Chapter 441 A Partner "Don't be so hypocritical."

Patricia tried to kick Kailyn a few times but failed. She was even more flustered and chased after Kailyn.

Kailyn pretended to be frightened and led Patricia to the stairs. There was no one here. Kailyn clenched her fist and punched Patricia in the belly.

Patricia was on her period, so this punch made her squat down in pain, and she could not speak.

Kailyn grabbed Patricia's hair and sneered, "You are still so stupid. You are still too young to fight with me."

"Let go..." Patricia looked angry, but she could not break free.

"Do you know why I hate you more between you and Paige? Because you are stupid. And you can do nothing. You have a bad temper. Grandma came around. Do you think that she will protect you?"

Kailyn grabbed Patricia's hair and said, "Grandma is a traditional woman. She values blood relationships more than anyone else, and she has such an excellent granddaughter. If you want to compete with Paige, don't."

Patricia saw that Kailyn did not let go, so she pinched Kailyn's thigh.

"Ouch..." Kailyn released her hand in pain, but she was unwilling to give up and kicked Patricia's butt.

Patricia fell to the ground and gnashed her teeth in anger. "Kailyn, you have provoked me time and time again. Do you think I am easy to bully?"

"Yes, in this family, is there anyone more stupid and easier to bully than you? I feel good to see your flustered and exasperated look."

"You..." Patricia clenched her fists. She wanted to go forward and beat Kailyn up.

"You have to think about it. Are you strong enough to beat me? Don't make yourself in trouble..." Kailyn was still mocking Patricia. "Go back and look at your ugly appearance. You are not worthy of Martin. You are disgusting."

When Kailyn was about to leave the stairs, she shouted exaggeratedly and acted like she was kicked from the stairs by Patricia.

She covered her belly and said pitifully, "Patricia, no matter how you treat me, you are still my cousin. I will forgive you..."

Chapter 442 Two Experts

Half an hour later...

When Paige returned to Larsen Villa, she suddenly received a call.

"Boss, someone from the National Cybersecurity Center in America wants to invite you over."

"What's the matter?"

"It is said that a hacker team attacked our country's tactical system and energy system for three days in a row. They tried to steal the relevant information. The people in the National Cybersecurity Center resisted day and night, but they could not stop their attack. Four of the five-layer firewalls have been broken through..."

When Paige heard this, several questions appeared in her mind.

She thought, why couldn't the hundreds of computer experts in the National Cybersecurity Center stop the hackers' attack?

Are the hackers so strong?

"They hope that you will go over now. They said that there is a special car to pick you up to go to the National Cybersecurity Center. I am afraid of exposing your identity, so I ask them to go to the church in the suburbs to pick you up," a subordinate reported on the phone.

"Okay."

This time, Paige did not ask how much the honoraria was because personal interests were not worth mentioning in front of national affairs.

After a while...

Paige came to the National Cybersecurity Center building under the escort of a special car. This was the first time she came to such a place.

When the director of the National Cybersecurity Center heard that she came, he hurriedly went forward to greet her, 'Lord Pierce, here you are at last. Now the last layer of the firewall is almost out of control. Please come with me..."

In the hall, hundreds of security personnel were sitting in front of the computer, desperately trying to stop the hackers' attack.

There was a huge electronic screen that could see the progress in realtime.

The sound of knocking the keyboards was echoing in the air.

Paige was speechless.

"Lord Pierce, this is your computer. Thank you." The director arranged a seat for Paige and went back to the office to invite another person.

However, Paige did not know Lord Monty. When she heard his voice, her eyes were filled with doubt.

Lord Monty said, "The firewall you built may not be able to block the next attack. I want to have a try."

What was that?

Was Lord Monty trying to break through the new firewall that Lord Pierce just built?

Were these two big masters going against each other?

The center director was stunned when he heard this. What was going on? Should he stop them? What if they broke through? What if the enemy invaded again?

"Don't worry. If I breach it. I'll build a new one for you." Lord Monty's tone was relaxed as if these firewalls were a piece of cake to him.

"You can't break it," Paige said directly.

"So confident? Why don't we make a bet?"

Lord Monty had found a seat and sat down. He leaned back casually and put his slender fingers on the keyboard. "How about it? Do you dare?"

Paige thought that he was not helping. "It's not about whether I dare or not. It's just that you can't win."

Lord Monty laughed evilly. It was the first time he had seen such an arrogant girl. "Do you know who I am?"

There was no firewall that Lord Monty, who was known as the top hacker, could not break.

Paige didn't know who Lord Monty was and was not interested in knowing.

The smile on Lord Monty's lips deepened.

Lord Monty's slender fingers entered a series of codes on the keyboard, and the system soon issued a prompt.

"The firewall is being attacked."

Many people's hearts jumped to their throats.

Now that Lord Monty made a move, how many seconds Lord Pierce's firewall could hold on for?

Chapter 444 Lamont Is Back

An hour passed.

"Mr. and Mrs. Lusk, Mr. Lamont is back," a servant said excitedly.

