Chapter 871 Lena fox Once Again in Dreams

In the dream she was dressed in a snowy white traditional costume and standing in the middle of a misty forest.

The lush gnarled trees shroud the entire forest in airtightness.

The world is eerie.

It's hard to tell if it's day or night.

The gusts of cold wind make her shiver all over.

She was very frightened in her dream.

It is not at all clear why she is in such a place.

She then began to look around in a panic, trying to find an exit to hurry up and get out.

And just at that moment, suddenly a golden light flashed.

A Lena fox descends from the sky and lands directly in front of her.

In the next instant, the Lena fox instantly opened its bloody maw and pounced on her face, scratching off one of her eyeballs hard.

"Ah!"

The sharp pain made her panic even more.

Even unconsciously, she screamed out.

A strong sense of fear woke her up in an instant.

When she opened her eyes, the world was dark.

Cold sweat broke out on her body.

Her heart kept beating fast.

It's like it's about to jump out of her throat.

And she was breathing, just as and, and even with some heaviness.

Chapter 872 Ryan so handsome

The sun is shining in the evening and the temperature is not as hot as it is during the day.

The cold breeze off the beach is soothing.

The temperature at this time of year is like a northern city, a warm spring in Flento City.

In the meantime, since she was bored at home, she got a teacher to take her home to do yoga for pregnant women.

And because of this, she is, therefore, in better shape than ever before.

And her back looks more upright.

Because she was still in the early stages of pregnancy and not showing her pregnancy, no one could see that she was pregnant.

Rosa is satisfied with herself now.

On the side, Ryan, wearing a white shirt with a pair of white trousers underneath, was plain-faced, yet still looked unbelievably good.

In order not to be recognised, they both wore sunglasses, caps, and masks.

The beach was particularly crowded at this time.

As far as the eye can see, tents are being pitched, sand is being played with, and those lying on benches are resting.

Not far away, where the sunset glow is at its brightest, a group of white blonde children are chasing and playing.

The whole beach was filled with the sound of the loud, clear laughter of children.

The children visually estimated to only three or four years old.

The little girl was wearing a bikini and the little boy was wearing only a pair of swimming trunks.

Don't say he's heavily armed.

She would know him even if he turned to dust.

At a glance, she recognized him!

And the other girl, with long hair, did likewise.

In her excitement, she tried to reach out and grab Ryan's wrist.

However, she soon realised that she was not worthy at all.

So she retracted right back.

A male god like Ryan was born to stand away from the crowd and receive people's top worship.

A mortal man is not free to reach out and defile.

To love him is a faith.

The two girls, at this moment, felt like they were suffocating.

Even through the thick armour, they could clearly feel the beauty of their idol's face!

And in order not to leave Rosa next to them in the cold, the two of them soon put their eyes on Rosa's face as well.

"Rosa, it's you, isn't it? It's really too fated."

"That's right, Rosa, can we take a picture with you two? We've really liked you guys for a long time, please, please, please."

The two girls, with their hands together at the same time, kept rubbing their hands together in a humble manner.

Their attitude was sincere to the core.

Rosa couldn't stand it the most, she was a naturally soft-hearted person.

The same applies to Ryan.

"Come on." said Rosa.

Chapter 874 Archie Dies

She was still wearing the traditional white outfit.

Except, at this point, she was covered in blood.

Her right eye is in a state where it has been gouged out.

It fell to the floor.

Inside the hollow sockets of the eyes, blood had been dripping out continuously.

And the Lena fox, standing like this in front of her, looked at her silently, but did not move a muscle.

The excruciating pain kept spreading.

Gives her the creeps.

Soon, cold sweat broke out on her body.

She fell to the ground in pain and was dying.

The fox, on the other hand, had no intention of letting her go.

The moment she fell to the ground.

The fox pounced on her again, ruthlessly gouging out her other eye.

The eye was pulled out of its socket, raw, by its claws.

The intense, sharp pain spread again.

It was as if she could clearly feel the fleshy threads of flesh connecting the eyeballs to the sockets being torn off.

