

First Love 183

Chapter 183 Disagreement

Wang Kun and Qiu Yan have been feeling depressed since returning from the banquet, each thinking about their own things.

Qiuyan began to think about what she should do to improve herself, make herself better and more attractive, become someone comparable to Lizhen, constantly enrich her knowledge reserves and improve her cultural literacy.

So she started reading a variety of books every day, ranging from literary classics to professional technology. In addition, she also actively participated in various training courses to continuously improve her skills.

In addition to studying, Qiuyan also pays attention to shaping her own image. She began to pay attention to fashion trends, learn clothing matching skills, and dress herself up carefully. At the same time, she also pays attention to physical exercise to maintain a good figure and a healthy body.

In terms of social interaction, Qiuyan strives to expand her personal network and actively makes more outstanding friends. She learns to communicate with others, is good at listening to others' opinions and suggestions, and constantly improves her personal charm.

Wang Kun was thinking in his heart how could he be so stupid to lose such an excellent woman.

At this moment, he thought of the situation when their business was just starting out. Lizhen not only accompanied him to endure the hardships, but also used her knowledge and intelligence to give him advice.

She has far-reaching strategies and unique insights, and every step she takes demonstrates wisdom and ability beyond ordinary people.

Starting from a small processing plant, they worked hard step by step and finally developed it into a high-speed enterprise today. This is inseparable from Lizhen's foresight and decisiveness.

Ever since Lizhen left, there has been no further development for me.

Not only that, until now, the company's situation has been getting worse and worse, and it can be said that it is getting worse and worse.

Yes, there is no medicine for regret in the world. How could I be so stupid that I picked up sesame seeds and lost watermelons.

This is really a headache! Wang Kun was very upset. On the one hand, he had to deal with the pressure at work, and on the other hand, he had to deal with the troubles at home. What's worse, the conflict between his mother and Qiuyan seemed to be getting deeper and deeper. His mother often complained about Qiuyan in front of Wang Kun.

As for Qiuyan, she would also tell Wang Kun about her grievances. This made Wang Kun feel very embarrassed. After all, on one side was his mother who gave birth to him, and on the other side was his beloved wife. He really didn't know how to solve this problem.

Ever since Qiuyan saw Lizhen coming back from the party, she has not felt inferior or envious of her because of her brilliance.

On the contrary, she felt a strong fighting spirit and determination in her heart, wanting to work hard to make herself better in order to make up for the gap between her and Lizhen.

She began to examine her lifestyle and image, and realized that she needed to make some changes to improve herself, so she actively engaged in self-shaping actions.

She began to pay attention to fashion trends and learn how to choose clothes, hairstyles and makeup techniques that suit her so as to show a more confident and generous image. At the same time, she also strengthened her physical exercise to maintain a good body shape and health.

In addition to external changes, Qiuyan also focused on cultivating her inner qualities. She signed up for various training courses to improve her knowledge and skills.

Whether learning new languages, arts or management knowledge, she goes all out to enrich herself. In addition, she actively participates in social activities to expand her network of contacts, communicate and cooperate with more outstanding people, and draw experience and wisdom from them.

As time went by, Qiuyan gradually discovered that positive changes were taking place in herself.

Her self-confidence has been enhanced, and she is more relaxed and at ease when interacting with others.

However, Qiuyan was not satisfied with this. She knew that if she wanted to catch up with and surpass Lizhen, she needed to work hard continuously.

Therefore, she set her sights on higher goals, constantly challenged herself and pursued excellence. In this process, she not only improved her own value, but also became a role model for those around her, inspiring them to move forward courageously.

However, she ignored her current situation. Whether her current conditions allowed it or not, she was just living in her own world and dreaming an unrealistic dream.

Qiuyan's actions caused dissatisfaction among one person, her mother-in-law Jinlan. She felt that Qiuyan's actions were not doing her job properly and that she did not put her energy and time into supporting Wang Kun's career. On the contrary, she would come home very late every day, and every time she would wear heavy makeup and dress up like a socialite.

When she returned home, she didn't help with the housework, but spent all her time dressing up, and seemed to enjoy the feeling of being the center of attention.

Not only is Qiuyan not helping Wang Kun's career, but on the contrary, she is spending a lot of Wang Kun's money every day.

"Son, I think you have spoiled her. She has to put on makeup every day. This is not the way a family should live." Jin Lan looked at her son who was so busy that he didn't even have time to sleep, while Qiuyan did nothing every day and dressed herself up in a flashy way.

After listening to her mother's words, Wang Kun also felt that Qiuyan had changed a lot during this period, but he was a little busy during this period and did not pay attention to her whereabouts.

At this time, Wang Kun opened the list of Qiuyan's consumption during this period and took a look. He didn't know until he saw the densely packed list of consumption. Wang Kun couldn't believe his eyes when he saw everything in front of him. His mouth opened so wide that it seemed as if an egg could be stuffed in.

He had never thought that Qiuyan would spend money so generously. She was like a tireless shopping machine, constantly taking out money from her wallet and handing it to the salesperson without hesitation.

This reminded Wang Kun of those wealthy people who spent money lavishly, but even they might not be as generous as Qiu Yan. Wang Kun silently calculated the amount Qiu Yan had spent in his mind, and every amount made him feel frightened.

However, Qiuyan did not seem to realize the value of the money. She was just focused on picking out the items she liked and did not care about the price at all.

Wang Kun called Qiuyan and said, "Hey, where are you now? Come back to me right now."

Qiuyan is currently getting a beauty treatment in a beauty salon with her friends. When she heard Wang Kun's unhappy tone on the phone, she was startled. She didn't know what had happened at home, so she didn't dare to delay and rushed home immediately without finishing the treatment.

Qiuyan took a taxi and hurried back home. "Mom, is Wang Kun home?"

Qiuyan looked into the living room and didn't see Wang Kun. She checked the house and everything seemed normal as if nothing had happened, so she had to ask her mother-in-law.

Jinlan glanced at Qiuyan out of the corner of her eye, without even looking at her face, and Qiuyan answered casually, "I think she's in the room."

Qiuyan immediately went to the room and said, "Honey, I'm back."

Qiuyan saw Wang Kun lying on the bed without even taking off his clothes, staring at the ceiling without moving.

Qiuyan's heart tightened. She immediately put down the spoils in her hand and ran to the bed. She leaned over and pressed on Wang Kun. "What's wrong, husband? Are you feeling uncomfortable?"

Wang Kun turned his face away and said to Qiu Yan in a rough voice, "What did you do today?"

Wang Kun pushed Qiuyan aside and sat up with a bang.

When Wang Kun saw the bags that Qiuyan bought, he suddenly changed his demeanor. His expression was still as cold as usual, with stern eyebrows and eyes, sharp thin lips, but his pair of deep black eyes were filled with fear and violence.

"Husband, what's wrong with you?" Qiuyan couldn't help but feel shocked when she saw Wang Kun's horrifying expression. She didn't know her husband would be like this today.