"This brat is finally willing to come back." Danica got up from the sofa and was about to settle scores with Lamont.

"No wonder I could see smoke coming out of the house from afar." Lamont changed into a pair of shoes and walked in casually. "So it was my mother who was so angry that she was fuming."

"You brat!" As soon as Danica saw Lamont, she could not help but go forward and beat him a few times. "Finally willing to come back? Your sister has been back for several months. As a brother, don't you know to come back and care for her?"

"Hernan is so busy, but he is back. Nathan also rushed home after carrying out the secret mission. And Jack has been keeping Paige company for many days. You and Sebastian are the only ones who are unreachable. You don't reply to the messages, you don't answer the calls, and you deal with those dead people all day long."

"Mom, that is my job."

"What work? Hurry up and go upstairs to take a bath. Don't let Paige smell you!" Danica saw Lamont walk upstairs, and could not help but ask doubtfully, "Wait, why are you empty-handed? Where is the gift for your sister?"

Lamont was stepping on the steps when he heard this and asked a little innocently, "Isn't my return home the best gift for Paige?"

"You brat..." Danica couldn't help but go forward and beat Lamont a few times. "Who cares about you? Girls want perfume, jewelry, and clothes. If not, it's fine to buy a doll. She can't eat, play, or wear you..."

Lamont said seriously, "I can be a decoration. A doll is not even as good as me. I can move. Paige can tell me to do whatever posture she wants.

Besides, how can a doll be as good-looking as me?"

Looking at her son's handsome face, Danica covered her chest and said, "You are unbearable..."

Seeing that Danica was angry, Lamont took out a small box and handed it over, smiling fawningly. "I didn't forget anyone. This is for you."

"Really?" Danica was skeptical, but half of her anger was gone.

"Paige's gift is still in the car. If you don't believe me, go take a look."

"At least you have a conscience!" Danica opened the small box and saw a dazzling gem inside.

Amily was speechless.

Yes, if it were me, I wouldn't have left such a threat behind to fight for love and cause trouble for myself...

Lamont continued, "Patricia is wearing the latest clothes of this month. She is also wearing new jewelry for this month. This shows that, at least on the surface, this family does not owe her."

"Mr. Lamont, you are right..."

"In terms of emotions, I often hear my parents mention Patricia. Patricia received an award. Patricia got into the University of Chicago. They wanted to take Patricia out for dinner. They had to go to Patricia's school to see her. It doesn't seem to me that others are cold to her."

Amily had already lowered her head and did not dare to speak...

"The biological child is back. It is impossible to leave the biological child to the side and be good only to Patricia as before, and it is unfair to the biological child.

"Mom and Dad can give a hundred percent of love. Even if they gave Paige sixty percent and Patricia only forty percent, you have to understand it because for the first eighteen years, Paige did not get a single percent of love and that hundred percent of love was given to Patricia.

"As the closest person to Patricia, you should enlighten her and make her learn to be grateful, and not have such a big prejudice against Paige. Your every word and action will subtly affect Patricia."

Amily was ashamed. Mr. Lamont, you are right."

"I'm not teaching you a lesson. I'm just stating the fact to you. I can tell that you don't like Paige. It seems that Paige is not living a smooth life in this family. At least you have caused her trouble."

"Mr. Lamont..." Emily was a little flustered.

"Paige could have fired you with her current identity, but she didn't. Learn to be grateful. You can stand here and speak ill of her because she gave you the chance. Otherwise, you would have left long ago."

Chapter 446 Be Quiet

After a while, a domestic worker came over and said, "Mr. Lamont, Ms.

Patricia, dinner is ready."

"Let's go eat."

Lamont and Patricia talked and laughed, walking back side by side.

Amily looked at them from afar, and a dark look flashed in her eyes.

For some reason, every time she saw Patricia and the Lusk family getting closer, her heart felt like it had a thorn growing in it.

At the dining table.

When Danica saw them, she immediately scolded, "Lamont, where did you go? Paige has been waiting here for you for a long time."

Lamont glanced at the girl in the seat and thought he was seeing things.

The girl's appearance, temperament, figure... Why did she look so much like Lord Pierce, who he had met at the National Cybersecurity Center today?

"This is your sister, Paige. She's a student of the University of Illinois in Chicago."

Looking at the girl's beautiful face and the faint smile on her lips, Lamont felt petrified.

"Paige, this is your third brother Lamont. He deals with corpses. He is a coroner."

A coroner?

Isn't he Lord Monty, the number one hacker in America?

"Nice to meet you, Lamont." Paige smiled, and her voice was as refreshing as spring water.

Lamont found that this girl not only looked exactly the same as Lord Pierce, but even her voice was the same. He was sure she was the girl he had met at the National Cybersecurity Center!

"Your sister is greeting you!" Seeing that Lamont did not respond, Danica reached out to hit him and whispered, "Lamont, are you listening?"

After Alice left, Lamont said to Paige, "Ignore her. If you don't want to see her. I'll fire her."

Amily was stunned. She didn't expect Lamont to be so protective of Paige as soon as he returned home...