Soon, she became blind.

It was pitch black in front of you.

Where the two eyes were, they became two deep bloody holes.

The smell of blood is sickening.

The orbital cramps intensify and sting.

She started rolling in place in pain.

The traditional costume, which was snow-white, was soon, for a large part, stained red.

She was frightened, she was disturbed.

She wants to be forgiven.

But the pain, however, left her with no way to speak at all.

So, she just exited the news page and cut to the financial news section to read today's fresh financial news.

Headlining the financial news pages was the news of Archie's death.

She didn't click on it.

Instead, she read the news of other businesses.

As she watched, her phone vibrated.

The caller was Noah.

When she saw the word husband, her expression softened.

She unconsciously hooked her lips shallowly and pressed answer, "Hello, hubby."

On the other side of the phone, Noah was on a cold face, leading a large group of people, inspecting the various departments of the branch in K City.

He was followed by a large group of branch executives.

There was a group of bodyguards.

Everyone trembled with fear.

He was in a black shirt with a tailored couture suit and a couture black long coat.

The cool black colour contrasted with his delicate skin.

At this moment, he was walking into the planning department with his mobile phone in hand.

All the employees in the oversized office space of several hundred square metres, stood up in unison.

In unison, they shouted, "Hello, Chairman."

He nodded faintly towards them, and then he put his right index finger, to his lips, in a gesture of silence.

When the others saw this, they immediately fell silent.

Chapter 876 You're following us

When Polly, a female colleague beside her, heard this, she immediately glanced at her disdainfully and said, "What are you talking about? Why are you speaking so acidly? If the chairman's wife hears this, you will be left in the lurch."

Evelyn sneered.

And then, she pulled open her drawer and removed an La mer air cushion from it.

Opening the air cushion, she took the powder puff and touched up her makeup in the mirror while saying, "What I said is the truth, in this world, there is no cat that does not steal fishy things, if there is, it only means that the fishy thing is not to the cat's liking, the cat does not want to eat."

"If there's that appetite, see if it eats." Evelyn said again with a smile.

Polly directly rolled her eyes again, "I think you are just jealous."

Evelyn, "Jealous? I'm not."

She was never jealous of anyone.

If someone who had what she was mad enough to want.

Then she would not choose to be silently jealous.

Opting, instead, to just go ahead and grab it.

In every case, she was the one who was favoured by luck.

Each time, she was able to grab what she wanted.

Then live as if she would make others jealous.

Polly, "Aren't you?"

Evelyn, "As long as you're happy."

Glancing at the La mer on Evelyn's hand, Polly was puzzled, "You are a trainee. How come you have all kinds of big brand? Are you some kind of hidden tycoon?"

Evelyn, "It's out of your hands."

With those words, she closed the La mer air cushion.

And then she took out her Hermes limited edition bag from the cupboard.

Opening her bag, she took out her lipstick in its limited edition Guerlain case and began to apply it delicately.

Chapter 877 Absolutely Beautiful

"I'm driving down the road, are you guys suffering from some kind of disease? How can you do this to me?" Evelyn continued to feign innocence and even acted angry in order to show her righteousness.

Beauty, even when it looks angry, is beautiful.

One of the bodyguards continued to look at Evelyn with a serious face and asked, "Where are you going?"

Evelyn frowned coldly, "Is it any of your business where I go? Is this road run by your family?"

Evelyn, "Keep that up and I'll call the police."

The bodyguard still had a serious look on his face, "Say it, where are you going?"

Evelyn, "I'm going to S City."

The bodyguard, "I don't believe you just happen to have been just along for the ride with us. If I remember correctly, you were following our car when we were downtown."

Evelyn pinched her brow helplessly, "Oh yeah, I just happened to be there, what's wrong?"

The bodyguard, "Show me your ID card."

Intuition told him that this woman had impure intents and purposes.

Evelyn grunted coldly and took out her ID card, handing it to the outside of the car window with a straight face, "Here."

She then tossed her work badge to the bodyguard as well, "Here's the ID, here's the work badge. Can prove that I'm not some kind of terrorist?"

