

First Love 16

Chapter 16 Where have you been?

"Chairman, you are looking for me." At this time the director came. When he saw Li Zhen's face full of dark clouds, he felt guilty. He immediately turned his small triangular eyes and immediately came up with a plan.

"Oh, Secretary Lizhen is here too. What's wrong? Who made my secretary unhappy?" He licked her face and wagged his tail in front of Lizhen like a happy dog.

"Where did you transfer Wang Kun to, kid?" The chairman felt a little unhappy when he saw the director's look.

"No, I just moved him to another place. What's the matter, Chairman?" The director immediately pretended to be very surprised.

"Tell Lizhen's secretary what I told you in front of her." The chairman wanted Lizhen to believe that Wang Kun's transfer had nothing to do with him.

The director rolled his eyes and said, "Secretary Lizhen, why don't you think about it carefully? How can Wang Kun compare with our chairman? Our chairman is just a young talent, a diamond bachelor, and there are so many girls waiting to throw themselves into his arms. How can Wang Kun compare with our chairman?"

"Director, don't waste your breath here. Just tell me what you did to Wang Kun." Li Zhen felt particularly disgusted when she saw the director's expression.

"I didn't send him there, I just moved him to another place. He didn't contact you, which means he doesn't care about you at all. Otherwise, he wouldn't have contacted you." The director wanted to sow discord between her and Wang Kun.

"This..." Li Zhen was speechless when the director said this, because Wang Kun had not contacted her. What he said was not wrong. If Wang Kun had her in his heart, he would definitely contact her.

When the director saw that Li Zhen was stumped and couldn't answer, he immediately changed the subject and excused the chairman: "Wang Kun's matter has nothing to do with the chairman. This idea was all my idea."

"Now you believe it, Wang Kun's affairs have nothing to do with me." The chairman immediately breathed a sigh of relief.

"Miss Lizhen, don't go looking for that kid Wang Kun. Look at our chairman. He has a good appearance and money. Don't you know that it is the blessing you earned in your previous life that was recognized by the chairman?" The director is really eloquent and good at talking. He can talk people to death. He can even talk a frog to the sky. No wonder Director Zhong respects him so much.

Li Zhen couldn't even describe her mood at the moment. Should she continue to question them about Wang Kun's situation, or stop there? She couldn't even give an accurate answer. She was wavering between the two results and couldn't extricate herself.

"How is it, Miss Lizhen, do you still need me to take you to find Wang Kun?" The director saw Lizhen's inner struggle, and he was secretly delighted.

Mr. Zhong immediately winked at the director, stopping him from continuing.

Lizhen looked at the two of them and decided to leave because she didn't know how to say anything.

So she quickly stood up and walked out without looking back.

The director rolled his triangular eyes, looked at the chairman, and walked with his swinging steps with his hands spread out like a winner. "So, chairman, I tell you, you listen to me. I will make her speechless. From now on, she will listen to you obediently and become your bride, hehehe."

Seeing this dramatic change, the chairman couldn't help but admire the director's ability to speak, which made him look at her with new eyes.

From that day on, Lizhen decided to focus on her work and not think about Wang Kun, hoping to slowly get out of the pain. Fortunately, she still had work to do during the day, but at night when she stopped working and it was late at night, Wang Kun's shadow kept lingering in her mind, disturbing her every night.

She was particularly bored after get off work that day, and she couldn't help but walk to the restaurant where he and Wang Kun often ate.

When they were about to reach the place where they often sat, a familiar figure came into her sight. Wang Kun was sitting there blankly, motionless like a sculpture.

The moment she saw Wang Kun and Li Zhen, her blood boiled and she couldn't help but quicken her pace and ran over quickly.

Wang Kun was so absorbed in thinking about Li Zhen that he didn't even notice that Li Zhen was standing not far from him.

He became thinner and darker, and his round, energetic face was gone. A lively young man became taciturn, haggard and frowned.

Seeing Wang Kun become so haggard, Li Zhen immediately understood the pain in Wang Kun's heart.

Lizhen's eyes were immediately filled with tears like a spring, and flowed from her eyes to her face and to the corners of her mouth like a gurgling stream.

"Kun" Lizhen called his name softly in a crying voice.

When Wang Kun heard Lizhen calling his name, he was so focused that he thought he was dreaming. He said to himself, "Lizhen, I miss you so much. It's a pity that I can't go to see you. I'm so sad."

"Woo, woo" Lizhen couldn't hold back her tears any longer and burst into tears.

Lizhen's crying startled Wang Kun. He looked in the direction of the sound and saw Lizhen standing there crying like a tearful person.

Wang Kun could no longer control himself. He stood up and ran towards Lizhen regardless of everything. Seeing Lizhen crying, Wang Kun opened his arms and held Lizhen in his arms. The two lovers hugged each other tightly.

"Wow, where have you been? I've looked for you everywhere but couldn't find you. Do you know I miss you?" Li Zhen couldn't control herself anymore and burst into tears. Her crying was a little loud, attracting the attention of everyone in the restaurant.

"I want to see you, but I have my own difficulties." Wang Kun also choked up.
