Chapter 521 She glowed on the stage

She saw Noah.

He was sitting in the last row.

In a sea of people, she could only see him.

And he was looking at her too, his gaze gentle and doting.

She was glowing on the stage and he was looking at her from afar down the playing field.

Immediately, her heart beat faster involuntarily.

The excitement was overwhelming.

Noah's appearance had taken her by surprise.

Yesterday, she had asked him about it, and he had clearly told her that he would not come.

It seemed that he wanted to give her a surprise.

At the guide was very understanding and cut the camera to Noah's face.

The camera was pulled very close and the tenderness under the man's eyes was captured clearly.

When Noah appeared in the big screen above the stage, the whole audience was in an uproar.

Especially, he looked tenderly at Jocelyn.

Then the guide moved the camera to Jocelyn's face again.

Jocelyn's gaze was as gentle and affectionate as his.

The whole audience was once again excited.

"I am jealous of them"

"This ticket is so good value, not only can you see the passionate match, but also sweet love!"

"Miss Murphy, the receptionist told me that that Bella is here, yelling that she must have our company's big boss, and saying that she refuses to leave until she sees the big boss."

Jocelyn knew that she wanted to put herself forward and enter X Entertainment as an artist, and thought, "She really is confident."

As far as she knew, these days, she had been rejected by many entertainment companies, except King Entertainment.

Originally, she thought that she would give up, but to her surprise, she had come back to X Entertainment.

"Let the bodyguards shoo her out." Jocelyn said.

She really didn't want to see this woman.

"Okay."

"By the way, there's a great drama that found Dorian and Nicolas, it's called 'the Green Dress', it's about a star in the last century, and the love of a mafia godfather."

"I'm going to give them." Paige said, "The drama is from king entertainment, it will be filmed this year and will probably be aired next summer, if it's a big hit, by then, their popularity will go to another step."

"If you think the script is good, just take it." Jocelyn said.

"By the way, before I have asked Dorian and Nicolas, so far, Dorian and Nicolas are definitely not together, Dorian should be in unrequited love." Paige said.

Paige added, "Regarding the impact that would be brought about by such a thing as the exposure of love between the same sex, I have already hinted at them, no matter what kind of development it would become in the future, I believe they will keep it a secret."

"Well, good."

Jocelyn lightly pinched her brow in exhaustion, lifted her laptop and opened it, "Well, then I'll get busy first."

After making the call, Jocelyn then put her energy, once again, into her work.

In the opulent bedroom, as soon as Robert opened his eyes, he subconsciously stretched, habitually reached out to touch the position beside him.

Robert, who was bearded and dressed in pajamas, rushed into his helicopter as soon as he left the house.

At, Julian sent the exact location of the ICU where Gentle was located.

When he saw it, Robert flew the helicopter straight to the Shimizu County People's Hospital.

At this moment, his heart kept twitching, and with each breath, the force of his heart twitching, followed by an increase.

Tears, moreover, kept falling down uncontrollably.

In order to keep his vision from being affected, he could only wipe the tears.

If he could, he wished he could have the flash function and instantly flash to her.

That woman, what a fool.

In order not to drag him down, in order to let him move on completely, she actually did something stupid like that.

The words that he had blurted out to Zoe out of anger, once again, rang in his own ears, "What a whore. as long as anyone pays you, you make love to him! "

"You're so frivolous!"

"Get lost!"

Thinking about what he had said then, Robert felt harder and harder.

He was guilty!

"Zoe, you fool." He muttered to himself, his voice hoarse.

If Julian hadn't told him, what would have happened?

She would definitely die of depression!

To her death, she would have never mentioned her heart's deep love.

The pain in his heart deepened when he thought of the image of Zoe dying alone.

After that, Robert called his special assistant Haider again.

"Haider, contact all the cancer experts from all over the world, mobilize them to the Shimizu County People's Hospital, let them form a team of experts and treat Zoe together, Zoe has lymphoma and is dying."

He knew that the current situation of Zoe was not suitable for transfer.

Since that was the case, he let the experts, all of them, come to Zoe.

Julian was deeply touched by Robert, he once again sighed helplessly.

"Mr. Robert, is it meaningful?" Haider said.

"Even if I pay my entire fortune, I still want to cure Zoe, don't say crap, do whatever you are told!"

After saying that, Robert hung up the phone grumpily.

