

First Love 27

Chapter 27 We have broken up

"Son, get up and eat." Mom had already prepared the meal and she wanted to ask Wang Kun to get up and eat.

"Let's wait and let him sleep a little longer," Wang Kun's father hurriedly stopped his wife.

"Mom and Dad, I'm up." When Wang Kun heard his parents talking about him, he quickly got up.

"Son, eat. Look, mom is feeding you your favorite wild mushrooms." Jin Lan's face was full of smiles and her voice was clear. She wanted her son to be in a happy atmosphere, have a good mood, and be happy as soon as possible.

"Ah, the mushrooms are so delicious." Wang Kun paused and immediately pretended to be very happy. He wanted his parents to see him happy.

Wang Kun picked up the mushrooms in the bowl and took a bite. "Mm, they are delicious. I haven't eaten mushrooms for a long time. Thank you, Mom."

Wang Kun looked around and said, "Hey, why hasn't my brother come back yet?"

"Oh, I forgot to tell you that your brother is living in school to prepare for the college entrance examination, and he will not be back until weekends," said the mother, while putting some food in Wang Kun's bowl.

Dad smiled while eating. He didn't say much, but he never forgot to glance at Wang Kun. His eyes were sharp, and he wanted to read the secret in his son's heart from Wang Kun's gaze.

Delicious dishes, cheerful atmosphere, and mother's cooking. This dinner was the happiest and most satisfying meal Wang Kun had had since going out.

"Kunkun, take a rest tonight. Tomorrow, your mother will go with you to Qiuyan's home to visit her mother. You haven't visited them for a long time." Jinlan is a very smart woman. She didn't ask Wang Kun directly, but tried to find out Wang Kun's secret from the side.

"Mom, I'm very tired. I want to rest at home. I may stay at home for one or two days before going back to work. I come back just to see my parents and my family."

"Son, it's understandable that you didn't come back, but now that you are back you should go see them. This is our principle as human beings," Jin Lan repeatedly emphasized.

Hearing his mother keep harping on this matter, Wang Kun's expression began to change slowly. He felt very uncomfortable holding it in his heart, and a struggle began in his mind over whether to tell his mother the truth or continue to hide it.

At this time, Li Zhen's words rang in his ears; "Should we ask our families to think of a solution? My classmates and colleagues all relied on their parents to get their first pot of gold." Li Zhen, a girl, can find a way to ask her family for help, and as a man, am I not as good as a girl.

After organizing his thoughts, he pursed his thin and sexy lips tightly and subconsciously clenched his palms tightly.

Forget it, I have to tell them anyway. If I hide it from them now, can I continue to hide it in the future? I might as well tell them.

"What's wrong with you, kid? What are you thinking about? Mom is asking you a question." Jin Lan saw that her son was in deep thought and seemed not to be listening to her at all. What's wrong with her son? Has he become stupid?

"Please take your time and stop nagging your son. If he is willing to tell you, he will tell you naturally." Wang Kun's father, who was sitting nearby smoking, couldn't bear to see his wife urging his son.

Seeing his parents arguing about him, he felt very uncomfortable. Wang Kun pursed his lips and began to tell his parents the truth.

"Mom and Dad, Qiuyan and I have broken up." Wang Kun felt relieved when he told the truth, but he still looked at his father and mother with some worry. He was afraid that they would not be able to bear it because they already regarded Qiuyan as their own daughter-in-law, and it was a fact that would not change. [Because they saw the close relationship between Wang Kun and Qiuyan at home]

"What did you say?" Jin Lan's brain exploded like a thunderclap, and all the joints in her body seemed to be glued by strong glue and she couldn't move.

Jin Lan felt as if she was facing a formidable enemy, and her heart was filled with lead. She stared at Wang Kun with wide eyes, "Son, are you telling the truth?"

Seeing his mother like this, Wang Kun felt very sad. He and his father immediately went forward to support his mother.

"Hey, why do you have to be like this? She's just a woman. My son is not very old. I can just find another one." Wang Kun's father muttered about Jinlan silently.

"Was it you who proposed the breakup with our son, or was it her?" Jin Lan's pupils were angry and her eyes were bulging into the sky, with an inviolable posture.

"Isn't this obvious? You can count it with your fingers. It was Qiuyan who proposed it." Wang Kun's father still had a leisurely attitude.

"Why? Isn't she cheating me?" Jin Lan was filled with anger. She looked at her son. Wang Kun looked very painful and slowly lowered his head. Jin Lan felt as if her heart was being cut by a knife. "This evil woman, if it weren't for her, our Kun Kun wouldn't have failed the college entrance examination. Now my son didn't pass the entrance examination, but she despises my son. No, she is there now. I want to find her parents and let them judge this matter and see what a good daughter they have raised." Jin Lan is a very fierce person. She is well-known as a very powerful character in the local area.

Wang Kun saw his mother so angry, especially when she was ready to go find Qiuyan, he immediately stood up to stop her.

"Mom, forget it. Just like Dad said, she is not the only woman in the world. I am still young and I can find a better woman than her." Wang Kun hurriedly comforted his mother and told her not to worry.

"Yes, my son is so handsome, why would I worry about not finding someone better than him?" Jin Lan suddenly thought that her son should be suffering more than herself. I should have comforted my son, but I rubbed salt into his wounds. What's wrong with me as a mother?

"But Mom, I want to tell you a good news. I have found a girl who is ten times better than her." Wang Kun saw that his mother and the others were angry about Qiuyan, so he told them the good news to make them happy.

"Really? Son, tell me quickly and make me happy." Jinlan's sadness turned into joy. She was extremely delighted and extremely happy.

Wang Kun happily told them everything about him and Li Zhen, one by one.

"That's great, son, you're really great. I said my son is so smart and handsome, so he won't have to worry about not finding a good girl, hahaha." After listening to Wang Kun's story, Jinlan and her husband were so happy that they couldn't even stop smiling.

"Oh, what a pity! Why didn't you bring her back to see our parents this time? Let us be happy too. I will also bring your current girlfriend to Qiuyan's house to let them see that the world will still turn without her. Our KunKun has found someone who is hundreds of times better than their daughter." Jinlan can't wait to see her future daughter-in-law.

"Mom, we haven't reached that point yet."

"This is because girls are shy and thin-skinned. But I like girls who respect themselves. I am not like Qiuyan, who has no shame and always runs to boys' homes without any shame." Jinlan couldn't help but scold Qiuyan.

"Qiuyan is such an ungrateful evildoer. I treated her so well, but she had the heart to abandon you. Oh, I won't say any more. God has opened his eyes and my son has found someone better than her."

"But Lizhen went back home to see her parents to raise funds for our future career." When Wang Kun thought of Lizhen going home to see her parents for their own career, he felt very ashamed and uneasy, and he couldn't help but say it out loud.

"Son, what did you say? Why is she raising funds? Tell mom quickly." Jin Lan was shocked after hearing what her son said. She thought that her son and his wife wanted to get married.

"Oh, Mom, you're always thinking about that." Wang Kun heard that his mother misunderstood him.

"If not getting married, what do you want to do?"

"We have new plans"

"What new plan?"
