Chapter 951 I have my judgement

The more she looks at her precious daughter-in-law, the more heartbreaking it is.

This time, she must vent out her daughter-in-law's anger.

All, cheating scumbags deserve to die.

This includes Noah.

Even if it was her son, she would never have taken it lightly.

"Jocelyn, don't worry, everything he has is in your name anyway, when the time comes if you get a divorce, you can abuse this man as much as you want."

"You're going to let this person with nothing, take the kids and continue to live in peace and harmony, then I really won't have a problem with that at all."

"I'm sure that Noah's father, too, will have no problem with that."

Allie continued.

Jocelyn let out a long, helpless sigh before asking, "Mom, can I talk?"

It has been Allie who has been talking since she entered the door.

She simply couldn't interject a word.

Even if she wanted to explain yourself properly, she can't.

Allie nodded heavily, carefully pushed Jocelyn away, as if caring for the seriously ill, looked at Jocelyn and asked, "Jocelyn, whatever you say, I will listen, whatever you want to do, it's okay."

Jocelyn said, "Mom, it's a big misunderstanding."

Jocelyn, "Mom, in fact, your suspicion does not need to be so heavy."

Allie gave her a blank stare, "It's always good for a woman to have a delicate mind, don't look at me as I'm usually big-hearted, I'm much more delicate than you."

"You should be careful." Allie said again, "You don't even know that a man is cheating on you, and you are still in the dark, treating this man as a good person and giving him your heart and soul, don't you think that's tragic?"

They are both women, and Allie really understands this feeling all too well.

Jocelyn felt her heart melt at this moment.

Her mother-in-law has really poured her heart out to her.

Who else would say that about their son?

Jocelyn smiled, "I know."

Allie, "If you know, you wouldn't believe what he says."

Jocelyn, "I didn't."

Allie helplessly shook her head, "Leave it to me, I will help you to ask Noah."

Allie, "Have you eaten yet?"

Jocelyn, "Yes."

"Have you had enough? Is there anything in particular you'd like to eat? I'll go and get it for you." Allie asked as she naturally put her arm around Jocelyn's shoulders.

This good daughter-in-law of her is really pleasing.

As for Noah, whether he can have this blessing to properly follow this girl for the rest of his life, that's not known.

Jocelyn nodded, "Well, I'm full, what are you drinking, Mum? I'll have someone bring it to you."

At this moment, Allie was not in mind to drink anything.

Allie said, "No need. You go to work, I'll play by myself for a while."

Jocelyn nodded, and then returned to the front of her desk.

Jocelyn is simple, but she, Allie, cannot be too simple.

For the sake of Jocelyn and for the sake of the children in Jocelyn's belly.

Noah, "Yes, what am I lying to you for? And do you think that Jocelyn is that easy to be lied to?"

Allie, "Jocelyn is so innocent. Of course it's easy to be cheated. I'm telling you, it better be true, if it's not, I will give you a lesson. Our family only recognizes Jocelyn as a daughter-in-law."

Allie added, "If Jocelyn is there, you are there, if Jocelyn is not there, you die."

Noah didn't say anything more, he just silently handed the kraft paper bag in his hand to Allie.

Allie gave Noah a deep look and asked, "What is this?" ,

Noah, "You'll see,"

With a heart full of curiosity, Allie opened the kraft paper bag.

Contained inside is a document.

Allie once again gave Noah a deep look before she took out something and looked at it.

It was an adoption document.

It is the document of Noah, who adopted a girl named Sophie Sue.

The picture of the girl on it was the same girl she had just, just now, seen.

Not only that, but on it, there is an official stamp.

Not a lie, by the looks of it.

Seeing all this, Allie's hanging heart was only completely put down, "I'll trust you."

Noah, "Well, then you will, for the time being, believe me."

"Your character like this will reduce a lot of family conflicts."

Sophie complimented it without reservation.

These words, all of them, came from her heart.

Seeing Sophie's serious face, Allie was more at ease at this moment.

And at the same time, her taut expression, too, softened and she, too, became more and more relaxed.

Allie naturally held Sophie's hand and said, "Well, as long as you don't have feeling for your brother, then we're good friends, no, good mother and daughter."

Sophie smiled, "Well, don't worry, it won't happen."

It was her own brother, how could she have feeling for her brother?

Allie, "Have you eaten yet?"

Sophie shook her head, "No."

Allie, "Then I'll go cook. Do you like this pork ribs?"

Sophie nodded her head.

Allie, "Great, your sister-in-law likes to eat, then I go and cook. Your sister-in-law likes to eat shrimp, do you like it?"

Sophie nodded again.

Allie, "I'm going to make it too."

After saying that, Allie got up and went into the kitchen.

Looking at Allie's lithe and busy figure, Sophie's expression, too, softened even more.

Although she did not have much contact with Allie, she still liked this person very much.

Noah's simple words, on Weibo, caused an uproar.

The comments section below is bursting at the seams with comments -

And Noah forwarded it and responded, [It's my sister, once, adopted girl. don't write a novel]

And at the same time, many people found that some account talking about Jocelyn and Noah divorce disappeared.

It's a great pleasure.

Immediately afterwards, Noah posted another tweet, [Wife, love you. @Jocelyn.]

The comments section, once again, was in uproar -

[Ahhhhh. Mr. Mason is so sweet.]

[I told you, for a man like Mr. Mason, cheating is bound to be impossible.]

In the living room, Jocelyn soon saw what was tweeted.

After reading everything Noah had sent, the corners of Jocelyn's mouth curled up in a satisfied curve.

