

First Love 176

Chapter 176 I will watch your performance carefully

Wang Kun has been quite busy during this period. Not only has he to take care of the company's affairs, but after his mother left home, many big and small things need to be done by me personally. Now he truly feels the benefits of having elderly people at home.

In the past, he always felt that his parents were old and he had to worry about many things, but in fact, it was because his mother helped take care of the children and do housework at home that he could work with peace of mind.

After so many years, without the help of his mother, who knows what this family would be like. Thinking of this, he was filled with gratitude and guilt. He was grateful for everything his mother had done for this family, and guilty that he did not care enough about her.

For example, when sending the child to school, fortunately, she doesn't have to take care of her son's breakfast and lunch. Seeing that Wang Kun is busy, Qiuyan took the initiative to ask her to come home to take care of some housework. Wang Kun thought about it and his mother left. No one objected. Besides, without the mother's departure, the home is like a car without navigation, without direction.

Wang Kun agreed to Qiuyan's request. Since Qiuyan came, she has come to the house every day to help with cooking and cleaning. With Qiuyan's help, everything at home has become well organized and no longer as messy as before.

Every morning, when the sun rises, Qiuyan always appears at the door on time, holding fresh ingredients in her hands, ready to make a delicious breakfast for everyone. She skillfully cuts and stir-fries vegetables, and in a short while, a table of delicious food is placed on the table.

After breakfast, Qiuyan started to get busy again. She cleaned the house, made the bed, and wiped the windows, making the whole house look brand new.

Then she would wash and hang the clothes, put things in the room tidy, and finally mop the floor spotlessly.

In this way, life at home has become more orderly and comfortable. Everyone is very grateful for Qiuyan's efforts, and Qiuyan herself feels very happy because she likes to take care of others. Seeing her family eat happily and live comfortably is her greatest happiness.

Wang Kun was very happy to see Qiuyan's changes. He thought that his mother would be very happy to see Qiuyan's changes when she came back, and she might change her prejudice against her! Maybe in this way, his mother would accept Qiuyan and agree to let her stay in this family.

Wang Kun also tried to make time to spend with his child. He found that he had missed too many moments of his child's growth. He began to learn to tell his child bedtime stories and play games with him.

As time went by, the family gradually regained its former warmth. Wang Kun knew that all this was inseparable from Qiuyan's efforts. He secretly decided that he must cherish the people around him and pay more attention to his family in the future to make this family happier and more complete.

After Wang Kun finished his work at the company, he saw that his family had changed a lot and was now back on track. It was time to bring his mother back home so that she could see Qiuyan's changes.

The next day, Wang Kun drove back to his hometown after 7-8 hours of driving. He saw his mother waiting for him at the door, looking around.

"Mom, I'm here to take you home. Why don't you wait inside the house but run out to wait? It's not like I don't know I have to go home." Wang Kun felt very strange when he saw his mother standing at the door waiting for him. He walked to his mother and said softly.

Mom looked up and saw Wang Kun, a surprised smile appeared on her face.

"Child, you're back? Is everything okay at home?" Jinlan deliberately shouted in a very loud voice to tell her neighbors that my son has come back to pick me up. She wanted to tell them that I was not driven out by my son, so as to wash away the injustice I had suffered at home these days.

At this time, Jinlan secretly looked around, and those nosy women were secretly looking at the car that Wang Kun drove back. [At that time, there were not many cars in our country, especially in the mountainous areas where transportation was relatively blocked.]

At this time, a group of curious children gathered around to "see their car".

Some children thought it was very novel, while some children touched Wang Kun's car directly with their hands. At this time, there was a child who had been playing in the mud outside and both of his hands were covered with mud. He was very curious and ran to the car and reached out to touch Wang Kun's car. At this time, two muddy handprints were immediately printed on the car.

"Oh my, it's terrible, KunKun, come and have a look. It's terrible, look, our car has been messed up by them." When Jin Lan saw the muddy handprints on her beautiful little car, she screamed.

At this time, Jinlan was thinking about making a big deal out of nothing. She thought about the neighbors who had bad intentions these days. She wanted my son to drive over to pick me up and see what else you guys could say.

Jin Lan said this while chasing after these ignorant wild kids.

"Oh, what's the big deal? It's just some mud on the car. Why make a fuss about it?" At this time, Xiaolan, the nosy girl who lived next door, appeared at the door and said to Jinlan in a sarcastic tone.

"Whose child is so uneducated? Look how dirty he made my son's car." Jinlan ignored Xiaolan. She knew that she was nosy and especially jealous of others.

"Baby, don't touch other people's cars when you come back. We can't afford the compensation if you damage them. Even if we buy you, it won't be enough to compensate." It turned out that this child was Xiaolan's nephew. She was unhappy when she saw Jinlan driving these children away. She was originally jealous when she saw the car Wang Kun drove back.

"Oh, it's your child. Xiaolan, look for yourself what you have done to my son's car." Hearing Xiaolan calling her baby, Jinlan understood that the child was from their family. When Jinlan came back these few days, she heard Xiaolan spreading the news of Wang Kun's divorce everywhere, and she was very angry.

"Okay, I'll go down and help you wash it with water." Xiaolan said she was helping Jinlan wash the car, but she was actually gnashing with hatred in her heart.

"What's wrong, Mom?" Wang Kun heard his mother arguing with someone. He was taking a shower and had just come out.

"Oh, Boss Kun Kun is back. Just now my nephew accidentally got mud on your car, and your mother was unhappy and was chasing away the group of young children. What if the children were scared and fell down? If it gets dirty, at most we adults can help you clean it. Haha." Xiaolan said in a sarcastic and stiff tone, with an unhappy look on her face.

"Oh, Sister Xiaolan, it's okay, I can wash it myself later." After Wang Kun figured out the reason, he immediately comforted Xiaolan.

"Mom, go back and I'll take care of it." Wang Kun quickly pulled his mother back to the house.

"Hmph, fortunately the son I gave birth to is reasonable." Xiaolan continued chattering as she pulled her nephew away.

"Humph, this woman hasn't changed at all. Not only is she nosy, she's also very jealous."

"Mom, why are you arguing with them? They are people who have never traveled far and have not seen the world. You are a person who has seen the world." After hearing what her son said, Jinlan felt much better immediately. As someone who has lived in a big city, she would not be arguing with these people who have not seen the world.

After dinner, the mother and son chatted together. The mother asked about things at home and she was particularly concerned about her grandson.

"Everything is fine, Mom. And I have good news to tell you. Qiuyan is also helping out at home now, and she takes good care of the house. I hope you can try to get along with her after you go back, and maybe you will discover her good points." Wang Kun held his mother's hand and said sincerely.

My mother was silent for a moment and thought to herself, if my son likes it, what can I do? I had to compromise and nodded.

"Okay, kid, I'll try."

The next morning, Wang Kun brought his mother back home.

When Qiuyan saw her mother-in-law coming back, she hurried to greet her.

"Hello, Auntie! Welcome home!" Qiuyan said with a smile.

Jin Lan looked at the woman and said, "Don't pretend to be so gentle on the surface. I will take good care of you for my son..."
