

First Love 41

Chapter 41 Mom, You Are So Great

"Mom, you are so great." When Jin Lan just stepped into the house, Wang Kun was as happy as a child. Seeing his mother come back, he immediately jumped in front of her, picked her up and turned her around several times.

"The funding problem has been solved. Now mom will leave it to you." Jin Lan smiled and couldn't help but stroke her son's hair with her hand. Her heart was filled with tears, but she tried hard to hold back the tears that were about to flow out and gritted her teeth to hold them back.

It turned out that in order to lend more money to her son, Jinlan signed an agreement with the bank president. If she failed to repay the loan on time, she would lose her property and shop because she had already mortgaged them to the bank.

At this time, the words of the bank president rang in Jinlan's ears; "I think you should not borrow so much money first. This is the first time for your son and his friends to open a business. They have no experience yet. Let me be frank with you. If you don't pay it back by then, I will definitely act according to the rules and confiscate your house and store. You will be left with nothing. You should think it over carefully now. It's not too late."

Jinlan swallowed the saliva in her mouth, cleared her throat, and said very seriously, "If my son fails, I will not make things difficult for you. I have no house to live in, I will rent a house, and I will give you the house and property." The president looked at Jinlan's resolute face and got affirmation from her strong and resolute eyes.

He told Jin Lan sternly, "From the moment I promised you the 500 million, we are on the same boat. This amount is the lifeblood of every bank in our village. If we are lucky, we are lucky. If we are unlucky, we are unlucky. But I still think you are a man of your word."

The president looked at Jinlan and said humorously, "I believe that the person that Lian the township secretary has chosen must be right. I firmly believe that your son will be as good as his mother and will definitely succeed. I believe that you, Chen Jinlan, are also a trustworthy person and will not drag me down with you."

Jin Lan's eyes were already filled with tears when she heard the bank president's trust in her. "Thank you for your trust in me. I also believe that my son will not disappoint me and will definitely succeed."

"Mom, what's wrong with you?" Wang Kun saw his mother standing there in a daze, and he wondered what happened to her. "No, it's nothing, son, mom believes in you, you will succeed."

Jinlan is a successful mother. She doesn't scold or criticize her children like others do. Instead, she encourages her children to boost their fighting spirit and make them full of hope for themselves.

"Well, with mom's encouragement, I am more confident. Don't worry, mom, I will buy a ticket back to Guangzhou now. We will definitely not let you down."

The next day, Wang Kun set off on the road back to Guangzhou with his mother's thoughts and hopes. When Wang Kun left home, he saw his mother's determined eyes and her weather-beaten face, especially the wrinkles on the corners of her eyes and forehead, and a few more white hairs. He touched his mother's calloused hands and made up his mind: Mom, I will never let you down. When I make money, I will definitely let you live a good life.

"Lizhen, I'm back." Wang Kun opened the door happily. He didn't tell Lizhen in advance because he wanted to give her a big surprise. "Oh, Lizhen must be busy." Wang Kun scratched the back of his head and muttered to himself.

Wang Kun was cooking while humming his favorite song. He was so happy that he was rich now and could do what he wanted. When he thought about becoming a boss, making a lot of money, opening a big factory, and driving his own car, he thought, haha, I, Wang Kun, will also have such a day.

After a while, Wang Kun finished cooking. "Hey, why did Lizhen come back?"

"You're back early. What's happened to make you so happy?" When Wang Kun looked in the direction of the voice, he saw Li Zhen sitting steadily on the sofa.

"Oh, you scared me to death. When did you come back?" Wang Kun muttered to Lizhen while patting his pounding heart.

"I'm back for a while. I saw you were so happy and I didn't have the heart to disturb you." Lizhen spoke listlessly and looked as if she was worried about something.

"What's wrong with Li?" Wang Kun immediately ran to Li Zhen with great concern. "Our plan has failed." Li Zhen's face was full of sorrow, and she even cried when she spoke, which made Wang Kun feel very distressed.

"What's ruined?" Wang Kun was shocked to see Lizhen in such pain. He didn't know what had happened to Lizhen.

"When the boss who bought the machines heard that we didn't have enough money, he immediately took all the machines away. Without these two machines, we have no funds and can't open the factory. Why are things so difficult for us to do?"

Lizhen started to cry. Wang Kun stroked Lizhen's black hair, lifted her chin, and looked at her seriously. They looked at each other. It doesn't matter. We can buy machines from other places without theirs. The world will still turn without your friend's machines. It's impossible that she is the only one in the world who has machines to buy. Let's buy more advanced machines.

"Li Zhen raised her tearful face and said painfully, "You are not afraid of back pain when you speak, but where can we get so much money now?"

"If we don't have funds, we will find a way out. There is always a way out." Wang Kun was still keeping the secret.

"No matter how you think about it, I've reached the end of my rope," Li Zhen said with a helpless look on her face.

Suddenly Wang Kun took out a bank check and put it in Lizhen's hand; "Let me show you what this is." Lizhen took the check, and at first she didn't take it seriously. She just raised her eyes slightly, with a light color in her eyes. In her imagination, the check was worth at most 10, but when she saw the zeros at the end, she was stunned, and her eyes were filled with surprise.

Li Zhen's brain was like a thunderclap, and all the joints in her body seemed to be glued together by strong glue and she couldn't move. She suddenly stared at Wang Kun with wide eyes; "Where did these come from? How could there be so many?" Li Zhen was so surprised to see this.

Wang Kun reached out and pulled her to sit down again. "Don't worry, this money is from a clean and legitimate source. You can safely use it to build our factory."

"Tell me where the money came from." Li Zhen kept her eyes on Wang Kun. She still looked very worried.

"Sit still and I will tell you where the money comes from." Wang Kun saw that Li Zhen was eager to know where the funds came from, especially seeing her frightened expression, he told her the truth word by word.

Hearing Wang Kun's story, Li Zhen simply thought it was a fairy tale. She listened with her eyes wide open. She thought it was amazing. After listening to Wang Kun's story, she couldn't help but say, "Your mother is so great, so amazing, she is really a heroine. I admire her so much."

"Yes, Mom is amazing. We must learn from her and be as capable and visionary as she is. We must work hard to run our factory so as not to disappoint her expectations of us."

"Well, let's take a good rest today, and we'll go out and look for a new machine tomorrow."
