Chapter 441 Make a fool of herself (3)

"The purpose was to break up the couple, but, fortunately, Miss Jocelyn was smart and did not let her treacherous plan succeed, and also followed the clues and found me. And I have found out the truth of everything. "

"While Gloria knew nothing, she thought she had succeeded in her treacherous plan, so she asked me to contact reporters again, to put out the news of Jocelyn's divorce from Noah today."

"The purpose was to facilitate herself to force out Jocelyn's divorce in public on this occasion today."

"She wanted to see with her own eyes Jocelyn's belittled and ridiculed, pained appearance."

Red Sea, word by word, continued, describing everything in general to everyone,.

After hearing all this, the scene was instantly in an uproar.

Everyone was all shocked.

"Gosh, the two sisters of the Murphy family are really endlessly messing around."

"Jocelyn has never messed with Gloria, it was always Gloria who took the initiative to provoke Jocelyn."

"She's too vicious, isn't she? She even made a fake recording to try to get a divorce from Jocelyn."

"It's so vicious, not only did she try to break up her sister and brother-in-law, but she also tried to humiliate her sister's divorce! "

"The Stewart family is really blind, actually fancy such a woman."

This situation made Gloria feel ashamed!

How could this happen?

Obviously, she had designed all of this seamlessly, how could she still be exposed?

How could Jocelyn be so smart, to actually realize that the recording was fake?

It turned out that they didn't have a divorce at all, before Red Sea, it was all a lie to her.

The purpose was to make her eat her own words! To make her insanely humiliated in an occasion like today!

Gloria clenched his phone and gritted his teeth, "What do you mean?"

Jocelyn lightly smiled and hooked her lips, but she didn't answer again and hung up the phone.

Gloria was a bit panicked.

What the hell did Jocelyn want?

Did she have any other tricks up her sleeve that she hadn't used?

On the other hand, Sara had been standing in the courtyard for a while before she pressed down the anger and panic in her heart and turned straight back to the living room to entertain the guests together with Allen.

Jocelyn didn't give her more than a glance the whole time, just silently enjoying the food on the table.

When she was in a good mood, everything looked delicious.

A random dish on the table could whet her appetite.

Noah, on the other hand, sat beside Jocelyn, as if shielding himself from everything, and only peeled her shrimps.

Each time he peeled one, he carefully placed it in front of her.

The sweet picture was envious of the others.

"It was rumoured before that Mr. Mason is not close to women, but now it seems that he is not not close to women, but just because he doesn't like ordinary vulgar people."

"Yes, after meeting Jocelyn, he is different. It's no wonder that Mr. Mason is like this, Jocelyn is attractive, right?"

"Yes, who can refuse her? The two sisters of the Murphy family are really two extremes."

The guests at the various tables also began to exchange pleasantries and whisper about the two of them.

Everyone's eyes were full of envy.

Hearing this from the crowd, the Stewart family felt humiliated.

However, she forced herself to pretend to be calm and looked at Jocelyn, "What are you saying, Jocelyn? I don't understand."

"Can you understand this?" Jocelyn said, then from her phone, she found a recording and clicked on it.

The next second, the young man's voice rang.

"I'm sorry, I accepted Sara's offer to keep helping everyone hide Gloria's condition and not tell everyone that Gloria is not sick."

"Actually I was tempted by money at the beginning, I did realise my mistake later but it was too late, I could only make one mistake after another."

"Miss Murphy, let me go."

Afterwards Jocelyn's voice rang out.

"Want me to let you off? First give me a careful account of what Gloria has done with Sara."

Then, the young man's voice, once again, rang out.

"In fact, at the beginning, when Gloria entered our hospital after committing suicide in prison, I was unaware that Gloria was faking depression."

"Later, after I bandaged up Gloria's wounds, that Sara found me and she gave me a cheque for half a million."

"She told me she needed a favor from me and asked if I could help, and she said that she would give me another half a million as soon as I finished that favor."

"Seeing the money, I nodded, and then Sara told me that Gloria's depression was actually faked and she wanted me to keep helping Gloria fake it."

"Even if next, I checked out that something was wrong, I was not allowed to tell anyone else."

"Sara also told me that at that time, when Gloria was in prison, she had someone send Gloria drugs containing caffeine in order to fake depression and facilitate her release from prison for treatment."

"And I've been pretty good to you lately, right? Why would you want to harm me? Why did you fake a recording like that, saying that I drugged you?" Sara continued to slyly argue.

Right now, this was the only way she could get a ray of hope.

