Chapter 431 Racing (2)

Jocelyn got out of the car.

Lois also followed suit and got out of the car.

He led Jocelyn all the way to the front of the large row of racing cars.

Jocelyn turned around and finally chose a white Porsche.

Lois, on the other hand, selected the one next to her, a red Ferrari.

"I'll take this one." Jocelyn patted the front bonnet of the car.

"Then I'll take this one. Let's go." Lois said, before opening the safe beside her.

Once the safe was opened, a large amount of car keys then came into view.

A large pile of car keys with luxury car logos were hanging together, looking spectacular.

Lois was the first to find her car keys, and then tossed them to her, "Catch."

She caught the car keys sharply, got straight into the car and started it.

Soon Lois also found his car keys and similarly got into the car.

Once Lois got into the car, he pressed down the window.

Seeing this, Jocelyn pressed down her own window as well and asked, "Where are we going?"

"Husan Circle. Follow me."

Husan Circle was one of the largest open-air racing circuits in Flento City.

The racing circuit is built around the highest mountain in Flento City, ringed by mountains.

Domestic, international large and small races, like to be held there, the track is long and there are many curves.

When Lois said that, he started the car, stepped on the accelerator hard and left the garage.

Jocelyn was not willing to be outdone either, and similarly stepped on the accelerator to the end, keeping up with him.

Kyle and the others, on the other hand, drove their own cars with difficulty, following behind the two.

Lois couldn't help but gently press the car window and fix his gaze on her face.

Jocelyn, on the other hand, gently stroked her hair against the wind

She then took her helmet in one hand and walked over to Lois, holding the roof of his car lazily with her other hand, "I won."

Lois lazily opened the car door and walked up to her, before casually putting the door back on, taking off the helmet and looking at her, "Well, any requests, as long as you ask, I can meet you."

Jocelyn shook her head, "There's actually nothing to ask."

Lois, "But it was agreed, Jocelyn, I'll give you whatever you want."

Jocelyn, "How about this, you buy me a drink."

Suddenly stopping, her brain regained its composure once again.

The feeling of heartache crept up once again.

She still wanted a drink more than anything else.

Lois, "Have you ever heard of a saying?"

Jocelyn, "What?"

Lois, "Drink can not dispel sorrow."

Jocelyn, "But I still want to drink."

Lois, "Why don't you continue racing? As long as you are willing, I will accompany you for one night."

Jocelyn's heart was suddenly warmed.

She hesitated for a few seconds and added, "Sure, then let's do it again."

Jocelyn then put on her helmet again and got into the car.

"What you said is possible, after all, Noah really doesn't look like he hates you with his various performances in front of you."

"I think he does seem like he's giving his heart, I know men best, a man who hates a woman will not go to this extent, even if the woman has use for him."

The more he said, the more Lois recognized Jocelyn's words, and the more he admired Jocelyn's intelligence.

"I think you do not have to be sad and upset, first sort out your emotions, and then go back and ask Noah, I think it is better to ask." Lois said again.

Jocelyn nodded, and her heart was very much in agreement with Lois' words.

For a moment, she even felt relieved.

She hoped that everything was really as she had said to Lois.

No matter what, she felt that she should, nonetheless, go back and talk to Noah face to face and ask for clarification.

With the recording alone, she did not want to convict Noah so soon.

Thinking of this, she looked at Lois, "Thank you for telling me this, and thank you for accompanying me to vent my emotions today."

Lois raised his hand, wanting to gently stroke Jocelyn's hair, but in the end, his hand stopped at a position about a centimeter from her head.

He eventually withdrew his hand silently and shrugged indifferently, "No worries."

"In the future, if you are in a bad mood, you can also call me, and I can accompany you to vent, just as a return." Jocelyn added.

"Okay." Lois smiled, "I'll send you back first, after you go back, ask him. Anyway, no matter what, it's always right for you to follow your heart."

"If anything happens, remember to call me." Lois said, then took Jocelyn's mobile phone, using her fingerprint to unlock it, and then into her address book, saved two numbers.

The two numbers, one was noted as, handsome Mr. Carter 1, and the other was noted as handsome Mr. Carter 2.

Looking at those two remarks, Jocelyn was in a better mood.

Catching Jocelyn's smile, Lois' mood also became brighter.

"Then, in the beginning, was the reason why grandpa let you marry me because of my blood?" Jocelyn got straight to the point.

"Yes." Noah responded truthfully, before taking another deep drag of his cigarette.

His dry answer made Jocelyn's heart panicked.

Jocelyn subconsciously took a deep breath and added, "Then, you are trying every possible way to get close to me and treat me well, is it also because of my blood? Because you want to keep me around as your blood cow."

