

First Love 171

Chapter 171 When Love is Strong

Wang Kun looked at Qiuyan in her nightgown. Before Qiuyan could turn around, Wang Kun quickly turned Qiuyan around. Qiuyan still hadn't reacted yet. What was going on?

At this moment, Wang Kun bent down quickly as if pushed by an invisible force.

His eyes were shining with enthusiasm, as if the whole world was left with only this charming face in front of him. He slowly approached Qiuyan, feeling the warmth and subtle tremors of her breath.

As their lips got closer and closer, Wang Kun could clearly see Qiu Yan's slightly opened red lips, which exuded an irresistible charm. He did not hesitate to gently cover them with his powerful lips. In an instant, an electric current spread throughout his body, making him involuntarily deepen the kiss.

Wang Kun's lips pressed gently and firmly against Qiu Yan's lips. He carefully explored every corner, enjoying the wonderful touch. Qiu Yan seemed to be infected by his enthusiasm and began to respond. Their tongues intertwined and explored each other, as if telling of endless love and desire.

They kissed wildly all the way, approaching the bedroom, and slowly moved to the bed, until Wang Kun pressed Qiuyan down on the bed...

Yanyi was lost in the room, two figures overlapped, entangled passionately, and heavy breathing lingered in the room for a long time.

Maybe it was because of the wine, her eyes were a watery pink, her bright and charming eyes were gleaming, and she looked a little dazed. Her breath was light with the aroma of wine, and her rosy little mouth made people want to kiss Fang Ze.

Time seemed to stand still at this moment, everything around them became blurred, and only the two of them were immersed in this passionate kiss.

Wang Kun forgot all his worries and concerns and just wanted to keep this beauty forever.

Qiuyan was completely immersed in Wang Kun's warm and generous embrace, as if they were the only two people left in the world.

She listened quietly to Wang Kun's strong heartbeat, felt the unique breath emanating from his body, and an unprecedented sense of happiness and satisfaction surged in her heart.

This feeling is like the spring breeze blowing across your face, soft and warm; it is also like the summer sunshine shining on your body, warm and bright.

Qiuyan felt like a blooming flower, blossoming in the most beautiful posture under Wang Kun's care.

At this moment, she forgot all her worries and concerns, and just wanted to stay at this moment forever, enjoying this rare tranquility and beauty. She knew that this was the power of love, which made people brave and strong, and also made people feel endless happiness and satisfaction.

Gradually, Wang Kun's hand began to stroke Qiuyan's cheek, his fingertips brushing across her delicate skin, bringing a tingling sensation. Qiuyan's body couldn't help but tremble, and her breathing became more rapid.

As the passionate kiss deepened, Wang Kun's movements became more gentle. He gently untied the belt of Qiuyan's nightgown, and the nightgown slowly slid down, revealing her snow-white skin.

A blush appeared on Qiuyan's face. Her eyes were closed, but she couldn't hide her inner shyness.

Wang Kun's eyes were full of love. He admired Qiuyan's beauty, then gently laid her down on the bed.

The two bodies hugged each other tightly, and the warmth from each other was transmitted, making their hearts closer.

The wonderful time is so intoxicating, confusing and crazy that you don't realize that several hours have passed.

Xiao Wang in the office was anxiously waiting for Wang Kun's arrival. He was pacing back and forth in the office.

He wanted to make a phone call several times, but he remembered that this morning the chairman asked him where his first love Qiuyan lived. Assistant Wang knew what the chairman was going to do, but as a subordinate he could not do that.

An important meeting was about to take place in the afternoon, and the chairman had to be present, but no matter how long he waited, he didn't see Wang Kun show up.

"Assistant Wang, has the chairman come back yet? The shareholders are all here and have been waiting for 20 minutes," the office director rushed into the office and urged.

"He'll be there soon. He's on his way," Assistant Wang had to lie. At this time, Assistant Wang couldn't help but pick up the phone.

"Hello, Chairman, where are you? There is a meeting at 2:30 pm, did you know that?" The phone had been ringing for a long time before Wang Kun answered it, because he had fallen asleep and had just woken up.

"I'm sorry, I forgot. Please say hello to everyone and I'll come right over." Wang Kun suddenly woke up when he heard that there would be a meeting in the afternoon. He jumped out of bed in a flash, wondering what happened to him today? Why did he almost forget the important business today?

Wang Kun's movements were so violent that they woke up Qiuyan who was sleeping soundly. "Brother Kun, what's wrong with you?" She looked at Wang Kun in surprise.

"I'm sorry to wake you up. I forgot about my business this afternoon. I had a very important meeting this afternoon." He answered Qiuyan while putting on his clothes.

"Oh, why didn't you tell me? It's all my brother Kun's fault. I made you forget the important thing." Qiuyan said and pretended to squeeze out a few tears.

"Okay, don't cry. How can I blame you? I forgot something so important." Men can't stand seeing women's tears. Seeing Qiuyan crying, Wang Kun felt distressed and blamed himself.

Wang Kun put on his clothes and left in a hurry. Qiuyan lay on the bed, thinking.

When Wang Kun arrived at the company, everyone had been waiting there for almost an hour.

"I'm sorry to have kept you waiting for so long. There was a traffic jam on the road." He stood at the meeting and bowed to everyone.

(After a while) Qiuyan decided to find Wang Kun, she wanted to do something for him. She carefully prepared a lunch and came to Wang Kun's company.

"Brother Kun, I'm sorry for almost making you late last time. I made lunch for you, I hope you like it." Qiuyan walked into Wang Kun's office and put the lunch box on the table.

Wang Kun was pleasantly surprised. "Thank you, Qiuyan. But don't bother me next time."

"It's okay, this is what I should do." Qiuyan smiled, her eyes full of tenderness.

Wang Kun looked at her, and a warm feeling welled up in his heart. Since he and Li Zhen divorced, no one had cared about him like this for such a long time, and Qiuyan's action touched him deeply.

Since then, Qiuyan often prepared some food and visited Wang Kun at his company, and their relationship grew deeper and deeper.

Qiuyan's frequent visits to Wang Kun's office attracted the contempt of the company's employees. Everyone was just angry but dared not speak out. But behind the scenes, people were discussing

"Nowadays, mistresses are too rampant. The chairman just got divorced and she immediately entered the house."

"Hey, the chairman has already divorced, it's time for him to take over."

"Alas, the chairman's original wife is so pitiful. The empire that she worked so hard to build was taken away by the mistress without any effort."

"Ms. Lizhen is so strong. She left the house with nothing and didn't ask for a penny in the divorce."

"Don't you know that the chairman's original wife, Miss Lizhen, is worth hundreds of millions? There is no way she would ask for their money." At this time, a female employee stood up and spoke.

"This is called good people are rewarded, gold will shine wherever it is"

"She is so lucky that she can become the chairman's wife right away." Some people felt sorry for Lizhen, while others envied Qiuyan for having such a good fate.

But there is one person who is kept in the dark. If she knew, Qiuyan's life would not be so good anymore, right?