"Is that so? Then what is this?" When Jocelyn finished speaking, she took out a copy of her own blood test report form from her silver handbag.

It was stuffed into Sara's hand.

The report slip clearly stated that the mercury level in her body was ten times over the limit!

Sara's pupils trembled, "Jocelyn, what is this?"

Jocelyn was straightforward, "You know what's in your heart."

Gloria scolded with displeasure, "Jocelyn, don't talk nonsense, have you even faked this in order to harm my mother?"

Jocelyn coldly looked at Sara, "Whether I am talking nonsense or not, you know in your heart."

Taking a deep breath, Allen added, "Sara, obediently follow your daughter into prison, and, let's divorce. I will let the lawyer give you the divorce agreement ."

Sara was fearsome, "What?"

Allen, "I said, we divorce. I warned you a long time ago, if you hurt Jocelyn again, we will divorce."

Sara frantically shook her head, "No, I did not do anything."

Allen no longer take care of her, looking at Jocelyn said, "Jocelyn, from now on Sara has nothing to do with me, I do not want to care about Gloria, And I support you with whatever you want to do. "

This time, he was not going to continue to think about Sara and Gloria.

He knew that if they were not punished, then Jocelyn would only be continually hurt by her.

Jocelyn's eyes flashed with a touch of inquiry, "Really?"

Allen shrugged indifferently, "Yeah, she's going overboard one at a time, I've really had enough."

After saying that, Allen then lit a cigarette again, took a puff and added, "Jocelyn, is your health okay?"

Jocelyn smiled, "I'm okay. I found out myself this problem in time."

Allen's eyes were full of curiosity, "Oh? How did you find out?"

Jocelyn nodded, "These days, I always feel poor sleep, and sometimes will be dizzy in the morning, and occasionally nausea, but the pulse can not see the problem."

"Yesterday afternoon, when I went to the hospital to see that attending doctor of Gloria's, he was out of the office, and in the interval of waiting for him, I had a blood test, and then tested that the mercury level in my body was over the limit."

"At that time, I realized that someone had poisoned me, and also suspected the two, I didn't expect that later, after meeting Gloria's attending doctor, he actually explained those to me." Jocelyn added.

Allen felt increasingly angry, his fists unconsciously clenched again, "Sara is really heartless!"

"Dad, I originally thought that they would call a truce for your sake, but, this time I really have no choice, if I continue to keep them, I am not sure what else they can do."

"Moreover, I am very afraid that Sara will harm you one day, the main reason why she drugged me, besides hating me, is for the Murphy family's family fortune."

"Such a heartless person can do anything for the family fortune, if she can poison me today, she might be able to poison you tomorrow."

Jocelyn looked at Allen with a serious face, telling the truest thoughts of her heart.

Such a thing was not without examples.

She had, once, seen examples like this in foreign magazines.

In her lifetime, she could never allow such a tragedy to happen.

Allen nodded his head repeatedly, "Jocelyn, you are too right. I will not be soft."

Noah, who had been silent, placed his gaze on Allen's face, "In the future, Jocelyn and I will take good care of you. Even without them, you will still live a good life."

Seeing this scene, Allen's heart tightened and his entire mind was in turmoil.

He got up and walked to Noah's side, pushing his body, "Noah, Noah, wake up, what's wrong with you?"

However, Noah was unconscious.

His face was white and bloodless.

Seeing Noah in such a state, Allen sucked in a breath of cold air and carefully put his finger to the tip of Noah's nose.

When he felt his breath, his heart settled down.

Taking out his mobile phone, he called the hospital.

.....

Fifteen minutes later, the ambulance arrived and Noah was rushed to the First People's Hospital.

Allen was there all the time.

After arriving at the hospital, Noah was pushed straight into the VIP emergency room.

Allen, on the other hand, was sitting on the bench at the entrance of the emergency room with a nervous look on his face, wiping his sweat as he called Jocelyn.

On the other side of the phone, Jocelyn had just arrived at the police station.

When she saw Allen's call, Jocelyn got out of the car, before pressing answer.

At this time, Gloria and Sara were escorted down from another car by the police officers.

Seeing Jocelyn, Gloria started to growl and struggle like a mad dog, "Jocelyn, I will kill you myself, eat your flesh and drink your blood whenever I get the chance!"

"Jocelyn I will curse you to become fat again, curse you to be cuckolded by Noah! Don't get cocky! Your husband will cheat on you sooner or later!"

"Even if he doesn't cheat, he'll probably die soon! Your husband has a blood disease after all! You'll become a widow!"

"Are you always in charge of treating him?" Jocelyn asked.