Noah frowned slightly, the probing under his eyes gradually became intense, "What? How can you have such thoughts? Who told you all this nonsense?"

Jocelyn had a serious face, "None of your business, just tell me yes or no."

Noah threw the cigarette that he had smoked for a few puffs out, and then turned Jocelyn's body around, put his hands on her shoulders and faced her, "Look at my eyes, Jocelyn. "

Jocelyn cautiously raised her eyes, her heart has expectation, also has apprehension.

Her heart was about to jump out of the throat.

"The reason I approached you, as I told you before, because I have a crush on you." Noah said, word by word, seriously.

She clicked on the recording in her phone, "How do you explain this recording?"

The next second, his conversation with Regan resounded throughout the carriage.

Noah listened in confusion.

His reaction caused Jocelyn heart feel relieved.

"What is this? Where did you get it?" Noah asked.

"So, the reason why you and I crossed paths was not because of coincidence."

"And then what happened later, including my journey, I have also told you. I am telling you so much, I just want to tell you that, Jocelyn, from the beginning to the end, I am close to you because I have a good feeling for you, not because of your blood."

"If it was just because of the blood, then how could I have been married to you for two whole years without touching you? I am bound to be with you because I love you, not because of any other reason."

Noah continued to speak word by word, trying his best to express his deepest thoughts to Jocelyn.

After hearing all this, Jocelyn also became more and more at ease.

Looking back, she also felt quite funny when she recalled how impulsive, angry and stifled she was when she first heard that recording.

It was only her fault that she was, at the time, completely overwhelmed by all that stuff and failed to think it through.

"Okay. I believe you now, honey." Jocelyn nodded gently, followed by a flash of worry in her eyes, "Can your anemia be cured?"

Noah smiled bitterly, "No, I can only rely on blood transfusions when it strikes, before, the needle holes on the bend of my arm were actually left by blood transfusions. The one who called me and told me to go over was not a doctor, but the man who supplied me with blood."

"Do you have to have so many blood transfusions when you have an attack?" Jocelyn asked.

"Before, it didn't have to. It was enough once, but in the past two years, my need for blood has grown." Noah added.

"Then in the future, if you need it, come and draw my blood." Jocelyn's eyes were full of sincerity.

Noah's heart warmed, "For the time being, there is no need. That man, right now, alone, can satisfy my need for blood, if later, there is a need for it, I will let you know."

Looking at such Noah, Jocelyn's heart ached, "I will definitely find a way to completely cure you."

If it was according to what he said, his need for blood would increase, that meant that in the future, maybe, one or two people wouldn't be able to satisfy him at all.

Regan looked deeply at the two of them and nodded helplessly, "Alright then."

After that, Regan went upstairs.

After the two of them watched Regan leave, Noah then naturally picked up Jocelyn, "Let's go upstairs to rest as well."

Jocelyn nodded, "Put me down, aren't you not feeling well lately?"

Noah, "I am fine."

Jocelyn, "When anemia strikes, your body should be very weak."

Noah, "Then do you think I'm weak?"

Jocelyn, "Anyway, you'd better take care of yourself."

Noah, "No need."

The following day.

In Murphy family villa, on the rooftop, Gloria and Sara are holding binoculars, observing the situation at Jocelyn's house next door.

Jocelyn's red Maserati and Noah's black Bentley Elegance were all in their line of sight.

Gloria, "It seems that Jocelyn came back last night."

Sara raised her eyebrows, "Well, it's after eight o'clock and the two haven't gone out yet, could it be that Jocelyn had a showdown with Noah last night and the two have been arguing for too long?"

Gloria, "I don't know, I do think Jocelyn should not be so fast showdown, she will first go to identify the recording true or false, and then find a way to draw Noah's blood for laboratory tests, to see if it is the same blood type as hers."

Sara, "I don't know then."

Gloria, "Anyway, no matter what, these two people's divorce is inevitable, quarrel is also inevitable, and it is within today."

Sara coldly snorted, "That would be great."

The IP that so many of Griffin Group's top computer techies couldn't break, she actually gave it away so easily?

"Well, tell Tom to go over there and arrest him." Jocelyn said again.

Noah didn't say anything and decisively told Tom what had happened.

After hanging up the phone, Noah then looked at Jocelyn and asked, "Is there anything else that you can't do well?"

"There's probably nothing that your wife can't do well." Regan was calm, "Your wife is a top hacker."

"Well, grandpa don't brag." Jocelyn smiled embarrassedly.

"What?" Noah pursued.

"You know, now in the world, the most famous hacker, Kimi, right?" Regan asked.