He moved a chair from the side and sat beside Zoe, clutching her hand with both hands and continuing to kiss while saying, "Zoe, I will definitely pull you back from death. "

"You must be strong, for me and for your parents, as long as you can survive this, I will marry you. No matter who it is that stops me, it's useless." Robert had a determined face and his eyes were scarlet to the extreme.

The long separation, coupled with the impending death parting before him, made Robert see his feelings for Zoe even more clearly.

He can't do without Zoe.

If, she can pull through, he will definitely get married to her!

Although, for a person of his status, marriage is not even up to him, he is willing to fight for the sake of Zoe for once!

He'd be thrown out of his fucking house, and it was not a big deal for him!

Even if he doesn't want the world, he wants Zoe!

He dared not think what would become of himself if Zoe really died, he thought he would not be able to bear the pain of losing her for the second time.

The person in his arms was becoming more and more fragile, and Robert was really afraid that he would lose her in the next second.

No matter what, he must heal this person.

"By the way, there is also Regan."

At, he suddenly thought of Regan again.

Regan's medical skills were even more powerful than those of the internationally renowned experts.

He dialed Noah's phone number.

On the other side of the phone inside the Griffin Group president's office, Jocelyn and Noah were sitting on the coffee table, drinking coffee.

Jocelyn was lazily pillowed on the fluffy armrest of the sofa, her legs naturally resting on Noah's thighs, her hands clutching her phone, her expression focused.

And Noah was leaning lightly against the back of the sofa, holding his phone in a posture and look that was in divine sync with Jocelyn.

Seeing that Robert had called, Noah pressed answer.

"Zoe has lymphoma, the cancer has spread, the situation is very bad."

"What? Zoe has lymphoma? Didn't you and her split up? How do you know?" Noah had a touch of slight surprise in his eyes.

As soon as Jocelyn heard this, she put her gaze on Noah's face, turned off the game volume and moved over to Noah's side, listening carefully to Robert.

Robert explained everything to Noah clearly.

Jocelyn and Noah, after listening to the whole story, were deeply shocked inside.

Neither of them had expected that Zoe would have such deep feelings for Robert.

Robert said again, "Can you please ask Regan to come to the Shimizu County People's Hospital as well? He is highly skilled in medicine, maybe, there will be some way." Robert added, "Please."

"Okay." Noah said.

"I once experimented on ten mice with advanced cancer before, and among them, one survived."

"I heard that you have invited a lot of experts, right? When the time comes, when those experts come over, let's discuss a suitable plan together to try it out, whether it will work or not depends on this girl's life." Regan added.

Robert nodded heavily.

Even if there was only a one percent chance, it was better than having no chance at all.

Right now, he only hoped that Zoe could be the lucky one who could be cured.

He only hoped that a miracle would happen.

"Okay, everyone else should leave, the patient needs to rest now. Noah and Jocelyn can just stay, and let me know if the expert team comes later." Regan added.

As soon as Regan's words fell, Robert nodded once again and gave a deep look at Zoe.

He stood in place for a long, long time before Robert took Harry and Abel with him and left.

The only people left in the large ICU were Jocelyn, Noah and Regan.

Regan wrote down his prescription and sent it to Robert.

.....

After they left, Regan then looked at Noah and Jocelyn and said, "This prescription is my unique secret recipe. Now I'm sending the prescription to Jocelyn. Many medicines, which are rare in the world, can only be found in my residence in Y Country. You two go back to Y country."

"Okay." Noah said.

After that, Regan then took out his mobile phone and sent the prescription to Jocelyn.

But Zoe on the bed still didn't respond at all.

On the heartbeat monitor, the number of heartbeats was still rapidly decreasing.

Because the value plummeted, together, emitted a alarm sound, one after another, so ear-piercing.

Robert was chaotic, feverishly shouting, "Zoe, wake up!"

Zoe's face is miserably white, like a corpse.

Her body kept following the defibrillator, rising and falling.

But there was no response at all.

At this moment, it was as if Robert could hear the voice of death approaching towards her.

"Don't. I don't want you to die. Zoe, if you die, what will I do? Wake up."

"Don't you love me?"

He was really scared.

And at, Jocelyn was also nervous and sweating profusely.

She began to move more frequently, using the defibrillator, pressing Zoe.

Regan, and all the experts were worried about Zoe.

About three seconds later.

The number of Zoe's heartbeat gradually began to rebound.

When they saw this number, everyone let out a long sigh of relief.

