

First Love 148

Chapter 148 Because I like you

I must find out who posted the photo, and once I find out who it is, I will never let him go."

At this time, Xiao Mai, the secretary, was in the chairman's office, bringing the brewed coffee to the chairman. She happened to walk to the table and heard the last few words of the chairman. Suddenly, her hand shook and the coffee spilled on the chairman's table.

"Sorry, I didn't mean it," Xiaomai apologized quickly and backed away.

Looking at Xiaomai's clumsy hands, they cursed him: "Clumsy hands!"

This was a casual remark from Hongliang, but when Xiaomai heard the chairman's words, it caused a great shock in her heart because of her guilty conscience. Did they know that it was me who asked someone to take the photos?

She hurriedly went to get the cleaning tools. Even her hands holding the rag were shaking. She walked unsteadily and almost fell.

Xiaomai spent this morning at work in fear. When she finally got off work, she immediately called the detective she had hired to ask if the person who delivered the photos was reliable. The detective told her not to worry, that the person who delivered the photos was absolutely reliable. The person who delivered the photos was a veteran and was absolutely reliable. Nothing had ever happened to anything he had delivered.

But Xiaomai didn't expect that the problem was caused by Song Zhaizhan.

The detective hired by the chairman's assistant Xiao Wang that day found the person who sent the photos through the surveillance camera at the door of Hongliang's house. The detective threatened him and he did not confess. Later, they gave him some money and he immediately confessed and gave out the name of the person who gave the photos. Because they were in the same industry and had some connections between them, the person who took the photos soon also confessed who asked him to take the photos.

After about a week, Xiaomai felt a little better and was about to secretly find out whether Lizhen had come to work.

What a coincidence it was that Lizhen came to the chairman's office to report on her work. When Xiaomai saw that Lizhen was not driven away, but was working as usual as if nothing had happened, as if nothing had happened at all.

Xiaomai thought that was strange. During this period of time, Xiaomai observed that the chairman seemed calm, but his face looked a little serious and he didn't talk much.

But things were not as Xiaomai saw. It turned out that Lizhen had made a big decision after what happened that day. She was going to resign after this month, quit her job at Hongliang, and then deal with her marriage first. She was going to plan her life again and start again.

The next day, Lizhen didn't want to go to work, but I resigned today and wouldn't go to work tomorrow. Just then, Hongliang came to pick her up for work.

"Hongliang, I think I don't want to work in your company anymore. I will quit after this month." Lizhen looked at Hongliang.

"Why?" Hongliang looked at Lizhen, not quite understanding.

"In order to prevent you from being misunderstood, and for your family and Tingting, Tingting doesn't know that I work in your company yet. After what happened yesterday, she will definitely know. If she knows that I work in your company, she will definitely be worried. We must remain innocent. Who will believe you? Tingting won't believe you, and even I won't believe you. One is that this is your first love, and being together every day will inevitably lead to misunderstandings. Even if we can keep a clear head every time, it is inevitable that there will be a day when we get into a fight. That day was a good example."

"You just gave birth to a child, and you want to get a divorce. How will you make a living in the future?" But Hongliang didn't want her to do this.

"I know you care about me, but I can't live under your protection all my life. You have your family, and when your child is born, you will have your children. One day I will have to go out. After this storm, I must be strong." Lizhen looked into the distance in the car, her eyes full of firm confidence.

"Okay, I understand how you feel. If you continue to want to work here, I will make it clear to Tingting. Tingting is not an unreasonable person. We can explain things openly and she can understand you and me. But I know you. If someone treats you well, you will be twice as good to them, even if it means you will suffer losses. You only think of others when you do anything, and never consider yourself first." Hongliang was a little excited when he said this.

"It's a pity that we are not destined to be together. I didn't get you in this life. This is a lifelong loss for me." Hongliang felt a little sad while driving.

"But I will fully support you and help you no matter what decision you make." Seeing that they had reached the place to get off the bus, Lizhen got off and left. Hongliang looked at Lizhen's back as she left and sighed deeply.

Xiao Wang, the chairman's assistant who had just started work that day, finally found out the person who took the photo after several days of hard work. He finally gave out the real murderer, but when he named the real murderer, Hongliang felt unbelievable.

"I really don't understand how such a quiet little girl could have such vicious and evil thoughts. What is her purpose?" Hongliang was shocked when he heard the assistant's report.

At this moment, Hongliang suddenly remembered the scene when Xiaomai spilled coffee on the table when she brought it to him. This was the first mistake she made since she became his secretary. Could it be that he said he wanted to find out who took the photo? No wonder she reacted like this.

"Go call her in, I want to ask her what her purpose is in doing this." Hongliang suppressed the anger in his heart.

"Chairman Xiaomai wants you to come in. She has something to talk to you about." When Xiaomai heard Assistant Wang calling her, her heart seemed to be grabbed by someone. She had been living in anxiety these past few days. She was afraid that the chairman would call her. It turned out that the chairman wanted her, Xiaomai, to come in. Today he asked Assistant Wang to call himself, so there must be something bad going on.

When Xiaomai nervously walked to the other side of the chairman's desk, Xiaomai was still trying to cheer herself up. The chairman hadn't found any evidence yet, and she was still pretending to be calm. "What does the chairman want me to do?"

When Xiaomai raised her head and saw the chairman, he looked back at her coldly. Her dark eyes were filled with cold anger, but when she looked at him, the corners of her lips raised a slight arc. She thought that judging from the situation, the chairman must know something.

"Xiaomi, how long have you been working here?"

"It's been almost three years since I became chairman," Xiaomai answered timidly.

"How I treat you"

"The chairman has been very kind to me."

"Hmph, you talk better than you sing. Let me ask you where these photos came from." "Pa" the chairman threw a stack of photos in front of Xiaomai.

"I don't know about that." Xiaomai's face immediately turned from red to white when she saw the photo. Suddenly, her legs started shaking, and she fell to the ground with a thud. Her face was ashen and looked very ugly.

"I just want to ask you what is your purpose in sending the photos to my home." Hongliang immediately stood up from his chair, stood in front of Xiaomai and looked down at her.

"I don't have any purpose," Xiaomai stammered, not daring to explain the reason.

"You won't tell me, right? Well, I'll hand you over to the Supervisory Bureau and charge you with false accusations, ruining your entire future."

"No Chairman, I say, I say"

"Say" Hongliang asked sternly.

"I just like you. I have done so much for you, but you don't even look at me. And you even look at Cheng Lizhen differently, which makes me jealous and drives me crazy. I am younger and more energetic than her. I have no choice but to use this method, taking pictures for my wife. My wife has the right to drive her away." Xiaomai wanted to just go for it, so I said it to see how the chairman would react.

After hearing what Xiaomai said, Hongliang was very surprised. He didn't expect Xiaomai to have such an idea. What he didn't expect was that a woman's jealousy could be so crazy. At the same time, he found it very funny.

"For this reason, there is no other purpose"

"No, I swear to God that I have great respect and admiration for your chairman."

"Hehehe, you are not interested in me as a person, but my money."

"How do you know?" Xiaomai suddenly opened her eyes wide and looked at the chairman.
