

First Love 186

Chapter 186 Former Mother-in-law and Former Daughter-in-law

Qiuyan and Wang Kun both hoped that things would develop in a good direction, but reality is often not as good as expected. In the context of the global financial crisis, Wang Kun's company suffered a heavy blow and its business plummeted.

Wang Kun felt the pressure of his thriving business falling into trouble. He began to feel anxious and looked for solutions to save the company from the dire situation.

But Wang Kun's business seemed to be cursed and did not improve at all. His once glorious career was now in a bleak state. Sales continued to decline and profits became increasingly thin. Although he tried hard to find new business opportunities and strategies, nothing seemed to work.

As time went on, Wang Kun's company began to face financial problems. Employees left one after another, and partners began to lose confidence in them.

Wang Kun felt that his dream was gradually shattered, and he began to doubt whether he was really suitable for this industry.

Finally, due to poor cash flow, the company could no longer operate and Wang Kun filed for bankruptcy. Wang Kun wanted to run another business.

Seeing that her son's business has reached such a point, Jinlan couldn't help but think of her ex-daughter-in-law Lizhen. When Lizhen was around, their family business was booming and getting better and better.

Jinlan decided to ask Lizhen for help. She went through many channels and found out Lizhen's contact information. With trepidation, Jinlan called Lizhen.

"Hello, is this Lizhen?" Jinlan's voice trembled a little.

"Yes, I'm Lizhen. Who are you?" Lizhen's voice was still so gentle.

Jin Lan took a deep breath and said, "Lizhen, I'm your mother. I know this is very presumptuous, but I really have no choice. Wang Kun's company has encountered great difficulties. I want to ask you for advice and see if you have any suggestions."

Lizhen was silent for a moment, then said, "Mom, I'm happy to help.

In fact, I have been following Wang Kun's career and I know his current situation. I think he can consider transformation and look for some emerging market opportunities.

In addition, we can also re-examine the company's management and operating model to see if there is room for improvement."

After hearing this, Jinlan felt a glimmer of hope in her heart. "Thank you, Lizhen, your advice is very helpful to us. If I need anything, can I find you again?"

"Of course, Auntie. If Wang Kun needs any help, you can contact me at any time," Li Zhen replied.

"But I have one more request. I want to see my precious granddaughter. I haven't seen her for a long time."

"Of course, it's only natural for a grandmother to meet her granddaughter. So please wait at home. I'll send my driver to pick you up later, okay?"

"I'll wait at the bus stop." Jin Lan was afraid that Qiuyan and Wang Kun would blame her.

After a while, the car sent by Lizhen took Jinlan to their company.

After arriving at Lizhen's company, Jinlan was deeply attracted by the scene in front of her. She was amazed at the scale of the company, which stood like a magnificent castle in the center of the city.

Walking into the hall, Jinlan, a housewife from a small town, didn't even dare to move her feet. She looked at the clothes and shoes she was wearing, and felt so guilty that she didn't dare to look up. She felt a strong breath of luxury coming towards her.

The marble floor was as smooth as a mirror, reflecting the gorgeous chandelier above, making people feel as if they were in a palace. Jin Lan couldn't even open her eyes.

The walls are covered with exquisite works of art, each of which exudes a unique charm.

Walking along the corridor, Jinlan saw spacious and bright offices equipped with modern office equipment and comfortable chairs. The employees were busy working, but their faces were filled with confident and satisfied smiles. This made Jinlan look at Lizhen's ability and management level with new eyes.

Continuing forward, Jinlan arrived at the conference room, which was elegantly decorated, with a huge conference table surrounded by soft chairs and a high-definition TV screen on the wall, which could play various materials and videos at any time.

This conference room not only has complete facilities but also has a beautiful environment, giving people a comfortable and relaxing feeling.

Finally, Jinlan came to Lizhen's office, which was spacious and bright, with a bustling city view outside the window.

The decoration inside the office is simple and elegant, but tasteful. A huge desk is placed in the middle, with documents and office supplies neatly placed on it. Sofas, coffee tables and other furniture are all available, making people feel comfortable.

In short, Jinlan was shocked by the scale and luxury of Lizhen Company.

Oh! What a pity! If only my son hadn't divorced me, if only my son hadn't divorced Lizhen.

"The old lady sighed and said, "But there is nothing I can do about it. My son is not so lucky. Otherwise, all these would belong to my family!" At this point, she couldn't help but think of her son's current company and the difficulties it was facing, and a feeling of worry and uneasiness suddenly surged in her heart.

"It's such a sin, if it weren't for the interference of that vixen Qiuyan, my son wouldn't be in this state now. The problem is that now that my son is in this state, she can't help at all and just spends my son's money every day." Jin Lan sighed deeply.

The current situation is too difficult for them. The market competition is fierce, the economic environment is complex and changeable, and their own company is facing a series of problems such as shortage of funds and backward technology.

Even though they had tried their best, they still couldn't seem to get out of this predicament. Thinking of this, she felt a sense of powerlessness welling up in her heart, as if all hope was gradually shattered.

"Mom, how are you?" At this time, Lizhen walked into the office slowly from outside. Jinlan hadn't seen them for more than a year since Lizhen left them. Only I saw Lizhen dressed very elegantly today.

She wore a gorgeous gown, the skirt was inlaid with sparkling crystals and pearls, sparkling with dazzling light, and her hair was carefully combed into an elegant bun, embellished with exquisite hair accessories, which made her look particularly charming.

Her skin is as white as snow, delicate and smooth, exuding a faint luster. Her facial features are delicate and beautiful, her eyes are bright and moving, her lips are painted with elegant lipstick, and her slightly upturned mouth corners are carrying a confident smile.

Her temperament is elegant and generous, and her manners are graceful and appropriate, which makes people fall in love with her.

Seeing how beautiful she is, I can't help but sigh: "The child is like a completely different person! I can hardly recognize her." Lizhen's transformation amazed her, as if she had transformed from an ordinary woman into a princess.

"Mom, sit up." Li walked forward and took Jinlan's hand, acting as gentle and kind as if her daughter had not seen her mother for a long time, and pulled Jinlan to sit on the sofa.

Jinlan looked left and right, then she held Lizhen's hand and decided to treat her daughter-in-law as her daughter in her mother-in-law's home from now on. She had so many things to say to her former daughter-in-law, but she couldn't say a word. She held her daughter-in-law Lizhen's hand for a long time and was reluctant to let go...
