

First Love 193

Chapter 193 Help from the Ex-wife

Wang Kun had to leave temporarily because of some important matters at the company, and Qiuyan was left in the hospital due to her serious injuries.

"Wife, there are some things going on in the company right now, so I have to go back. I'll come right back after I'm done with that." Wang Kun just received a call. The company had some important matters to deal with, so he had to leave Qiuyan temporarily.

When Qiuyan heard that Wang Kun was going back, she couldn't help but shed tears. Looking at Qiuyan with tears in her eyes, Wang Kun felt very sad.

"Don't worry, I've hired a nurse to look after you. She'll be here soon. I'll take care of the company's affairs and I'll be back soon."

Qiuyan missed her husband very much, but the reality prevented her from getting what she wanted.

This is a critical period in the development of the company, and every decision is related to the future direction.

As a core figure of the company, her husband shouldered important responsibilities and missions and could not leave. Although she was in great pain, Qiuyan tried to hold back the tears in her eyes and nodded slightly to show her understanding.

Because she knows very well that this is not only responsible to the company, but also to the colleagues in the company who work diligently with her.

At this time, a middle-aged woman in her 50s and dressed simply walked in from the door of the ward and said, "Wife, this is the nurse I hired. Her name is Mrs. Wu." Qiuyan smiled and gestured to Mrs. Wu, trying to appear strong.

Wang Kun gave Mrs. Wu some instructions and left in a hurry. Mrs. Wu was an experienced caregiver. She took care of Qiuyan enthusiastically, making her feel warm.

However, every night when it was quiet, Qiuyan would always cry silently, missing her husband who was far away. She knew that she could not rely too much on others and had to learn to face difficulties.

Under Mrs. Wu's careful care, Qiuyan gradually recovered. She was grateful for Mrs. Wu's efforts, and the two gradually became friends.

At the same time, Wang Kun worked hard in the company, hoping to solve the problem as soon as possible and return to his wife. He was busy day and night, but he always thought about Qiuyan in his heart.

As soon as Wang Kun came back, he went to the company instead of going home. His assistant immediately told him that several shareholders were in the office. Seeing that the company was not doing well, they were all clamoring to withdraw their shares. "Chairman, I really can't send them away. I want to send them away and say you didn't come back, but they don't want to leave."

"Okay, I got it. I'll go right away." At this time, Wang Kun was hesitant. Now that the company had reached this point, he was unsure and didn't know how to respond to them.

Just as Wang Kun was holding up his hand and was undecided whether to go to the company's meeting room, his assistant Xiao Wangxing hurried in and said, "Chairman Miss Lizhen is here."

"What is Miss Lizhen doing here?" Hearing that Lizhen came to the company, Wang Kun was very confused. She came to our company at this time. Did she know that my company was failing and she came to laugh at me?

Wang Kun hadn't seen Li Zhen since the last party. He felt he had no face to see her. Since Li Zhen left, her career had been flourishing. However, my own career had not developed, but was declining step by step, which made me feel very frustrated and confused.

I couldn't help but think: Why is this happening? Is it because I'm not capable enough? Or did I do something wrong? Faced with this situation, I began to reflect on my business strategy, management style, and relationship with partners.

Perhaps, I need to re-examine my goals and directions and look for new opportunities and breakthroughs.

At the same time, I also realized that success depends not only on personal efforts, but also requires the support of opportunities and environment.

Although I am full of worries about the future, I am not discouraged.

On the contrary, I regard this experience as a valuable lesson, and I hope to learn from it and continue to improve myself.

After all, failure is not terrible, as long as we can learn something from it, it can become a driving force for our growth.

At this time, footsteps were heard at the office door, "Chairman Cheng, please," followed by the voice of assistant Xiao Wang.

Lizhen wore a decent royal blue dress today. The texture of the dress was soft and fit her body curves, as if it was tailor-made. She also wore a cloak of the same color on the outside. This cloak was very delicate and inlaid with golden diamonds, each of which shone brightly.

When Lizhen walked, her steps were light and graceful, and her cape swayed gently with her movements, making a slight rustling sound. The golden diamonds sparkled faintly under the light, like the bright stars in the night sky, which made people fall in love with her.

"What's wrong? Why do you look so listless? Don't you welcome me?" Li Zhen walked quickly into Wang Kun's office. As soon as she entered, she opened the door and said to Wang Kun politely. Especially when she saw Wang Kun's current appearance, her heart skipped a beat. Why did he look so haggard?

"Why are you here?" Seeing Lizhen's sudden arrival, Wang Kun felt a little anxious and embarrassed. This was how Wang Kun always behaved in front of Lizhen. He was particularly inferior. Now Wang Kun felt that he was no match for Lizhen. This was what people called a henpecked husband.

"You didn't tell me. If you had told me you were coming here, I would have personally gone to the door to greet you. How could I not welcome you?" Wang Kun immediately explained to Li Zhen. She was afraid that Li Zhen would blame her.

"Why didn't you tell me that your company had reached this point? The purpose of my visit today is to help you overcome this difficulty," Li Zhen said to Wang Kun very seriously after sitting down on the sofa in the reception room.

"How do you know what I told you?" Wang Kun looked at Li Zhen in surprise.

"Hmph, you don't trust me as much as your assistant Xiao Wang and mom do." Li Zhen stared into Wang Kun's eyes.

"Oh" Wang Kun then realized that it was Xiao Wang and his mother who told Lizhen.

"No wonder our marriage has come to a point of breakup. It turns out that you have never been trusted and have always been skeptical."

"I...I didn't mean that." Wang Kun explained quickly, "I just don't want to cause you trouble."

"What troubles are there between us? I am here because you are the father of my child. I don't want my son to suffer." Li Zhen's eyes revealed a hint of disappointment. "Don't you know me?"

Wang Kun lowered his head and said nothing. To be honest, he was a man, and men especially valued face. He was most afraid of losing face in front of the person he loved, because he had always loved Li Zhen in his heart, and he was most unwilling to lose face in front of Li Zhen.

"In any case, the most important thing now is to find a solution to the problem, whether it is a funding problem or a lack of projects," Lizhen broke the silence.

"If it's funding, I can help you. If it's a lack of projects, I can invest in one of your projects through my company. But I believe you have the ability to overcome this difficulty," Li Zhen warned Wang Kun very sincerely.

Wang Kun raised his head, a hint of determination flashed in his eyes, "Thank you for your trust. The biggest difficulty now is that our performance has declined and we have no projects to do. If you have projects for us, our company will definitely come back to life. I will do my best to satisfy you."

In the following time, Wang Kun and Li Zhen discussed the response plan together. Li Zhen gave Wang Kun many valuable suggestions with her business acumen and personal connections.

"Assistant Wang, please go to the conference room and tell them that I will respond to their request later." At this time, Wang Kun finally breathed a sigh of relief, and he was full of confidence to go to the conference room to respond to the shareholders' requests.

With Lizhen's help, the company's crisis was gradually alleviated. Wang Kun also realized that if it weren't for his mother and Xiaowo, he would never have been able to bring himself to go to Lizhen, so he wanted to thank his mother for asking Lizhen for help on his behalf.