"My family is in S City. My parents called me and said that they were sick, so I took off work in a hurry and I was ready to drive home." Evelyn said again.

As far as she knew, Noah was going to visit another branch in S City next.

So, in order to be able to tailgate all the way, that was all she could say.

And, her family happens to be in S City.

The address on her ID card is S City.

Everything, when put this way, seems seamless.

The bodyguard was a bit shocked to see Evelyn's work tag.

Even from across the wide road, she could still clearly feel the kingly nobility that draped the man's body.

That is the air of a successful man.

The kind of man she wanted was the kind of man he was, handsome, wealthy and noble.

Only such a man could be worthy of her.

The curvature of her mouth deepened a lot at once at the thought of it.

At the same time, Noah was completely unaware that he was becoming a target for someone.

In front of him, the management of the branch bowed their heads respectfully towards him.

In unison, they shouted, "Welcome, Chairman, to visit our S City branch and guide our work."

The young and handsome male president of the branch then walked directly in front of Noah, respectfully bowing his head and guiding him into the company.

As the group marched into the office, everyone was even more trembling.

The two receptionists, seeing Noah enter, were instantly struck by the beauty storm and were speechless.

Only in the way of Noah's authority, they began to force themselves and opened their mouths.

They forced down the excitement in their hearts and said in unison, "Hello, Chairman."

At this moment, the two girls could not wait to have their eyes glued directly to Noah's body.

How can there be such a perfect figure under the sky?

This was the first time they had seen Noah in person.

Looking at the photos before, they thought that Noah was so handsome that he was a man of God.

But in person, he is even more handsome than the photo.

Many people who had met Noah before had told them that he was not very photogenic.

Both of them don't find it very believable.

Because obviously the photo is already handsome.

"Some people don't even look in the mirror before they come out to seduce a man? Don't even look at her if she is better than his wife."

"That's right, how can they be compared to the noble peony? Delusional."

"Ah, girls these days are so out of their depth."

"You're too euphemistic, you should say, girls nowadays are so shameless, they can do anything to get to the top. Unfortunately, she flirted with the wrong people."

The management of those branches couldn't bear it and started to spit it out.

They are not even in fear.

And Evelyn felt even more ashamed at once.

She instantly drew a cold breath before running straight across the road and getting into her car.

Seeing Noah's motorcade, still within her sight, Evelyn drove straight on and followed.

Although, Noah was indifferent to her.

She would not give up so easily.

There are not many chances to meet a man like Noah.

She had to hold on to one of the few chances she had.

Inside the black Rolls Royce, the lights are on like daylight.

Noah glanced down at his wristwatch before saying to the driver, "Go to Grand Treasure Plaza."

The driver instantly nodded respectfully, "Yes."

Noah did not speak again, just closed his eyes.

The car is silent.

Noah didn't have any extra words to say.

Not to mention the lack of any extra glances.

Soon, the bodyguards gathered directly in front of Evelyn and forcefully lifted Evelyn up, directly out of Noah's line of sight.

Evelyn struggled, but to no avail.

The mall is packed with people.

There was not a single person that did not look at her.

The ridicule and sarcasm in those people's eyes was like a knife stabbed deep into Evelyn's heart.

Make Evelyn pain in the ass.

At this point, Evelyn really wanted to find a hole in the ground and never come out.

She was so good looking.

So flirtatious and enchanting.

If she takes the initiative, any man will take the bait. Why is Noah the exception to the rule?

At first, Evelyn thought that men didn't cheat, because there just wasn't enough temptation from the outside world.

She always felt that it was because none of the women who had seduced Noah had reached her own level.

But now, she finds that she is wrong.

Even a flirtatious woman like her still could not shake Noah's love for Jocelyn.

They are both women, why does Jocelyn get such a good man?

Once Evelyn had been carried away, Noah continued his stride and left the mall.

And then he got into his black Rolls-Royce.

Outside the car, the wind is blowing from the north and the snow is drifting.

Cold and biting.

Inside the car, however, it is as warm as summer.
