

First Love 131

Chapter 131 Planning for the future

On the way home, Hongliang was driving, silently watching Lizhen crying silently. When they drove to a secluded place near the river, Hongliang stopped and said, "Let's take a rest here. Let's go for a walk by the river."

"Yeah." Lizhen nodded to Hongliang and followed Hongliang to the river.

"Let me hold the baby." Hongliang saw that Lizhen was having a hard time holding the baby, so he took the baby over.

"Hongliang, I feel so sorry for you. Not only did you help us in our careers and in every aspect, but Wang Kun didn't appreciate you and even misunderstood you. Yet you didn't complain at all and still helped me as always. I feel really sorry." Lizhen choked up a little when she said this.

"I'm helping you voluntarily. What complaints can I have? If my mother hadn't interfered, we would have been together a long time ago. But now I'm so sad to see that you're not living a good life. If I weren't married now, I would ask you to divorce and we could be together. But it's too late now. I can't be an irresponsible scumbag. But I will do my best to help you." Hongliang said, then shook his head painfully and sighed.

"No, Hongliang, please don't say such things. I already feel sorry for Tingting. If you say such things again, we may not even be friends. I am already in so much pain now that a third party has intervened, and I also hate third parties very much. I will never be a third party and make others suffer." After hearing Hongliang's words, Lizhen immediately expressed her thoughts.

"In the current situation, do you have any plans for the future? I will support any decision you make. Don't worry about Tingting. We are a people of integrity and we are not afraid of our own shadows. I believe Tingting is a person who sympathizes with Dari, and she also understands your character." Hongliang smiled and comforted Lizhen in a very warm tone.

"What else can I do now? I'm married and have a child. Who would want me? Sigh." Li Zhen sighed and smiled at herself.

"How about this, you come to my room and be my personal secretary. Are you interested?" Hongliang immediately thought of a position suitable for Lizhen. Hongliang thought that this position would allow him to take care of Lizhen and see her often.

"Me, is that okay?" Lizhen looked at Hongliang in surprise.

"Okay, you have experience as a secretary, and you understand my living habits. Maybe your intelligence and talents can be helpful to my career." Hongliang was pleasantly surprised to find that he had a good helper who was very suitable for his career.

"But will this work?" Lizhen is a very cautious person. She feels that doing this is inappropriate in some aspects. For example, Hongliang now has a secretary, how will people view me.

"Don't you have a secretary now? What should I do?"

"Don't worry about it. I have my own arrangements. It's up to you whether you agree or not." Hongliang looked at Lizhen with a scrutinizing eye.

"I" Li Zhen was silent for a moment. She thought, yes, people would look down on her if she went there now. But she couldn't just live off her savings and had to raise a daughter. This might be the only plan she could have.

"Okay, I promise you." Li Zhen made a plan and let out a long sigh.

"Okay, you really agreed?" Hongliang was delighted and very excited. He thought he could finally be with Lizhen every day and see her every day.

"I've arranged everything. I'll inform you and you can go and prepare for work, such as buying some clothes and dressing yourself up," Hongliang said, and handed a card to Lizhen.

"I don't want this, I can't accept it. How can I use your money?" Li Zhen stopped him immediately.

"Don't refuse. I know you. You don't have much income now. Where will you get the money?" Hongliang was a little unhappy when he saw Lizhen refused to accept it.

"Then consider it as a loan from you. I'll pay you back after I start working and have an income." Lizhen thought about it and realized that yes, she left in such a hurry that she didn't bring much money with her. Besides, she wanted to divorce now, and she didn't want to ask Wang Kun for money. She had no choice but to accept the card that Hongliang gave her.

"It's up to you." Hongliang found it very funny when he heard Lizhen say that she wanted to pay him back.

"Wa wah" the baby has woken up, crying with his pink little mouth open, and rubbing his pouting mouth on the blanket beside him.

Lizhen looked at the baby and said, "Oh, the baby is hungry."

"What should we do?" Hongliang looked around and said, "Let's feed him in the car."

"Okay." After Lizhen got in the car, Hongliang closed the door and stood outside the car waiting for Lizhen.

"Let's go back." After feeding the baby, Lizhen urged Hongliang to go back.

"Okay, baby, let's go home."

The next day, as soon as Lizhen got up, Mrs. Liu came to the room and said, "Miss Lizhen, there are a few people outside. They said they are here to deliver clothes. Can you let them in?"

"I didn't buy any clothes." Lizhen suddenly remembered that Hongliang wanted to buy some clothes for himself yesterday.

"Tell them to come in, I'll clean it up later."

"Okay." Mrs. Liu went downstairs immediately.

When Lizhen finished packing and went downstairs, she saw two rows of exquisitely made clothes hanging on hangers in the hall. One row was a suit and the other was a very fashionable skirt. Lizhen was stunned by so many clothes.

At this time, a girl who was dressed very fashionably saw Lizhen coming down from upstairs, and she greeted her enthusiastically.

"Ms. Chen, we are here to deliver clothes to you on behalf of Chairman Li. These clothes are customized according to your size. Please try them first and keep them if you think they are suitable." The girl politely asked Lizhen for her opinion.

"Wait a minute, I'll make a phone call." Lizhen quickly ran upstairs and immediately called Hongliang.

"Hey, did you order Hongliang's clothes?"

"Yes, I considered that you were at home taking care of the baby and didn't have time to go shopping, so I took the initiative to ask them to send the clothes over."

"Why do I need so many clothes?" Lizhen said to Hongliang anxiously.

"Lizhen, you may have been staying at home in the factory for the past few years. You haven't been exposed to the outside world. Now you haven't been in the workplace. The ladies in the workplace are so exquisitely and beautifully dressed. The clothes you have are only a fraction of theirs."

"You sent so many clothes. When I go to work, my salary will be enough to buy clothes," Lizhen quickly interrupted Hongliang.

"That's enough. Now you know how much I will pay you."

"I don't know, how much?"

"I can't tell you now. I'll see how you perform after you start working. Your task now is to accept all the items you think are suitable and wearable. Don't worry about anything else. I'll settle the bill with them. This is the primary task assigned to you by your boss."

"Okay." Lizhen couldn't persuade Hongliang, so she had to go downstairs to try on clothes.
