

First Love 182

Chapter 182 Human Nature

When Qiuyan and Wang Kun saw clearly that the person who was adored like a star was Lizhen, their eyes almost popped out.

Lizhen was wearing expensive brand-name clothing, a pair of high heels, an exquisite bag, a pair of sparkling diamond earrings on her ears, a dazzling necklace around her neck, and several dazzling rings on her fingers.

Not only that, her face is delicately made up, her hair is carefully groomed, and she exudes a noble and elegant temperament that is hard to ignore, as if she exudes a layer of light, which makes people fall in love with her. Compared with before, he/she is now like a completely different person, a world of difference.

At this time, Li Zhen also saw Qiu Yan and Wang Kun. She walked up to Wang Kun and stretched out her jade-like hand to shake hands with Wang Kun. "Hello, Mr. Wang." Li Zhen looked at Qiu Yan. "Mr. Wang, this is your friend."

The way Li Zhen spoke was as if she and Wang Kun had never known each other and were strangers who had never met before.

At this time, Wang Kun seemed still in shock and had not yet awakened. He just answered Li Zhen's questions mechanically like a robot. "Hello, Mr. He, she is my girlfriend." Wang Kun answered the question mechanically, but his eyes never left Li Zhen.

Wang Kun carefully looked at the woman in front of him and secretly sighed in his heart: "Is this my ex-wife Li Zhen?" He couldn't help but feel a little surprised and confused. Although they had been married before, Li Zhen was completely different now.

Today, Li Zhen looks very beautiful and exudes a noble temperament. Her appearance is exquisite and elegant, and she is well-dressed, showing a unique taste. Compared with the past, her change is really huge, as if she has been reborn.

Not only is Li Zhen's appearance outstanding, her demeanor has also become more elegant. Her manners are elegant and generous, and her words reveal confidence and calmness. This demeanor makes Wang Kun fall in love with her, and at the same time he is curious about her growth.

In addition, Li Zhen's personality seems to have changed. She is no longer as introverted and shy as before, but has become cheerful and enthusiastic. Her smile is bright and warm, making people feel her inner kindness and sincerity. Such a change makes Li Zhen more charming and irresistible.

Finally, Wang Kun noticed that Li Zhen's every move revealed a leadership style. Whether it was her posture or her expression, she showed her decisiveness and determination. This leadership made Wang Kun look at her with new eyes and realized that she had become a very outstanding person.

Faced with such a huge change, Wang Kun couldn't help but sigh. He couldn't imagine what kind of life journey Li Zhen had gone through to become so beautiful, noble and charming. This once familiar woman has now become a completely new individual, which makes him feel both strange and amazing.

At this moment, Qiuyan couldn't help but compare herself with Lizhen. She carefully examined her appearance and clothing, and couldn't help feeling a little inferior. Compared with Lizhen, she felt that she was eclipsed and insignificant.

When Lizhen looked at her with contempt, Qiuyan felt so ashamed that she wanted to find a hole to hide in. This feeling of being looked down upon made her angry, but she was powerless.

After all, Li Zhen's beauty is indeed eye-catching, while she herself looks so ordinary.

"Alas, this is the character of a magnanimous woman. You see, she can remain calm and composed in front of her ex-husband."

"Of course she is. How could she be the leader in our circle? All of us men are ashamed and eclipsed in front of her!"

The speaker's tone was full of envy and admiration, but also revealed a sense of helplessness and emotion. His eyes rested on the woman in front of him, with complex emotions flashing in his eyes.

This woman, with her outstanding ability and talent, became a leader in the circle and was recognized as the leader. Her achievements were amazing, making those men who were once full of confidence feel that their light was instantly dimmed.

Faced with this fact, the men could not help but feel awe. They realized that this woman not only possessed the wisdom and strength of men, but also the delicacy and tenacity unique to women.

Her existence is like a dazzling star, making everything around her pale in comparison.

Wang Kun felt as if a stone was pressing on his heart after listening to people's discussions. It turned out that the gap between him and his wife was so huge. He thought about how his business had plummeted since Lizhen left and was no longer as good as before.

When Lizhen was around, I always thought that the success of my business was due to my own ability. Lizhen was just giving some advice, and I was the one who really worked hard, which had little to do with Lizhen. It seemed that I had underestimated Lizhen's existence and underestimated her ability.

Men's possessiveness is often very strong, just like Wang Kun. Although he already has Qiuyan by his side, when he sees Hongliang and Lizhen walking in and out hand in hand, he feels as if he has swallowed a disgusting fly. This feeling makes him feel extremely uncomfortable and jealous, as if a part of what he cherishes has been taken away by others.

He watched Li Zhen being loved and supported by everyone at the banquet, and he couldn't help but feel a little jealous. He felt like a clown forgotten in the corner, no one cared about him.

However, when he turned to look at Qiuyan, he suddenly realized that compared with Lizhen, Qiuyan's demeanor and beauty pale in comparison.

He began to reflect on his views on Qiuyan and realized that she might not be as perfect as he imagined. This discovery made him feel a little confused, but at the same time it also made him re-examine his own values and aesthetics.

"Alas, now that things have come to this, I can only blame myself for not keeping my eyes open before. I have reaped the consequences of my actions and lost such an excellent wife."

However, Qiuyan was not willing to be outdone. She secretly made up her mind to change herself and improve her charm and temperament.

So she began to pay attention to fashion trends, learn makeup techniques, and strive to create a more attractive image. At the same time, she also realized that inner cultivation is equally important, so she continued to enrich her knowledge and literacy.

She believed that as long as she worked hard, in the near future, she would be able to be as proud as Li Zhen, and let people support her as they supported Li Zhen. As long as people have a goal and confidence, there is nothing they can't do. Just like she wanted to get Wang Kun, didn't she already get him...
