

First Love 138

Chapter 138 I Won't Let You Have an Easy Time

Half a month later, the company participated in the bidding for a project. This project was Hongliang's. In the past years, this company had always been a professional bidder with almost no chance of winning. However, it failed this year. The winning company seemed to have been targeting Hongliang's company in a purposeful and planned manner for the past few years.

"Cheng Lizhen, your company will bid for a batch of electronic products from a multinational corporation in a few days. You go and organize them. They will be needed in a couple of days." Aman handed a stack of materials to Lizhen.

"Team leader, I'm new here and not very familiar with the business yet. The bidding data must be extremely accurate and we can't be careless. Once a piece of data is wrong, all the previous efforts will be wasted. You should find an old colleague. They will know more about the business and our data." When Lizhen heard Aman tell her that these were the materials for the bid, she immediately became alert. This was not an ordinary document, but the materials for the bid.

The data in Lizhen's bidding materials must be kept confidential. Once the data is leaked and known to the other party, all the previous efforts will be wasted.

"It's not like you can definitely do it. First, you just arrived and I trust you more than they do. Second, you have a good business level and you will definitely be able to do it. I believe you will definitely do better than them. Besides, they all have things to do and now you are the only one who has not been assigned a job." Aman thought, aren't you very capable? I wanted to punish you that day, but so much material didn't bother you. Today I will definitely punish you to death. When something happens to you, don't let me intervene. The chairman will kick you out for me, hehe.

"Go ahead, I believe in you, you won't let me down." Aman showed a rare smile on his face, which made people feel a little disgusted. At first glance, they knew that the smile was fake.

After hearing what she said, Lizhen didn't know how to refuse. She thought she would give it a try. However, Lizhen was still a little worried, so she sent a message to Hongliang, asking him to tell her about preparing the bidding materials.

After a while, Hongliang replied to her and told her that she just needed to check the numbers in the materials to see if there were any mistakes. Hongliang thought it shouldn't be a big problem. He believed that it would be okay for Lizhen to see the data above. It would also be better for Lizhen to have more experience with it so that she could help him next time.

But Hongliang thought too simply and missed the bid this time.

In the company's conference room that night after the bid, Hongliang's face was dark as if he had fallen into an icy abyss. The sharp ice cone cut through the ice, drawing a perfect arc.

He still had the same cold expression as usual, stern eyebrows and eyes, sharp thin lips, but in his pair of bottomless black pupils, there was a terrifying storm.

The heads of each department carefully found their seats and sat down, fearing that they would accidentally make a noise and anger the chairman.

At this time, there was a person who was calm and composed. Seeing such a scene, she pretended to be very calm on the surface, but she was secretly happy in her heart. She glanced at the chairman, and felt a little guilty when she saw his angry look. She was Aman from the accounting group.

"Today I am very angry to tell you all a very bad news. We have won the bid in previous years, but this year it was won by someone else. The company is still the same company, and the people in charge are still the same people, but why was the bid snatched away by someone else this year? All of you sitting here are old leaders and employees of our company. We used to be the undefeated generals in winning bids, but why did we chicken out this year? What's more terrible is that what we lost is not just the bid, but our performance this year. Dear leaders, we will lose one-third of our performance this year, and all of our bonuses this year will be gone." Hongliang was completely furious, and his voice increased by several decibels today.

"Now let's find out the reason for the failure of the bid. If we don't find the reason tonight, don't leave."

"The bidding meeting this morning was particularly strange. The winning bidder seemed to know our background. The bids they placed just hit our bottom line, catching us off guard. This is something we have not encountered in all the years," said Xiao Li, who participated in the bidding, reporting what he saw today.

"Do they know our details and data?"

"Could there be a traitor among us?" Everyone spoke up at this time.

"But seeing how closely they are following us today, they must know our bottom line." Xiao Li Wang Hongliang was very sure of everyone's speculations today.

"Okay, tomorrow we will check all departments to see where the problem lies. Once we find out who leaked the information, we will definitely not tolerate it."

At this time A'man was very happy in his heart. Humph, Cheng Lizhen, you are in big trouble. If you don't want me to drive you away, just get out of here obediently, hehe.

But A'man was too happy too early. Her every move in the conference room was already noticed by the chairman's sharp eyes, but he remained calm.

"Let's adjourn the meeting now. I hope each department can check themselves first to see where the problem lies." The chairman announced the end of the meeting.

"Who dares to do this unless he doesn't want to work here anymore"

"Who is it now? Who can be sure?" Everyone was talking about it after the meeting.

The next day, each department was conducting self-inspection. The office was silent and everyone was doing their own work seriously.

"Assistant Wang, please check the financial team carefully, and pay special attention to Aman's movements." The chairman specifically asked the assistant to pay attention to Aman.

"The chairman has found out, but the result will embarrass you." When it was almost time to get off work in the morning, the finance team received news that they had found the person who sent the message. When he heard this person's name, Lian Hongliang felt very strange and shocked.