

First Love 157

Chapter 157 Divorce

Lizhen thought that she and Wang Kun had been separated for more than a year, and it was time to put an end to this marriage in name only. She asked Wang Kun to go to the Civil Affairs Bureau to handle the divorce, but Wang always refused on the grounds that he had no time. Lizhen understood that Wang Kun was deliberately delaying. She decided not to wait passively, but to take the initiative.

That day, Li Zhen went directly to Wang Kun's company, handed him the divorce agreement in front of everyone, and said, "Wang Kun, I'm tired of your excuses. Today, we must resolve this matter."

Wang Kun was stunned. He didn't expect Li Zhen to be so resolute. Under the strange looks of his colleagues, he took the agreement.

"Lizhen, can we talk more..." Wang Kun still wanted to struggle.

Lizhen and Wang Kun came outside and asked, "Can we start over for the sake of the child?"

Speaking of children, Lizhen's heart slowly softened.

It was only a moment of contemplation before Li Zhen regained her sanity. However, thinking of Wang Kun's betrayal and the loveless marriage that had existed in name only for more than a year, Li Zhen made a decisive decision: "Let's get a divorce."

"Okay, let's meet at the Civil Affairs Bureau tomorrow." Seeing Li Zhen's firm attitude, Wang Kun had no choice but to agree.

"Okay, let's meet at the Civil Affairs Bureau at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning." Li Zhen turned around and left resolutely.

Wang Kun cried sadly as he watched Li Zhen leave. He thought he had completely lost her.

At night, Wang Kun returned home and went back to his bedroom listlessly. Seeing the clothes left by Lizhen reminded him of her, he couldn't help but burst into tears.

Wang Kun lay on the bed, recalling every detail of his time with Lizhen, his heart filled with regret and pain.

He realized that he had really lost Lizhen, the woman who once loved him deeply.

The next day, Wang Kun arrived at the Civil Affairs Bureau early with a heavy heart.

When he saw Lizhen coming, he tried to save their marriage one last time, but Lizhen shook her head firmly.

The two of them walked into the Civil Affairs Bureau silently and went through the divorce procedures.

As they walked out of the door, Wang Kun felt the sky was dizzy and the earth was dark. He could no longer hold on and fell down. The whole world became dim and dark.

"Wang Kun, what's wrong with you?" Li Zhen was frightened when she saw Wang Kun lying on the ground. She immediately dialed 120.

Lizhen went to the hospital with the ambulance and sent Wang Kun to the emergency room.

Lizhen stood at the door of the emergency room. She was also scared. She was afraid that something might happen to Wang Kun and her mother-in-law Jinlan would definitely blame her. She paced back and forth at the door, not knowing what to do.

Suddenly, someone ran over in a hurry, breathlessly asking, "What happened to Wang Kun?"

But when Lizhen saw who it was, she was shocked. It was none other than Qiuyan.

Seeing Qiuyan, Lizhen became puzzled. How did she know Wang Kun was in the hospital when I hadn't even called her yet? Lizhen wanted to ask Qiuyan how she knew Wang Kun was in the hospital.

But Lizhen was very calm and composed at this time. Lizhen originally wanted to wait for Wang Kun to wake up before leaving, but when she saw Qiuyan, she decided to leave and let Qiuyan wait for Wang Kun here.

"Sister Lizhen, you sent Wang Kun here, what happened to him?"

Seeing that Lizhen Qiuyan was a little embarrassed, she had to ask Lizhen timidly.

"It's just right that you're here. He passed out just after we signed the document. It just happened to be what you wished for. You can be together now. I have something else to do so I'll be leaving now. You can wait here until he wakes up."

When Li Zhen saw Qiu Yan coming, the anger in her heart surged up again, but she still endured it because Wang Kun had not woken up yet.

After Li Zhen finished speaking, she left resolutely. She felt that it was a shame for her and Qiu Yan to stand together waiting for Wang Kun to wake up.

But Li Zhen did not really leave. She stood in a place where she could see the door of the emergency room and watched Wang Kun's condition from a distance.
