his hand, went straight to the curb and beckoned for a taxi.

"He's a doctor, I met him when I was in the hospital recuperating, and after I left you, I had gone abroad, but when I arrived I felt I didn't know the place well, so I came back here and then I met him and we got married." Zoe said word for word, seriously.

"You're so frivolous!" Robert gritted his teeth.

The thought that, all those nights he tossed and turned, while Zoe was making love to other men, he wanted to strangle this woman alive.

"Well, I am a mistress, frivolity is certain. You are simple, I said I love you, and you believe it? In fact, at that time, those words were just a pretext for me to leave you, I was afraid that you would not let go, so that's why I said those words." Zoe forced herself to hold back her heartache and spoke word by word.

His emotions were already on the verge of collapse.

However, she kept forcing herself to hold back, not allowing those negative emotions to explode out.

Her words were like a knife, viciously stabbing Robert in the heart.

Robert was angry, "Are you fucking lying to me?"

"Do you think I would love a playboy like you? For you, it's okay to play around, but not to get married."

"Actually, the whole time we were together, I thought you were pretty disgusting, dirty and annoying."

"But you had money. For your money, I couldn't do anything else but put up with you."

"Now that I've made enough money, I want to go, and then I find that excuse."

Zoe tried to remain as cool as possible as she continued to speak hurtful words.

Every time she hurt him, her heart hurt twice along with it.

In an instant, Robert was pissed off.

So, he was fucking played, was he?

Those heartfelt words she said were all lies, weren't they?

Robert was so furious that he raised his hand and threw it viciously at Zoe's face.

Zoe did not dodge, but looked at Robert with a cold smile.

She knew that he could not let her go and that was why he was doing this.

Even if he is heartless, will there be times when his love is deeply rooted?

It's just a pity that the moment he fell in love came too late.

They were destined to miss out.

Robert drove the car all the way down to her house.

Zoe did not speak and tried to open the door.

The car door, however, still wouldn't open.

She turned her head to look at him, "Mr. Moore, open the door."

"As far as I know, this is your parents' house, right? You are married and still living in your mother's house, can't your husband afford to buy a house?" Mentioning her husband, Robert had a touch of contempt in his eyes.

"I can afford it, but I want to come back to stay with my parents for a few days, is there a problem?" Zoe responded lightly.

Robert once again gritted his teeth.

"And there's no need for you to keep talking to me in a shady way, you and I have separated and I'm married, please be decent."

"Zoe, I'll give you one last chance, if you divorce him, I can get you back to me and pretend that nothing happened."

It was quite cheap to say such things now, and he despised himself.

Even if he was angry, he couldn't stop loving her.

From the moment he couldn't bear to look at her standing in the rain, he knew it.

His words were completely unexpected to her.

Endlessly touched rolling over and over in her heart, there was a moment when she really wanted an impulse to just nod her head.

In the end, however, she controlled herself and shook her head, "Mr. Moore, I love my husband."

With one sentence, all of Robert's thoughts were cut off.

Robert smiled bitterly, "Okay, from now on, even if you fucking die out there, don't come back to me, Zoe, you only have this one chance, and you're the one who doesn't want it."

"Okay," Zoe nodded.

he know how he got back to Flento he know how all seemed he arrived home, it was three
