

First Love 128

Chapter 128 Old Classmates

In the evening, Lizhen's daughter had been transferred to the general ward, but the baby still needed to be hospitalized for observation, so Lizhen stayed to take care of her daughter.

Because they are old classmates, Xiao Meng is particularly enthusiastic towards Lizhen. Not only did she arrange the ward herself, she also gave the baby injections and fed the baby medicines herself. The baby's fever soon subsided, and Hongliang and Lizhen finally breathed a sigh of relief.

In order to thank Xiaomeng, Hongliang decided to invite Xiaomeng to dinner. Lizhen had to stay to look after her daughter, so Hongliang had to take Xiaomeng to dinner.

When Xiao Meng saw that Lizhen was not going, she couldn't help but be overjoyed. Isn't this an opportunity arranged by God for me and Hongliang to be alone?

"I'm going to change out of my work clothes." Xiao Meng left immediately to change clothes. When he came to the cloakroom, Xiao Meng was very excited. Today he was going to have dinner with his dream lover whom he missed day and night.

She picked out the clothes she had here and regretted not having more nice clothes to wear when going out. She had no choice but to make do with what she had.

After a while, Xiao Meng was wearing a red dress with white floral patterns and a black cardigan. Since Xiao Meng had fair skin, the black sweater made her look fair and elegant. Her straight and white legs and a pair of black high-heeled leather shoes made her look very tall.

Seeing Xiao Meng at this time, Hongliang suddenly felt his eyes brighten and his heart burst into ecstasy.

"Beauty, please get in the car." Seeing Xiao Meng coming to the front of the car, Hongliang very gentlemanly opened the door for Xiao Meng personally.

Xiao Meng looked at such a beautiful luxury car and couldn't help feeling ecstatic. She felt like her heart was about to jump out. Not only did she meet the lover she had dreamed of seeing for several years tonight, but she also had the honor of having dinner with him and he personally opened the door for her to get into his luxury car. How could I be so lucky today? Thinking of this, Xiao Meng blushed uncomfortably.

Along the way, Xiao Meng was very excited, but she pretended to be calm on the surface. She was cautious in everything, for she was afraid that her words and actions would upset Hong Liang and make him unhappy. She didn't dare to look at him directly. She could only glance at Hong Liang secretly with her left eye to see how he said and did. This might be what people often call love brain, because the IQ of men and women in love is zero.

But Hongliang had no thoughts or interests about Xiaomeng. He just wanted to thank Xiaomeng for her warm care and help. However, when he saw Xiaomeng's new outfit just now, he felt like he had discovered a new world. It turned out that he had not realized that Xiaomeng had changed so much. Compared with before, he was really a world apart. He was just a little excited at that time.

After a while, the car stopped in front of a very beautiful hotel.

"We're here, please get out of the car." At this time, a waiter dressed in hotel uniform made a very standard invitation gesture and enthusiastically opened the car door for Xiao Meng. Xiao Meng felt very happy. She thought that rich people are different and treat people differently. She really enjoyed the treatment of rich people today.

As soon as they entered the hotel, the waiter led them to a place near a glass window. The view from this location was particularly good, and they could see the panoramic view of the entire street while sitting there.

Hongliang came to Xiaomeng and pulled out a chair for her. Xiaomeng looked at Hongliang and immediately sat down slowly. Xiaomeng thought that people who had been abroad were different, especially well-educated and gentlemanly. Today, let her experience the life of rich people.

At this moment, she remembered the last time her grandmother asked her to go on a blind date. The man who came for the blind date was a young man, but he looked very experienced, with a fat head, big ears and a square face. He was so young but had a double chin. According to the older generation, he looked particularly blessed.

He was wearing a beige suit, a white shirt underneath, a dark red belt, shiny brown leather shoes, and his hair was combed into a shiny oily shape. He looked like a playboy from a wealthy family. Judging from his clothes, you could tell that he was a nouveau riche from a wealthy family.