Marcus nodded.

Due to the presence of Allen, Jocelyn did not continue to ask further.

After about ten minutes, the door to the emergency room opened.

Noah walked out from inside.

His face had regained bit of blood, but at a glance, he still looked very weak.

But even so, his aura still had not diminished in the slightest.

Seeing him, Jocelyn stepped forward and carefully held his arm, "How are you, are you alright?"

Noah nodded slightly, "Yeah, you gave me the blood?"

"Yeah." Jocelyn responded truthfully.

"I'm sorry for making you suffer." Noah frowned.

But Jocelyn shook her head, "It's just giving you some blood."

Allen went to his side and asked, "Noah, are you really okay? You scared me to death."

Noah slowly shifted his gaze to Allen and responded, "Well, I'm sorry, Dad, I'm sorry to have frightened you along."

"It's okay, it's good that you're okay." Allen patted his shoulder lightly.

Afterwards, Marcus stood up and walked to Noah, "Take some rest these days. Let's chat on WeChat later."

"Okay." Noah responded.

"What brings you here?" Jocelyn asked.

"I felt that you should be almost done with the statement, so I came over."

"Didn't the doctor say that you should get some rest?" Jocelyn said.

"Do you think your husband needs rest?" Noah asked.

"No matter what, you still have to listen to the doctor."

Before she could finish her sentence, his kiss covered down.

Jocelyn's heart tightened and her face instantly flushed to the base of her neck!

In front of the police station where cars were coming and going, he kissed her without any fear.

"Then let's watch.. Let's go, get in the car." Noah smiled softly, took her hand, walked to the other side of the car and opened the door for her.

Jocelyn gave him a glance before got into the car.

Noah hooked his lips, closed the door and got into the car from the other side.

With a kick of the accelerator, the black Bentley elegantly and dominantly rushed into the traffic.

"Go to the supermarket to buy some food, we'll go to dad's place for dinner later, and stay there at night." Noah said again.

His thoughtfulness once again warmed Jocelyn's heart.

She knew that Noah was worried that her father would be alone and think about things when it was late at night.

He was also worried that her father, being alone, would not be used to it.

Jocelyn nodded lightly, "Honey, thank you for thinking so thoughtfully."

He reached out with his long arm, dotingly rubbing her hair lightly, "No worries."

It was just a pity that there were no ifs in this world, only results and consequences.

Seeing that it was Phoebe's phone, he pressed answer, "What's wrong?"

"A notice just came from the detention centre, your sister can be released tomorrow morning, we'll go pick her up together tomorrow." Phoebe said.

"On the matter of divorce, our family has already made up our mind, I hope you also make a decision early, and hurry back to appease your father, he is very angry."

When this matter was mentioned, the irritation in Joseph's heart completely and utterly engulfed him.

He didn't say anything, just impatiently pressed hang up, and then turned his phone off and dropped it on the passenger seat, gritting his teeth and muttering to himself, "Gloria!"

In the evening, Noah and Jocelyn, after accompanying Allen for dinner, returned to Jocelyn's former room.

After she left home, everything in the house has never changed.

Everything was still the same as it was.

"Go and take a shower, then get some early rest." said Jocelyn.

"Okay, we'll go together." Noah said, so he reached out with his long arms and naturally picked her up horizontally.

Chapter 450 The next one is even better behaved

Looking at Francesca's appearance, the anger in Paige's heart kept rising.

Half an hour ago, she received a call from Francesca's assistant, who told her that Francesca was in the cast and was again disliking the other actors in the cast and asking the director to change them.

But the director refused her.

So, she got outright angry and dropped the script, got into the caravan and refused to get out of the car.

Paige was already angry when she answered the phone, and when she came here and heard these words, she became even more angry.

These days, Francesca is becoming more and more popular. The dramas she starred in, one after another, aired and got a heat, taking her popularity to a whole new level.

The more popular she became, the more difficult she became, and the more she lost her modest, sweet demeanour.

Her popularity had already surpassed that of X Entertainment's original actress with the most heat, and she was receiving numerous endorsements, making her one of X Entertainment's biggest cash cows.

If Paige goes against her, X Entertainment will lose a cash cow.

Francesca obviously knew what she was thinking, which is why she was so emboldened.

After a long sigh of helplessness, Paige once again spoke kindly, "Francesca, the director is already very dissatisfied with your previous frequent requests for substitutions."

"If you continue, I'm afraid he will replace you, you should know that the drama 'Deep love' is a big IP adaptation."

"Victor the director is the a master in domestic series drama, if you offend him, it will not do you any good."