Jocelyn did not dare to let up in the slightest and continued to persist, pressing her with the defibrillator.

After another ten seconds.

The number of Zoe heartbeats' returned to normal.

This also meant that her life, for the time being, was saved.

Following Robert's footsteps, Zoe went all the way into the house.

There was her favorite European style furniture and the smell of her favorite rose oil.

Everything was the way she liked it best.

"Here, it's all my favorite." said Zoe.

Robert naturally pulled her into his arms, "Well, I had it decorated to your liking."

"I like it so much," said Zoe.

"Well, as long as you like it." said Robert, then reluctantly released her and walked under the coffee table, pulled open the drawer, took out a kraft paper bag inside and handed it to Zoe, "These are for you."

The bag was heavy inside, and after a bewildered look at Robert, Zoe opened the bag.

Inside was, a thick pile of bank cards.

Zoe was even more puzzled, "What are you doing?"

Robert smiled, "These are my entire fortune. All for you."

"Why?" Zoe asked.

"In the future, you will manage my money. my economic power is in your hand. Tomorrow I will call someone to transfer all the houses in my name to your name." Robert added.

"Today you have some rest, tomorrow I will take you home, to meet my parents and talk to them about the marriage." Robert said again.

Robert's words touched Zoe, "I don't need you to go to this extent for me, do you trust me that much?"

Robert smiled, "Fool, if I don't trust you, who will I trust? You are the woman who will be with me for life in the future."

Two hours later, the black helicopter with the logo of the Griffin Group arrived over the nameless island where Tom was.

The plane was only twenty meters above the ground.

From the co-pilot's seat, Jocelyn could clearly see the situation below.

The large island covered by lush forest, they could not see at all what it was really like below.

Originally, they thought that they could see Tom and the others from up here, and could also determine where exactly the island was inhabited.

However, it was unexpected that nothing could be seen.

After looking at the situation below, Noah repeatedly flew the helicopter around the island several times.

After all, they could not see what the inside of the island looked like.

On the small island, the lush trees covered everything firmly underneath.

Jocelyn tried to see below, but she could not see it clearly.

So did Noah.

"Looks like we'll just have to find a flat place, stop the plane and hike in." Noah said indifferently.

"Okay." Jocelyn said.

The words fell, her fingers took out the sapphire hidden inside her T-shirt out of habit, and gently stroked it with her thumb.

Noah turned his head back inadvertently, and saw the sapphire.

Under the light, this sapphire glowed beautifully.

It was of good quality.

"This sapphire is quite nice. How come I've never seen you wear it before? Did you buy it new?" Noah asked.

"Oh, no, this sapphire was left to me by my great grandfather for a long time, so I was planning to wear it today." Jocelyn said.

"It looks good." he complimented.

Jocelyn smiled, "Well, it was my great grandfather's treasure, and when he handed me the sapphire before he left, he told me to keep it safe and to treat it as if it were my own child."

At this moment, Tom and the others were headless flies, constantly searching for a way out.

Everyone's face was written with exhaustion and despair.

When they saw that Jocelyn Noah had brought someone with him, their eyes, at once, regained their usual light.

"Mr. Mason! Madam!" Everyone spoke in unison.

Tom then brought the dozen or so bodyguards by his side and ran to Jocelyn and Noah.

"How are you guys, are you hurt?" Jocelyn said with concern, sizing up the few of them from head to toe.

"We're fine." Tom said.

"That's good." Only then did Jocelyn feel relieved.

With those words, she waved her hand towards the bodyguards behind her.

Soon the bodyguards neatly served Tom and the others with mineral water.

Tom, and the others, unscrewed the mineral water and drank most of the bottle with a gulp.

Screwing on the cap, Tom added, "Here, the compass will fail. Mr. Mason, Madam, we really can't find our way out. We've been spinning for too long, and this place really looks like a forest maze. "

"Mr. Mason, madam, why didn't you bring a maze expert here?" Tom added.

"I am the expert." Jocelyn smiled.

Jocelyn then, with a serious face, walked around, looking at the distribution of the trees around, and roughly understood the setup of this forest maze.

Tom's eyes were full of incredulity, "You?"

"Yes." Jocelyn responded.

No one had expected that Jocelyn could actually have such a skill.

After that, Jocelyn walked to the side and began to observe the surrounding branches of the trees.

Noah followed closely behind.

The two, after circling around, returned to the crowd.