This person is the top hacker, worldwide, there was not a single one who could compete with him.

Currently, he was employed by the country's top cyber security organization in M Country.

"Your wife has defeated him." Regan added.

In Noah's eyes, there was consternation, "Really?"

Regan laughed, "Do I have to brag?"

Noah turned his head to look at Jocelyn and asked, "Where did you learn hacking skills?"

Jocelyn, "I learned it when I was in Y Country. At that time in school, I had a classmate who was a hacker, he took me to get started, I was very interested, so I learned, and then, I became a hacker."

Noah, "How long did you learn?"

Jocelyn thought deeply for a few seconds, "Well, about a year and a half. Actually that stuff is not that hard."

Sara was full of joy, "Then I'll have to invite more people over and witness Jocelyn's joke together."
Gloria snorted, "Sure, once she was in the light, now she will be miserable. I want the whole world to

At the end of the sentence, Gloria's smile was almost maniacal.
And the smile at the corner of Sara's mouth was just as unstoppable.
Gloria, "There are times when the scales of victory, too, tilt towards me."
Sara, "Yeah, no one can be a winner all the time, Gloria, from now on, we can bully Jocelyn with impunity without exposing ourselves."
Gloria gritted her teeth, "Hahaha, sooner or later I'm going to snatch back everything Jocelyn has now, and let her die in my hands."

With those words, she then clenched her fists fiercely and added, "Mum, you must invite all the dignified people you know. And I, too, will do the same."

At this point, a beautiful blueprint had been sketched out in her mind.

Even, she could clearly see the image of Jocelyn being humiliated at the party.

Afterwards, she picked up Sara's mobile phone again and dialed Jocelyn's number, handing it over to Sara again.

Sara glanced at the phone screen and said.

"Jocelyn, tomorrow I am having my annual party at home, as usual, inviting my and your dad's good friends to come. You used to be there every year, why don't you come over this year too?"

"By the way, bring Noah over to meet some people." Sara added.

"Sure."

On the other side of the phone, in the red Maserati, Jocelyn held her phone in one hand, fixing her hair in the car's interior mirror while responding calmly.

As the words fell, the corners of her mouth curled up.

Even for their group who were used to seeing all kinds of beauty in the world, they still could not remain indifferent to Jocelyn's beauty.

She was too dazzling and too special.

There was no flaw to be seen in her body, her features, her figure, her temperament, all were impeccable.

Such a person is the ultimate fantasy for men.

There was not a single man that could resist her temptation.

"Okay." Allen nodded cheerfully.

Looking at Jocelyn, the pride in Allen's heart, rose.

And his eyes when he looked at Jocelyn had approvals.

Jocelyn smiled and slowly let go of Allen, lifting the hem of her skirt, walked to the champagne tower next to her and gently picked up a glass of golden champagne.

As soon as she stood, a large group of wealthy woman from Flento City surrounded her and began to flatter her.

"Jocelyn, you're really looking better and better now, worthy of being Mrs. Mason, the Mason family is the No. One wealthy family in Z Country."

"Yes, Jocelyn has become more and more beautiful in the past two years...Oh, Jocelyn, look at how little you're wearing, and you haven't put on a shawl, will you be cold?"

"Jocelyn, the sun is big today, I have sunscreen spray here, do you want it?"

Jocelyn looked at them calmly and answered their questions one by one, "Thank you all. I'm not cold and I've done my sun protection."

She knew that all the glory she had now was all given to her by Noah.

The current her, with the identity of the future mistress of the Mason family, was destined to be flattered wherever she went.

After all, in Z Country, anyone would want to climb up the hierarchy of the Mason family.

Gradually, she was surrounded by more and more people.

And the words they used to praise her became more and more exaggerated.

The same news popped up in everyone's mobile phones.
In an instant, all around Jocelyn, there was silence.!
And Jocelyn also received the same news, it was all expected, her heart was still calm.
Looking at the message, Gloria's heart was all content.
She had asked Red Sea to leak this news to the journalists.
The purpose was to force Jocelyn to tell the truth in front of everyone!
To make her look ashamed in front of everyone! To make those who originally admired her laugh at her

Jocelyn coldly snorted and looked at Gloria indifferently, "What, do you really want me to get a

"No," Gloria retorted, "It's just that, it was written on the news like that."

"Is this really true or not? Why do I think it's a bit fake?"

"I do think it may not be fake."

"At first I thought that the heir of the Mason family was truly in love with her, but now it seems to be the opposite."

"If there is no divorce, in today such a big occasion, how come Noah did not accompany her? I think it's probably a divorce."

The rich women were talking about it, and the way they looked at her changed from admiration to contempt.