When Xiao Meng arrived at the meeting place, the man did not greet her first, but just sat there without getting up, looked Xiao Meng up from head to toe, and then asked Xiao Meng bluntly, "Are you the person who came to have a blind date with me?"

When Xiao Meng saw this guy sitting on the stool so rudely and not getting up, without even saying hello, and with a greasy hair and powdered face, she felt very disgusted and disgusted, but she was afraid that her mother would blame her for not having a good blind date.

"Yeah." Xiao Meng was unhappy. She answered his question with a particularly stiff attitude.

"Where do you work?" The guy stood up slowly, staring at Xiao Meng with lustful eyes.

"Working as a nurse in a hospital" Xiao Meng felt uncomfortable when she saw his lustful eyes looking at her. She wanted to find a way to end this ridiculous blind date.

"Hey, being a nurse is too hard. After you marry me, you don't have to go to work. You can be a rich wife at home. My family has plenty of money and I will support you."

When Xiao Meng was thinking about how to leave, her friend called her. Xiao Meng said that the hospital had something to ask her, so she left in a hurry.

In comparison, Hongliang in front of him is not only handsome and rich, but also very cultured and well-mannered.

At this time, Hongliang handed over the menu with both hands and said, "Take a look at what you like and order whatever you like."

Xiao Meng was flattered and took the menu. "Please order. You are so polite."

"I don't know what you like to eat, and I'm afraid the dishes I order won't suit your taste," Hongliang explained the reason very politely.

"No, I like whatever you order," Xiao Meng answered Hongliang shyly.

"Just take a look at it," Hongliang insisted.

Seeing that she couldn't refuse, Xiao Meng had to give it a try. When she opened the menu, she was surprised and opened her mouth wide. Especially when she saw that the lowest price on the menu would cost half a month's salary, she had to hand the menu back to Hongliang.

"What's wrong? Is there none of your favorite dishes?" Hongliang felt a little strange when he saw Xiaomeng handing the menu back.

"No, no, that's not it." When Xiao Meng saw that Hongliang misunderstood her, she immediately defended herself.

"Then..." Hongliang looked at Xiaomeng, as if to say, go ahead and talk about it, it's related.

"Yes, it's too expensive. I just looked at the menu, and the average price is almost half a month's salary for me." Xiao Meng had to look at Hongliang before he told him the whole story.

"Hey, I thought it was some other reason. It turns out you are worried about the price of food. It doesn't matter. The cost of this home-cooked meal is not enough to make me go bankrupt. I can still afford it," Hongliang said and laughed.

Xiao Meng got a little scared when she heard Hongliang's laughter. Hongliang was laughing at me for being petty and unworldly. No, it was too embarrassing. Xiao Meng's face immediately turned red to her ears.

"Haha, please don't misunderstand me. I'm laughing at you for being too frugal. Whoever marries you in the future will definitely make a fortune." When Hongliang saw Xiaomeng being shy, he immediately understood that he had said the wrong thing and caused others to misunderstand him.

When Xiao Meng heard Hongliang talking about who would marry her, her face turned even redder. He thought, "I just want you to marry me, but you can't say it, and it's hard for me to say it either."

Hongliang raised his hand and made a gesture, and the waiter immediately came to them and said, "Sir, do you want to order?"

Hongliang took the menu, quickly scanned it and called the waiter. The waiter took the menu and left quickly. After a while, he came over with the bill. "Sir, the total is 5080."

"More than 5000." Xiao Meng opened her mouth wide when she heard that. Then she suddenly thought of something and immediately closed her mouth without saying anything.

Hongliang immediately handed over the card, and the waiter swiped the card and left.

"Wait a moment, sir"

"How do you get to work in a hospital when you study finance?" Only then did Hongliang and the others have time to chat.

"It's a long story." At this time, Xiao Meng looked into the distance, her lips tightly closed, her eyes lowered, and she slowly talked about the unforgettable past...
