

First Love 12

Chapter 12 I Still Quit

Li Zhen's words "I like him" made Director Zhong feel as uncomfortable as if a bucket of cold water was poured on him in the dead of winter.

If he still doesn't give up, I don't believe that a rich bachelor like me can't be better than a young boy.

At this time, a new plan was brewing in his mind. He wanted to find Wang Kun first and start with him.

"The chairman wants you to go to the manager's office." The office secretary suddenly came to Wang Kun's workplace and called him to the office.

When Wang Kun heard that it was the chairman calling him, he did not dare to delay and ran over immediately.

"You're going to be promoted, and the chairman must be looking for you again for something good. Don't forget us when the time comes." When Wang Kun's colleagues saw Wang Kun being called by the chairman, they all speculated that he might be promoted.

"This kid is so lucky, he has such good luck to meet a noble person at such a young age."

"No matter where I am, I will never forget your kindness to me." But Wang Kun never expected that not only was there no promotion, but a difficult problem that made him difficult to choose was waiting for him.

"Chairman" Mr. Zhong sat on the desk, but his aura made him powerful. Wang Kun called him in a low voice and looked at the chairman with a smile.

Only then did Director Zhong look at Wang Kun carefully. Wang Kun had changed a lot since he came to Director Zhong's company.

Maybe it was because he was growing at the age of 18-9, Wang Kun had grown a lot taller in a few months and looked like he weighed 1.8 tons.

Fair skin, square face, a pair of sharp eyebrows, a pair of sharp eyes,

"Now that you're here, please sit down." Director Zhong looked at Wang Kun and motioned for Wang Kun to sit opposite him.

"No, Chairman, I still have a lot of work to do, so I'll just stand here." Wang Kun was a little flattered and happy.

"It's okay, just sit down. It won't take up much of your time." Director Zhong gestured for him to sit opposite him, then looked at Wang Kun with a smile.

Although Wang Kun was a little scared, when he saw the chairman smiling at him, his uneasy heart was slightly settled. But he was still secretly happy and excited in his heart. Maybe it was because he had performed better recently, and the chairman would give him a good job.

During this period, Wang Kun and Li Zhen encouraged each other and decided to work hard and achieve good results so that their boss could promote them.

Thanks to the power of love, Wang Kun felt that he was full of strength during this period of time, especially since he was almost done with the self-study exam under the guidance of Lizhen, and he was about to become a well-educated college student with a diploma. He looked forward to a bright future.

"I heard that you have performed exceptionally well recently. Keep up the hard work, young man," the chairman said while looking at Wang Kun with a smile.

"I was just doing my job there. No matter how hard I try, I can never repay the chairman for his kindness in giving me a new life." Wang Kun was very excited when he said this.

"Well, people should know how to be grateful, and they will definitely have a bright future." The chairman nodded with a smile.

"Without the chairman, there would be no Wang Kun today. I, Wang Kun, will never forget the chairman's kindness and kindness."

"I heard that you are in love." The chairman stared at Wang Kun, suddenly changed the subject, said this, and then looked at Wang Kun with his sharp eyes.

"The chairman knows everything." Wang Kun's face immediately turned red when he heard that Chairman Zhong knew that he was in love.

"Young people should focus on their careers. You just graduated and don't know anything." The chairman wanted to ask more, but he held back. He wanted to ask his men to talk about Wang Kun, as he felt it would be inappropriate to say it out loud and it would be beneath his status.

"Thank you, Chairman, for your concern." Wang Kun was particularly moved when he heard these words. In his imagination, the Chairman was educating him as an elder. He should now focus on his work and career, and falling in love would distract him.

"Okay, go to work and do your job well." The chairman thought that this young man posed no threat to him and he would not dare to make things difficult for him if he made the slightest move.

"Okay." Wang Kun finally breathed a sigh of relief, but he couldn't calm down in his heart. Did the chairman just ask such a simple question?

"How is it? Any good news?" When Wang Kun walked out of the chairman's office, several curious colleagues immediately surrounded him and asked Wang Kun.

"Nothing." Wang Kun couldn't explain the reason.

"Hmph, keep it a secret." Wang Kun didn't pay much attention to them. He just shook his head and left.

Wang Kun ignored it and went to work. However, when he just got to work the next day, the office manager came to talk to him.