Turning on the hot search, everything was as she had expected.

Obviously, the clothes are too simple to be worn, but on him, they are incomparably noble.

The window next to him was half down, and the good-looking face, outside the car, was in full view.

In an instant, it attracted the attention of countless women.

Luxury cars, handsome men.

It's hard to think of anything less than appealing.

However the man, however, did not open his eyes the whole time.

Totally unaware of how, outside, people are watching him.

What's more, he has no idea what happened between Sophie and his female companion.

He carries himself with a sense of detachment.

It seems to be at odds with the world out of place.

The net faced beauty glanced coldly at the woeful Sophie.

And then she headed for the cafe location.

The way she acted made Sophie instantly furious.

Sophie frowned deeply and looked at the beauty and scolded her in a low voice, "Hey, not going to apologize?"

That woman smiled, but frowned slightly, and then from her pocket, took out the big black sunglasses and put them on, turned around, folded her hands in front of her chest, looked askance at Sophie and asked, "What?"

Her tone was cool and her manner arrogant.

This irritated Sophie.

Sophie frowned deeply again, "You splashed me."

"Why don't you slow down a bit, knowing that there are puddles ahead? Is this road run by your family?" The more Sophie said, the more she felt discontent.

The woman grunted, "It's not owned by my family, but it is owned by my boyfriend's family."

She was not half remorseful.

The corners of her mouth even curved in triumph as she said this.

And then he laughed, "That's not my girlfriend."

Sophie, "But she said she was going to let her boyfriend teach me a lesson, and wasn't she talking about you?"

The corners of Harry's mouth always had a shallow curve, and his gaze was unspeakably gentle, "That's what she thinks of herself."

Sophie blinked her big European eyes in confusion and asked, "So she's making a fool of herself?"

Harry looked at Sophie, deep in thought for a few seconds, "Some times, two people had sex, does not mean they are boyfriend and girlfriend."

Sophie nodded, and then rubbed her head and said, "In your modern terms, even you slept in one bed, it won't last?"

Sophie's words caused a smile to grow at the corners of Harry's mouth.

The man gave a smile, "Well. that's true, but what do you mean, we modern times? Are you an ancient?"

Sophie nodded.

But to avoid that he was scared or felt her like a nervous wreck, so she shook her head.

Nodding and shaking her head in a way that is both confusing and cute.

It made the corners of Harry's mouth curl up once again in a shallow arc, "What kind of reaction is that?"

Sophie, following the man's example, a serious deep thought for a few seconds, said, "Normal reaction."

Harry, "You are interesting, I did not expect Noah to actually adopt such a cute girl."

He had such a good relationship with Noah, he only heard about this on the news.

Sophie laughed.

At this time, the net-face woman was petrified.

But Harry didn't even give him a look.

Just silently locked the car door.

The woman failed to open the car door, but did not let go of her hand either.

Instead, she kept tapping on the car window, humbly begging for forgiveness, "Harry, I'm wrong. I really don't dare do it again, and haven't I already apologized?"

"Harry, I was wrong, really." the woman said again.

Harry is turning a deaf ear.

Straight away, he started the car coldly and left in a flash.

The woman instantly took a subconscious step back.

In the next second, the woman watched the car, like an arrow off the string, drive away.

The car is fast.

It was only a short while before it disappeared from her sight.

That's how rich people's love.

No matter how close he had been to her.

He can pull out as soon as he wants to leave.

The woman grunted.

Inside, it is almost surrounded by regret.

She really felt like she was going crazy.

"Why on earth did you go and mess with that girl, why?"

"Why do you look down on people? Why?"

The woman kept muttering to herself in remorse.

In the limousine, Sophie is relaxed and looking at the entertainment news on her phone.

Harry, "Don't you like Ryan? I have two of his concert tickets, do you want them? The time is at the end of this month."

Sophie nodded, "Sure, thank you, Brother Harry."

After saying that, Sophie walked up to Harry.

Harry added, "The tickets are not in this car, when I have time, I will personally give it to you again, let's add WeChat, so we can contact anytime"

Sophie nodded without even thinking about it.

And then, sharply, she handed the Facebook QR code to Harry.

After everything was over, Sophie locked the phone screen and looked at Harry and said, "Well. then, I'll go up first, Brother Harry, thank you."

Harry, "You're welcome."

Sophie then went straight, jubilantly, into the building.

Harry, standing in place, watched the girl leave and then went straight into his car.

Once in the car, he did not drive away immediately.

Instead, he lit a cigarette and took another puff.

There is an indescribable complexity under the eyes.

Only after a cigarette was smoked did Harry start the car before leaving.

Sophie turned off Weibo.

Totally lazy, against these guys.

In the evening, Jocelyn took Sophie and returned to the house.

At home, it's warm as spring.

As soon as she entered the house, Jocelyn was mysterious, took Sophie's hand and said, "Sophie, in a moment, I'll give you a surprise."

Sophie's eyes were full of curiosity, "What's the surprise?"

Jocelyn smiled, but didn't answer at all.

Such a reaction tickled Sophie's mind.

Jocelyn, however, only smiled before pulling Sophie to the front of the sofa and sitting down.

"What's to drink?"

"Sister-in-law, you tell me first."

"Wait, you'll see, say what to drink?"

"Orange Juice."

Jocelyn got up, "I'll go and make you. Take a seat if you're curious."

Sophie, helplessly rubbing her head, became more and more itchy.

But nevertheless, she nodded obediently, "Okay."

Then Jocelyn stepped straight into the kitchen.
