

First Love 129

Chapter 129 I Already Have a Wife

"I'm sorry, old classmate. If you find it difficult to talk about what you feel, just don't say it." Hongliang saw that Xiaomeng's lips were tightly closed and it seemed that he found it difficult to speak, so he apologized immediately.

"No, it's not that I can't tell you, I just feel sad when I think about that experience of mine." Xiao Meng suddenly raised her stubborn head, and in her eyes Fan Hong and Hong Liang started talking about the past.

"I had just graduated at that time." It turned out that Xiao Meng had a happy and blessed family. Because she was an only child, her parents treated her like a jewel in their palms. They were afraid that she would melt if they held her in their mouths, and afraid that she would break if they held her in their hands.

Xiao Meng graduated and was looking for a job at that time. Her parents finally breathed a sigh of relief. The whole family was looking forward to the future when a sudden car accident changed her life.

That year, when her parents went back to their hometown to visit her grandmother, they had a car accident on the way home. After the accident, the ambulance was delayed, which delayed the best time for rescue. Both her parents left her in the car accident. From then on, Xiao Meng vowed to become a doctor.

In order to become a doctor, she later went to study nursing. She thought she should start from the lowest level as a nurse. With her efforts, she was finally admitted to the hospital as she wished and became a nurse. While working as a nurse, she worked during the day and reviewed at night. Her hard work paid off and she was admitted as a pediatric attending physician with excellent results.

For several years, Xiao Meng was busy with studies and delayed her marriage.

After hearing Xiao Meng's story, Hongliang couldn't help but admire this strong girl.

"I never thought that you had such a miserable life in the past few years. If your parents knew about this, they would definitely be proud to have a daughter like you."

"But in order to pursue this dream in the past few years, I have delayed my own important events, such as my lifelong event. Maybe our parents would blame me if they knew about this." Xiao Meng's eyes were a little moist when he said this.

"No, you are such a good girl, there must be a good man who understands you waiting for you." Hongliang felt very sympathetic when he saw that Xiaomeng was a little sad.

"But who can understand our thoughts?" She said while looking at Hongliang. Xiao Meng thought to herself, I have been waiting for a man like you, but you don't understand, and I am too embarrassed to say it out loud. It's really frustrating.

"Sir, could you please serve the food?" At this time, the hotel waiter came with a dining cart pushing the dishes.

"Yeah" Hongliang nodded at him immediately.

Alas, Xiao Meng couldn't help but hate this unromantic waiter. You didn't come earlier or later, but just when we were about to say it out. It's such a bummer.

The waiter announced the name of the dish as he served it; "This is imported foie gras that has just been airlifted in from abroad." A few lumps of golden foie gras were placed on a very exquisite white plate, and some colorful seasonings were mixed on top. Waves of aroma wafted into the air, tempting the taste buds without reservation.

"Hairy crabs, air-shipped from abroad." A bright red hairy crab as big as a plate was placed on the table.

"This is bullfrog." It is golden in color and paired with bright red peppers, which stimulates people's taste buds.

Seeing the plates of colorful dishes being served up was an eye-opener for Xiao Meng. She wondered if her persistence over the past few years was right. She now began to doubt her life.

"Please pour us some wine." Hongliang made a gesture, and the waiter immediately understood and poured wine for each of them.

"Please." Xiao Meng wanted to say that he couldn't drink, but then he changed his mind and decided to drink a little. As the saying goes, alcohol can give you courage. Let's see if there can be any new progress after drinking.

After a few drinks, Xiao Meng, who seldom drinks, immediately became drunk and spoke incoherently. But Xiao Meng was drunk but her mind was clear. She thought, it's better for me not to pretend to be drunk and say everything I want to say. As the saying goes, alcohol can give courage, so I'll just say it anyway.

Xiao Meng, who was drunk, suddenly grabbed Hong Liang's hand, which scared Hong Liang and made him look at Xiao Meng in shock.

"What's wrong with you"

"Hongliang, I love you. I have liked you for a long time. Do you know how envious I was when I saw you and Lizhen going on a date at school? But at that time, I was not as pretty as Lizhen, and the school was not as good as Lizhen. I could only envy you and watch you from afar." Xiao Meng's eyes turned red when she said this, but she had to continue pretending. She also secretly glanced at Hongliang's reaction out of the corner of her eye.

At first Hongliang was shocked to hear Xiaomeng's sudden confession, but when he saw Xiaomeng was drunk, he thought he was talking nonsense. However, he thought that people usually think clearly when they are drunk, and Xiaomeng thought the same thing in his heart, but he said it out loud when he was drunk.

"Old classmate, you may have misunderstood. I invited you to dinner because you helped us so enthusiastically. I should thank you. I have no other intentions." At this time, Xiao Meng suddenly seemed to not be drunk. He sobered up and looked at Hongliang infatuatedly.

"Besides, I'm already married." Hongliang immediately took out a leather armor from his suit pocket, opened it and handed it to Xiaomeng.

"This is a photo of my wife Tingting"

"Are you serious?" Xiao Meng looked very sober at this time.

At this time, Hongliang's phone rang. "Excuse me, I'll go answer the phone."

"Hmm." At this time, Xiao Meng's face turned red and she wished she could dig a hole and crawl into it. She had no choice but to take advantage of Hongliang's phone call, pick up her bag and left without looking back.

"Hey, wait a minute, I'll take you home." When Hongliang saw Xiaomeng leaving, he quickly put down his phone and chased after him.

Xiao Meng walked away without looking back and said, "No, I'll take a taxi back by myself."

Hongliang shook his head and smiled as he looked at Xiaomeng's leaving back. At this time, Hongliang thought of Lizhen and the baby who were still in the hospital. He asked the waiter to pack some food for him, and he immediately got in the car and drove to the hospital.
