

First Love 144

Chapter 144 I Won't Be the Third Party

Lizhen was frightened by what Hongliang said just now. Lizhen thought about what was wrong with her today. She looked at Hongliang, who was half drunk, and looked at the seat where she and Hongliang were sitting together. She immediately realized that she and Hongliang were too close.

Opposites attract, not to mention that Hongliang and I are each other's first love. If the relationship is too ambiguous, it is inevitable that something will go wrong.

Things are different now. Neither Hongliang nor I are bound by family. Hongliang has a home and a wife who loves him. His wife is pregnant, and they have a child together. It is even more impossible for them to be together. I absolutely cannot interfere in other people's families.

Think about it, I originally loved Wang Kun so much, and we had a warm and happy family, but it was the intervention of a third party that caused the family to break up and I became a wanderer with a home that I couldn't return to. If I do this now, wouldn't I become the third party who destroys someone else's family? Wouldn't I be repeating the mistakes of others? No, I absolutely cannot do this.

Thinking of this, Lizhen slowly stood up and returned to her original seat. Hongliang saw Lizhen leaving him, and he looked at her in surprise, "What's wrong with you?"

"Hongliang, I want to go home." Lizhen wanted me to leave so that Hongliang could calm down.

"Don't go." Seeing Lizhen wanting to leave, Hongliang felt very sad. He had been having some conflicts between Tingting and his mother at home recently. He was particularly troubled by having his mother on one side and his wife on the other. He was caught in the middle and it was particularly difficult to make a decision, which made him exhausted.

When I feel tired, I can't help but think of a lot of things. The past scenes make me feel inexplicably sad, and the sadness in my heart is even stronger. I really want to find someone to talk to, but I find that everyone around me is busy. When I am tired, I realize that there are so few people who can talk to me about their inner thoughts... so few. ...

Today he wanted to take this opportunity to talk to Lizhen about the unhappy things in her heart.

In fact, Hongliang was not drunk at all. This amount of alcohol was just a drop in the bucket for him.

When Lizhen saw what happened to Hongliang just now, she misunderstood him a little. She was afraid that Hongliang's old love would rekindle, and she was afraid that she should not be stuck in the quagmire of love anymore, which would not only hurt herself but also others.

Lizhen felt sad when she saw Hongliang's depressed and painful state. She reorganized her thoughts and looked at Hongliang who was in pain. She said earnestly, "Hongliang, I know you are a good person. I feel sad for you, but we are different now. You have a family. As a man, you have to be responsible for your family. Especially since Tingting is pregnant and you already have a child. Do you want your child to be without a father or lose its mother before it is born?"

Some people meet, some people lose, maybe life is like this, the seasons flow, who will stay and accompany you in the end. It seems that more and more losses have replaced gains. How to choose between those deep and shallow traces in the years, those memories that cannot be frozen. Find a glass of cold water to quench the thirsty throat. Write some sad words to record some trivial life. Hold your fingers together to keep yourself warm, but it can only last for a moment. Who said that if you know how to let go, your heart will be calm. I smile, do I really know how to fulfill

Hongliang looked at Lizhen infatuatedly at first, but after listening to what Lizhen said, he fell silent and slowly lowered his head.

"I am in so much pain now. If I continue to do this, will Tingting suffer as much as I do? I am also a woman. I have experienced the pain of being betrayed by my lover. I cannot do this. If I do this, am I still a human being?"

"You are too kind. You always think about others, but who cares about you? If you were not so kind, we would be together now, and you and I would not be so painful now." Hongliang looked up with some excitement.

"Tingting and the unborn baby are innocent. I can't hurt them. Isn't it good for us to maintain this kind of relationship now? To love someone, you don't have to be together day and night, you don't have to own them. Helping others to be happy is also a kind of love."

Hongliang looked at Lizhen affectionately. He thought that this woman was not only stupid, but also very kind-hearted. However, Hongliang felt more heartache and admiration for Lizhen.

I am used to waiting, so I cannot resist standing back at the origin of waiting in the cycle of reincarnation. I don't know how long I have to wait to see an answer; I don't know how long I can persist in waiting for a result? Missing someone is very powerless, because I can't see the result of missing someone. Maybe missing someone doesn't need a result, it just proves that someone once existed in my heart. Can I give missing someone a certificate to prove that it once existed?

Maybe you can love many people, but there is only one person who can make you laugh the brightest and cry the saddest. For me, I should laugh the brightest, but I don't know who gives me the brightest smile. Crying, that's a common thing. But I don't know who makes me sad the most. But Lizhen, you are the one who hurts me the most in my heart, but my heart hurts too much, too much.

Before she knew it, some time had passed. After that talk between Hongliang and Lizhen, Lizhen felt that she had made things clear to Hongliang, and the burden in her heart slowly settled down. She then devoted herself to doing her job well every day, which also helped Hongliang.

But Kelizhen never expected that someone disliked her and a conspiracy was quietly approaching her.

This conspiracy originated from a woman's jealousy, and the person she hated was none other than Xiaomai, the secretary in Hongliang's office.

Since that day when she saw Hongliang picking up Lizhen from get off work, her jealousy towards Lizhen became even stronger. Why can you get the chairman easily but I can't? I want to take revenge on you. If I can't get it, I won't let you have an easy time. So she thought of a way to deal with Lizhen. She wanted to let the chairman's wife take care of it. So she hired a private detective to follow the chairman and Lizhen. "When I find evidence, I will send her to the chairman's wife and let her deal with you and drive you away."
