

First Love 84

Chapter 84 Wang Kun, You Are Incurable

"Lizhen, what's wrong with you?" Wang Kun rushed over, immediately picked up Lizhen and put her on the bed.

After an unknown amount of time, Lizhen slowly woke up. Qiuyan had already left. Lizhen looked around and asked, "Why am I here?"

"I" Wang Kun didn't know how to tell Li Zhen, his face turned red.

Slowly Li Zhen regained her memory. She had remembered something. She looked at the bed and jumped up with a "bang". She looked at Wang Kun with contempt, put her legs on the ground, put on her shoes, picked up her bag and rushed out of the room angrily.

"Lizhen, where are you going? You are unfamiliar with this place." Wang Kun hurriedly pulled Lizhen. He felt sorry for Lizhen, but he didn't know what to say.

Lizhen's heart was bleeding. She looked around. This was the place where they fell in love. It was also the room where they first lived when they just started their career. It was also the place where they fell in love and Lizhen gave her first time to Wang Kun.

I remember the first time they came to this city. They were unfamiliar with the place and were like headless flies, bumping around everywhere.

As soon as they got off the train that day, they started looking for materials without even having time to eat as they were still hungry. The market at that time was not as mature as it is now. Each small shop was a wholesale point. It was not very large, there were no shops in a cluster, and there were no big signs. Instead, they had to go from store to store on their own to look for materials.

Sometimes even if you find a store, it may not have what you want, and you have to go to each store one by one to find it.

Wang Kun and Li Zhen had been searching for the whole morning but had not found the goods they wanted. At this time, Li Zhen's stomach growled and she remembered that they had not had breakfast yet.

Wang Kun looked around and saw a bun shop nearby. It wasn't a big shop, but there were many people eating there. However, the inside was not only dirty, but also very messy. When Li Zhen saw the messy leftover vegetables on the table, her stomach suddenly felt like churning and she almost vomited.

"Let's look around a bit more and see if there's a cleaner place." They walked outside and searched several streets but couldn't find any place to buy food.

"Let's eat over there." Hearing the rumbling sound of her stomach, Li Zhen couldn't hold on any longer as she was too hungry, so they went back there to eat.

After dinner, they continued to look for the store. After a day of searching, they finally found the place where they bought the goods when the sun was about to set. Wang Kun and Li Zhen jumped for joy, but when they got there, the store was closed. It would not open until 8 o'clock tomorrow.

"Let's find a hotel to stay in and go purchase goods early tomorrow morning," Wang Kun and Li Zhen discussed.

They searched for a long time and finally found a hotel, but it was full. The hotel was run by a middle-aged couple. When they heard that Wang Kun and his team had just started a factory, they were very moved. "You are amazing. You dare to open a factory at such a young age. You will definitely be amazing in the future and will do great things."

The proprietress thought highly of Wang Kun and Li Zhen, so she was particularly enthusiastic towards them. "Husband, we see that it's not easy for these young people. You just need to deal with it at the front desk tonight. I'll go to my sister's place and squeeze in, and leave our room for them."

"How can we do this? Let's go look for it." Li Zhen and the others were very kind and they felt it was not right to do this.

"Young man, where can you go to look for me? This is the only hotel within dozens of miles. It's so late now, so you won't be able to find me."

At this moment, Lizhen suddenly felt a little uncomfortable in her stomach. She wanted to go to the toilet, but after going to the toilet, Lizhen still had a stomachache. "Wang Kun, my stomach hurts so much." Lizhen hadn't finished her words yet. Not only did she have a stomachache, but she also vomited and had diarrhea. Lizhen rolled around in pain, and Wang Kun was so scared that even his hands were shaking.

"Don't be afraid, young man. You stay here and take good care of her. I'll go get a doctor." The boss went to find a doctor, and the boss's wife immediately brought hot water and asked Lizhen to drink some to warm herself up.

Soon the boss called a doctor, who diagnosed that Lizhen had eaten something unclean and developed acute gastroenteritis.

The doctor immediately gave Lizhen an infusion. As the medicine entered Lizhen's body, Lizhen's pain slowly disappeared bit by bit, and Lizhen's pain finally stopped.

"Thank you, boss and boss lady. My girlfriend is in trouble because of you. Otherwise, I would be in such a strange place and my girlfriend would suffer."

"You don't have to go out. Everyone will encounter difficulties. We just need to help."

"We will never forget the boss's kindness." From then on, Wang Kun would stay in this hotel every time he came to purchase goods, and Wang Kun became a frequent visitor here.

Later, this place became the country's largest wholesale market for various spare parts. All kinds of large and small parts from all over the country came from here. In addition to domestic dealers, dealers from all over the world also came here to purchase goods.

The proprietress's hotel here has also been upgraded. They no longer run a small hotel, but have built an international hotel with more than 20 floors.

Wang Kun and his colleagues come here almost every month. Li Zhen later simply booked a suite here as their long-term office and residence.

In addition to Wang Kun who often comes here to do business, Li Zhen also occasionally comes here to stay for a while.

For Lizhen and Wang Kun, this room is filled with joy, happiness, bitterness and sweetness, and records their pain and happiness.

Lizhen thought about how loving and happy they were here, and now Wang Kun was betraying her in their most sacred place. Lizhen burst into tears. She wanted to leave here as soon as possible. She glared at Wang Kun hatefully and rushed out with her suitcase.

However, Wang Kun still kept his head down, immersed in the situation, unable to extricate himself. Thinking of Li Zhen's pain, he felt particularly sad. Li Zhen came to him when he was in the most pain and accompanied him through his most desperate times. Wasn't he a really bad person to betray her like this?

He thought of the first time they came here to purchase supplies and Lizhen got acute gastroenteritis because of something bad she ate. Thinking of her painful expression and the miserable situation, his eyes were already wet and tears of pain were welling up in his eyes.

What's more, she is my legitimate wife, especially since he is a decent university student from a prestigious university, and I am nothing. But she did not despise me, and married me regardless of other people's secular views and my parents' opposition. But I am so stupid. Wang Kun, are you still a human being?

"Lizhen" was thinking so seriously that he didn't even notice that Lizhen had left him. When Wang Kun looked up, he found that Lizhen had already left. It was so late, where did she go?

"Lizhen, Lizhen!" Wang Kun shouted and chased after her.