The office director is a short man with a long face, small triangular eyes, and speaks in a sarcastic tone. He is full of bad intentions and is usually jealous of Chairman Wang Kun for taking such good care of Wang Kun.

"Hello, Director. Do you have something to talk to me about?" Wang Kun didn't like talking to him very much, but he had no way to work under him, so he had to condescend to talk to him.

The director raised his small triangular eyes and rolled around Wang Kun's body for a long time, then raised his small triangular eyes.

He took a look at Wang Kun and couldn't help but gasp. This kid looks like a decent man. He has good looks and a tall stature. He is fair-skinned, well-mannered, and has a pair of sharp eyes. You can tell at first glance that he is a rare talent. No wonder Secretary He is so optimistic about him. If I were a woman, I would be moved too.

"Haha, kid, I didn't realize you're really good. You've become quite capable and popular with women."

That day, when the chairman told the director that Wang Kun was in love with Li Zhen, and Li Zhen was the woman the chairman liked, this military strategist, who had a lot of tricks up his sleeve, immediately suggested that the chairman kick Wang Kun out of the company.

But the chairman disagreed with him doing this, because Wang Kun was the person rescued by the chairman, and the chairman was a man with a real sense of justice. He disagreed with the director's approach and wanted Wang Kun to continue working in the company as long as he left Lizhen.

"Boy, I heard that you are in love, right?" He rolled his little triangular eyes and looked at Wang Kun's reaction.

"We're not in a relationship yet, we're just good friends who hang out together often." Wang Kun wanted to hide it and was too embarrassed to say it out loud.

"You are a liar. I have already investigated and found out that you are in love with the chairman's secretary." The director was a little angry. He thought that Wang Kun would immediately admit his relationship with Li Zhen.

"Director, I don't even have a stable job right now, how can I have the money to fall in love? Which girl would be interested in a poor boy like me?" In order to make him believe, Wang Kun made up a lot of reasons to defend himself.

"Go ahead and make it up, kid. You won't give up until you cross the Yellow River, right? You think we don't know that you are together, right? To tell you the truth, the girlfriend you are dating now is the woman the chairman likes. You are courting trouble. You are working in the chairman's company now, and the sky is his here, kid," the director said excitedly.

He gestured with his hands, pointing at the sky and then at the ground, jumping up and down like a clown performing a shaman dance. Wang Kun found it funny, but now Wang Kun couldn't laugh.

Because he heard that Lizhen was the chairman's favorite woman, he was not only shocked but also very sad.

The chairman is my savior, I should help him and I should not compete with him for the woman.

Besides, how can I still have the nerve to work here if I do this? But now I am unfamiliar with the place, how can I find a job?

What makes him even more heartbroken is that he has fallen in love with Lizhen. Why is his life so miserable? The director even said that I have a bad luck with women, but the women I like are not destined to be with him. Why, why?

"Boy, are you listening to me? Fortunately, the chairman is kind and compassionate. If it were someone else, he would have kicked you out long ago. It's hard for him to ask me to help him lobby."

"The chairman knows about it." When Wang Kun heard that the chairman knew that he and Li Zhen were in love, he became even more nervous.

Yes, the chairman is a good person. If it were someone else, he would have been kicked out long ago.

One is my savior and the other is my beloved woman. What should I do?

"Do you think the chairman is just here to earn a living? How can he run such a big company? Can a small trick like yours escape the chairman's eyes? Can you still hide it from him? He already knew it a long time ago."

The chairman is indeed a good man. He didn't even tell me about this in the office yesterday. He still cares about my face. What's wrong with me? What else can I say when the chairman treats me like this?

This is good. Lizhen can marry a rich and good man, which is better than marrying me, a poor boy with nothing.

I should congratulate Lizhen on marrying a rich and good man.

"Okay, Director, I promise you that I will leave her and help the Chairman." Thinking of this, Wang Kun told the director very sincerely.

"Yes, boy, a man who knows business is a hero. Besides, you are a poor boy now. How can you compare with the chairman? Women will definitely leave you for your money." He stood up from the chair happily, walked in front of Wang Kun, patted Wang Kun's shoulder and laughed.

The director smiled happily and completed the task assigned to me by the chairman.

Wang Kun was still thinking, would Li Zhen know? Would she agree to our separation?