Then how would Patricia feel?

Patricia was also a little confused. When Alice praised her just now, it hadn't occurred to her that this kind of praise would hurt Paige...

But Lamont's words frustrated her as if only Paige's feelings mattered.

Was Patricia not worthy of being praised?

Paige looked at Lamont. She did not expect that the sloppy Lamont would actually see through Alice's thoughts and directly point them out.

It seemed that Lamont was perceptive.

"All of you, listen up."

The domestic workers standing around him immediately perked up and listened attentively.

"The two young ladies of this family must be treated equally. If any of you flatters one and slights the other or sows discord between them, it won't be as simple as getting fired, understand?"

"Yes, Mr. Lamont." The domestic workers bowed in unison, not daring to disobey Lamont.

"All of you may leave." After they left, Lamont said to Paige, "I can finally have some quiet. Let's enjoy our meal."

He picked up some food first for Paige and then for Patricia. "You did very well just now. When I criticized Alice, it wasn't because I was mad at you."

Paige was Lord Pierce, a top hacker who paid 8 million dollars for each job. Wouldn't the pocket money

His phone vibrated. His brothers were texting him.
"Did you see Paige?"

"She's very cute, right?"

"Paige is timid. You must take the initiative to talk to her and let her feel your enthusiasm."

"Be nice when talking to her and be a gentleman."

"Paige doesn't like physical contact. Don't pat her head or put your hand on her shoulder."

"No matter what happens, Paige's feelings are the priority."

Lamont replied with his slender fingers: "Do I need you to tell me that?"

He put away his phone and was about to go downstairs when Bonnie rushed upstairs.

"Ms. Paige, Mr. Lusk came to. Will you go to the hospital to see him? Ms. Paige, are you up?"

Bonnie knocked on Paige's door and did not notice Lamont beside her.

Paige opened the door and saw that Lamont had not left. She called him sweetly and then looked at Bonnie. "Grandpa came around?"

Bonnie finally noticed Lamont. "Yes, the hospital called and said that he just came around."

"Lamont, do you want to visit Grandpa with me?" Paige turned to Lamont.

This was the first time Lamont was invited by Paige. His gaze softened. "Okay, let's go together."

Skylar was famous in the medical field, though common people might not know her. Therefore, Lamont, as a forensic doctor, had heard her name.

Lamont thought, in the rumors, Skylar is an old man. It now turns out to be my beautiful sister...

Those people who try to find Skylar with the wrong information about gender and age may never realize their mistakes...

I knew the situation of my grandparents. Their cases were tricky because they had several fractures and many complications...

Taking the medicine couldn't solve their problems.

The entire ICU team felt helpless back then, so it did take me by surprise that Paige could cure our grandparents so soon.

Paige is more outstanding than me as a hacker. Now her medical skills are more excellent than mine...

How embarrassing...

"Take the medicine." Paige helped her grandfather drink the prepared potion.

The potion tasted awful, so Jason frowned. "It tastes bad..."

"It will help you recover." Paige helped Jason drink up the potion. "If you want to recover as soon as possible, take the potion three times a day."

Paige shared a bit of the aloof and proud vibe as other doctors, so Jason, scared, became obedient...

"Paige, can't you give me something sweet?" Jason pleaded.

"This is the sweetest."

Paige didn't use a more effective prescription for fear that Jason would die right on the spot after drinking those potions.

Chapter 450 The Center of Everyone's Attention

Paige wrote a few poems for him, each taking one page. Jason was so thrilled that he couldn't bear to put the papers down. He read them over and over again.

"I want some, too!" Affected by Jason, Elena appreciated Perl's handwriting as well.

Paige wrote a few more pages for Elena.

The papers were nothing fancy. They were just some ordinary A4 papers from the doctor. However, they looked extremely precious with Perl's handwriting on them.

"Paige, your handwriting is so beautiful," Elena praised as she admired Paige's handwriting.

"Doesn't she look beautiful?"

As soon as Lamont said so, Elena patted him. "Stop teasing. Of course, Paige looks beautiful. Only those blind fail to see how pretty she is."

"Paige, draw something for me. Anything!" Jason loved Penrose's drawings so much. He took some of the blank papers and wanted her to draw something.

"A single drawing of Paige is worth a lot. How can she draw something so casually?" Donald didn't want Paige to be exhausted. "She'll bring you her work when she goes to visit you after you're discharged from the hospital."

"A little something for now..." Holding the papers in his hand, Jason looked at Paige expectantly.

"Give Paige a break, OK? It's so late now." Donald looked at the time. It was almost one o'clock in the morning. "Enough for now. Go and get some rest. We'll visit you another time."

"You don't have to be here. Paige can represent you."

It never occurred to Donald that Jason would say so. After all, he was Jason's son!

Paige took the papers, waved the pencil a few times casually, and drew a majestic sketch.

Jason didn't expect her to be so good at drawing. It only took her a few minutes to finish a drawing. He kept praising, "Awesome! It looks great. I will frame it later."
